Commission on the General Conference

To General Conference delegates and subscribers:

In this Advance Edition of the Daily Christian Advocate are delegate lists (clergy names in the delegate lists are in italics), printed reports of the general agencies and study commissions, proposed changes in the Book of Discipline, proposed new resolutions, amendments to existing resolutions, and non-Disciplinary proposals. In the case of multiple submissions of the same petition, only one is printed and the number of similar petitions is noted in the petition header. The material is organized according to the legislative committee to which it is assigned.

You may want to keep this helpful handbook in the daily editions binder you will receive in Tampa. The handbook contains valuable information about the agenda, registration, delegate lists, legislative committees, and the “Plan of Organization and Rules of Order” that is proposed for adoption at the first plenary session.

Volume 3 of the Advance Edition, the quadrennial report of the General Council on Finance and Administration, will be placed on the desk of the delegates on the opening day of General Conference. The later production of this volume is necessary because it must contain financial reports that cannot be prepared until the 2011 books are closed.

Delegates and first reserves will be issued free copies of the daily editions. If other reserve delegates are seated, they may use the material provided for the person they replace, or they may purchase copies at the DCA sales booth.

All issues of the Daily Christian Advocate are issued by authority of the Commission on General Conference.

Grace and peace,

Randall Miller
Chairperson

Note:

For the purposes of the General Conference, the Commission on the General Conference offers the following definitions:

Orientation – The act or process of acquainting delegates and other official participants with the processes and procedures of how the General Conference functions and the role of participants within the work of the General Conference.

Briefing – The act or instance of giving instruction or preparatory information to delegates and other official participants relating to legislative matters coming before the General Conference.

The Secretary of the General Conference and the Commission on the General Conference have the primary responsibility of offering orientations to prepare delegates and other official participants for full participation in the work of the General Conference. A variety of other organizations, both official bodies of The United Methodist Church and unofficial groups, may also provide orientations and briefings. If such an event intends to talk about actual legislation under consideration by the General Conference, then the Commission on the General Conference encourages the sponsors to use the title of “Briefing” rather than “Orientation” to communicate more effectively the nature of the event.

The Commission on the General Conference has granted authority to the Business Manager to make space available at the Convention Center for briefings provided by any of the General Agencies of The United Methodist Church to the extent that space is available. The General Conference agenda and registration processes may include briefings provided that they are clearly differentiated and that these are events sponsored by specific general agencies and not an official activity of the General Conference under the auspices of the Commission on the General Conference.

The following briefings are offered by general agencies and are not an official activity of the General Conference under the auspices of the Commission on the General Conference.

Briefing for Women Delegates – sponsored by the General Commission on the Status and Role of Women and the Women’s Division of the General Board of Global Ministries

Briefing for Delegates under the Age of 30 – sponsored by the Division on Ministries with Young People of the General Board of Discipleship

Briefing for Racial and Ethnic Minority Delegates – sponsored by the General Commission on Religion and Race

Guidelines for Holy Conferencing – What God Expects of Us

Colossians 3:12-16a, 17

As God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, clothe yourselves with compassion, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience. Bear with one another and, if anyone has a complaint against another, forgive each other; just as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive. Above all, clothe yourselves with love, which binds everything together in perfect harmony. And let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts, to which indeed you were called in the one body. And be thankful. Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly. . . . And whatever you do, in word or deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.

- Every person is a child of God. Always speak respectfully. One can disagree without being disagreeable.
- As you patiently listen and observe the behavior of others, be open to the possibility that God can change the views of any or all parties in the discussion.
- Listen patiently before formulating responses.
- Strive to understand the experience out of which others have arrived at their views.
- Be careful in how you express personal offense at differing opinions. Otherwise dialogue may be inhibited.
- Accurately reflect the views of others when speaking. This is especially important when you disagree with that position.

- Avoid using inflammatory words, derogatory names, or an excited and angry voice.
- Avoid making generalizations about individuals and groups. Make your point with specific evidence and examples.
- Make use of facilitators and mediators.
- Remember that people are defined, ultimately, by their relationship with God—not by the flaws we discover, or think we discover, in their views and actions.

