THOUGHTS ON SPORTSMANSHIP

The 3&2 Baseball Club of Johnson County wants all participants, players, coaches, parents and fans to truly enjoy the time you spend at our facilities. We often say, "We're not in the baseball business. We're in the memory business. We make memories at Johnson County 3&2." Better memories are created when you understand your role in the game being played.

- Players play.
- Coaches coach.
- Umpires make the calls.
- Spectators support.

When we try to do too much, when one participant crosses over and takes on the role of another participant (i.e. coaches umpiring, parents coaching, etc.) behavioral problems and conflict often occur. When you enter our facilities, ask yourself, "Am I a spectator, coach, player, or umpire?" Choose one. You may only have one role and whatever your role it is important to remember...

- Volunteer Coaches have a difficult job..."Support your coach."
- Players are not perfect..."They need your encouragement."
- Umpires are expected to be perfect and get better; they're human..."Respect the person...respect the call."
- Spectators should keep all comments and actions positive, upbeat and encouraging..."Enjoy the game."

We, The 3&2 Baseball Club of Johnson County, believe the true purpose of youth sports is fun, exercise, and personal development. With this in mind we offer the following suggestions to coaches, parents and fans, and players.

Coaches

1. You are responsible for everything. Arrive at 3&2 with a coach's attitude that is good and fair for everyone. Your players will feed off of you.
2. Make sure your team is prepared and know what they are doing. A well-prepared team has a great experience.
3. Encourage your players, don't yell at them. No one, including you, likes to be yelled at. The game is harder to play than you remember. You're a teacher of the game.
4. Body language is noticed. Words are heard. Your actions and your words will live forever in the hearts and minds of your players. They will never forget you. Every message you send is received. You're one of the most influential people in your player's life. Your legacy is how they will remember you. Will they remember you as someone that taught them the game, made the game fun, and was a positive role model? Or will they remember you as someone that took all the fun out of the game? It's up to you.
5. Like you have team rules, 3&2 has rules regarding warm up areas, coach uniforms, and coach behavior. Observe 3&2's rules like you expect your players to observe your team rules. You're showing your players that rules are important and are to be followed.
6. Attend the pregame meeting with the umpires and the opposing coach. Wear a smile. Shake everyone's hand. Give your undivided attention to the umpires. Listen to what they have to say. Show them they have your respect. We teach them that the pregame meeting sets the tone for the game and defines expectations.
7. Remember, umpires are learning just like you and your players. The game is difficult, just like life. There will be some calls that don't go your way and some you may disagree with, but just like life, they will even out over time. Do not go charging onto the field and be "demonstrative" to challenge a call. Don't yell and make critical comments. If you disagree with a call, be a gentleman; ask for time and approach the umpire calmly. Ask questions, don't make statements. Know that once a call is made, it is made. It will not be changed. We train our umpires to ask for help from their partner in certain situations, but most of the time both umpires are not looking at the ball or same area of the field. They each have areas of observation and responsibility.
8. You have every right to ask for the umpire supervisor to answer a rules question. Just do it nicely, respectfully, calmly. When the umpire supervisor arrives at your field, let him talk to the umpires first. Do not ask for the umpire supervisor when you are questioning a judgment call. They didn't see the play.
9. If you have a serious problem or issue that needs to be resolved or question that you want answered, do not take it to the field manager's office. Our policy at 3&2 is that nothing good can happen in the heat of the moment. We promise a response to your question within 48 hours of you letting us know of your concern. A cooling off period is essential. Remember, this is youth baseball and everything settles down the next day. We, the board of directors and staff, promise you an answer and help. It may not always be the answer you want, but we will do our best.
10. Line up and shake hands, every game. Shaking hands is the ultimate act of sportsmanship. The game is over. Go eat.

