STEPS TO WRAPPING THE GUIDES

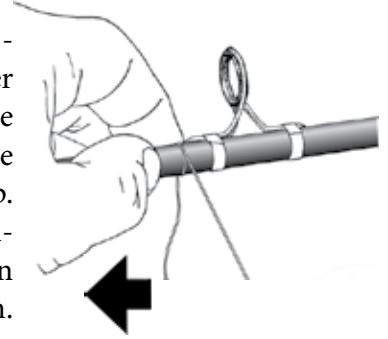

There are several methods of wrapping guides.

One simple way to wrap is to place the threadspool in a cup and set the cup behind a chair. Run the thread up and over the chair seat and sit down on the thread. This will maintain constant tension on the thread while wrapping. Rest the rod horizontally on your thighs when wrapping. Wrap individual sections separately except when wrapping near a ferrule. Another chair can be used to support the rod butt, if necessary.

When wrapping double foot guides, the direction of the wrap should be toward the center of the guide.

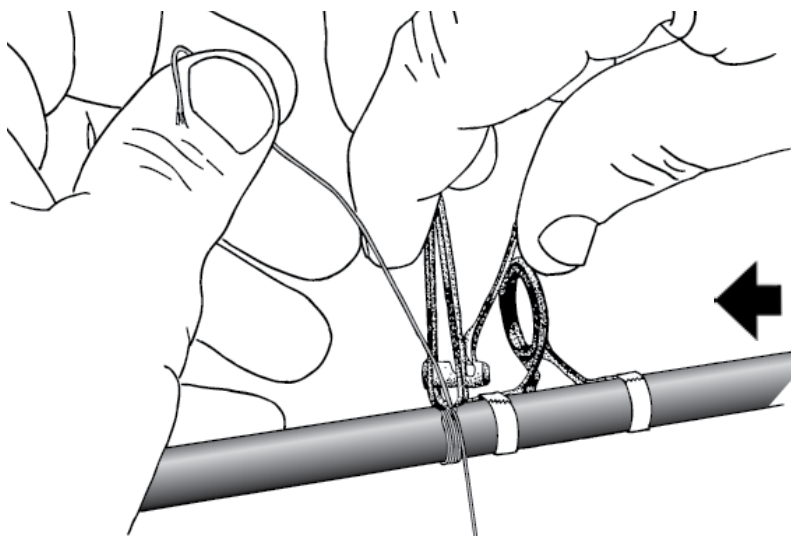

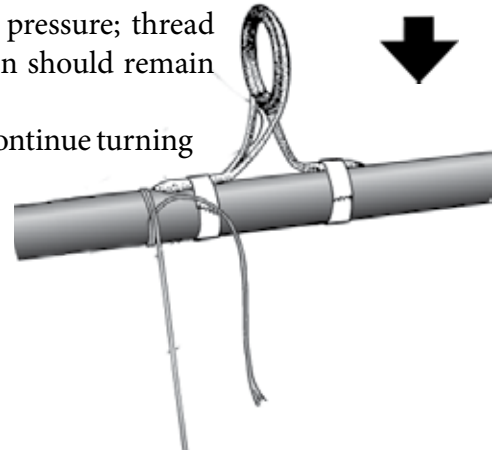

1. Begin by draping the thread over the rod. Bring the loose end around the rod in the direction you want to wrap. Apply pressure with your index finger as shown to maintain tension.

2. Cross the thread over itself.

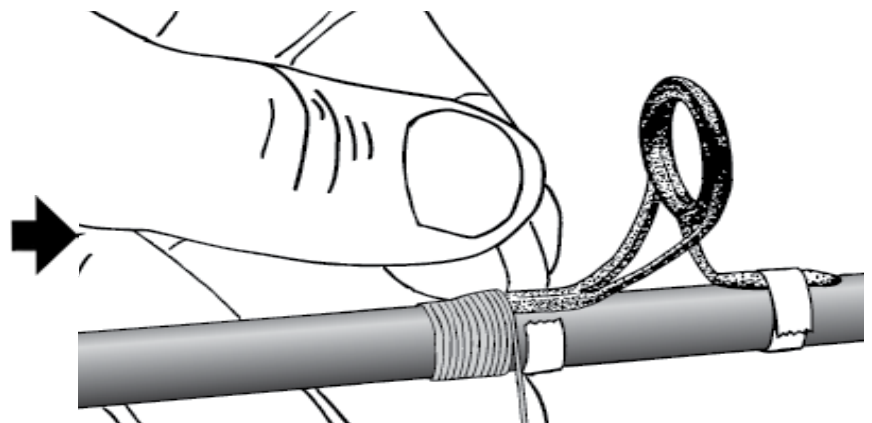

3. Turn the rod until the thread crosses itself a second time. Note how the index finger rolls down the rod to maintain tension. Release finger pressure; thread tension should remain constant.