We believe Christians can discuss important issues without the acrimonious debate and parliamentary maneuvering that can divide a group into contending factions. We see too many examples of that in secular society. We believe the Holy Spirit leads in all things, especially as we make decisions. We want to avoid making decisions in a fashion that leaves some feeling like winners and others like losers.

We can change the world through honest conversation on matters about which we are passionate.

The Commission on the General Conference offers thanks to the participants at The Global Young People's Convocation and Legislative Assembly, sponsored by the Division on Ministries with Young People, through the General Board of Discipleship, held in January, 2007 in Johannesburg, South Africa, for inspiring the framework of these guidelines. They adopted similar guidelines for Christian Conferencing at the convocation. This work is based on guidelines for "Holy Conferencing" that emerged from the United Methodist "Dialogue on Theological Diversity" in February 1998.

Report from the Commission on the General Conference

Dr. Randall Miller, Chair

Introduction

The design and planning of the 2012 United Methodist General Conference has been carried out by a dedicated group of lay and clergy who collectively make up the Commission on the General Conference. While the members of the Commission are diverse with respect to nationality, race, gender, and, even, theological beliefs, we have been united in our commitment to create a worldwide gathering that is intended to offer a powerful witness to the redeeming love of Christ and the vibrant mission and ministry of The United Methodist Church.

Because putting on the General Conference is such an enormously challenging endeavor, many United Methodists wrongly assume that the Commission has at its beck and call a large group of paid staff working throughout the quadrennium to carry out necessary tasks. In reality, however, much of the work is done by a dedicated group of mostly part-time staff working tirelessly on behalf of the Church. Two of the most important members of this staff team, Alan Morrison, General Conference Business Manager, and Gere Reist, the Secretary of the General Conference, deserve our special thanks.

The other persons who help to shoulder the enormous load of the General Conference are the faithful volunteers who make up the local host committee. The 2012 United Methodist General Conference would not have happened without the generous contributions of time and other resources made by the wonderful folks from the Florida Annual Conference. The Commission would like to express its deepest thanks to Bishop Timothy W. Whitaker and the Rev. Dr. James Harnish for their leadership in this effort.

Five Key Goals in Planning

The 2009-2012 quadrennium marked the first time that the efforts of the Commission on the General Conference were formally combined with those of the previously free-standing Committee on Rules and Plan of Order. The effects of this merger have been overwhelmingly positive, including vastly improved coordination and the development of a shared vision for the event.

Early on in our deliberations, Commission members adopted five key goals to guide our planning:

1. To create a worldwide gathering that faithfully stewards the time, energy, and talents of all those present and exemplifies wise management of the financial and human resources of The United Methodist Church.
2. To promote theologically grounded decision making that is informed by our Wesleyan heritage, by the Church's central mission "to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world," and by the Four Focus Areas of Ministry.
3. To provide creative opportunities for holy conversation that necessitate Spirit-filled listening, transcending cultural and theological divisions, and affirming the sacred worth of every person.
4. To strengthen our connectedness as a worldwide church by affirming our unity in Christ, offering generous hospitality, promoting new modes of decision making, and enabling the full participation of those from outside the United States.
5. To care for the health and wellness of all those in attendance by establishing clear rules and policies for doing our work in a timely and efficient manner, allowing ample time for rest and promoting healthy ways of eating.

Hopefully, as the 2012 General Conference gets under way, delegates and other participants will see ample evidence of these goals being put into effect.

Stewarding Time, Energy, and Talents

As many can attest, the expectations of delegates' time and energy before and during General Conference can be quite substantial. To better assist delegates in managing their time and energy, the Commission has made several changes to the General Conference schedule. For example, we are proposing a 9:30 P.M. deadline for ending each day's business. We have also attempted to streamline the amount of non-legislative presentations and reports during regular plenary sessions and, instead, created a vibrant Sunday evening plenary that is a "Celebration of the Mission and Ministry of The United Methodist Church" that is open to delegates, observers, and local United Methodists.