Parents/Spectators/Fans

1. Relax and enjoy the game. Cherish every moment. Remember, it is only a game.

2. Do not yell at the umpires. No one, including you, likes to be yelled at. Our umpires go through a vigorous training program, and we are constantly training them on how to improve as umpires. Most of our umpires are former players and coaches that love the game and like being on the field. They take the responsibility of umpiring seriously. It's a tough job. It's a hot job. Don't make it worse. Besides, your player (son) may want to umpire someday. It's a great summer job, but would you want your son yelled at by the parents in the stands?
3. Your player needs to know that you think he is great. He will look to you first. Be there for him, with an encouraging word.
4. Applaud good plays by both teams.
5. Don't coach from the stands, but you can cheer like crazy for your player and your team.
6. Don't coach your player on the ride to the game. Encourage him to have fun and emphasize teamwork.
7. Don't be critical of your player's performance on the ride home. Never second guess his effort. Listen to them on the way home and be supportive. If he can't talk to you about a baseball game, how is he going to be able to talk to you if he's having trouble at school, in his career, with his marriage? How you communicate about a baseball game is setting the stage for future conversations.
8. Support your coaches. They have their hands full and will appreciate your support. If you have questions or concerns, don't ask after a game (emotions are high, win or lose) or at practice. Give your coach a call on an off night.
9. Enjoy the game.

Players

1. You are the reason we exist. Have fun and play hard.
2. Everything starts with you. Be the best you can be. Be the best player. Be the best teammate. Be the best kid. Respect everybody.
3. Sportsmanship starts with how you play the game. If you give it all you have you can give no more. Play to win realizing you won't win them all. Win with class, lose with class. Baseball is full of both winning and losing.
4. Yell only for your teammates. Be positive. Never yell bad stuff at anyone, especially your opponent. The game is tough. You will have bad days too, so just yell the good stuff.
5. Accept responsibility for your own performance. Don't blame anyone else. It is a tough game. The best way to learn is by making mistakes. Don't hang your head, hold it up and get better every day. Every time you make a mistake you are getting better because you are learning, remember that.
6. Baseball is a game of failure. The Hall of Fame hitters only get three hits in ten at bats. That means they failed seven times. You'll make errors. You'll make mistakes. Learn from them because there will be another at bat, another pitch, another ground ball, another play, another opportunity for you to succeed.
7. Line up and shake hands with the other team. This is what every good sport does.
8. Enjoy the game.

Rule Changes are Highlighted in Green

2022 Official Rules of The 3&2 Baseball Club of Johnson County, Inc.

INTRODUCTION

The following rules, supplemented by the Official Baseball Rules (OBR), shall govern play and conduct of players and team officials in all league games. These rules have been drawn in accordance with the purposes and aims of 3&2 Baseball, and have as their basis the development and teaching of the elements of good sportsmanship and fair play. The Executive Board of Directors shall be the interpreter of these rules.

“Changing Ideas, Changeless Ideals”

There has never been a set of rules or laws that are completely without loopholes. When a parent, an individual, or team is basing a protest or defense on merely a minor technical point or loophole that is contrary to tradition, accepted practice, fair play or good sportsmanship, the spirit of the rule will be considered as well as the letter of the rule.

Additions to, or changes in these rules may be recommended and presented in writing to the Rules Committee for approval or rejection. If approved, such proposal shall be presented to the Executive Board for its approval.

All directives, special notices, instruction issued by any committee automatically become part of these rules for the current season, provided such notices have the approval of the Executive Board. This includes special playing rules, entry or registration fees, deadline dates, schedules, etc.

The official rules of the American League as modified in the following are the playing rules for The 3&2 Baseball Club of Johnson County, Inc. In case of any conflict between the rules of the 3&2 Baseball Club and the rules of the American League, the 3&2 Baseball Club rules shall have precedence.

