

69 Year History of Northern Region Basketball Tournament (1945 - 2013) and 99 Year History of Virginia State Basketball Tournament (1915 - 2013)

Northern Region Tournament

Northern Region Championship Leaders Since 1945 (minimum of three titles; excludes 1966 and 1967 when the district champions represented Northern Virginia in the State Tournament)

George Washington	11 (16%; 6 during a 7 year period from 1951-57)
TC Williams	10 (15%; 5 during a 9 year period from 1975-83; 3 straight from 2007-2009 and 4 out of 5 years from 2007-2011)
Wakefield	7 (10%; 1990, 2005)
South Lakes	6 (9%; 3 straight from 1992-94)
Hayfield	5 (7%; 3 during a 5 year period from 2000-2004)
Mt. Vernon	3 (4%)
Lee	3 (4%)
West Springfield	3 (4%; 3 straight from 1972-74)
Washington and Lee	3 (4%)
Robinson	3 (4%)

82% of the Northern Region championships since 1945 have been won by 10 schools.
58% have been won by 5 schools. While George Washington was dominant in the early years, TC Williams is the “modern-day” leader in Northern Region titles.

The Generals

In 67 years of Northern Region championship games, 14 coaches have won 66% of the titles:

6	Don McCool (3 at West Springfield, 3 at Mt. Vernon)
6	Wendell Byrd (South Lakes; retired 2007; 441 – 153 at South Lakes, .740 winning percentage)
5	Mike Hynson (TC Williams)
5	Charlie Thompson (2 at Lee, 1 at Robinson, 2 at Hayfield)
3	Steve Osisek (George Washington)
3	Rasty Doran (George Washington)
2	Tom Wriston (George Washington)
2	Brian Metress (Hayfield)
2	Ivan Thomas (TC Williams)
2	Julian King (TC Williams)

Born on the Bayou....

In the “4,000 Point Club” of 16 players, 10 are from the state of Louisiana (63%)..... were they using Cajun’ or Mardi Gras math? No one has joined the “4,000 Point Club” in nearly a decade, since 2002.

Historical 2012-13 DC-Metro-Area Hoops Highlights

- 1) J.R. Washington of Stonewall Jackson scores 61 points against Freedom-Woodbridge in the George Long Holiday Hoops Tournament at Wakefield.
- 2) Red Jenkins couldn't do it as WT Woodson's long-time coach. Pete Holbert, Tommy Amaker and Greg William's teams couldn't do it...but the 2013 WT Woodson Cavaliers won the school's first Northern Region championship, an overtime-come-from-behind (22 points) victory over Wakefield, a fitting addition to the school's 50th Anniversary year. It was Woodson's first region title game appearance in 30 years.
- 3) Potomac Falls wins its fourth consecutive AA Region II Division 4 championship
- 4) David beats Goliath: Henrico wins the AAA state title, the school's first boy's basketball state championship, with three players 6 foot 3 or taller; their opponent, John Marshall, had 9 players 6 foot 3 or taller, 7 of which were 6 foot 4 to 6 foot 7.
- 5) Salem-Salem boys and girls' teams both win a AA state title, only the fourth time since 1975 that this has occurred.
- 6) Brunswick wins its third consecutive AA state title

VHSL Realignment Changes Approved: Who's On First?

After 40 years, the VHSL is restructuring its A, AA and AAA school classifications for the 2013-14 season. I'm currently seeking my PhD in order to navigate through all of the changes.

From Then to Now...

The VHSL (Virginia High School League) began holding state championships for boy's basketball in 1915, when Charlottesville High School defeated Lynchburg High School, 35-25. 9,482 boys at 312 member schools participated in boy's basketball during the 2011-12 season.

Stats on any high school team, any player, anywhere, can be found at:

Thanks as well for info from Penn Greene of the organization DC Basketball (www.dcbasketball.com). Check out this website for great historical info on DC High School basketball. An earlier version of my report has been included on that website under "Links". Can't get to a game during the year (no matter what the sport)? See if it's available for purchase, Live on www.gamedaymagazine.com, a great option for those away games that you have to see, but just can't make. You can purchase on a game-by-game basis, or buy a season pass (I have no affiliation with GameDay!). State championship games in March are on-line for a modest fee at www.vhsl.org under VHSLNetwork. Other great local and national high school websites include www.vivaloudoun.blogspot.com, www.mpssaa.org, www.hrvarsity.com, <http://www.luckyshow.org/basketball/USHighHighs> and <http://ssbasketball.rivals.com/content.asp?SID=1132&CID=356206>.
