Eric Clapton's Crossroads Guitar Festival

Saturday, November 28, 10:00 pm

One of the world's pre-eminent blues/rock guitarists and an all-star team of six-string artists performed for the legendary festival filmed in Dallas in 2019. Eric Clapton's guests included Jeff Beck, Sheryl Crow, Peter Frampton, Los Lobos, John Mayer, Bonnie Raitt, Doyle Bramhall II, Gary Clark Jr., and more.

During the show, Clapton shared the stage with others to perform some of his best-known songs, including "Layla" with John Mayer, plus acoustic versions of "Wonderful Tonight" and "Lay Down Sally" with Andy Fairweather Low. Clapton also paid tribute to his late friend George Harrison with a searing rendition of "While My Guitar Gently Weeps" with Peter Frampton. For the encore, Clapton led an ensemble performance of Prince's "Purple Rain."

The two-day concert event raised funds for the Crossroads Centre in Antigua, a treatment and education facility founded by Clapton in 1988 for chemically dependent persons. Since 2004, The Crossroads Guitar Festival has been held every three years except in 2016. (Cover credit: Cooper Neill.) ■

Dash of Maine Holiday Cooking Challenge is ON!

We are bringing back our Dash of Maine Cooking Challenge and adding in a special holiday twist, and we hope you participate! With the team from the Maine Bicentennial Community Cookbook (a wonderful holiday gift this season!) we have pulled out six bicentennial recipes that we are certain you'll want to tackle in your home kitchen this November and December. And the reward? Tasty creations to wow your family and the chance to win a copy of the cookbook for your very self.

Each week starting on November 9th for six weeks, we will feature one special bicentennial recipe on our website (mainepublic.org) and in the pages of the Bangor Daily News. By the Friday at NOON of the following week, you will need to send us a picture of the completed dish at your table. Super easy! This gives you a whole week to secure the necessary ingredients and make the dish yourself.

You can submit your picture (along with your phone number so we can contact you if you are chosen) to us at FUN@mainepublic.org. We will post many of these entries on our website and over social media. We will then randomly pick one winner each week and award them a complimentary copy of the Maine Bicentennial Community Cookbook! You have six chances to win over the course of the holiday cooking challenge!

HUGE THANKS to the team at the Bangor Daily News for joining with us on this cooking experience and to Southern Maine Community College and the Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry for partnering with us in this culinary challenge and making this cooking series possible. Good luck! ■

Attend a virtual brown bag musical performance!

Welcome to the Brown Bag Edition of our Maine Public's Tiny Screen Concert Series! Every Thursday at noon this month through early December we will bring you exceptional Zoom musical performances from a slew of wonderful Maine-based artists. Take a break from all your work and serious Zoom calls and be entertained!

You must go to mainepublic.org and sign up to be sent concert notifications (go to our Events tab for more information). You don't have to attend every concert, but you can!

Who are some of the performers? Many of them participated in our first Tiny Screen Concert series. Singer/songwriters like Caroline Cotter, Bess Jacques and Jeff Christmas and performing duos including Darlin' Corey and Jennifer Porter and Dana Packard are all returning. Take a few minutes each week and sit back and relax! ■

maine public

Maine Public Community Films series joins the Bicentennial celebration with a year full of solely Maine focused films, from old Community Films favorites of the people, places and culture of Maine to new films from our arts partners.

• From Stump to Ship: A 1930 Logging Film – Thursday,

November 5, 9:00 pm; Saturday, November 7, 2:00 pm: The most complete look at the long-log industry features clips of men cutting trees by hand, horse-drawn sleds and river drivers moving logs downstream. The original 1930 script is read by Tim Sample.

• Conversations with the Lobster Lady – Thursday, November 5, 9:30 pm; Saturday, November 7, 2:30 pm: Arguably the world's oldest licensed lobster fisherman – 99-year-old Virginia Oliver and her 74-year-old son, Max, haul their lobster traps near Spruce Head, Maine.

• Dawnland – Thursday, November 12, 9:00 pm; Saturday, November 14, 2:00 pm: Native and non-Native leaders in Maine came together to face the crisis of indigenous child removal from their families and homes.

