Good idea to do a group matching gift if helpful
12:24:04 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
YES on the conversation, especially on social media!

12:25:05 From Natalee Hill (she/her) to Everyone:
YES, a constant quest!

12:25:20 From VTS - Josh to Everyone:
have a question for Jennifer? Put it here in the chat and we'll make sure it gets saved

12:25:53 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
It's also good peer pressure (not the bad kind) to have many folks I follow on Social Media to post theirs and have them popping up in my feed all day!

12:26:06 From Anne Kitch to Everyone:
Any thoughts about timing of Giving Day and the annual pledge campaign in a parish?

12:26:07 From Greta (she/her) Getlein to Everyone:
How many staff people does it take to pull something like this off? Churches are not seminaries and for many of us it's one priest and a part-time admin trying to make things happen.

12:26:28 From Amy Spagna to Everyone:
YES, Greta!

12:26:54 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Greta, great question. We've added it to the list

12:26:54 From Rev. Aileen (she/her) to Everyone:
YES, YES YES Greta

12:27:08 From Harry Jenkins to Everyone:
Can you explain how a matching gift works?

12:27:34 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Harry, we've added it to the list!

12:27:40 From Ken Kroohs to Everyone:

Thinking substitute for the "giving" campaign at the church!
Is the VTS Giving Day tied in with the wider giving day?

12:29:36 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Sonny, we've added yours too!

12:29:58 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Susan, we've added your question

12:30:07 From Grace Camblos to Everyone:

I feel dumb asking this -- but I'm not familiar with the term "Giving Day"! It seems self-explanatory, but is this A Thing?

12:30:08 From Lorenzo@TryTank.org to Everyone:

@Susan, can you explain your question a bit more for me?

12:30:20 From Michael Sitton to Everyone:

A question specific to "hybrid church": how to engage people in giving whose initial and perhaps only, or primary, church experience is remote

12:30:52 From Kelley Hudlow (she/her) to Everyone:

How can these tools for fundraising online be translated to developing the spiritual practice of stewardship with hybrid or online communities?

12:30:54 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:

@Grace, not dumb at all!

12:31:15 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:

@Michael, great question, we've added

12:31:26 From Michael Paul to Everyone:

Swag t-shirts always!!

12:31:30 From jackalvey to Everyone:

I'm wondering how fundraising can fit into a system that is committed to annual giving (stewardship). In theory, if everyone gives 10%, then we don't need fundraisers. Obviously, that is not a reality so I recognize need to have both. I also realize that some people (especially those darn Millennials - I'm one of them - need a cause to support). I also understand that a seminary raises money differently than a parish. Sooo...is fundraising the way of the future or is this just another way to raise money (in addition to stewardship) - Kelley Hudlow said it better than me!

12:31:42 From Lorenzo@TryTank.org to Everyone:

It's AMAZING how much people like t-shirts!!

12:31:44 From Christian Perritt to Everyone:

I second Kelley Hudlow's question

12:31:50 From Cara Rockhill to Everyone:

Are there specific fundraising ideas for encouraging giving during digital church offerings?

12:32:03 From Marjo Anderson to Everyone:

we co-sponsored a GROUP workcamp and gave T-shirts to everyone who helped in any way. It was AWESOME!

12:32:05 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:

@Kelley, great question! Social media!

12:32:07 From Erin Cook to Everyone:

Ditto to what @Michael asked.

12:32:17 From Susan MacDonald to Everyone:

United Way and everyone else has unified Giving Day-specific date each year

12:32:24 From Natalee Hill (she/her) to Everyone:

I'm curious about what giving platform you did this on and how you tracked the giving minute to minute.

12:32:29 From Michael Paul to Everyone:

If you feed them, they will come!!

12:32:53 From VTS – Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Cara, thanks for asking

12:33:28 From VTS – Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Natalee, we've noted your question!

12:33:54 From Rosa Lindahl to Everyone:
Are there any ideas out there for using a version of this for stewardship/pledge campaign?

12:34:01 From St. Martin's to Everyone:
We gave masks with the church's name to everyone who pledged last year.

12:34:06 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:
What @Natalee asked!!!!

12:34:07 From Harry Jenkins to Everyone:
What is the relationship between Giving Day and our traditional Stewardship drive?

12:34:27 From VTS – Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Rosa, thanks for the question. We're noting it

12:34:36 From Grace Camblos to Everyone:
Ditto Rosa's question

12:34:38 From Stacey Carpenter (she/her) to Everyone:
@question – It seems like these tips can be translated to all kinds of fundraising campaigns. Yes?

12:34:45 From VTS – Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Harry, good question. We'll make a note

12:35:16 From Darlene Kuhn to Everyone:
Is this in addition to pledge drive?

12:35:29 From Sandra Stayner to Everyone:
How will we get the plan you said you could give us?

12:35:30 From Kelley Hudlow (she/her) to Everyone:
I think there is confusion between fundraising and the spiritual practice of stewardship. These are two separate things.

12:35:40 From jackalvey to Everyone:
Yes Kelley

12:35:57 From jackalvey to Everyone:
Fundraising = focus on supporting cause

12:35:59 From Kim Hardy & Fred Moser to Everyone:
Nor do we have a full-time person or any working working on fundraising

12:36:09 From jackalvey to Everyone:
Stewardship = focus on transformation givers

12:36:11 From Kim Hardy & Fred Moser to Everyone:
Any working person... that is, only volunteers

12:36:13 From VTS – Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Sandra, it will be on the portal: [https://www.trytank.org/
students.html](https://www.trytank.org/students.html)

12:36:40 From Adam Yates to Everyone:
We actually re-wrote our church administrator position to be 50/50 split between administration and communications. It has been amazing having that talent on staff.