1.00 BASEBALL CLUB STRUCTURE

- 1.01 The 3&2 Baseball Club of Johnson Country is a grade based Baseball Club comprised of 11 grade (pre-school – high school) based divisions. Grade divisions are determined by the most recently completed school year.
- 1.02 Within the 1st grade thru high school divisions, leagues are made up of teams of like skill and ability.
- (a) Various named leagues at each grade level
 - (1) Comprised of teams with players who can be either grade based, birth date based or both. Leagues are formed based on a team's skill level so that teams are competing against other teams of similar skill level. Players on these teams must reside within the same high school boundary (Rule 2.01) and have a minimum team roster of 13 players.
 - (b) First
 - (1) Usually comprised of USSSA classifications of AA/AAA teams, but not a requirement. Players on these teams must reside within the same high school boundary (Rule 2.01) and have a minimum team roster of 11 players.
 - (c) Metro
 - (1) Comprised of USSSA classifications of AAA/Major teams and participation in this division is by 3&2's invitation only. Teams must have a minimum roster of 11 players and are formed based on rule 2.01a

2.00 TEAM ROSTER & FORMATION

- 2.01 1st grade through High School teams are formed by high school boundaries in the Shawnee Mission, Olathe, Blue Valley and De Soto public school districts or by private/parochial school attendance.
- (a) Metro League teams in the 1st – 8th grade divisions are not limited to by any geographical boundaries or areas.
 - (b) A team formed in a boundary area remains in the boundary area in which it was formed except if it requests and is reassigned to a new high school boundary by the 3&2 league staff.
 - (c) The team manager or a coach need not reside in the boundary area in which the team is formed.
 - (d) The 3&2 league staff will decide what constitutes a team.
 - (e) Teams formed outside these high school areas may join The Club on a space available basis. Outside teams must also be formed within the boundary of one high school area. This is determined annually.

EXAMPLE: PUBLIC SCHOOLS- All players on a team roster must attend elementary schools, middle schools or junior high schools that feed the same high school.

EXAMPLE: PRIVATE/PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS-All players on a team roster must attend a private/parochial feeder school within the boundaries, as defined by The Club, of the private/parochial high school.

NOTE: A player attending a private/parochial school may play for a team formed in his school or a team formed within the public high school boundary in which he resides.

EXPLANATION: Why 3&2 Forms Teams by High School Boundary.

- Forming teams by high school boundary areas creates more opportunities for more players to play more baseball for a longer period of time.
- Experience demonstrates that without high school boundary area limitations, teams seek to become more competitive faster, causing more lower level players on each roster to have fewer places to play as teams are selected and other teams are broken up earlier in a player's development.
- High school area formation forces teams to take more players from their own area, creating more opportunities for everyone.
- High school area formation allows more players on area teams to play with classmates and friends longer which increases participation and extends players interest to continue playing, including those who may not be as talented.
- High school area formation is also generally more convenient for parents and players as they live and often practice near each other rather than at some distant practice field in another high school boundary area. This convenience (carpooling is one example) promotes players staying involved in baseball longer.
- High school area formation better allows players of different talent levels to continue to develop a love of baseball, learn the valuable lessons taught by team sports and allows later bloomers the opportunity to still be involved in baseball as their skills and physical abilities develop. It also allows opportunities for players who might not make their high school teams at more senior levels, but who have continued to play baseball, to remain active through the Federal League.
- High school area team formation encourages coaches to teach and improve player skills and develop better relationships with players rather than continually discarding players in search of better talent.
- Kids staying engaged in activities like sports, or in this case more kids playing more baseball, longer is essential to the well-being of the youth of our community and is consistent with 3&2's charter, mandate and goals.
- Within the high school area boundary formation rules, 3&2 has leagues for teams at different levels which provide a significant amount of flexibility to accommodate teams and players at all levels.
- High school area team formation provides for a better competitive balance as all teams have the same rules for creating teams.

