

Existing as the interface between the heavens and the earth, Cosmicini works with the air of personal consciousness in relation to all the other consciousness out there in the universe. The moon, our nearest heavenly body, effects the water both on the planet and in our own bodies.

Who is Cosmicini?

Cosmicini is the Dakini who represents our cosmic connection. She is the interface with the Celestial realms. She exists, as the world exists, as we exist, as heavenly bodies connected by a web of light to the Universe beyond. She shows us how the alignments of the planets and stars co-create the nature of our being and that they all connect in a web of consciousness and light, channeling their wisdom.

She is a node in the time-space continuum, a singularity on the event horizon, and shows us that this is the essence of each of our beings.

She connects to the Egyptian Goddess Nut.

She is the software of interstellar travel.

Location/Sphere of Influence

Relationship between heavenly bodies & moon/earth.

Allies

Moon, planets, galaxies, stars and universes. The consciousness of the heavenly bodies and the space inbetween.

Nature & Description of Dakini

Cosmicini comes in a cone of encoded cosmic information. Her cosmic connections are seen as a web of light that radiates from her and reaches out to the stars. The moon is seen as a major player in this cosmic drama, its surface being reflected on either side of the Dakini. As the closest heavenly body, the moon reflects back to us and modulates the influences from outer space.

Her vehicle is the Merkaba. She holds the tetrahedral crystalline light matrix, the star tetrahedron, offering it to those to whom she has opened her portal. It has stars at its apexes.

The spirals of her headdress indicate her attunement to the spiral movement of the universe through time and space.

A flower of life opens from her crown.

Vibrational light fields pulse through her body like electro-magnetic coils.

She clones herself at will.

She is totally present and focused as she gazes into the singularity which holds all potential.

She is pure energy in space, utilizing reflective self-awareness to triangulate the energies and from there step into the fourth and fifth dimensions.

Cosmicini is your spaceship to the stars.

Divinatory Meaning

A gift of star wisdom from Cosmicini.

We all have our own unique alignments with the energies of the stars. We each hold our own special configurations that construct the nature of our characteristics and tendencies. These alignments of light bodies can be visualized as a 3 dimensional (in fact 4 dimensional) sacred geometry that, seen as a whole, comprises our 'guiding star matrix', made from the light of many stars and their aspects and relationships.

Cosmicini suggests that you consult astrology and examine the astrological omens in your life.

There are moments when this becomes particularly relevant. Cosmicini, by her arrival in your consultation, suggests that this is one of those moments.

Look into the relationship of planets at the time of your birth.

Take special note of the aspects and influences of the moon, in your natal chart and/or current transits.

See the prominence of the lunar landscape in Cosmicini's representation. The orbiting moon acts radionically in relation to not only the earth, but our own lives. It is the moon that helps the earth maintain a stable spin and keeps our weather in a life-promoting balance.

By the same token, the influence of the moon on our lives can be stabilizing, helping us weather the storms of emotion.

The moon regulates the tides of the oceans and the flow of blood in our bodies.

Time to think 'outside the box' and take the bigger picture into consideration.

Time to activate.

Take astrological information into consideration to determine the most aligned timing and strategy. Get help from the influences that are strong in your chart.

The Dakini is here to remind us that we, like her, are made of stardust. She wants us to realize that all those stars we see out there at night are a web of consciousness, each point of light transmitting a frequency in the spectrum of awareness. From our modern cities' 'sky glow' we see as little as one percent of the night sky that was seen by our ancestors due to air pollution and the widespread use of electricity. We are connected to the intelligence of the celestial bodies, transmitted to us by their pulsating lights. These transmissions are obscured by light pollution, veiling our connection to our cosmic selves, our galactic destinies. It is easy to see how our ability to navigate by the stars is impacted on the physical plane. The effect on our ability to navigate our unfolding destinies is invisible but no less impactful. Time to focus in on who you are, to hold the star of your potential in both hands and activate your vehicle, your space ship. You are ready to take off if you just make the effort to get the alignment right. Follow your star. Step into the time/space continuum of Cosmicini and become all that you can be. Grasp and fully align with your unfolding destiny. Your destiny is an interesting thing to work with. Fate and feelings of fatalism are not healthy as they engender a sense of helplessness. However if you feel that you are in alignment with your real calling in life, your destiny in a true sense, it is invigorating and empowering. The choice to take your life, your destiny, in your own hands is yours. The Goddess gives us freedom of choice, but she also whispers to us in so many ways- if we can attune ourselves to hear her. She speaks to us in the music of the spheres, calling us to step up and become all that we can be...and that isn't just on the material plane of course, for the destinies she holds are points of light that stretch into infinity.

Indications

Star gazing is very beneficial for you now. Try to spend time under the stars. Be open to what you receive. Be aware of and look for celestial signs. Astrological portals. Cosmicini may want to give you a sign – a shooting star, a UFO sighting, a halo round the moon....Keep your eyes open.

Practices

1. Get an astrological reading. Meditate upon it to reveal answers to the questions you may have. This could include astrocartography. Look for the underlying geometries.
2. Activation of the Merkabah.
Meditate on Cosmicini, with Cosmicini, seeing yourself holding the crystalline light matrix, the Merkabah (star tetrahedron), she holds.
Breathe. As you breathe, see the power of your breath extend the Merkabah out from your hands, enlarging it with each breath, until the star tetrahedron of light contains your whole body. You now visualize yourself in the center of this crystalline light vehicle, which vibrates and pulses with your breath. You breathe slowly, deeply and evenly.

From within your Merkabab, you now visualize yourself, as Cosmicini, holding a merkaba, a second one, in your hands. You now bring your hands to your chest and install this smaller merkaba in your chest, at your heart center.

Breathe.

See the Merkabah in your heart shooting rays of light from each of its vortexes. These radiating beams intersect the vortexes of the larger Merkabah of light in which you are contained and keep going out into the universe, where they will intersect the vortexes of the huge Merkabah that is formed by the points of light of the stars.

Now you have established your vehicle, you are ready to embrace the totality of the star being that is you.

See what visions Cosmicini brings you, where she takes you.

Take this opportunity to beam your lovelight, from the Merkabah in your heart out to all the stars, all the consciousness in the universe, and offer your appreciation to this infinite web of light and love that supports the reality of who you are and offers this opportunity for life and evolution.

Once your Merkabah is firmly established, you can start to spin, using the energy of the starlight to propel and guide you. You can use your Merkabah for astral travel, as your protection as you move through dimensions.

Complete your meditation by envisioning all the rays of light condensing until they resolve back into the glowing Merkabah in your heart.

Dakini Transmission

I am your interface
To the stars
Use me
As your cosmic connection
I offer you a vehicle
To fly
I reveal
The cosmic web
We are all made
Of stardust

Affirmations

I am a child of the Universe
I am connected to cosmic intelligence
Through my unique relationship
To the planets and the stars
I have chosen the moment of my birth
I am connected
I can activate
My celestial vehicle
And travel through
Space and time