12:37:20 From Diane Muckstadt to Everyone:

Great idea Adam

12:37:26 From Cris to Everyone:

I was hoping we would get some information about how to fundraise during our online services- like how do we pass the digital plate?

12:38:05 From Natalee Hill (she/her) to Everyone:

Yes, I'm enjoying this but hoped for that too, @Chris

12:38:22 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:

Yes, stewardship is not the same as fundraising, AND responding to fundraising is often the entry point for people. In my experience, often the spiritual practice/meaning develops as the person gives. (Think praxis/doxy distinction.....)

12:38:24 From Christian Perritt to Everyone:

Good question Cris

12:39:10 From Greta (she/her) Getlein to Everyone:

YES to Cris' question. Thought this was about digital fundraising in general, not this very specific giving day stuff (which is also helpful)

12:39:32 From Charlie Barton+ to Everyone:

pass the digital plate...use a QR code on screen that links to giving page on your website. Or use any of the text based giving services and post that number on the screen

12:39:34 From Tim Safford (he, his) Christ Church Philadelphia to Everyone:

On matching gifts, they never feel absolutely honest to me as the donors for the matching gift are going to give it anyway. I suppose "unlock" sort of works, but I am still uneasy.

12:39:45 From Becky C. to Everyone:

We have used Venmo as an on-line way to transfer money, other people have used credit cards, or PayPal. There are many mechanisms to do this.

12:39:53 From Cris to Everyone:

This seems to be slanted mostly towards a stewardship campaign- what I'm interested in is how to replace the loose plate income we have lost.

12:39:58 From Daniel Cooper(he/him) to Everyone:

Or your saints day?

12:40:02 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:

Thanks for these questions, folks. Good ideas here about QR code, Venmo, etc.

12:40:26 From Grace Camblos to Everyone:

Tithely?

12:40:30 From Jimmie Sue Deppe to Everyone:

Tithe.ly is easy to use and embed into your parish's website

12:40:33 From Tim Safford (he, his) Christ Church Philadelphia to Everyone:

Really, Venmo? I thought it wasn't possible for giving to churches.

12:40:34 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:

This is really helpful in my context. We have a vibrant and effective stewardship practices, but adding something like this seems a great way to create an entry point for folks who don't give yet.

12:40:40 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:
Tithe.ly

12:40:41 From Jill Sautkulis to Everyone:
Comment on picking your own date vs getting into the fray on Giving Tuesday (the day after Cyber Monday)?

12:40:46 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:
We use OnRealm as part of our church database and use a QR code.

12:40:53 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:
For donations

12:41:05 From Colleen Montgomery (she/her/hers) to Everyone:
ELCA also has a preferred vendor agreement with Tithe.ly

12:41:14 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Tim, good question. That's admittedly not something I've researched personally

12:41:24 From Lewis Crusoe to Everyone:
How do you translate this process to a stewardship campaign when the goal is revenue for the next year. When you aren't fundraising for a "library"?

12:41:35 From Sonny Browne to Everyone:
So many people naturally use Venmo I wish it would work more seamlessly for non-profits!

12:41:35 From Rev. Tom Sramek, Jr. to Everyone:
Realm doesn't work as well for fundraising from non-parish members, I've found.

12:41:50 From Grace Episcopal Church to Everyone:
TENS - the Episcopal Network for Stewardship has a preferred relationship with Tithe.ly

12:42:16 From Stacey Carpenter (she/her) to Everyone:
12 step communities turned to Venmo when COVID hit and it has been very helpful

12:42:18 From Mercedes Clements to Everyone:
Aside from platform specificity, are there issues with Facebook donations others have found?

12:42:47 From Ruth Beresford to Everyone:
I checked with Venmo and they (or PayPal, that owns Venmo) said they would be developing a platform for non-profit giving, but that was over a year ago. Venmo does not "allow" organizations to create accounts

12:43:12 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Mercedes I made a note on your question

12:43:12 From Steven Ellis to Everyone:
Not to plan for a budget, what we need is to form the spiritual practice of giving. . .

12:43:27 From jackalvey to Everyone:
@Steve - YES!

12:43:34 From Cris to Everyone:
In an online service how are people putting the links to give out there? We are putting up a slide during some "offertory music" with the info one- what are others doing?

12:44:10 From Ken Kroohs to Everyone:

To get people started, we had a 'matching gift' by someone that agreed to pay the fee for first people who began electronic giving. Tried to explain to money people on Vestry that if a person is giving $20. per week but only coming twice a money they are likely to sign up for $20. per week = doubling.

12:44:15 From Natalee Hill (she/her) to Everyone:

Fascinating. I know organizations (not ours) that use Venmo.

12:44:20 From Daniel Leatherman to Everyone:

Like your NPR campaign...

12:44:24 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:

@Cris, I suggest hyperlinking it. Remove the barriers to make the gift happen!

12:44:30 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:

@Cris-We have a "banner" on the bottom of the screen that gives Text-to-Give info, and the website where they can donate online

12:44:44 From Josée to Everyone:

What does NPR mean?

12:44:48 From Cris to Everyone:

@Dawn- is that there the whole time?

12:44:49 From Ansley Walker to Everyone:

The Episcopal Church at Yale (an organization) has used Venmo for several years for giving/ campaigns.

