INTRODUCTION

The University of KwaZulu-Natal was formed on 1 January 2004 as a result of a merger between the former Universities of Durban-Westville and Natal. The new institution brings together the academic expertise and research capacity of two major regional universities and is at the forefront of higher educational transformation in South Africa.

The University is home to the region's leading academics and has an impressive number of internationally acclaimed scientists and researchers among its staff, as rated by the National Research Foundation. The full spectrum of research is supported, from curiosity-driven to application-based, and participatory action research with community partners. Research is conducted by, and in association with, members of the academic staff, associated research units, industry, business, government, local communities and international institutions and agencies.

UKZN's vision is to be the 'Premier University of African Scholarship'. It strives to reflect the society in which it is situated, not only in terms of race, gender and class, but in how it structures its values and priorities and how it responds through its research to social needs. KwaZulu-Natal provides fertile soil for researchers and the University's mission commits the institution to critical engagement with its society and encourages practical research that will lead to socioeconomic upliftment of communities. This outcomes-driven approach has led to the establishment of inter-disciplinary 'centres of excellence' devoted to particular projects and often involves collaboration with institutions from around the world.

Research and postgraduate training programmes are directed in the following research focus areas, which have been identified on the basis of institutional proven strengths and strategic objectives: Agriculture and Food Security; Biotechnology; Energy and Technology for Sustainable Development; Gender, Race and Identity; HIV/Aids, TB and Health promotion; Indigenous African Knowledge Systems; Maritime Studies; Social Development and Economic Studies; Water Environment and Biodiversity.

The University has formal and informal ties, as well as having established exchange programmes with more than 260 leading universities around the world. At present, 20% of the total student registrations are in postgraduate studies. The Research Office, headed by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Research, is responsible for the management and nurturing of knowledge production and dissemination through partnerships and places strong emphasis on collaborative research. The Division also assists staff and postgraduate students with grant applications, contracts, intellectual property rights and related administrative matters, as both a return as well as a return capacity development.

Senior academics take pride in the mentorship provided to graduate students, encouraging them to develop their skills in critical appraisal and independent thought.

The University provides a vibrant environment for basic and applied research, and offers internationally recognised postgraduate research degrees in all disciplines.

Research innovation is a cornerstone of the University and as an institution of higher learning, research excellence is recognised and supported as part of its essential identity. The University is committed to growing its existing research capacity further and leading the bid to bring South African and African scholarship to the attention of the international community. At the same time, we recognise that excellence in research and knowledge production should lead to practical interventions in national development strategies, and should be directed to the upliftment of poor and underdeveloped communities.

Postgraduate students at the University have the opportunity to contribute towards these interventions. The University's strategic priorities are informed by both national and international needs and opportunities and provide considerable scope for cutting-edge research.

A CHOICE OF CAMPUSES

The University of KwaZulu-Natal offers prospective students the choice of five campuses, each with its own distinctive character.

Edgewood Campus (Pinetown)

The former Edgewood College of Education was incorporated in 2001 and the Edgewood Campus in Pinetown is now the University's primary site for teacher education. With easy access to the N3 highway and approximately 20 minutes' drive from Durban, the Campus offers sophisticated and attractive facilities to a growing number of education students. Initial and in-service teacher education, higher degrees in a wide range of specialisms, as well as research and consultancy are offered. Staff members are engaged with policy-making in education in South Africa and contribute to the international profile of the University through participating in international conferences, teaching international students, hosting international visitors, and publishing in international books and journals.

Howard College Campus (Durban)

Durban is a vibrant coastal city renowned for its beaches and coastal resorts. The city is a major South African port. The magnificent game reserves and estuaries of Maputaland, north of Durban, are a favourite getaway for staff and students alike. Opened in 1931, following a generous donation by Mr T.B. Davis, whose son Howard Davis was killed during the Battle of Somme in World War I, the Howard College Campus is situated on the Berea and offers spectacular views of the Durban harbour. The Campus is situated in an environmental conservancy and the lush gardens reflect a commitment to indigenous flora and fauna. Howard College currently offers a range of postgraduate qualifications in Engineering, Law, Nursing and Humanities (including Music, Social Work, Housing and Architecture).