4. Continue turning about six wraps, maintaining consistent tension on the thread. Closely trim the loose end with a thread clipper.

5. Continue wrapping up onto the guide foot. If the guide foot is temporarily attached with tape, remove the tape after the guide foot is secured with a few wraps.

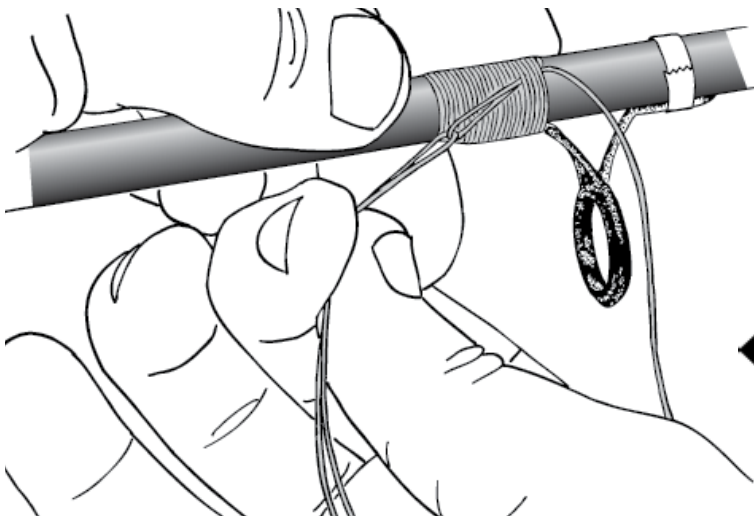

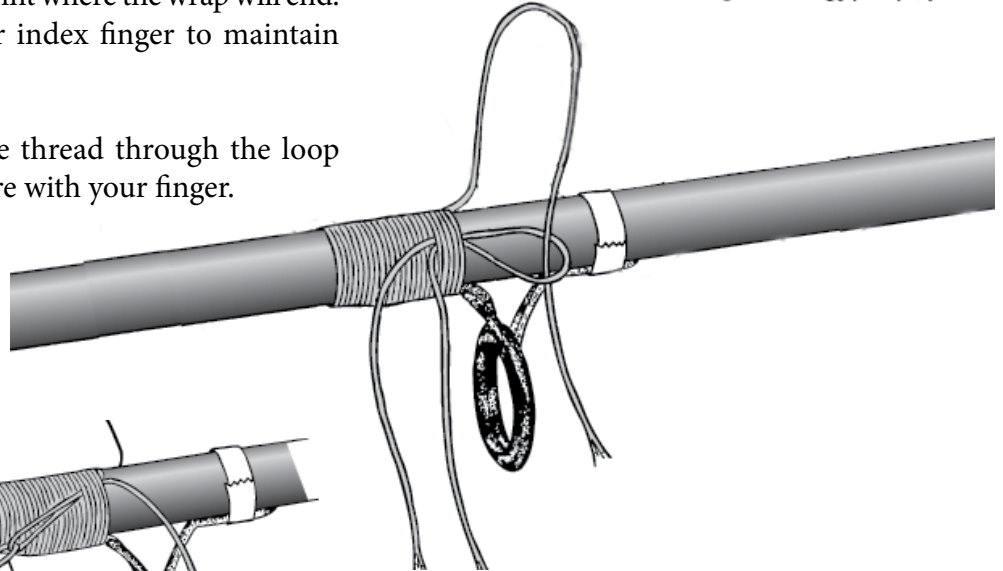

STEPS TO WRAPPING THE GUIDES - continued

6. Continue wrapping until the thread is 6 to 8 turns from where the wrap will end. At this point, lay down a separate loop of thread or monofilament under the wrap. The loop should point in the direction of the wrap and should be on the opposite side of the blank from the guide.

7. Continue turning to the point where the wrap will end. Apply pressure with your index finger to maintain tension, then cut the thread.