12:44:51 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:

@Cris--and yes, we include a hyperlink in the chat

12:44:58 From Daniel Leatherman to Everyone:

NPR- Public Radio

12:45:06 From Lewis Crusoe to Everyone:

Last year I recorded a video asking for pledges then included a button that went to the pledge form. It worked extremely well. We didn't ask for the pledge on a certain day

12:45:08 From Ken Kroohs to Everyone:

We have a paper in the pew that says "We give electronically" with the link for immediate contributions, but also give them something to put in plate.

12:45:28 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:

Facebook has high processing fees I believe

12:45:42 From Gene Adele Hoge to Everyone:

No, Facebook doesn't have processing fees for nonprofits

12:45:43 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:

@Ryan, good tip, thanks for that

12:45:46 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:

@Cris-only during the Offertory (And the priest is saying directly something about, "we offer God our worship, our lives, our gifts....blah blah")

12:45:46 From Tim Safford (he, his) Christ Church Philadelphia to Everyone:

We don't like the Facebook system! Takes weeks to get the donation.

12:46:03 From Tim Safford (he, his) Christ Church Philadelphia to Everyone:

Also, Facebook keeps the donor info

12:46:04 From Anne Kitch to Everyone:

I'd like to hear more about whether Giving Day and the Annual pledge campaign can be two separate events, at two separate times of the year.

12:46:07 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:

@Gene and @Tim, also good to know!

12:46:13 From Mercedes Clements to Everyone:

Thanks, @Tim, I was curious about that.

12:46:16 From Kim Hardy & Fred Moser to Everyone:

I have found you have to have some non-profit code for Facebook giving - it was incredibly complicated for parishes that are not incorporated as non-profits, rather fall under their diocese instead. Any experience from anyone on how to do this simply? I would be grateful to know...

12:46:23 From Ginny Wilder to Everyone:

We use a text to give link that we post at the offertory during our hybrid services. It has made a big difference.

12:46:50 From Gene Adele Hoge to Everyone:

@Kim - even WITH the non-profit 501c3 info, it was incredibly difficult!

12:46:53 From Josée to Everyone:

By the way, what works in USA does not necessarily work in Canada... :(

12:46:58 From Laura White to Everyone:

Suggestions for getting specific in what giving day is for when you are a small church getting support from the diocese?

12:47:05 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:

@Josee, great point

12:47:07 From Kim Hardy & Fred Moser to Everyone:

A church in the diocese of MD is installing a big screen in the back of the Nave so that they can still have ZOOM participation. Zoomers can still read and you can still bring guest preachers without concern for geography and travel. It's brilliant, and I can't wait to try it.

12:58:29 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:
This is one of the most despised songs - Starship "We Built This City" - I love it though

12:58:41 From Rhetta Wiley, Trinity Church Towson, MD to Everyone:
They're St. Luke's, Eastport.

12:59:07 From Grace Camblos to Everyone:
@Ryan -- I kinda love it too

12:59:26 From Michael Paul to Everyone:
I love it too!!

12:59:42 From Natalee Hill (she/her) to Everyone:
@Rhetta Wiley - Trinity Episcopal in Swarthmore, PA does the same thing!

13:00:24 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:
Being a talent buyer, it's funny to listen to competing agents who represent a rendition of Starship which is better. Always cracks me up in their pitches.

13:00:30 From Grace Camblos to Everyone:
How are we hearing your playlist without you "sharing computer sound"?

13:00:48 From Vicki McGrath to Everyone:
All Saints', Millington, NJ is moving in that same direction - zooming readers, etc. into the nave.

13:00:58 From Bill Allport to Everyone:
Any one in the Diocese of Newark or New Jersey?

13:01:04 From Steven Ellis to Everyone:
We've installed a cart (small church) with a 65" TV near the front which will show our Zoom participants and allow us to hear them, so they can read lessons, share, etc.

13:01:10 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:
@Grace, they probably have the audio playing on top of the Presentation or built into the slideshow.

13:01:14 From jackalvey to Everyone:
Thanks for the great information and strategies! As a member of the diocesan stewardship team in Alabama, I have stand on my soap box and remind us (including myself) that inviting others to give isn't just about supporting a cause. But about inviting them into a deeper relationship with God and the community. I know that sound elementary but that is our WHY

13:01:15 From Rev. Tom Sramek, Jr. to Everyone:
@Ryan Being from the SF Bay area, I love it.

13:01:19 From Ken Kroohs to Everyone:
Interesting --- the TryTank program to help churches make the Blessing of the Animals more effective will be a good test of the connection part of this - esp. deepening connections with new people. Still room for a couple more churches: www.TryTank.org/BOTA for video

13:01:20 From Grace Camblos to Everyone:
Thanks Ryan!

@Natalee--yes, we post sermons as podcasts

13:03:51 From Fran (she her) to Everyone:
Our screen will be up front so that the Zoom folks can be full participants as readers, intercessors, and even the preacher.

13:03:51 From Linda Young to Everyone:
We got frustrated with Zoom as the audio is not good for music.

13:03:52 From Vicki McGrath to Everyone:

13:08:24 From Tim Safford (he, his) Christ Church Philadelphia to Everyone:
Q: Is it possible to get your Vimeo or YT livestream into a simultaneous Zoom? We haven't figured that out.

