Raising the Standard of Public Intelligence Will Bring Real Democracy

By Dr. SCOTT McLEARD, University of Maine.

If we want democracy, if we want public control of public affairs, if we want to see that we shall have equality, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, if we want these things, we must obtain them. To do this there is but one method, and that is to raise the standard of public intelligence to a point where it will no longer tolerate plutocracy and a few long-haired, aristocratic, and systematic schemes for developing now and for the future by neglecting, paying no attention to the results obtained in the Old World.

CITIZENS EXPRESS VIEWS IN LETTERS

Important Matters Brought to Public Attention by Interested Residents

Editor of Record—Having read the article "The Masses" in the issue of August 1, I would like to add a word for there is another very important point to be considered, and that is the danger which lurks in the so-called dusts and mops, for they are really not so safe as supposed.

THE CHICKEN NUISANCE

The regulations advanced at the meeting of the Board of Health on Wednesday night that some ordinance should be enacted by the common council every citizen in Rahway who dwells in houses are timely. Complaints have been made of several cases of chickens in the city.
