PREFACE

for DFJ

Begun in 1977, the year after the death of Martin Heidegger, the following bibliography is for the use of students of his thought whose first language is English. This Bibliography of English Translations of the Writings of Martin Heidegger details the history of translations into English of Heidegger's books, essays, lecture courses, book reviews, poetry and letters (1949-2011). It begins with a list of the volumes of the Heidegger Gesamtausgabe (= GA [1975-] published to date, to which the entries are keyed. The "Master Bibliography" is followed by a "Supplemental Bibliography: Heidegger and Politics" and a bibliography of "Unpublished Translations" available online. It concludes with two lists of the translators, the first keyed to an alphanumeric code at the end of each entry {} and the other giving the titles of the translators' contributions.

For the scholar's convenience, several other bibliographies have been created. Two give the original German titles of the translated texts: the first (II) arranged alphabetically by title, the other (III) given by date of composition of the text. Bibliography IV gives the table of contents for each of the published volumes of the Gesamtausgabe. Since Heidegger's lecture courses (1915-1955) and seminars (1927-1973) occupy a significant portion of Heidegger's published works, two further bibliographies have been prepared, one (V) listing the courses and seminars in chronological order of having been offered, the other (VI) listing them by date of first publication in German. A bibliography of video and audio materials (VII) is given last. Apart from some audio books in English, all but one are audio recordings.

Earlier version of this bibliography appeared in my study of Heidegger's philosophy of translation, Translating Heidegger (Amherst: Humanity Books, 2004), in my books The Voice that Thinks: Heidegger Studies (Greensburg: Eadmer Press, 1997) and Preparatory Thinking in Heidegger's Teaching (New York: Philosophical Library, 1987), and in manuscripts held by the New York Public Library (1993) and the library of St. Vincent College and Archabbey (1978).

I. BIBLIOGRAPHY OF ENGLISH TRANSLATIONS (1949-2011)

Each entry presents four kinds of information about books, essays, lecture courses, book reviews and poems by Martin Heidegger that have been translated into English:

- [A] Title and translator(s): Here are given the title(s) of English translation(s) (A,B,C etc.), date of first appearance of the translation (...), and translator(s) [...].
- [B] History of the text: Occasion of composition. Texts in [B] preceded by ^ are available in an audio or video version, listed in bibliography VII, "Video and Audio Recordings."
- [C] German source(s): Given here are a reference to the first publication in German and the current German source(s), usually a volume in GA.
- [D] English source(s): Publication references corresponding to the listing(s) in [A] (A,B,C etc.), including the most current edition of the source(s). Titles in [D] preceded by * are bilingual.

Entries in the bibliography are alphabetized by title of the first appearance of the text or a portion of it. This may not be the best way to proceed, but it preserves the history of the translations. On occasion, when a text has become best known by a title published later (B5 and Q3), that title is given in brackets before the first translation to provide the reader with help locating the text. In one case (Z1), excerpts published earlier but now available in the first item are included within the entry as separate items. Finally, there is the case of Nietzsche (N2). The various texts contained in the original German two-volume text (1961) are all referenced separately but the four-volume set corresponding to the 1961 set is given its own entry. Apart from the "Letter on Humanism" and the "Letter to William J Richardson," which are philosophical texts unto themselves, letters comprise a category of their own (Part E, below). Translations of excerpts from letters and other documents relating to Heidegger's interest in Asian philosophy can be found in Lin Ma and Jaap van Brakel, "Heidegger's Comportment toward East-West Dialogue, in Philosophy East and West 56(4), 2006, pp. 519-566 (esp. pp. 536, 539, 541-542, 547). Finally, many passages from Heidegger's early dissertations and papers, reprinted in GA 1, are translated in John van Buren's The Young Heidegger. Rumor of the Hidden King (Bloomington: Indiana University Press, 1994). References are made to Theodore Kisiel and Thomas Sheehan (eds.), Becoming Heidegger. On the Trail of His Early Occasional Writings, 1910-1927 (Evanston: Northwestern University Press, 2007), which was withdrawn after publication, in the event it should become available.

A. THE HEIDEGGER GESAMTAUSGABE [1975-2011]

References in the bibliography to GA are based on the following list of volumes published to date (Spring 2012). The title of the volume and the date of its first publication (in a number of instances before GA) are given. If the text first appeared as a lecture course, the date and place of the course are given (usually SS [= Summer Semester] or WS [= Winter Semester]). The volumes marked ~ have been translated in whole or in part.

D. LETTERS

Included here are, first, volumes of collected correspondence followed by entries containing a series of letters to an individual and, finally, single letters to individuals, each set arranged alphabetically by the addressee's name.

A number of unpublished letters appear in Heinrich Wiegand Petzet, Encounters and Dialogues with Martin Heidegger, 1929-1976 (Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 1993), translated by Parvis Emad and Kenneth Maly, and Hugo Ott, Heidegger. A Political Life (London: Basic Books, 1993)¹, translated by Allan Blunden. Excerpts from other previously unpublished letters and archival material have been published in the papers of Theodore Kisiel and in his fundamental source for Heidegger scholarship, The Genesis of Heidegger's Being and Time (Berkeley: University of California Press, 1993); Thomas Sheehan's paper, "Heidegger's Lehrjahre," in John Sallis, G. Moneta and Jacques Taminiaux (eds.), The Collegium Phaenomenologicum. The First Ten Years (Dordrecht: Kluwer, 1988), pp. 77-137;² Thomas Sheehan and Richard E. Palmer (eds.), Psychological and Transcendental Phenomenology and the Confrontation with Heidegger (1927-1931) (Dordrecht: Kluwer, 1997);³ and Theodore Kisiel and Thomas Sheehan (eds.), Becoming Heidegger. On the Trail of His Early Occasional Writings, 1910-1927 (Evanston: Northwestern University Press, 2007).⁴ A number of letters to Medard Boss are published in {Z1}, pp. 235-291.