13:09:07 From Greta (she/her) Getlein to Everyone:
We're thinking of offering Zoom for one service and livestreaming the other through YT or Twitch

13:09:15 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:

Does Google Meet offer the same or similar compression? It is free for Google for nonprofits (which I hope all churches are taking advantage of).

13:10:38 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:

I always turn off my self view in Zoom

13:10:40 From VTS – Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:

@Bob, we've noted your question

13:10:46 From Grace Camblos to Everyone:

Ditto Ryan

13:10:51 From Amy Spagna to Everyone:

@Bob we tried it for a meeting, and the video quality is rather poorer than Zoom's.

13:11:32 From Stannard Baker (he/him) to Everyone:

I agree – I've consulted for school teams on Google meet and it feels less clear and clunkier than Zoom

13:15:44 From VTS – Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Grace, when folks aren't physically present, having the discussion helps folks stay engaged because they don't have exactly the same engagement things they would in person

13:15:53 From Laura White to Everyone:
Prayer requests, yes – but that's only one part of teh service. Do y'all have an AV tech who asks questions all during worship?

13:16:06 From Cara Rockhill to Everyone:
I'm not sure who else to ask about this, but is there a way to create a hybrid coffee hour experience?

13:16:19 From VTS – Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@John, good question

13:16:35 From Rosemary Beales to Everyone:

We have a separate co=host who monitors the chat and only tells the host if there are technical issues. Doesn't communicate to worship leader, not sure how that would work!

13:16:36 From sarahcowan to Everyone:

You don't have to submit to uncontrolled chat – set ground rules for when there's a chat time and when there's not.

13:20:07 From Cameron O'Riley to Everyone:
Ideas for optimizing music audio for Zoom?

13:20:16 From cristina rathbone to Everyone:
could you talk a little more about 'smooth off'? Ending a zoom meeting often feels too abrupt to me...

13:20:32 From VTS – Josh to Everyone:
Cameron – make sure "high fidelity music" option is turned on and you're using "original audio"

13:20:34 From johnktaibert@gmail.com to Everyone:
Yeti Blue is approachable and USB plug and play – it also has a built in zero latency headphone jack so you can hear the volume

levels without a pre-mixer

13:20:35 From Millard S. Cook to Everyone:

@Ken "Inquiring Minds want to know!" What happened?

13:20:49 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:

Hahaha the Red shirt on a green screen!

13:20:49 From Lorenzo@TryTank.org to Everyone:

@cristina, you'll see how we do it. We go to s slide and give some time for people to leave

13:20:53 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:

@Cristina, got your question!

13:20:55 From Ken Kroohs to Everyone:

red shirt came out fuzzy

13:20:57 From Marjo Anderson to Everyone:

I didn't like either of his mics...

13:21:21 From Debra Brewin-Wilson to Everyone:

Mic question: When I've tried to use an external mic with the Zoom, the music we play isn't heard. I had to stop using the mic. Is there a way to use an external mic & still get computer sound on Zoom so folks can hear?

13:21:45 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:

Make sure "share computer audio" is checked

13:21:52 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:

@Marjo, the important thing is to find one you like!

13:21:56 From Stannard Baker (he/him) to Everyone:

Need a response to Debra's question here as well

13:22:00 From Debra Brewin-Wilson to Everyone:

Yes, we do that.

13:22:14 From Cara Rockhill to Everyone:

@debra we got a sound board to control multiple mics and that has helped a lot. It was a challenge to figure out the first time, but works really well now.

13:22:29 From johnktaibert@gmail.com to Everyone:

Q: Do you prefer using rendered full screen backgrounds w/a green screen for illustrations/logos - or do you suggest using a broadcast software (OBS Studio) to control digital assets individually?

13:22:35 From Christian Perritt to Everyone:

The mic that comes with good wireless earbuds actually sounds pretty great

13:22:41 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:

@Debra, we got your question!

13:22:42 From Fran (she her) to Everyone:

In the sanctuary we plug a little Rhode transmitter into our soundsystem which then wirelessly transfers to a second rhode plugged into our laptop. That way all the mics in the sanctuary go right into Zoom as a single sound source.

13:23:01 From Kathy Walker to Everyone:

For the medium shot, are you sitting or standing?

13:23:09 From Fran (she her) to Everyone:

It's still not perfect put it's better.

13:23:11 From VTS – Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@John, we've got your question

13:23:22 From Lorenzo@TryTank.org to Everyone:
@Kathy, Gavin is standing. I am sitting.

13:24:30 From Josée to Everyone:
We show an image on the screen when we have a moment of silence during the service.

13:24:33 From Pat McCaughan to Everyone:
does anyone have liturgical resources that incorporate these transitions?

13:24:40 From St. Luke's Episcopal Church to Everyone:
Any suggestions for including music? We're trying to keep our Zoom congregation in sync with our in-person congregation. Music is pre-recorded, stored on YouTube (because live-music doesn't seem to work well on Zoom) and played via Zoom. In-person congregation tries to sing (masked) by listening through the speakers. It's awkward and often lags behind. Help!

13:25:02 From Millard S. Cook to Everyone:
How about a Master Class on using Vimeo effectively?

13:25:03 From VTS – Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Pat, got your question!

13:25:24 From Cara Rockhill to Everyone:
Yes – the music question!

13:25:34 From VTS – Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@St. Lukes, got your question!

13:25:41 From VTS – Josh to Everyone:
hey folks – for more tech help, you might like to check out a previous webinar Lifelong Learning did on Livestreaming (platforms, tech, and the systems): <https://youtu.be/677bZkajdjc>

13:25:42 From Tim Helton Ph.D. (he/him) to Everyone:
What Is immersive?