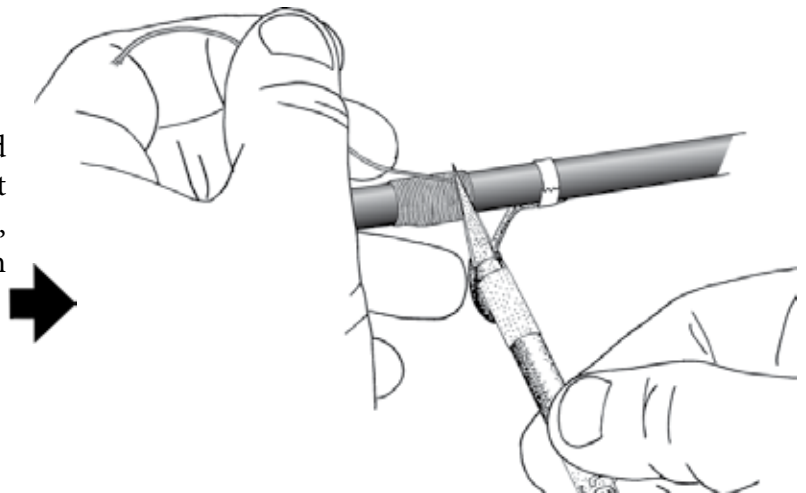

8. Tuck the loose end of the thread through the loop while maintaining pressure with your finger.

9. Pull the loop under the wrap, continuing to apply pressure with your finger. This will bring the loose end under the wrap, securely tying it off.

10. Work the thread from side to side to open a slight gap in the thread wrap.

11. Place the utility knife on the tie off thread in the gap and pull the thread up against blade to cut. Do not saw or slice. Use the rounded, polished handle of the thread clippers to burnish the thread and eliminate any gaps.

Finished wrap !

Make our “XE” Series Hook & Hackle blank into your “first build!” We offer it at a very reasonable price, yet it is one of my personal favorites. In fact, my 5-weight from an XE blank has been responsible for more fish catching than probably all my other rods combined! It’s fun, easy and will only take 7-8 hours for your first build. Complete rod building directions can be found online at www.hookhack.com under “About Rod Building”. Or you can just call Eric, Terry, Brian or me (Ron) for help!

Kits include H&H UL3 or UL5 Black Aluminum reel seat with rosewood or maple insert, “Super” grade cork reverse half wells grip, nickel silver winding check, ceramic ring stripping guides, chrome plated running guides and tip top. Glues & threads not included. PLEASE NOTE THAT KIT PRICES WILL CHANGE THROUGHOUT THE YEAR AS WE OFTEN CREATE SPECIAL KIT PACKAGES WITH DIFFERENT COMPONENTS.

WARRANTY All Hook & Hackle “FTX, Xi and XE”-series fly rod blanks are covered by a lifetime unlimited warranty. All claims should be made directly to us, The Hook & Hackle Company and cover only the intended use of the rod blank without modifications of length, size or nature. For warranty purposes, all sections should be returned to us for proper fitting of the replacement part. Please remove, and retain, all guides from the broken section that you may need to repair your rod. While there is no charge for the replaced section, a postage and handling fee of $35 is required with the warranty submission. If return shipping requires a destination beyond USA/Canada, additional international postage will be determined and added to the fee.

TRONDAK CORK SEALER

Cork Seal is designed to seal the surface of cork rod handles.

It prevents the penetration of soils and other foreign matter transferred to the grip area from the fisherman's hands.

It enhances that "cork feel." It toughens the cork to aid in the prevention of sloughing and chipping of the cork surface.

Cork Seal soaks into the cork and seals in depth. Once it is dry, dirt, grime, salmon egg residue are easily washed off with soap and water.

Build Great Fishing Rods

ROD-ZILLA "XI" SPINNING ROD BUILDING

Xi Spinning Rod Building

Complete Cutting-Edge Rod Building Kits

rod-zilla.com

This is a project that I've wanted to do for years. Every detail has been thought out to encourage and help the 'regular' gal or guy, not only get started building their own fishing rod, but also to build a first rod that's better than anything currently in their fishing arsenal!

I wanted this first build to be both fun and easy, but with an outcome which would "WOW" themselves! The components are all 'Top Shelf' and the blanks are among the finest available anywhere in the world! See it all for yourself at rod-zilla.com ...

One of the benefits of the patented nickel titanium shape-memory alloy frame is its flexibility!