Promoting Theologically Grounded Decision Making

Our time together in Tampa will be grounded in theological reflections offered through the Episcopal,

Laity, and Youth Addresses as well as through stirring presentations on the Four Focus Areas of Ministry. In addition, powerful worship experiences will provide opportunities for prayer, confession, and giving praise. The Commission is extremely pleased that Dr. Marcia McFee has agreed to serve as Worship and Music Director and, in this capacity, lead a talented team of worship artists and musicians from throughout the United Methodist connection. There will likely be many meaningful worship experiences, including one in which delegates will be asked to participate in a moving Act of Repentance for the harm done to indigenous peoples.

Creating Opportunities for Holy Conversations

Believing that we must continue to provide avenues for delegates to talk with one other in ways not encumbered by legislative processes and procedures, the Commission has created three opportunities for General Conference delegates to participate in holy conversations. Holy “conferencing” is a tradition that stems from the teachings of John Wesley and entails a commitment to careful listening, speaking, and discerning the movement of God’s Spirit in and through the gathered body of believers. The three planned opportunities for holy conversations will focus on our theological heritage as United Methodists, the future of the worldwide church, and issues of human sexuality.

Strengthening our Connectedness as a Worldwide Church

This year, the number of those attending the General Conference from outside the United States will rise to 38 percent of the total delegate count. The Commission gives thanks to God for this expansion of The United Methodist Church’s witness and ministry but also acknowledges the challenges in making General Conference a truly hospitable setting for everyone.

As in previous years, the majority of official, pre-General Conference materials, including the Advance Daily Christian Advocate, will be published in English, French, and Portuguese—the languages of the Jurisdictional and Central Conferences. During the General Conference, simultaneous translation of plenary session proceedings will be made available in English, German, Korean, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish, Swahili, and American Sign Language.

Additionally, simultaneous and consecutive translation of the proceedings of legislative committees and subcommittees will be provided to the fullest extent possible and in response to need as indicated through the delegate language survey. The availability of personal translators to assist with communication outside of plenary and legislative committee sessions presents the greatest challenge. In so far as possible, both the General Board of Global Ministries and the Host Committee will work to secure volunteer translators to assist delegates in need of assistance with hotels, medical concerns, and other day-to-day matters.

Caring for the Health and Wellness of Everyone

The Commission has done all in its power to ameliorate what can be a very grueling schedule. Delegates are encouraged to take as many breaks as necessary, to exercise whenever possible, and to choose healthy eating options. To this end, the Commission has eliminated the steady diet of cookies that has been a standard feature of so many past General Conferences and opted instead to provide other healthy snack options.

BUSINESS MATTERS

1. The Budget Deficit

Deficits occurred in the 1996, 2000, and 2008 General Conferences due to under-funding in planned budgets, not anticipating the change in international representation. GCFA is bringing legislation to the 2012 General Conference that, if approved, will utilize $1,000,000 of GCFA reserve funds to reduce the current accumulated General Conference deficit.

2. Corporate Sponsorship

As a way of addressing the steadily rising costs of this and future gatherings as well as reducing the sole reliance on General Administration Fund dollars, the Commission is piloting a program of multiple levels of corporate sponsorship at the 2012 General Conference. In all cases, applications from organizations invited to provide corporate sponsorship have been scrupulously reviewed for compliance with the denomination’s guidelines on socially responsible investments.

3. Feasibility Study

The 2008 General Conference directed the Commission to explore and report back on the feasibility of holding General Conference in one of the central conferences by no later than 2024. Because of the many factors that affect the selection of a General Conference site, fulfilling this directive was not an easy task. Nonetheless, with the leadership and expertise of Alan Morrison, General Conference Business Manager, and other assistance provided by a team of travel professionals, we undertook the task of making an accurate cost comparison.