13:25:55 From ChristopherM to Everyone:
Can you comment on Music and Zoom. It very clear that zoom is better for human voice and not so good at music

13:26:04 From Kathy Collett to Everyone:
Do you know about jamulus? <https://jamulus.io> – it makes it possible to sing together – but it's complicated.

13:26:09 From Greta (she/her) Getlein to Everyone:
Talk about managing the 1.5 second lag in hybrid worship, please!

13:26:50 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:
Q – Do you have a dream gear (hardware) list for camera install in a church and computer setup to interface with an existing soundboard?

13:27:15 From Becky C. to Everyone:
Gavin is not old!!!

13:27:25 From Grace Camblos to Everyone:
Ditto Ryan's question!

13:27:32 From John & Lee Cheek to Everyone:
no he's not

13:27:44 From Christian Perritt to Everyone:
Ryan Blazer great question - seconded

13:27:46 From VTS - Josh to Everyone:
part-time music director here, folks. Music can be done well on zoom but you'll likely need some tech upgrades. Our congregation did a tech-upgrade plan (with a separate fundraising effort for it specifically) that took months to implement, including an outside contractor. We now have a fancy digital mixer, multiple stage boxes and various microphones plugged in and ready to go for our zoom service.

13:27:54 From Robbin Ahrold to Everyone:
How does any of this apply to online Sunday services. . eucharist, compline etc

13:28:08 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:
We are looking at Blackmagic Design ATEM Mini Pro HDMI Live Stream Switcher w/ 3 PTZOptics 30X-SDI Gen 2 Live Streaming Broadcast Cameras

13:28:23 From Daniel Cooper(he/him) to Everyone:
From an integrator/church a/v professional: If you are trying to put in a system in your sanctuary consult an integrator! An integrator will know what to do and how to do it best. See if your diocese has a program to get assistance for tech

13:28:35 From Grace Camblos to Everyone:
@Ryan I used the Blackmagic ATEM to do a Zoom wedding -- it worked great!

13:28:40 From Steven Ellis to Everyone:
Good setup!

13:29:01 From Grace Camblos to Everyone:
@Daniel, what is an integrator?

13:29:16 From Natalee Hill (she/her) to Everyone:
Not if you've got two people in one frame/screen!

13:29:48 From Millard S. Cook to Everyone:
powerful gaze! lol

13:29:55 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Robbin, this feels quite relevant to me. Please feel free to elaborate on your question

13:29:58 From Laura White to Everyone:
I'd love suggestions for using this info with self-proclaimed tech-idiots running the AV for us. I do well to get the sound connected, much less managing transitions! And the camera is at the back of the church while I am at the front - stuff like that.

13:30:06 From VTS - Josh to Everyone:
Again our previous webinar (<https://youtu.be/677bZkajdjc>) goes over tech options for hardware and software, with specific recommendations at various price levels

13:30:08 From Kim Hardy & Fred Moser to Everyone:
...like the Geico commercial!

13:30:14 From Daniel Cooper(he/him) to Everyone:
@grace a systems integrator is someone who specializes in A/V technology, its their job to *integrate* systems for clients especially churches. A great example is All Pro Sound

13:30:43 From Becky C. to Everyone:
Now there's a fast speaker!

13:30:45 From Kim Hardy & Fred Moser to Everyone:
It was the Gecko gaze...

13:30:54 From Grace Camblos to Everyone:
@Daniel, thanks!

13:31:23 From Millard S. Cook to Everyone:
I am pleased by the abundance of great beards today. Not that mine is great, but I feel represented today. Just saying . . .

13:31:25 From Daniel Cooper(he/him) to Everyone:
Google meet has breakout rooms if you pay enough

13:31:35 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
We already have several, but what other questions do you have, friends?

13:31:48 From bralston@stmarksnewcanaan.org to Everyone:
Haha Millard

13:32:10 From David Johnson to Everyone:
Can you address Zoom bombing and keeping the zoom meeting safe

13:32:26 From Vicki McGrath to Everyone:
I lost sound!!

13:32:28 From Walter Brownridge+ [he/him] to Everyone:
Is there advice on headphone and microphone combination/interface?

13:32:39 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@David, got the question!

13:32:41 From Natalee Hill (she/her) to Everyone:
If you're doing a livestream of an on site service, with multiple cameras, how do you get the eye-contact bit to work?

13:33:10 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Walter, got your question!

13:33:13 From Kirk Kubicek to Everyone:
Can you use OBS to stream into Zoom?

13:33:16 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:
@David-have you had any problem with Zoom bombing/security lately? We have good Zoom settings, and we haven't had any issue for the past 9+months

13:33:56 From Ken Kroohs to Everyone:
We invite people to comment on pre-recorded and I promise to respond within 48 hours, and to message me if they need it sooner. not much response but it feels inviting to audience

13:34:09 From Jill Sautkulis to Everyone:
@Natalee - our clergy include the camera in their sweep of eye contact across the congregation

13:34:13 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Kirk, got your question!

13:35:05 From Debra Brewin-Wilson to Everyone:
And can you use a mic at the same time??

13:35:05 From John & Lee Cheek to Everyone:
we pre record hymns

13:35:25 From Kim Hardy & Fred Moser to Everyone:
We do as well John and Lee

13:35:46 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:
Can you say again what you use? I missed it

13:36:04 From Sam Kirk to Everyone:
He said mini meter or loopback

13:36:16 From Robbin Ahrold to Everyone:
What about the choir!??