Nelson R Mandela School of Medicine (Durban)

The Medical School was founded in 1950 as a 'black faculty' in a 'white institution'. The School has been synonymous with the struggle for democracy and racial equality. On its 50th anniversary in 2000, the School received the finest birthday present it could have wished for – the agreement of former President and Nobel Peace prizewinner, Nelson Mandela, to link his name to the School. It is training a generation of clinical researchers, enhancing the clinical research infrastructure in KwaZulu-Natal, and fostering collaborations between research groups working on similar projects in South Africa and other countries.

Howard

Pietermaritzburg Campus

Pietermaritzburg is located in the centre of the KwaZulu-Natal Midlands, close to numerous nature reserves and parks, an hour's drive from Durban and two hours from the Drakensberg. The city has a rich architectural heritage, with fine examples of Victorian and Edwardian buildings. The city is the birthplace of the former University of Natal and its forerunner, the Natal University College, which opened its doors to 57 students in 1910. Two years later, Old Main Building was completed and the hub of the present-day Pietermaritzburg Campus was established. The Campus offers a range of innovative academic programmes, successful in responding to local and provincial needs in the broad areas of Science and Agriculture, Education, Law, Human and Management Sciences. The disciplines of Agriculture, Theology and Fine Art are unique to the Pietermaritzburg Campus.

Westville Campus (Durban)

Westville Campus is located within an environmental conservancy about eight kilometres from the CBD of Durban and Pinetown. The Campus combines state-of-the-art infrastructure with beautiful natural surroundings. The Hindu temple and Islamic place of worship reflect its rich multicultural history. It is the official address of the University of KwaZulu-Natal, housing the Vice-Chancellor's office, the offices of Executive members and University-wide administrative divisions.

The Campus currently offers postgraduate programmes in Science, Engineering, Management and Health Sciences.

International Recognition

The University has a worldwide reputation for academic excellence in teaching and research and all degrees awarded are internationally recognised. The University has formal links, exchange programmes and collaborative teaching and research programmes with many universities around the globe. A large number of agreements and Memoranda of Understanding have been signed with various institutions in Africa, Asia, Europe and the USA.

Leaders in Curriculum Development

The University of KwaZulu-Natal has taken a leading role in curriculum development in recognition of worldwide trends and the restructuring of the entire South African educational system towards a more 'outcome-based' approach. Many of the challenges faced in professional life cannot be solved by a single discipline. The University of KwaZulu-Natal has therefore redesigned its curricula to include a large element of inter-disciplinary work. In this way, students are exposed to a range of disciplines, thus widening their choice of career options, and enhancing their understanding of the society in which they will live and work.

INTERNATIONAL APPLICANTS

Anthropology Professor delivers public lecture in Rome.

Entrance Requirements

International applicants are subject to a selection procedure based on academic merit and the number of spaces available. Candidates should have completed a four-year Bachelor's degree, OR a three-year degree plus a one-year full-time Honours degree in the relevant field to enrol for a Masters degree. All applicants should apply to the South African Qualifications Authority (SAQA) to obtain a certificate of evaluation of qualification/s prior to submitting an application to the University. The evaluation process is time-consuming and it is advised that you do this well in advance of your application to postgraduate studies at UKZN.

College of Humanities celebrates its graduates.

The eligibility of international students for study visas will depend on the assessment of the following documents:

- A letter of acceptance from UKZN;
- A letter from the University in support of your visa/study visa;
- The relevant application fee (this will depend on the embassy in your country);
- Proof of financial means;
- Proof of a South African medical aid cover;
- Proof of residence in South Africa;
- Yellow fever vaccination (if coming from/ travelling through an epidemic country);
- A police clearance certificate (not more than three months old);
- Repatriation fee or a return ticket (original proof of payment); and
- Valid study visa (when renewing).

The conditions of entry and stay in South Africa for all international students is that they should have in their possession a valid study visa issued in terms of the South African Immigration Act, 2002.

When to Apply for a Study Visa

Prior to leaving for South Africa, applicants must approach the relative authority in their home country to obtain a study visa. In terms of current South African legislation, South African universities are not allowed to register international students who do not hold valid study visas. Study visas cannot be applied for in South Africa. It is imperative that students await the outcome of their applications for study visas in their country of origin or residence. Study permits are renewed prior to expiry.

You may make an application for a study visa once you have received a letter from the University offering you a place to study together with a letter in support for an application for a study visa. Study visas can take four-to-eight weeks to process, so it is advisable to make study visa applications well in advance.

Where to Go to Apply for a Study Visa

Applicants are required to apply for a Study Visa at the South African High Commission, embassy, consulate or trade mission in your country of origin. If there is no South African representative in the applicant's country, they must apply to the South African High Commission, embassy, consulate or trade mission nearest to their home country.