In order to compare “apples to apples,” the Commission’s study assumed that the current size, structure, duration, and trends in the percentage breakdown of delegates would remain roughly the same. It was also assumed that future General Conferences would continue to be held in places where there was a significant United Methodist presence.

With these things in mind, the Commission considered venues within the boundaries of annual conferences in Africa, Europe, and the Philippines and found that for the most part air travel, lodging, and technical costs favorably compared to current rates in the U.S. However, finding appropriate conference facilities that could comfortably seat 1,000 delegates plus additional dignitaries and observers, provide the requisite number of meeting rooms, and offer necessary technical support at a reasonable cost proved to be quite challenging.

Summary: Holding a future General Conference at a site outside of the United States would mean incurring significant new costs, particularly if the size, structure, duration, and delegate breakdown remains the same. Conversely, changing one or more of these factors might result in a significant reduction in expenses.

4. Legislation

The Commission has put forward three important pieces of legislation for your consideration:

Petitions Submissions Guidelines, ¶ 507

This legislation, while acknowledging the right of every United Methodist to petition the General Conference, requires that such petitions must first be approved by church councils, charge/church conferences, annual conferences, etc. This petition strengthens the deliberative process regarding individual petitions and may result in a reduction in the overall volume of petitions submitted to General Conference.

Size of the Commission on the General Conference, ¶ 511

This legislation, if adopted, would reduce the total membership of the Commission from twenty-five to nineteen members and within that reduced number will guarantee that each of the central conferences will have at least one representative. Because of the successful merger between the Commission and the former Rules Committee, Commission members felt that a reduction in size was both possible and warranted. At the same time, it is important to ensure that the voices of central conference delegates are well represented in the planning of General Conference.

Study of Future General Conferences

In keeping with other ongoing conversations about the future of The United Methodist Church, the Commission is asking delegates to affirm its intention to formally study the role, purpose, and structure of future General Conferences over the course of the next four years. The recommendations from this focused study will be submitted to the 2016 General Conference.

Respectfully Submitted,

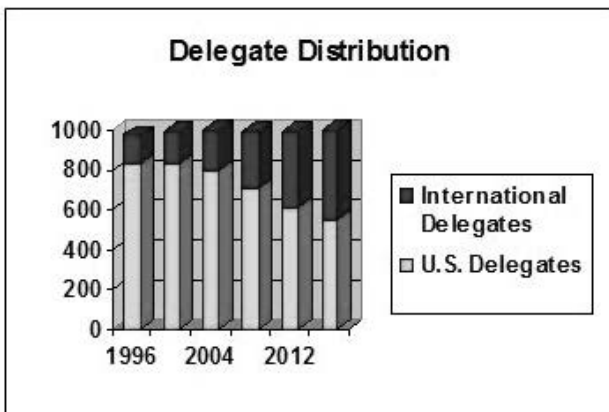

Dr. Randall Miller

General Conference of The United Methodist Church Proposed Budget for the 2013–2016 Quadrennium

General Conference (§§ 501-511). The amount budgeted for the General Conference includes delegate expenses, meeting operation costs (convention center and equipment rental, publishing, petition tracking software, worship, labor), language services (printed translation of advance materials and spoken interpretation on site), expenses of the offices of the secretary, business manager, and treasurer of the General Conference and expenses of the several commissions and committees in support of the event. The budget for General Conference for 2013–2016 represents a funding increase of $452,000 over the 2009–2012 quadrennial budget.

The changing global nature of the church, with the increased growth of the church internationally, has increased the percentage of international delegates compared to U.S. General Conference delegates over recent quadrennia.

- 1996 - 14% international
- 2000 - 16% international
- 2004 - 20% international
- 2008 - 29% international
- 2012 - 38% international
- 2016 - 45% estimated international

This change in international representation has resulted in two of the four major cost drivers in the current quadrennium.

