

2020-2021 Next Generation Scholarship

The Application

The 2020-2021 Next Generation scholarship application consists of two phases. In the first phase, applicants will submit an essay, personal brand video, two letters of recommendation, resume, headshot and school transcripts. Applications are due on April 10, 2020.

Applicants will be notified by May 5, 2020 if they are selected to move on to the semi-finalist stage. In this phase, 25 students will be required to complete a case study created in collaboration with PetSmart, Inc. and two interviews with assigned retailers by August 7, 2020. From there, 10 students will advance and complete quick-fire video interviews with the NRF team. The top five finalists will then be selected and notified by September 16, 2020. The finalists will complete final round interviews with members of the NRF Foundation Board of Directors to determine the top recipient.

The top recipient will receive a $25,000 tuition scholarship, and four finalists will receive $10,000 tuition scholarships.

Learn more about the application process including submission requirements and key dates here.

The NRF Foundation will be hosting two information sessions on Feb. 13 and March 5 at 3 p.m. EST. Join us as we walk through this year's eligibility, requirements, timeline, and answer any questions. These calls are open to all students and educators. The number to dial-in is 1-855-633-2040 and the passcode is 2926954#.

Eligibility

The NRF Foundation Next Generation Scholarship is open to junior and senior students enrolled full-time at a NRF University Member school when the scholarship is awarded in January 2021.

Any questions may be directed to scholarship@signatureschoolproducts.com

Please Note:

- All scholarship applications for the 2020 Teachers Make Teachers Scholarship must include a completed application form.
- Please submit your completed application form and essay only. No resumes, letters of recommendation, CVs, or other documents are required.
- The five finalists will be posted on our website and the winning submission will be chosen from those five.
- Winner will be announced by June 1, 2020.
- Funds will be sent to the winner's institution to be disbursed as financial aid to the student.

Commonly Asked Questions

- Can my essay be longer than 300 words? Certainly. Essays are not scored on their length, but rather on the strength of their content.
- Ordering transcripts can get pricey. Can I just tell you my GPA? We prefer that no official transcripts be sent. We sympathize with how costly receiving an education can be and do not want any applicant spending money in order to apply for our scholarship. Stating your GPA in your email correspondence is sufficient. Some applicants have taken screenshots of their unofficial GPA and sent that.
- Can any major apply for this scholarship? We are only considering applicants whose degree focus is in education.
- Will my essay be published if I win? We will not be publishing any essays, neither in part or in whole. Your essay will not be shared in any form outside of our scholarship committee. If you are selected as a finalist, we will publish your first name, last name, city, and state. Because privacy on the internet is a concern, you may elect to present your first or last name as an initial only. Aside from finalists' names, cities, and states, no other information is made public.

Be The Boss Scholarship

Look, guys. This is business. Nothing personal.

Let us talk numbers -- just the cold, hard facts.

Did you know... Female founders outperform their male peers?

Have you heard... Female CEOs in the Fortune 1000 drive three times the returns as S&P 500 enterprises run predominantly by men?

Unbelievably... Only 18 percent of all startups have a female founder, and when talking Series A, only 10 percent are female-led. In fact, of the $114 billion in funding given to these startups, only 6 percent of it makes its way to a female-founded startup.

And did you know... Women-owned businesses added 340,000 new jobs between 2007 and 2015 while men-owned businesses cut 1.2 million?

How about this one... Among the most successful companies, men begin their businesses with six times as much capital as women do!

And have you read... Less than five percent of VC dollars go to women-led businesses?

Well, we have, and we believe them to be true. That is why we are eager to offer a scholarship exclusively for women who want to execute on their business ideas.

As a female founder, I want to encourage other young women, who are thinking about starting up a business, to just give it a go. It does not matter if you fail. You will learn so much, and gain so much more experience than starting at the bottom of the ladder at a large corporate. In addition, if you discover that startup life is not for you, you will still stand out from other applicants when you re-enter the workforce. It is a win-win!

What I love about startups: Autonomy over your work, being able to influence the direction of a company or product, pulling together resources and working as a team to make something valuable out of nothing.

I also want to encourage more women to get to leadership positions and strive for the C-suite and board-level roles, whether in a startup or multinational corporate. Advice I would give to young entrepreneurs is to follow your gut and surround yourself with the smartest people you know. “

Shawn Carter Scholarship Fund \(SCSF\)

The Shawn Carter Foundation, which funds the Shawn Carter Scholarship, was established in 2003 by Shawn Carter (aka Jay Z) and his mother, Gloria Carter.