CORK & CORK GRIPS

Grading Cork

For building fly rods, there are only 3 basic grades of cork:

- Flor - this is the highest grade with the least amount of filler. We sell REC AAA grade cork online.
- AAA or Superior - this is an excellent grade used on most of the better fly rods
- A - although the lowest of these grades, it is very good cork and will satisfy many builders

GUIDES - TIP TOPS

Confused about guides?
 We were too. First, decide whether you want single foot or double foot! Double foot are a bit easier to attach and wind, but there are more wraps that you must do.

Which guides do you need for your new rod building project? I can tell you that all of the guides we sell are among the finest made. For instance, our TiCH guides are not simply 'plated,' but rather they go through a process called Physical Vapor Deposition, or PVD, which results in a very strong bond between the coating and the guide. This is the best coating technology available and we use it for our Hook & Hackle guides. And our TiCH Stripping Guides have SIC rings -- the hardest material known!

Double Foot Stripping Guide

Adding upgraded stripping guides, like the Titanium w/ SIC rings to the left, are an excellent way to personalize your rod. More stripping guide upgrades can be found on pages 25 & 26.

TIP TOPS

Confused about Tip Tops? Match the color/type and order the one that fits the rod tip top size. If it's part of a kit, you can be sure that we'll check the right fit before we send it to you. Many builders use a "large Loop" tip top for rods that are 7-weight and higher. This allows for larger diameter line and knots. If you're not sure what to use, you'll never be wrong with the large loop!

Standard Large Loop

Please Note:
 If you are ordering more than one blank, indicate which tip top is for which so we may properly match the tip top to the right blank.

GUIDE UPGRADES - REC

Recoil - on the "Cutting Edge!"

There is a 'cutting edge' in rod building and Recoil is right on it. First, their guides are made in the USA. Now that's a good start, but they're actually made of a nickel/titanium alloy which makes them absolutely corrosion proof in addition to being strong! They have memory, so if you accidentally step on a guide, it'll spring back to its original dimensions, instead of being crushed, putting you and your rod out of service. And these Recoil guides are light in fact, they may be the lightest guides available anywhere!

Perfection Brand Guides

Perfection Brand guides are made in the USA & have always been the standard against which all conventional guides are measured. They a favorite among bamboo rod builders, restorers and many other 'Pro' Builders.

Build your next rod on the 'edge' with "Black Pearl!"

WINDING CHECKS/HOOKKEEPERS

For choosing the size of a metal winding check, the rule of thumb is to go two sizes DOWN from the butt size of the blank. If you want to assure there are no gaps between the check and the blank, go just one size down from the butt, but be prepared to ream a bit if necessary!

Looking for the very best? REC makes the finest nickel silver products in the world!! Dress up your next build with one of their outstanding nickel silver winding checks. The "Rope Knurl" is my favorite! $5.75-$6.80, $7.35-8.40.

VICES - PEAK - ONE OF OUR FAVORITES

Peak vises and accessories have been among our best selling vises for several years. In fact, the Peak Rotary is a permanent fixture on Eric and my home fly tying desks! With the addition of Peak's new LIRS series, including the large shaft Jurassic series, Peak vises can handle any fly tying challenge, from tiny midge hooks up to hooks with wire diameter up to .195"! And like all Peak products, they're built to last a lifetime. They're big supporters of Project Healing Waters and all products are made in the USA!

PEAK FULL ROTARY VISE

This is the vise I have on my tying desk!

It's under $150 and probably the best value in a "high end" vise. The standard jaws will hold hooks from a size 2 down to 24 with ease. It is 100% American made out of the finest components and is a true rotary vise. Bobbin rest included. We carry a full range of accessories!

"Rotary Tying Techniques" DVD

starring Al Ritt

There are two reasons I put this photo in the catalog: 1) I wanted you to see a photo of Al Ritt, Peak's 'in house' pro! He's a great guy and has more fly tying credentials than just about anyone I've met. 2) Al stars in Peak's "Rotary Tying Techniques" DVD, which will get you up to speed in no time on "true" rotary tying. I've not seen any better rotary fly tying instructions!

A NEW CONCEPT IN HOOK HOLDING TECHNOLOGY

PEAK "LIRS" VISES

Tying large flies aimed at larger predatory fish has gained a great deal in popularity recently. To address the needs of today's fly tier, PEAK Fishing has engineered a new concept in hook holding technology. They call it the LIRS (Large Iron Retention System.) Rather than clamping your hook between two parallel surfaces like a conventional vise, the LIRS utilizes a drawbar to capture the bend of the hook and pull the hook into the tapered groove of the LIRS nest, where it is securely held. Ideal for larger wire sizes, longer hook shanks and any application where additional holding power is required, such as spinning or stacking hollow hair. And best of all, it's a true in-line rotary vise!