13:36:17 From johnktaalbert@gmail.com to Everyone:
Mentimeter

13:36:28 From Amy Spagna to Everyone:
We use live organ - this blog has great suggestions for adjusting the sound inputs to compensate (with thanks to TJ Thomas, choirmaster at Lewes, DE) http://www.arimicich.com/blog/2020/4/18/teaching-and-learning-setting-up-zoom-for-online-music-lessons

13:36:29 From Libby Wiebel (she/her) to Everyone:
I know that if we were to publish our Zoom meeting info we risk being Zoom bombed... so how do we welcome newcomers to our digital church (folks who are not on our mailing list) while still keeping our meetings safe?

13:37:19 From John & Lee Cheek to Everyone:
love the cassette

13:37:20 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:
Can we also discuss on integrating from an unperson with a virtual audience? This seems heavily geared to reaming online. I think that's where a lot of us are headed.

13:37:21 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Libby, got your question

13:37:36 From Becky to Everyone:
What is it called again?

13:37:51 From Bob Leopold to Everyone:
Voicemeeter

13:37:57 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Ryan, got your question!

13:37:58 From Shane Rice (LC) to Everyone:
<https://vb-audio.com/Voicemeeter/>

13:38:13 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:
This is GREAT--very helpful!

13:38:19 From Ned (He/Him) to Everyone:
How do we avoid the poor sound when broadcasting live music such as choir / organ on zoom.

13:38:19 From Glenn W Roth to Everyone:
will this work with a live in person choir?

13:38:31 From Millard S. Cook to Everyone:
Deer in the headlights . . . . I will check it out!

13:38:36 From Lorenzo@TryTank.org to Everyone:
@Libby, St. martin's in London allows them to do a newcomers class before letting them participate

13:38:37 From Greta (she/her) Getlein to Everyone:
@Libby We publish our Zoom links and have had no issues. We do, though, have a digital steward each week whose responsibility is to monitor Zoom for sound breakthroughs, unacceptable behavior, etc. That person is made a co-host so has full capabilities to mute and also to kick someone out.

13:38:43 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:

Let me try that again. Can we focus on integrating with in-person and a virtual audience. We are not attempting (at least we are not) trying to do live and then virtual. We are planning to combine to become truly hybrid with both a physical and virtual audience for multiple services on Sunday.

13:38:47 From Emery Buterbaugh to Everyone:

Thanks Mike!

13:38:50 From Shane Rice (LC) to Everyone:

@mike how do you handle audio drift?

13:39:06 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:

@Libby--we, too, share widely and have had no trouble at all.

13:39:08 From Grace Camblos to Everyone:

Ditto Ryan's question

13:39:26 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:

@Ryan, got both questions!

13:39:28 From Millard S. Cook to Everyone:

A keyboard too!!! Late night with Mike!

13:39:35 From Nathan Wilson to Everyone:

I use a digital interface and a mixer.

13:39:43 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:

@Libby--As Gavin said earlier, become familiar with all of the Zoom settings. They will help you.

13:39:57 From Ned (He/Him) to Everyone:

More specifically, how do we keep zoom from compressing the audio so much that it kills the live choir / organ sound.

13:40:19 From Linda Young to Everyone:

@Ned Yes to your question!

13:40:32 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:

Mic-ing a pipe organ is technically the more difficult task than getting a choir

13:40:44 From Lewis Crusoe to Everyone:

I'm in over my head

13:40:52 From Val Short to Everyone:

Not practical for small congregations with limited tech know-how.

13:40:59 From VTS - Josh to Everyone:

Ned, enabling "turn original sound on" and "high fidelity music mode" (or whatever it's called) will stop the zoom compression

13:41:00 From Lou Divis to Everyone:

I'm lost...

13:41:00 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:

@Ned, got your question

13:41:07 From Sarah Odderstol to Everyone:

Computer requirements for this work?

13:41:17 From johnktaibert@gmail.com to Everyone:

VoiceMeeter: <https://vb-audio.com/Voicemeeter/>

13:41:17 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Val, noted that feedback, thanks

13:41:22 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:
@Ned--the choir is easy compared to the organ

13:41:25 From Grace Camblos to Everyone:
This is great information!!

13:41:33 From Nancy LeVasseur to Everyone:
What are the pros and cons of using Zoom versus a livestream platform.

13:41:33 From Becky C. to Everyone:
We do a simpler fix, use pre-recorded music and choir and everyone mutes and sings along at home. We are happy.

13:41:44 From sheila to Everyone:
we are 8 to 12 people. simple

13:41:49 From Nathan Wilson to Everyone:
Digital keyboard is better . . . direct into the mixer.

13:41:50 From Josée to Everyone:
We do like Becky!

13:41:52 From johnktalbert@gmail.com to Everyone:
A single omnidirectional mic would be 10x better than the built-in mic on that laptop.

13:41:55 From Kirk Kubicek to Everyone:
There are XLR to USB mic cables that go right into the computer.

13:42:16 From Rev. Aileen (she/her) to Everyone:
I love this... Thank you.

13:42:18 From Grace Camblos to Everyone:
I WANT THE MASTER CLASS! This is great!

13:42:25 From Christian Perritt to Everyone:
Same here

13:42:26 From John & Lee Cheek to Everyone:
I love this too

13:42:32 From Kim Hardy & Fred Moser to Everyone:
Maybe the next one @Grace!