How to Apply for a Study Visa

1. Collect the appropriate study visa application from the South African embassy, consulate, high commission or trade mission in your country; and

2. Complete and return the study visa application to the office where you collected the form initially together with the required documents.

Applicants are advised to submit the above documentation as soon as possible to the South African High Commission, embassy, consulate or trade mission. Applicants must not send the above documents to the University of KwaZulu-Natal. Applicants must keep copies of all documentation submitted for their reference and future use.

Accommodation

Applications for residence accommodation should be made at the time of application. The Housing Offices assist students to find off-campus accommodation, the cost of which varies depending on location and facilities available. In this regard, students should take into account the cost of transport to campus.

Financial Aid

Regrettably, financial aid is not available to international students. International students are advised to make enquiries from their Ministries of Education or Scholarship Offices at universities in their country of origin.

Refugee Applicants

- Procedures: Applicants should be in possession of a valid Section 41 permit/refugee identity document that grants them permission to study. Application procedures and application fees as for local students are applicable. When submitting an application, applicants must include:
 - Payment of the local application fee;
 - Certified English translations of high school/university documents. The Alliance Francaise assists with French to English translations. Applicants must please contact them to establish the cost.

- Financing your studies: Scholarships administered by the United Nations High Commission for Refugees are limited and few students succeed in securing a scholarship. The few who do succeed should be willing to save and/work during vacations to contribute to study expenses. Those who do not secure a scholarship may wish to consider less expensive study options, e.g. correspondence study, which allows students to work full-time to finance their own studies.

International Student Offices

In addition to the official response to the University, successful applicants who will be staying in residence should email or phone the International Student Office to provide their date of arrival.

English Proficiency

UKZN is an English-medium university. Its language policy requires that all applicants, who are not from an English-speaking country or have not been educated in an English-speaking country, must demonstrate competence in English through one of the following:

- A pass in an examination equivalent to English Higher Grade (first or second language) at South African Senior Certificate level (matriculation). Equivalencies are established by the South African Matriculation Board; OR
- A pass in English at GCE A-level, or O-level (C symbol or higher), or International Baccalaureate.

International applicants who do not satisfy these requirements, and for whom English is a foreign language, must either:

- Attain an overall score of 7.0 (for graduate students) on the International English Language Testing System (IELTS). For information on IELTS test dates, venues and costs, contact the British Council through your closest British embassy or consulate, or consult www.britishcouncil.org.
- Attain a test score of at least 550 on the paper version of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or a score of at least 80 on the IBT (electronic) version of the test. For information about test dates, venues and costs, applicants must contact the United States Information Service (USIS) or the US embassy in their home country; or contact TOEFL direct at toefl@ets.org or consult www.toefl.org.

The UKZN Language Centre provides a testing service and English language courses for those who do not meet these requirements. After testing, students whose scores are comparable to the required IELTS or TOEFL scores can apply to enter a degree programme. Those who do not are advised to spend one or two semesters learning English in the Language Centre.

Medical Health Cover

Medical health cover is one of the essential immigration requirements when students apply for a study visa at the South African High Commission in their home country. It is a compulsory requirement for the University of KwaZulu-Natal. Students cannot register for the academic year without medical health cover. Momentum Health and CompCare (registered with the South African Medical Aid Scheme) are the two options available to UKZN students. It is essential to make the necessary financial arrangements for medical health cover prior to applying for a study visa. Students must ensure that they advise their sponsor of this requirement as soon as they receive their acceptance letter. A letter indicating medical health cover sponsorship is not acceptable. The sponsor must organise payment for the required medical health cover directly with the medical healthcare provider. UKZN has signed an agreement with ABSA Health Care Consultants, who have been commissioned by the International Education Association of South Africa (IEASA) to undertake studies and provide guidance on the use of medical health cover providers. Momentum Health and CompCare are the only two options available to the UKZN students, and as repatriation is an essential requirement for immigration/visa purposes, it is included in these two medical health covers. UKZN will only accept the two above mentioned medical healthcare providers.

- In 2018, each student must have medical health cover, valid from February to November (10 months) for the full academic year;
- If the student is at UKZN for one semester, five months' medical health cover is required;
- Medical students must have medical health cover, from January to November, 11 months of each academic year;

- Students cannot register without providing the relevant International Student Office (ISO) with proof of medical health cover and a valid study permit.