VICES - REGAL - ONE OF OUR FAVORITES

The truly amazing thing about purchasing a REGAL VISE is that you can get the perfect vise that will match your style of fly tying. Simply choose the REGAL HEAD based on the range of hooks you normally tie on. Match the HEAD with the BASE or C-Clamp you would like and you have your perfect custom REGAL VISE.

Regal vises are among our customers' favorites, and for good reason. Their cam adjusting/locking jaws are simple to use and the holding power is incredible! I use the Regal Medallion Vise at home and it's my exclusive vise for travelling. No adjustments to make as the cam lever does it all. Regal's Stainless steel jaws are my favorite for midge trout flies and easily holds even the smallest of hooks securely. Like Peak, they are big supporters of Project Healing Waters! Made in the USA.

H&H "EURO" FLY TYING THREADS

What type of thread do I need?

If you're starting out with mostly trout flies in sizes 4-20, your "Euro" 6/0 will work just fine. If you're tying bass bugs, wooly buggers, spinning hair and so on, our 3/0 is the ticket. Some folks tie all their dries with 8/0, but it takes some practice!

Our "Euro" threads continue to get high reviews among fly tyers, experienced and novice alike. It is much, much stronger compared to threads of similar diameter! And stronger thread means less build up & less frustration. It also means you'll have less thread "bulk" to your flies. Our 6/0 is perfect for most all around tying! If you're experienced, you'll wonder why you never used these before! 100 yard spools. Imported from Germany for Hook & Hackle. Polyester material and easily flattened for securing hair (bass bugs, streamers, etc). $2.25per spool.

TIRED OF BREAKING YOUR THREAD? TRY OUR EURO THREADS!

H&H FLOSS & STRETCH

Our floss is 'single stranded,' which I particularly like because you can use it on a bobbin, which is difficult with the typical 4-stranded floss. The "Stretch" nylon is spooled for easy winding on a bobbin and is the perfect body material for thread body flies like midges and other small flies. Made exclusively for Hook & Hackle by Danville.

LEGS - DYNA FLOSS

There are 3 types of basic legging materials:

- 1) Rubber is conventional and comes in 2 sizes. This is the classic material.
 - 2) Silicon is a translucent material and will not harden over time like rubber. These are more durable and especially useful for saltwater flies.
 - 3) Spanflex are thin and willowy. Very light weight and can be used on a wide variety of flies. Some tyers prefer these for dry flies.
- Nobody carries more legs than Hook & Hackle!

RUBBER LEGS

Montana Fly Rubber Legs

We searched far & wide to find you the best rubber legging materials available! And here they are, from Montana Fly. I use them on nymphs & dries alike to add "irresistible wiggle" to my flies. Catch more fish! Use Medium for sizes 12+, Small for 14-16 & Mini for 16 and smaller. $3.35 for solids and $3.95 for barred.

H&H FLY LINES & LEADERS

HOOK & HACKLE CLASSIC "HI-FLOATER" FLY LINE

We worked directly with the manufacturer to develop a high floating, durable fly line. Once again, we wanted to "update" our line but its original designer told me that it would be impossible to improve. So we just put a new, slicker coating on it to make it slide through the guides with less friction, make it last longer and float higher on the water! These lines are offered in a full range of sizes to meet any freshwater fishing conditions & are priced over $20 less than the competition. Try it!

Miscellaneous Tippet/Leader Materials

We like our "Classic" fluorocarbon tippet and I've been touting it as the best for some time now. In fact, last year we planned an introduction of a "New Improved" Fluorocarbon tippet material, but rejected it when the supply that arrived at our store didn't meet our standards. I don't know how many other fly fishing companies do that, but know that we do. With that, the verdict is clearer than ever; our "Classic" Fluorocarbon solely remains as the best tippet material your money can buy. And you get more per spool & it costs less too!

Hook & Hackle "Switch 101's" Fly Line

This line is a "hybrid" with long bellies AND shooting heads ... perfect for the "touch and go" caster. The 350 grain line is a terrific match on the Batson Switch rod blanks, 6 or 7 weight. 37' heads and 64' running lines. Head is Sky Blue and running line is chartreuse. Price - $49.95

To install braided leader loops: first put a 1/3 section of clear plastic tubing included up onto the fly line. Then cut the frayed ends off the connector loop opening.