- 2.02 Teams cannot be formed based on players living in any geographic area other than the district high school areas such as home associations, churches, cub scouts or country clubs.
- 2.03 On the opening date of the team's season, it is recommended a team have a minimum number of eligible players and no more than 15 eligible players on its roster. The minimum roster size is as follows:
- (a) Kindergarten – 10.
 - (b) 1st grade through High School Division – 11.
 - (c) First League and Metro League teams – 11.
 - (d) The 3&2 league staff reserves the right to add players to any roster until a team has reached the maximum per these rules at any time prior to July 1. For the purpose of this rule, opening day is defined as the first day a division is scheduled.
- 2.04 No team may sign a player after June 15.
- 2.05 The Club will reassign players who are not placed on the roster of the team for which they register.
- 2.06 Solicitation of players is forbidden during the season. Violations of this will be reported to the Sportsmanship Committee for their review and action.
- 2.07 The electronic waiver form must be signed by the player's parent or guardian. After approval by the team manager the roster/waiver form must be placed on file with the Club. In the event a player is released from a team and joins another team he must sign a roster/waiver form with the team he joins. No player who transfers from a team after the opening date of the season is eligible to compete in any game unless and until his current roster/waiver is on file with the Club.
- 2.08 The team manager is responsible to determine the eligibility of each player who registers for his team.
Any manager or coach who falsifies any roster information for league play or falsifies any roster information for 3&2 affiliated tournaments will be subject to action taken by the Sportsmanship Committee against such manager/coach up to loss of eligibility to participate in the 3&2 program.
- 2.09 No team is eligible for play until all qualifications as set forth in the rules are met.

3.00 PLAYER ELIGIBILITY & MOVEMENT OF PLAYERS

The 3&2 Baseball Club of Johnson County understands there are reasons for teams to change and evolve. When they do, it impacts neighborhoods, communities, families and kids. We ask you to think carefully about how your actions may affect others when you leave a team, disband a team, merge teams or form a new team. Feelings can be hurt, friendships can be lost, and sadly the kids involved can be hurt. Baseball and youth sports are about neighborhoods, schools and playing with your buddies. History and experience has shown the ones who led the changes or instigated the changes look back and say it wasn't worth it.

If you are a coach or parent who has decided to split up your team for whatever reason i.e. supposedly better competition, personality conflicts, too many players, not enough players, or for whatever reason you must have consideration for others and clearly communicate your intentions to all involved. This is especially true of managers who are making the changes. You are in a leadership position. Please act like one and accept responsibility for your actions, and communicate in a timely manner what you are doing with all parents and players involved.

We also ask that you notify The Club office. We can help you navigate the changes ahead. Our goal is not to “police” player movement and team formations, but we’ve been through it before and know how it can affect the people involved. It will keep us from being “blind-sided” after the fact by the formation of a team that was disbanded and now there are kids and families left out. Communication and consideration is the key. The more everyone is aware of the changes, the better we can accommodate the teams and the players involved. We are here to help.

- 3.01 Players must reside in Johnson County, Kansas.
- (a) Players from outside Johnson County may participate in The Club on a space available basis. This is determined annually.
 - (b) Excluding players on Metro League Teams

 - EXAMPLE SEVEN: Runner at third. Catcher's return throw to pitcher is errant and not caught/fielded cleanly by the pitcher. The runner at third may attempt to advance to home at his own risk.
 - EXPLANATION: The purpose of this rule is to encourage players to attempt to make plays without fear of making a bad play. Without this rule, The Club is concerned that managers/coaches will instruct players to hold the ball and not attempt to make plays that may result in errors and runner advancement. Holding the ball teaches the players nothing. Strict enforcement of the one base on an overthrow rule encourages coaches to instruct players to attempt to make plays without creating a merry-go-round scenario on the bases.

Note to coaches: When on offense, encouraging runners at 3rd base to not return to the bag after a pitch in an attempt to bait the catcher (or other defensive players) into making a play on the runner at third (so he can attempt to advance home) is discouraged. When on defense, coaches should encourage their players to ignore the runner at third if he does not return to the bag. The runner cannot advance until an errant throw has been made. An overthrow that follows a batted ball allows the batter-runner to advance one base past the overthrown base at his own peril.

14.04 The infield fly rule shall not apply.

14.05 There are no balks.

(a) The balk rule is in play in the Metro and First Leagues.
