CROSSING OVER

ESSENTIALS FOR JAZZ AND CLASSICAL FLUTE
 by Daniel Snyder
Second Floor Music

This book is an exploration of modern compositional devices and their interaction with jazz harmony and phrasing.

“This is not just one more exercise book! Most of the traditional exercise books are based on a diatonic concept. Here, finally, is a method which emphasizes a chromatic context. The combination of music tunes and exercises makes hard work very interesting for both beginners and advanced students. Very refreshing for your fingers and your brain!” – Matthias Ziegler, virtuoso classical and jazz flute artist.

FLUTIST'S DAILY DOZEN

Centerstream Publications

by B. Allan Duncan

Foreword by

Danilo Lozano

The Flutist's Daily Dozen is designed to aid the flutist's development of technique and finger dexterity in all registers and keys. These technical exercises are unique in that the student's facility is continually challenged throughout the complete range of the flute. The studies are based on repeated four measure phrases and are transposed to every key and their relative minors, thus, requiring the student to execute each exercise a number of twenty-four times within a practice session. As the title suggests, these exercises are to be practiced on a daily basis within a twelve day cycle.

JAZZ FLUTE ETUDES

by Marc Adler

Houston Publishing

These etudes by Marc Adler will delight both classical and jazz musicians. Marc is an accomplished flutist and composer in both the jazz and classical arenas and is also an experienced educator. These twelve etudes explore each of the twelve keys but at the same time step out into contemporary sounds characteristic of modern jazz and 20th-century classical music, such as whole tone and diminished scales, and colorful chord progressions. Jazz flutists will enjoy his original jazz licks and may want to add some of them to their vocabulary of patterns. Classical flutists will appreciate the challenge of sight-reading these tightly woven compositions while savoring their improvisatory character.

JOHN COLTRANE PLAYS "COLTRANE CHANGES"

transcribed by Masaya Yamaguchi

foreword by David Demsey

Artist Transcriptions

In the late 1950s, John Coltrane composed or arranged a series of tunes that used chord progressions based on a series of key center movements by thirds, rather than the usual fourths and fifths of standard progressions. This sound is so aurally identifiable and has received so much attention from jazz musicians that it has become known as "Coltrane's Changes." This book presents an exploration of his changes by studying 13 of his arrangements, each containing Coltrane's unique harmonic formula. It includes complete solo transcriptions with extensive performance notes for each. Titles include: Body and Soul • But Not for Me • Central Park West • Countdown • Fifth House • Giant Steps • Summertime • and more.

ENJOY THE RECORDER

by Brian Bonsor
Schott

The best way to learn any instrument is to have lessons from a good, experienced teacher. Although, happily, the number of such teachers is constantly growing, the recorder is still frequently taught by enthusiastic but inexperienced teachers and many players start by teaching themselves. This series of books sets out to help learners of all ages in all three situations. Experienced teachers, who may choose to disregard much of the text as personal demonstration is always clearer than the written word, will find exercises and fine tunes a-plenty to support their own method at each stage. The less experienced will benefit from many valuable teaching hints culled from long experience and may rely on the books to lead to a sound playing technique and a mastery of simple notation.

STEVEN MEAD PRESENTS: 20 DANCES FOR EUPHONIUM

GRADED CONCERT STUDIES

by Allen Vizzutti

De Haske Publications

Allen Vizzutti has put together a blend of technical and lyrical challenges that all have their roots in familiar classical and dance styles. These dances do not test extremes of range, and as such, are accessible to most euphonium and baritone players. Some of them are very quick, but in the early stages of practice, it's recommended to keep the tempi moderate and speed them up as you progress. Includes an intro by and bio of Steven Mead, and a play-along accompaniment CD.