- 1) The cost of language services has increased from $380,000 in 2000 for spoken interpretation to an estimated $1.6 million in 2016 for the combination of spoken interpretation in seven languages as well as written translation in two languages.
- 2) In 2008, the average travel costs for delegates from within the United States was approximately $411 for each delegate, while the average travel cost for delegates from outside the United States was approximately $3,200 each. As representation outside of the United States grows, so likewise does the cost of travel for delegates.
- 3) The third cost driver is the continual increase in hotel and food per diem costs. In recent years, hotels, especially in major convention cities, are becoming less rate-competitive. Lodging costs are increasing at a rate that exceeds the general rate of inflation in these markets.
- 4) The fourth cost driver is under-funding of the General Conference in past quadrennia. A deficit of $1,191,308 has accumulated from three of the four past General Conferences. The deficit has been funded in the form of a non-interest bearing loan from the General Administration Fund. Due to the financial constraints of the 2009–2012 quadrennium there may be no ability to repay any past deficit through apportionment funding. The Commission on the General Conference has launched a sponsorship program for the 2012 General Conference with the intent of creating another income stream that may permit the repayment of some deficit. Provided apportionment funding and General Conference expenses remain stable in combination with the sponsorship program, the accumulated deficit should be repaid within three general conferences. $870,000 is intended to be repaid through this proposed budget for 2009–2012. After the $870,000 repayment, the remaining accumulated deficit will need to be addressed in the 2013–2016 quadrennium.

Plan of Organization and Rules of Order for the 2012 General Conference

PREAMBLE

From the days of John Wesley, the “People called Methodist” have gathered for holy conferencing. The early Methodists, even as they attended to practical needs of the movement, focused primarily on spiritual matters. The spiritual affairs of the Church and its mission are always before the body whether or not they are apparent in the passions of debate on temporal concerns. Through Christian conferencing the Church comes together, seeking unity in the midst of diversity, always desiring to know the mind of Christ. The General Conference is the representative, deliberative body for The United Methodist Church. It has developed an orderly, rational, and fair process for making majority decisions in the practical affairs of the Church; yet, it also protects the rights of minority positions. The delegates come together in firm conviction that the unity of United Methodism is God’s will and the best way to “spread scriptural holiness” in this global movement of the Church.

The purpose of the Plan of Organization and Rules of Order is to help the General Conference discern God’s will and strive for Christ-like wisdom in all of our decisions. ~~in the midst of theological and spiritual tension and to focus on God’s will for us amid the conflicting issues of the day. The General Conference must be open to discern prayerfully God’s will for us. There will be times, in the midst of deliberation, when we will need to stop~~ In the midst of deliberation, we may pause, listen in silence, pray together, and refocus our common vision on where the Spirit is leading the Church. These times of silence, prayer, and discernment may be varied and surprising. While they are not substitutes for respectful and orderly debate, they do serve to hold our

26 temporal affairs up to the light of the larger, common mission of The United Methodist
 27 Church to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world. Trusting

BUILT ON COMMON GROUND

Introducing the first translation built by a community for the community. Why do you need this new translation? Because the Common English Bible is uncommon. It's fresh. It's contemporary. You can understand it from the start.

It's the ONLY Bible to have this many translators, from American, African, Asian, European, and Latino communities, from this many denominations.

That means accuracy, precision, sensitivity, and breadth.

It's the ONLY Bible to seek feedback from hundreds of everyday readers, of all ages, to help the scholars translate the Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek Biblical texts into modern conversational English. That means clarity.

Begin reading and living it today. To see for yourself, visit CommonEnglishBible.com.

Three simple questions.
Profound, life-changing answers.

Three Simple Questions

Knowing the God of Love,
Hope, and Purpose
Rueben P. Job

These are the three most basic and profound questions at the center of faith. They touch every aspect of our lives. How we answer them will, to a large degree, determine how we live and how we die. These questions require our total mind, heart, and life to discover the treasure they reveal.

Jesus himself faced and answered these questions, and then he taught and lived those answers. As followers of Jesus, it is now up to us to answer these profound questions for ourselves and for our time.

You loved Three Simple Rules. Join Bishop Rueben P. Job again as he explores getting to know the God of love, hope, and purpose.
