LETTER FROM OUR PASTOR

Dear Friends,

Last Friday September 10, we had an amazing Eucharistic-centered Healing Mass led by the Franciscan Friars of the Holy Spirit here in our parish. It was perhaps one of the most successful and well-attended Masses we have had in a very long time. The Mass drew attendance from several parishes from around the valley. Since then, I have received numerous words of gratitude from many of you for organizing this healing Mass. However, my gratitude goes to my Adult Faith Formation and Spirituality team coordinated by Barb Lishko and to all of you for making this Mass so successful. In case you had any healing and transforming experience during this particular Mass, please feel free to let me know so that I can share it with our community. In the meantime, allow me to share with you a great article written by one of our parishioners, Charles Johnson on the Eucharist which changed his life. His article was inspired by recent research which revealed that nearly 70% of Catholics in the United States do not believe in the Real Presence of Christ in the Eucharist. He begins with a quote from St. Cyril of Jerusalem:

Since Christ Himself has said, "This is My Body" who shall dare to doubt that It is His Body? – St. Cyril of Jerusalem.

He then goes on to write: "I've been a Christian my entire life. I was baptized as a Presbyterian when I was an infant, I went on to attend Mass with my mother, and a Presbyterian Church with my father. What one we went to depended on a multitude of factors, but it would be easy to say that I was a Christian without a denomination.

As I grew older, I was drawn more to evangelical Protestantism, partly because of the music, partly because of the message, but mainly because it aligned with my political worldview. I admired the reformers because I had seen them through a lens of anti-authoritarian freedom fighters, on the level with Thomas Jefferson, Thomas Paine, James Madison, and all my other heroes from American history.

But I was never truly sold on Protestant theology. On the surface, I was happy with where I was at, but when I dug down to what a particular church really taught and believed, it never satisfied me. My primary concern was how all these churches that interpret the Bible so literally, would just gloss over John chapter 6 like it never even existed. So, I began to examine it myself, and where it led me still amazes me to this day.

It all begins with taking Jesus at His word. When He is teaching via a parable, He will let you know. Whenever He says, "amen, amen" or "truly, truly", what follows is a literal statement. Such as:

"Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, you have no life in you; he who eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day. For my flesh is food indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.

He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him. As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so he who eats me will live because of me. This is the bread which came down from heaven, not such as the fathers ate and died; he who eats this bread will live forever. "John 6 52-58

I have yet to meet a Protestant who takes this literally (they wouldn't be Protestant if they did), but while many churches claim the title of "bible believing" or "bible-based church" they just gloss over this. At communion services you never would hear John 6, or anything close, and you could count on hearing the words "symbol", "represents" and "symbolic" at least a handful of times, but never an explanation why we aren't taking Jesus at His word. The whole doctrine of Sola Scriptura goes out the window when they start adding how it's a symbol of his body.

Toward the conclusion of His discourse John tells us that "many of His disciples" left and returned to their former lives. Jesus never makes an attempt to alleviate their concerns. In fact, when the murmuring first started, He doubled down on His statement. When asked if they (the Apostles) also wanted to leave, Simon Peter answered him: Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life. John 6:68. He never tried to clarify it to the Apostles, and they accepted it because they knew He was the Messiah.

Nowhere in the entire discourse, does Jesus say that it's a symbol. This always bothered me; how can churches that claim to accept the entire Bible literally say this is just a symbol? It was this line of thinking that was the first thing to start drawing me towards the Church that Christ founded. If the Eucharist contains the Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity of Christ, then what else that the Church teaches is true? I discovered that the answer to that is... everything. Once you breach that wall there is no going back and RCIA is in your future for sure. It was the truth and beauty of the Eucharist that confirmed for me that I belonged in the Catholic Church.

Remember next time you are at Mass, do not to take communion out of habit, but really focus on the beauty and miracle that happens right before your eyes. Every time the priest says the words of institution (This is my Body, this is my blood), a miraculous event takes place, never take that for granted. I thank God for the instrumental role that the Eucharist played in bringing me home to where I belong in His Church. Charlie concludes his article with this quote: If angels could be jealous of men, they would be so for one reason: Holy Communion.- St. Maximilian Kolbe"

Charles Johnson is the author of the book: "The Beauty of the Mass", and also member of our Stewardship Council here at St. Andrew Parish.

Your Pastor,
Fr. Robert

LAST WEEKS WORD OF THE WEEK

In case you missed last week word of the week at mass:

Homily

The Homily follows the proclamation of the Gospel, and is our time on the Road to Emmaus.

In Luke 24, we read about Jesus, unrecognized, accompanying two of his disciples to Emmaus. Along the way, he explains the Scriptures, in the context of himself, and before joining them for supper where "he took bread, blessed and broke it, and gave it to them." This is the same structure we experience in Mass today.

When giving a homily, the priest or deacon, is tasked with "breaking open" the readings so that we, the laity, may better understand and apply their meanings to our everyday life. This is so that we may live the life that God wants and intends for us to live: close to Him!

ADORATION CORNER

St. Thomas Aquinas (1225 to 1274)

Doctor of the Church, Theologian, and Philosopher

It is said that we will be remembered by the company we keep. St. Thomas recognized this when he said, "The things we love tell us who we are." Are we too busy to commit to a special specific hour each week with Jesus, who has done everything for us? One thing is for sure - if we faithfully attend Eucharistic Adoration Jesus will recognize and remember us as one of his faithful disciples at our death."

STEWARDSHIP

Whenever the word Stewardship is mentioned everyone cringes and thinks "O boy, asking for more money". While money is important to balance the budget, Stewardship is much more. Consider the following.

In 1992, the United States Conference of Bishops published Stewardship, A Disciples Response. The Bishops defined a Christian Steward as one who:

- 1) Receives God's gifts gratefully: We have gifts or skills such as: speaking before a group, being an engineer, a successful business owner, a nurse or a teacher - do we say "Thank You God for these gifts"?
- 2) Cherishes and trends God's gifts responsibly: We understand the value of those gifts and use them in a responsible, moral and Christian manner.
- 3) Shares God's gifts with love and justice: We use these gifts not only to benefit ourselves, but do we also use them to help our friends, neighbors or our parish?
- 4) Return God's gifts with increase: In a Gospel reading, a business owner, before going away, gives 5 talents to a servant to care for. The owner returns to find the servant has invested the 5 talents and now returns to him 10 talents. Will our gifts be of greater value when we return them to God? Stewards acknowledge that God is the Creator and Owner of all and shares of their gifts out of Love for God and one another.

To learn more about Stewardship, go to the Stewardship tab on the parish website and read Fr. Robert's letters on Time, Talent and Treasure. Questions regarding Stewardship may be emailed to: Stewardship@standrewchandler.com.