Very carefully start the tube open with a paper clip or needle. Try not to fray ends. Insert line and push on the tiniest bit at a time. Do this until at least an inch of line is in the tube. Then slide shrink wrap tubing over the joint and shrink by holding near an incandescent light bulb.

These Beartooth products must be tried to be appreciated. The Braided Butt Fluorocarbon Leaders & the Hand Tied Fluorocarbon Leaders cost a bit more, but can last a whole season if used properly. Try a few today! Braided butt leader is sensational!

Undecided as to what leader you need? Use the "3-rule." Divide the fly size by 3 to determine the tippet size needed. For example, a size 12 fly would use a 4X leader, size 16 - 5x, etc. In between sizes could go either way, usually smaller is better. Leader length? Longer leaders are preferred for late season, low water conditions for a more delicate presentation.

Hook & Hackle Fly Rod and Fly Rod Blank Warranty. Hook & Hackle name brand fly rods, when offered, come with a limited lifetime warranty. The warranty is limited to defects in manufacture. One can tell by looking at the damage as to the probable cause of the breakage. A defect will manifest itself by giving a nearly clean break. Abuse can be seen when the rod shatters into long strands or chards. Abuse can come about in many ways, but always involves some kind of excess pressure on the rod. NOTICE ON ROD BLANK WARRANTIES--ONLY the blank is warranted against manufacturer's defects. Our "X" Series blanks are guaranteed directly by us and we will be glad to assist you directly in those cases. In most other cases, rod blanks are warranted by the manufacturer or distributor of the blank. Please contact them for warranty service. It is the customer's responsibility to recover components prior to sending back the blank for warranty service. Call for instructions before returning defective blanks! Always remember to insure your return sent for service.

INFO FOR "NEWBIES"

We firmly believe that this is the most important page in our catalog!! Unless we make it "easy" and inexpensive for anyone to enjoy fly fishing, fewer and fewer new folks will make this rewarding pastime part of their lives!! Consider some of the following things when starting out:

Rod Selection For learning how to fly cast, we strongly believe that a medium-fast rod (or moderate-fast rod which is just a "tad" slower) is your best! It will be more forgiving as you learn to cast and you will definitely get a better "feel" for the line loading on the rod. Don't be tempted by the latest types of graphite & boron and very fast blanks. The latter will make it more difficult to learn proper casting and also substantially lessen the weight of your wallet!

Lines, Backing, Tippet, Etc. There need not be a lot of mystery in this area. Starting at the reel, you'll need backing on the reel in case the fish "runs" a good bit. Next, the fly line is what you use to cast the fly as it has a certain weight and taper. For the vast majority of fly fishing, a weight forward floating line will work perfectly. Leader is usually tapered nylon attached to the fly line. It will gradually taper from 7.5 to 9 feet, to the thinnest portion which is attached to the fly. This "weightless" section allows you to present the fly to the fish as stealthily as possible. Tippet is added to the end of the leader because of changing flies, breakage, re-tying, etc.

Knots You'll only need to know a few knots, 3 of them: Improved Clinch for attaching flies, Surgeon's Loop for attaching tippet to leader & Nail Knot for attaching leader to fly line!! There are many alternatives to these knots, but these are enough to get you out fishin' and catchin.' See animated "Grog's Knots" on our website for detailed instructions on tying these knots.

Removing the Mystery Please know that most folks are able to consistently catch fish on just a handful of different flies in a few different sizes. You needn't make yourself crazy trying to figure out what's best. Many flies will catch fish!

Spending Money You do NOT, and probably "should" not "break the bank" in order to get started fly fishing. We get aggravated when magazines are always trying to get you to buy more and more expensive stuff that won't make you fish any better, but just part you from your money. Remember, our goal here is to get you out fishin' --- not shopping!

Call us!! Remember, you can always call Eric, Terry or me (Ron) if you have questions or need help!! There aren't a whole lot of places where you can do that anymore! Between us, we've over 60 years experience of fly fishing and over 42 years of rod building! We're here during "regular" business hours, Eastern Standard time. After hours, our answering service will take a message and we'll call you back within 24 hours, or Monday if you call over the weekend. Tight Lines!!

Rule # 1

Nothing, and I mean ABSOLUTELY NOTHING CAN REPLACE TIME SPENT ON THE WATER! Spending more money, too much theory, chat rooms & magazines are not a replacement for experience! So get out on the water and FISH!