• Island of Eagles: The Swan Island Story – Thursday, November 19, 9:00 pm; Saturday, November 21, 2:00 pm: An island in Maine's Merrymeeting Bay was once the site of an Abenaki Indian hunting and fishing outpost. Later, it was claimed by colonists who founded a village in the 18th century.

• The Maine Frontier: Through the Lens of Isaac Simpson – Thursday, November 26, 9:00 pm: A glimpse of life, work, family and culture in northern Maine at the turn of the 19th century is seen through photography.

To submit a film for possible broadcast, visit us at mainepublic.org and click on the Television tab, then Community Films to get started! ■

News Producer, Host, and Reporter Barbara Cariddi Retires

Long-time Maine Public News Producer, Host, and Reporter Barbara Cariddi retired this fall. Cariddi grew up in Biddeford and earned a Bachelor's Degree in English from the University of Southern Maine and a Master's Degree in Public Administration from the Harvard Kennedy School. She originally joined Maine Public in 1989 and left in 1994 for WCSH6-TV in Portland. In 1999, Cariddi returned to Maine Public and began producing, reporting and anchoring Maine Public Television's public affairs program MaineWatch. Cariddi then focused her work on the radio news side, hosting Maine Things Considered and reporting on stories across Maine. Most recently she has helped oversee digital news content for Maine Public's website and produced and hosted Maine Public's daily news podcast This Day in Maine. "Barbara's career at Maine Public is an example of a true multi-media journalist. She's reported TV stories in Maine's natural spaces and hosted television programs, including MaineWatch, anchored Maine Things Considered radio broadcasts, and pushed our digital reporting forward," stated Mark Simpson, Maine Public's Director of News and Public Affairs. "We wish her the very best in her retirement as she carves new paths ahead." ■

Maine Public On-Air Hosts Say Farewell

Robin Rilette Off to New Adventures!

Robin, host of Morning Classical and Maine Public's Director of Music and Creative Performance, recently retired. She joined Maine Public from Northwest Public Radio in Washington State where she was the Music Director for 23 years. As Maine Public's Music Director, Rilette was instrumental in helping Maine Public build out its classical radio service and entertained Maine for over six years as the host of Morning Classical. Robin's easy-going style and love of music quickly made her show a listener favorite.

A goodbye message from Robin Rilette:

"Architecture as art, a streak of russet as a fox flashes by, landscapes both majestic and charming, the sweet spring welcome of the peepers, the stunning colors of autumn, the jackhammer sounds of a pileated woodpecker, the soaring white steeples and the late summer farewell of the chirping cricket. These are some of the sights and sounds that make Maine such a special place in which to work and live. And, of course the "let me help you with that neighbor" attitude that results in the formation of a new classical music network right here in Maine. It's been my privilege and pleasure to be part of Maine Public Classical and to share music with you for the past six years and eight months. Thank you and let's keep the music coming!"

In Tune Host Sara Willis Calls It a Wrap

The long-time host and producer of In Tune, Sara Willis retired last month and while her programming will continue on Maine Public Radio and online for the foreseeable future, Sara will no longer be hosting and curating new programs. Working from her studio in Blue Hill, Sara's love of the music she played came across to her listeners loud and clear. To quote DownEast Magazine, "In Tune... probably should have been rendered obsolete by Pandora, Spotify, and iTunes playlists. However, host Sara Willis outperforms any Pandora algorithm in the art of creating the perfect playlist. While online stations offer predictable suggestions, like R.E.M. based on your interest in U2, Willis will teach you that, actually, Tom Jones and Vampire Weekend are a match made in heaven." In 2018, Maine Public launched the In Tune with Sara Willis audio stream allowing fans of the show 24/7 access to music curated by the host.

A goodbye message from Sara Willis:

"I want to thank the wonderful listeners of Maine Public Radio for 19 great years of listening to music together on both sides of the radio. Without your love of music, wide ranging appreciation, and open ears, there would have been no point. As Willie Nelson says, (and who better to quote?) 'you were always on my mind.' I will miss sharing new music and remembering the old with you. It's been a perfect partnership and again, thank you. With love!" ■

“Supporting Maine Public Classical in recognition of the valuable and lasting impact of the pleasure of classical music in Maine.”