According to their website, the Shawn Carter Scholarship Fund (SCSF) was “founded on the belief that any motivated individual in need should have the opportunity to further his or her education. By removing some of the financial burdens associated with going to, surviving in, and graduating from college, the SCSF plays a vital role in increasing college access and success for many motivated yet underserved youth and young adults. The SCSF provides individual grants, paid directly to the educational institution, to every student who qualifies and reapplies yearly, from admission to graduation. The grant can be used to cover tuition expenses and related supplemental educational expenses such as books, lab fees, travel and select costs of living. All Shawn Carter Scholars are required to “give back” by conducting community service and by serving as mentors to younger, aspiring Shawn Carter Scholars.”

Who is eligible to apply for the Shawn Carter Scholarship?

- High school seniors, students with GED diplomas, undergraduate (2 year or 4 year) college students, and students at vocational or trade schools
- US citizen or Permanent Resident
- 25 years old or younger
- Minimum 2.0 GPA

How much are Shawn Carter Scholarships worth?

Winners will receive scholarships from $1500 to $2500 each year.

When is the Shawn Carter Scholarship application due?

The deadline for the application is April 30 2019 (11:59 PM EST). Please note that incomplete and late applications are not eligible.

Library & Museum Short-Term Resident Research Fellowships

Apply here for a Short-Term Resident Research Fellowship

The American Philosophical Society Library & Museum in Philadelphia invites applications for short-term residential research fellowships. These funding opportunities provide 1- to 3- months of support for researchers in residence and are open to scholars in all fields who show a demonstrated need to use the Library & Museum's collections for their project. Approximately 25-30 short-term fellowships are awarded each year.

The APS Library & Museum's collections make it among the premier institutions for documenting and exhibiting the history of the American Revolution and founding, the history of science from Newton to NASA, Native American languages and culture, and the development of American anthropology. The Library & Museum houses over 13 million manuscripts; 350,000 volumes of printed materials and bound periodicals; 250,000 images, fine art, and other objects; thousands of maps and prints; and more than 3,500 hours of audio recordings of Native American languages.

Comprehensive, searchable guides and finding aids to our collections are available online at www.amphilsoc.org/library and <http://amphilsoc.pastperfectonline.com/>.

A stipend of $3,000 per month is awarded for a minimum of one month and a maximum of three months. The stipend is paid after the awardee arrives at the APS Library & Museum to begin their fellowship. The duration of award is requested by the candidate, but the final decision is made by the Fellowship Committee. The purpose of the stipend is to defray the costs of working in Philadelphia.

Fellowships may be taken starting any day no earlier than June 1, 2020 and must be completed by May 31, 2021. Fellows are required to be in residence for four to twelve consecutive weeks, depending upon the length of the award. Fellows do not have to decide on the dates of their fellowship right away; they have one year to decide, although most take their fellowships during the summer period.

Deadline: March 6, 2020. Notifications will be sent in April 2020.

Mental Health Scholarships from Big Moods

With the goal of raising public awareness of mental health, Big Moods is annually offering a $500 scholarship presented to college students who have experienced mental illness. To apply, you must write a blog post on mental health, whether that is about your personal experiences, tips for coping, or general awareness for mental illness in college.

The Annual GameAuthority Scholarship

GameAuthority acknowledges how important gaming is in the learning experience. As games have progressed in recent years so has its use across many industries, as well as in education.

Games and simulation programs are used in education from kindergarten all the way to post-graduate exams and career practice. We understand today, that people have different learning styles and we often benefit from strong visuals as well as building our muscle memory. Not only do games provide relaxation outside the classroom but they also promote incredible logical thinking skills, coordination skills, as well as an understanding of coding and digital practice - a skill that is going to become ever-prominently needed in the future.

Are you an undergraduate student that is using gaming or simulation programs to better your education in your studies? We would love to hear how it is advancing your learning experience and setting you up for success. If you think you can take on the challenge, please elaborate on your educational gaming experience in an essay! The student that best expresses their thoughts will be awarded a $1,000 scholarship.

Commonly Asked Questions

- Can my essay be longer than 300 words? Certainly. Essays are not scored on their length, but rather on the strength of their content.
- Ordering transcripts can get pricey. Can I just tell you my GPA? We prefer that no official transcripts be sent. We sympathize with how costly receiving an education can be and do not want any applicant's spending money in order to apply for our scholarship. Stating your GPA in your email correspondence is sufficient. Some applicants have taken screenshots of their unofficial GPA and sent that.
- Can any major apply for this scholarship? We are only considering applicants whose degree focus is in education.
- Will my essay be published if I win? We will not be publishing any essays, neither in part or in whole. Your essay will not be shared in any form outside of our scholarship committee. If you are selected as a finalist, we will publish your first name, last name, city, and state. Because privacy on the internet is a concern, you may elect to present your first or last name as an initial only. Aside from finalists' names, cities, and states, no other information is made public.

The Citizen Annual Scholarship

At The Citizen, we understand that there is little in the world that is more important than having access to education. While all types of education are important, we believe that learning to be financially responsible from a young age is one of the bases to living a happy life. The Citizen is a News website which delivers breaking News around the world.