13:42:33 From Christian Perritt to Everyone:
Very cool detail

13:42:34 From Greta (she/her) Getlein to Everyone:
We're adding shotgun mics into our outbound sound system.

13:42:35 From johnktalbert@gmail.com to Everyone:
The Yeti Blue - which Gavin is using - has an omni directional setting.

13:42:38 From Brainerd Dharmaraj to Everyone:
This is very useful information

13:42:40 From Victor Friedrich to Everyone:
One important factor is the directionality of the microphone. Some mics won't catch sound from the side or rear; others do or are switchable.

13:42:43 From Nathan Wilson to Everyone:
You must use the digital interface with an XLR mic.

13:43:00 From Rev. Aileen (she/her) to Everyone:
Thank you

13:43:03 From VTS – Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
Also, don't hesitate to google questions!!!

13:43:03 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:
Adding a boundary mic in the room has really helped us-- especially for piano and organ

13:43:10 From Ginny Wilder to Everyone:
This information is fascinating and I wish I had had it a year ago when we were all online. What I would like to know now is how to offer worship for people in the building and people at home at the same time- and do it well.

13:43:12 From George Winters to Everyone:
This is the level of discussion that is appropriate to a
"master" class

13:43:26 From Kirk Kubicek to Everyone:
Not true if you have the xlr to usb cable, no interface

13:43:27 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:
@Ginny – yes!

13:43:31 From Christian Perritt to Everyone:
Agreed George

13:43:33 From Cara Rockhill to Everyone:
What @Ginny said.

13:43:37 From Charlie Barton+ to Everyone:
thanks for the more technical stuff. Not for everyone, but I enjoyed it.

13:43:38 From Josée to Everyone:
Livestream and Zoom questions

13:43:42 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:
@Ginny--yes! I'd love to have a group discussing this, even in a breakout room...

13:43:42 From Robbin Ahrold to Everyone:
Does Gavin consult on OBS or Switcher systems?

13:43:43 From Laura White to Everyone:
Echo what Ginny said

13:43:45 From Pat McCaughan to Everyone:
Yes, Ginny's question

13:43:47 From Greta (she/her) Getlein to Everyone:
YES! Can we talk about hybrid????

13:43:48 From Samantha Vincent-Alexander to Everyone:
@Ginny-- I agree!!

13:43:49 From Linda Young to Everyone:
Yes @Ginny

13:43:58 From John & Lee Cheek to Everyone:
The folks on zoom need a decent speaker not the computer one

13:43:58 From Pat McCaughan to Everyone:
What Greta said

13:44:04 From VTS – Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Ginny, thanks, noted your question

13:45:06 From Walter Brownridge+ [he/him] to Everyone:

Yes, Greta

13:45:32 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:
This is what we are doing--

13:45:37 From Natalee Hill (she/her) to Everyone:
It's happening in my second congregation!

13:45:41 From Kim Hardy & Fred Moser to Everyone:
Some people "in-person" may not want to be seen over the internet - so that's a tricky question about how to place cameras in the church...

13:45:45 From Steven Ellis to Everyone:
That is what we are doing as well.

13:45:59 From Cara Rockhill to Everyone:
I'm doing that with a big tv for right now. But in the front of the church.

13:46:06 From Kim Hardy & Fred Moser to Everyone:
Also some people don't want their children to be "seen" online - how do you deal with this in terms of cameras?

13:46:07 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:
we are keeping the sermon happening from Zoom on person

13:46:07 From Natalee Hill (she/her) to Everyone:
We've got the screen up front, too.

13:46:10 From St. Luke's Episcopal Church to Everyone:
We're doing this now, but using a large TV upfront.

13:46:14 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:
Here come the TV carts with a big monitor being wheeled out. ;)

13:46:15 From Fran (she her) to Everyone:
We are doing the screen in the front of the church, also.

13:46:18 From Pat McCaughan to Everyone:
Yes Rhetta!

13:46:20 From Bob Leopold to Everyone:
Yup, same here, but we are putting the TVs up front.

13:46:22 From Church of The Resurrection to Everyone:
This is what we are doing as well.

13:46:27 From Barbara Little to Everyone:
That's what we're doing as well

13:46:32 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
Jim Keat made a suggestion I found helpful in a recent webinar we did. He suggested making the camera visible to remind those in person of those online (<https://buildfaith.org/webinar-ministry-after-covid/>)

13:46:35 From Steven Ellis to Everyone:
People on Zoom who don't want to be seen turn off their video.

13:46:40 From Malinda Collier to Everyone:
That is what we are planning to do - but placed more centrally in the nave.

13:46:45 From Ginny Wilder to Everyone:
@Kim, we let folks know that if they don't want to be on camera to let the greeter know so they can be seated in a place that is off camera and during Eucharist, the clergy come to them.

13:46:51 From Adam Yates to Everyone:
We're doing the same, but using one of the lecterns into a permanent tv station

13:46:56 From Daniel Leatherman to Everyone:
I used a flat screen on a cart for readers

13:47:00 From Dawn Allen-Herron (she/her) to Everyone:
Our screen is in the front of the nave, but we spent lots of $ and lots of effort to get it in a place that isn't really distrating

13:47:07 From Cynthia Black to Everyone:
This is our goal and what I thought we would be talking about here

13:47:09 From Greta (she/her) Getlein to Everyone:
Yes, Malinda, us too. We plan to have a "Zoom chair" in the Nave along with all the other chairs.

