YOU'RE ENGAGED! CONGRATULATIONS!

Something old, something new, something borrowed... something from Bluebird!

Please enjoy these samples from my wedding collection and please let me know if and how I can help make your day special. Here is what you can expect when working with Bluebird:

1. Review :: please review my samples and determine if you like my design style. If so, we can proceed to step 2.
2. Information gathering :: how many guests are you planning on? what is the design & style of the invitation you are looking for? what type of envelope? what are your print needs? From these questions I will prepare a quote for you.
3. Pricing :: I will send you the quote. If you are pleased with pricing I will proceed with invitation samples for your review.
4. Proposal :: I will email you pdfs of the samples. Decide what you like from proposed samples. From this point we can work back and forth to come up with custom design.
5. I do :: Once final approval is given invitations will be printed and mailed to you for distribution.

Look forward to working with you!

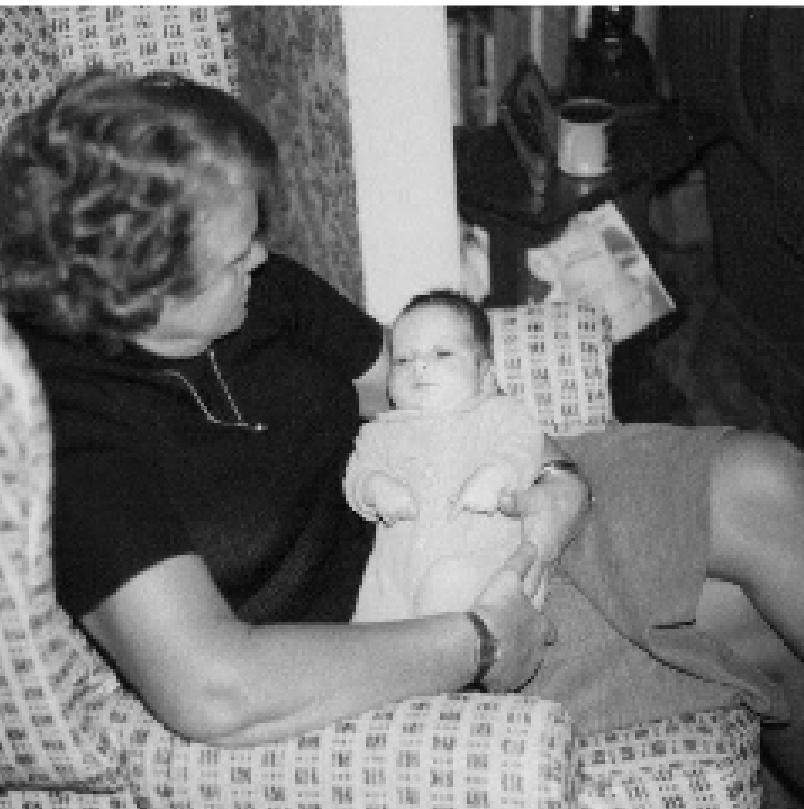

Erin

Ring Warming Ceremony

During this ceremony we will exchange rings. These rings are a visible sign of our commitment to one another. As the ceremony proceeds, we invite our immediate family to take part in the warming of the rings. We ask that you hold the rings for a moment and warm them with your love, prayers, hopes and wishes for our future. When the rings come back to us they will contain in their precious metal that which is priceless: your love, blessing and pledge of support of our union.

Our Thanks

We would like to thank our families and friends who have traveled from near and far to celebrate with us today. We are honored by your presence and happy that you are here to share our joy.

We would like to thank our parents and siblings for loving us unconditionally. You have taught us much about love and life. This day would not have been possible without your support and generosity.

With honor and respect, we remember our loved ones who are no longer with us, including:
