Sanctuary

- Became the first wolf sanctuary to earn Global Federation of Animal Sanctuary (GFAS) accreditation.
- Successfully implemented an online sanctuary reservation system, providing staff, volunteers, and visitors more consistency and predictability regarding public visits.
- As a result, we were able reduce group size and number of visits offered and the number of days the sanctuary was open, thus reducing potential stress for the wolves.
- Four displaced wolves were rescued and given lifetime sanctuary: Luca, Merlin, Ruby Ione and Shali.
- Completed animal care Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) manual.
- Attended both red wolf and Mexican wolf Species Survival Plan (SSP) annual planning and recommendation meetings.

Education

- Continued educational outreach presentations in Washington, Oregon, California and Arizona.
- California outreach included University of California Santa Barbara Wildlife Society, Adventure 16 stores (teaming with CA Wolf Center), REI and Orange County Society of Conservation Biology (University of California Irvine)
- Developed volunteer docent program to provide sanctuary guests additional information about wolves and the opportunity to ask more questions.
- Joined Red Wolf Education Task Force.
- Provided 33 online wolf education presentations (via Skype in the Classroom) to 750 students in three countries and 15 states.
- Wildlife Handling and Chemical Immobilization course was held with a record number of students, during which seven Mexican wolves were given their required annual physical exam.
- Provided series of wolf presentations for summer animal camps at Oregon Humane Society.
- Bilingual wolf education expanded to include recurring English and Spanish articles in the magazine Ecológica; Spanish series of presentations to second, fourth and fifth grade classes at Evergreen Elementary School in Shelton, Washington; and staff participation in the Latina Women's Symposium.

Education: The 2015 Wildlife Handling and Chemical Immobilization course was held with a record number of students. Wolf Haven photo.

Conservation

- Three litters of critically endangered wolves born at Wolf Haven as a result of our participation in the Mexican Wolf captive breeding program.
- Critically endangered female red wolf, Nash, transferred from Point Defiance Zoo and is now a companion for male red wolf Tala.
- Human Wildlife Conflict Collaborative (HWCC) stakeholder conflict assessment conducted with Washington Wolf Advisory Group and others.
- Wolf Haven staff member's original artwork selected for the 2015 International Mexican gray wolf conservation stamp.
- Prescribed burned conducted on six acres of prairie and later seeded with 3,654 grams of seed from 15 species of native plants. Five acres plugged with 7,000 plugs from 13 native prairie species.
- More than 190 plant species identified on our prairie and oak woodland property.

Additional

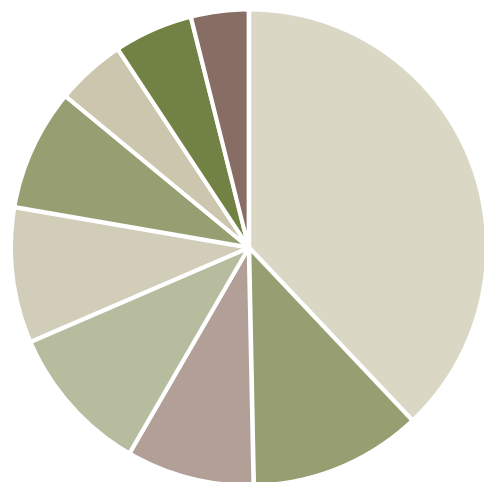

- 2,890 volunteer hours donated.
- 3,700 donors, 3,150 members and 1,730 adoptions.
- Replaced two aged well pumps and pressure tanks in well house.
- Record-breaking attendance at annual fundraiser "Wolves & Wine".
- Four sold out summer "A Midsummer's Night" events.
- Comcast Cares volunteers painted administration and animal care buildings and constructed a shop wall.
- Replaced old single-wide manufactured home for on-site staff with new one from DeTrays Manufactured Homes.
- Staff received First Aid/CPR training.

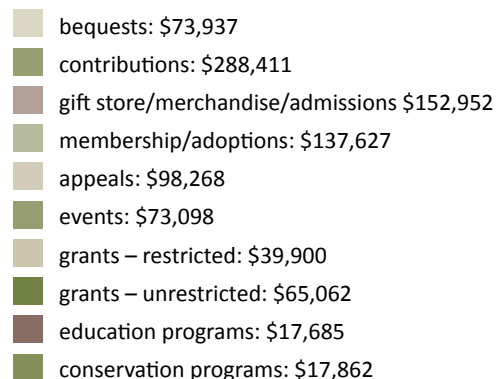

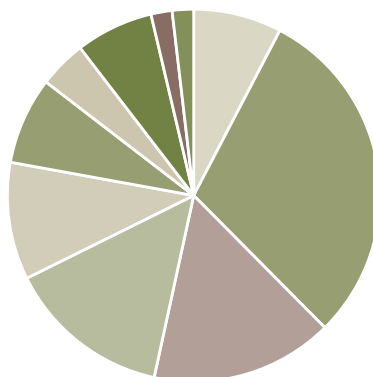

Additional highlights: Volunteers such as Kaye Adkins donated 2,890 volunteer hours in 2015. Wolf Haven photo.

Conserving and protecting wolves and their habitat

Sanctuary

Almost more than 200, captive-born wolves have been rescued by Wolf Haven and given safe haven over the past thirty-three years. Many of the relocated wolves were privately owned; some came from zoos, tourist attractions and other environments. Most of the 50 animals in residence live in male/female pairs in vegetated enclosures located in a peaceful, wooded environment. Visitors to the sanctuary may see 8 -10 resident animals while on a guided walk in the sanctuary. Our wolves are given exceptional care, quality food, a variety of enrichment items and progressive medical treatment. Wolf Haven is accredited by the American Sanctuary Association (ASA).

Education

Our sanctuary and education departments welcome 17,000 visitors annually, which includes more than 3,000 school age children. Wolf Haven delivers a variety of educational programs which focus not only on the wolf and its role in the wild but also curriculum designed to raise environmental awareness in people of all ages. Presentations are tailored for age group and by specific topic. Guided walks, on and off-site classroom presentations, virtual online classes and community outreach are some of the methods we use to connect people to nature. Wolf Haven offers educational presentations in Washington, Oregon, California and New Mexico. Programs are available in both English and Spanish in Washington State.

Conservation

Wolf Haven participates in two federally managed Species Survival Plan (SSP) programs for critically endangered wolves. Our sanctuary is a breeding facility for both the Mexican gray wolf and the red wolf (declared extinct in the wild in 1980). Wolf Haven is one of only three pre-release facilities in the U.S. for the highly endangered Mexican wolf. Wolf Haven has produced six litters of Mexican wolf pups and released two packs into the wild as part of a multi-agency, bi-national effort to restore Mexican gray wolves to the Southwest and Mexico. We advocate for wolves and interact closely with other organizations that share our vision of a fair, balanced and humane relationship with wolves and wildlife.

Wolf Haven is a Sanctuary

A true sanctuary:

- Exists solely for its residents. Their welfare is the highest priority.
- Commits to the highest level of care. Every action or procedure is examined to ensure that it best serves the animals living there.
- Does not cater to the needs and desires of people. It follows an animal-centric rather than a human-centered approach.
- Provides a safe, lifetime home where its residents are free to express themselves and be appreciated for who and what they are.
- Considers all aspects of an animal's well-being and ensures that they are treated with compassion, respect and dignity from the day they arrive until their end of days.

Wolf Haven offers scheduled 50-minute guided walking visits through the public portion of the wolf sanctuary, where 8-10 sanctuary residents may be seen in a beautiful, natural and serene atmosphere. Wolves are wild animals and highly sensitive to their environment. As a guest in the wolves' home, we ask that visitors speak quietly and step softly.