13:47:11 From Steven Ellis to Everyone:
Our cameras are in the back.

13:47:14 From Natalee Hill (she/her) to Everyone:
The cameras are in the back, so you don't really see attendee faces.

13:47:19 From Malinda Collier to Everyone:
Zoom pew!

13:47:24 From St. Luke's Episcopal Church to Everyone:
During the peace we ask the inhouse congregation to wave to the online congregation.

13:47:29 From Kim Hardy & Fred Moser to Everyone:
Ginny - not a bad idea but in my congregation people won't want to be told "where" to sit - and would want to come toward the altar to receive so not quite a solution that would please them...

13:47:31 From Deborah Aldrich to Everyone:
So where exactly should the camera be?

13:47:52 From Pat McCaughan to Everyone:
Thank you Gavin!

13:47:56 From Kim Hardy & Fred Moser to Everyone:
Also...separating them would take children to the edges...not ideal...

13:47:58 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:
Those of us with more Gothic style churches do not have an option to install screens. When a rood screen can cause a rift, think about a screen and projector install...

13:48:01 From Christie Hord to Everyone:
Thank you Gavin. That was great.

13:48:02 From Greta (she/her) Getlein to Everyone:
Our cameras are up on the balcony in the back

13:48:11 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
@Deborah, up front, off to the side

13:48:12 From Lewis Crusoe to Everyone:
We just paid 15K to install 3 PTZ Optic cameras. We are told that we will stream to YT and FB. Are you suggesting that we can still do Zoom?

13:48:15 From bralston@stmarksnewcanan.org to Everyone:

Advise on live streaming more effectively?

13:48:35 From Rev. Aileen (she/her) to Everyone:
thanks Gavin

13:48:38 From VTS - Josh to Everyone:
Lewis we use PTZ cameras for zoom

13:48:46 From Rhetta Wiley, Trinity Church Towson, MD to Everyone:
This is SO helpful. Thank you.

13:48:52 From Cynthia Black to Everyone:
we are installing monitors on the pillars in a gothic style church. Need thoughts about camera positions...

13:49:06 From VTS - Josh to Everyone:
but we have multiple cameras that go into a program switcher that allows us to preview which view is next and switch to various presets

13:49:17 From VTS - Josh to Everyone:
:)

13:49:27 From Tom Cooke to Everyone:
You can use PTZ cameras for Zoom. You will need to run them into a video switcher of some sort, then the switcher acts as the camera for Zoom.

13:50:00 From VTS - Diane Wright to Everyone:
@bralston - here's a link to a webinar on live-streaming techniques that Lifelong Learning hosted <https://youtu.be/677bZkajdjC>

13:50:18 From Cynthia Black to Everyone:
Could we have a breakout group for ppl who are livestreaming with zoom ppl in church?

13:50:18 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:
@ Tom, that's why we are looking at the ATEM switcher to interface with an Apple computer

13:50:28 From Ned (He/Him) to Everyone:
In case anyone is interested, a good way to get a choir and organ into zoom / other livestreams is to use a usb interface connected to the computer... some omnidirectional condenser mics and a good room acoustic is all you need. Picking up the room acoustic is key.

13:50:55 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:
@Ned - agreed you want to catch that reverb (RT60) if possible

13:51:33 From VTS - Josh to Everyone:
Ned, yep, that's a good option too. It all depends on how varied your musical offerings are

13:51:50 From VTS - Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
Building Faith also has a couple of helpful articles from Pauli Reese! <https://buildfaith.org/hybrid-formation-basics/> and <https://buildfaith.org/hybrid-formation-equipment/> and how big your space is, etc.

13:52:19 From Ryan Blazer to Everyone:
St. Luke's Long Beach has a long musical history - The Bell's of St. Mary's choir was actually St. Luke's choir

13:52:57 From VTS - Josh to Everyone:

what's more complicated is how to use microphones that simultaneously input into Zoom AND into the actual physical space :)

13:53:26 From James Pratt to Everyone:

Flip side of mics in church -- if you have a lector connecting via Zoom, what do you need to get the sound into the church PA system? We just had a new sound system installed in the church pre-pandemic, and it does allow bluetooth inputs.

13:53:29 From VTS - Josh to Everyone:

14:19:00 From Natalee Hill (she/her) to Everyone:

If you are using Zoom you can download the participant list after the event.

14:19:10 From Adam Yates to Everyone:

Diocese of North Carolina put out a recommendation for counting streaming viewers of multiplying the number by 1.6 to approximate those who are watching with another person. Not perfect, but a possibility. I think whatever you do, do it consistently. And check with your diocese.

Is it possible for a small church to ever be a top notch hybrid church. I think the equipment required would be too expensive. Maybe the best we can do is have a zoom service, and an in person service; but not a combined service.

If anyone here wants to talk about congregational development of online participants, and integration into the larger life of the congregation, I'd love to talk.....I'm a bit overwhelmed and not exactly sure where to start

14:44:56 From johnktalbert@gmail.com to Everyone:
Q: For many this may seem overwhelming, especially for churches with fewer resources or clergy that are uncomfortable fully embracing the transition into establishing a truly digital presence. What conversations have you been a part of where this work becomes collaborative? Multi-church means more content creators. How does digital community evolve and improve when our identity is on a convocational or diocesan level instead of on a parish level? What are the barriers we must overcome if this kind of expansion is more fruitful and sustainable?

14:44:58 From VTS – Katherine Malloy (she/her) to Everyone:
