

NSOP 2020

NEW STUDENT ORIENTATION PROGRAM | SCHEDULE BOOK

COLUMBIA COLLEGE
COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK

COLUMBIA ENGINEERING
The Fu Foundation School of Engineering and Applied Science

A Message from the New Student Orientation Program (NSOP) Committee Student Chairs

Hello! Welcome to Columbia!

As the Columbia College and Columbia Engineering NSOP Committee, we are honored and excited to welcome you into our community.

As a committee, we represent various backgrounds, interests and experiences that are as diverse as yours. We have come together to carefully craft an orientation program that will introduce you to your college experience! Now, it's your turn to bring your unique perspectives to our university. We cannot wait to see the ways in which you discover, embody, and shape the already existing communities here into something that is distinctly your own.

This year's theme is "Explore New Horizons." We, the committee, have chosen this theme to empower you, our incoming students, to take advantage of the diverse opportunities at Columbia, which are as numerous as the stars. College is a time for you to experiment and engage in new experiences, uncovering what you are truly passionate about. NSOP will serve as your launching pad into this journey, providing you with a taste of everything our university has to offer. We hope these memories will lay the foundation for the rest of your time at Columbia. Whether you are taking part in class discussion or jumping into a Zoom call with newfound friends, every step you take is an opportunity to try new things and engage with this great community.

We hope that you are just as excited as we are to have you join our community, try new things and challenge yourself. To learn, grow and collaborate. Here, you can explore who you are in and out of the classroom, with resources that will drive you toward your dreams. This is your university now. These are the people with whom you will share laughs, create memories, and accomplish goals; expanding one another's perspectives in the process. Each year, new students inherently redefine what it means to be a member of the Columbia community — so now it is time for you to explore new horizons!

Sincerely,

Wesley Schmidt CC'22, Columbia College and Columbia Engineering Student Leader Coordinator

Fidel Martinez CC'23, Columbia College and Columbia Engineering Community Events Coordinator

Jerry Zheng CC'22, Columbia College and Columbia Engineering Social Media and Marketing Coordinator

How to Navigate Orientation

To navigate CC and SEAS NSOP this year, all students should familiarize themselves with the NSOP website, hosted on the Countdown to Columbia page.

<https://www.cc-seas.columbia.edu/countdown/nsop>

On the website, you will notice events have been separated into four different categories, all of which add an essential element to your experience. Most events require registration. Please register for events on the Countdown to Columbia website by Thursday, August 27, 2020.

For students who are unable to join certain sessions due to time zone and travel conflicts, required academic programming and some social events will be made available via recording on the Countdown to Columbia website after the event.

Academics

Convocation, the ceremony that commences your Columbia experience, is required for all new students and will take place virtually on Sunday, August 30 at 6:30 p.m. EDT.

All students are required to attend their school and population specific assembly. Academic assemblies and the First Literature Humanities class take place on Monday, August 30 and Tuesday, September 1. Please view your Academics page and reference the schedules below to learn about what programs are required for you.

All new students are highly encouraged to attend the Academic Resources Fair, and are welcome to attend the Math and Sciences @ CU if this is an interest area to you. All students should check with their CSA adviser if they need to take a Placement Exam.

Assignments

All incoming first-year students are required to register and attend four live on Zoom programs, and complete two online video modules and surveys. Due to each students' varying situations and time zones, there are several sessions offered for each program at various times. To register for the sessions that work best with your schedule, go to Countdown to Columbia. Please review the Required NSOP Programming: Assignments section that immediately follows this to see the details of these requirements.

Resources and Information Sessions

These optional events during NSOP provide important information and connection within the Columbia community. We invite you to participate in any of the sessions that are appropriate for your Columbia experience, or spark an interest!

Social Engagement

Each day, there are multiple opportunities to get to know your classmates across Columbia College and Columbia Engineering, as well as your new classmates in the School of General Studies and Barnard College. Please join for as many events as peak your interest- NSOP is the time to get to know your new classmates!

R.O.A.R. @ Columbia: Responsible. Optimal. Authentic. Resilient.

5 sessions offered

Live on Zoom

Required for all first-year, transfer, visiting, and combined plan students

During this program, staff from Alice! Health Promotion discuss key skills and knowledge to help students flourish and thrive through their transition to the Columbia community. From decisions around how to manage stress and operationalize well-being to the role substances may play in their life, we will discuss how to navigate these decisions in ways that are smart, safe, responsible, and that align with personal goals and values. This session is required for all first-year, transfer, visiting, and combined plan students.

StepUp! For Thriving Relationships

5 sessions offered

Live on Zoom

Required for all first-year, transfer, visiting, and combined plan students

Power-based violence encompasses a broad spectrum of behaviors that can have a negative impact on an individual and the Columbia University community. This includes sexual violence, intimate partner violence, stalking, and harassment. We can all play a part in developing and maintaining a thriving, safe community by looking out for one another. During this interactive program facilitated by Sexual Violence Response (SVR) staff, you will learn about the foundation of a thriving relationship, consent, and how to be a “pro-social bystander.” You will also learn about resources and services available for someone who is affected by violence. All first-year, transfer, visiting, and combined plan students are required to attend one session of this program.

Under1Roof

5 sessions offered

Live on Zoom

Required for all first-year students

Under1Roof sparks dialogue that will continue throughout your Columbia education and beyond. In an interactive session led by student and staff facilitators, you’ll explore the social identities we all bring to campus and work to foster inclusive and accountable communities. All first-year students are required to attend one session of this program.

Introduction to Title IX

2 sessions offered

Live on Zoom

Required for all first-year, transfer, visiting, and combined plan students

Marjory D. Fisher, Associate Vice President & Title IX Coordinator will lead this session on the policies and reporting regarding Title IX at Columbia. The presentation will be followed by a question and answer portion. All first-year, transfer, visiting, and combined plan students are required to attend one session of this program.

All first-year, transfer, visiting and combined plan students are required to view the following two videos and complete their respective surveys with confirmation. These Assignments can be completed at any time by Friday, September 7, 2020.

Public and Fire Safety

Online Video and Survey

Required for all first-year, transfer, visiting, and combined plan students

Though you may not be on campus this fall, it is important to view the safety precautions from both Fire Safety and Public Safety so that you are aware of these resources when we are able to maintain an on-campus presence. In the first video, Public Safety will give you an overview of the security, personal safety, proactive crime prevention programs and services they offer. In the second, Columbia University Fire Safety will discuss general fire safety in all residential and academic buildings. Information will be shared about fire drills, fire alarms, proper evacuation procedures and items that are prohibited in residence halls. This Assignment is required for all first-year, transfer, visiting, and combined plan students.

Columbia Health

Online Video and Survey

Required for all first-year, transfer, visiting, and combined plan students

Get to know Columbia Health! This video features Associate Vice President and Medical Director Dr. Melanie Bernitz giving an overview of available Columbia Health services, how care through Columbia Health works with health insurance, incoming student health requirements, and important reminders about staying healthy during the COVID-19 pandemic. This Assignment is required for all first-year, transfer, visiting, and combined plan students.

4:30–6:00 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Required for all first-year Columbia College students

Joanna Stalnaker, Paul Brooke Program Chair for Literature Humanities and Professor of French, joins Tyrone Palmer, post-doctoral fellow at the Society of Fellows and Lecturer in the African American and African Diaspora Studies Department at Columbia, and Anthony Reed, Associate Professor of English at Vanderbilt University, for a discussion of Claudia Rankine’s Citizen: An American Lyric. This discussion marks the first Literature Humanities “class” for the fall 2020 semester and is required for all first-year Columbia College students. All other students enrolled in Literature Humanities for the fall 2020 semester are also warmly encouraged to attend.

Late Night Activities: Through the Gates

7:00–8:00 p.m.

Live on YouTube

Start your journey through the metaphorical gates of Columbia! Featuring the NSOP Committee and a performance by The Varsity Show, we encourage you to laugh and enjoy this fun "welcome to Columbia" tradition.

Late Night Activities: Virtual Amazing Race

10:30 p.m.–12:00 a.m.

Live on Zoom

Kick off the week with an interactive, virtual Amazing Race! Team up with other first-years to solve riddles about our very own campus. These clues will test your knowledge on everything Columbia related, from well-known buildings to statues you’ll see throughout your next four years! Hosted by the Residence Hall Leadership Organization (RHLO) Visit us at columbiarhlo.com

Tuesday, Sept. 1

Morning Exercise: Yoga

8:00-8:45 a.m.

Live on Zoom

Breathe, stretch and strengthen with vinyasa flow yoga poses and focus. Open to Barnard, CC/SEAS, and GS students!

Global Ambassadors Program Information Session

9:00- 10:00 a.m.

Live on Zoom

Interested in intercultural exchange? Want to meet students from all over the US and the world? Ready to learn about new cultures and have your beliefs challenged? Then join the Global Ambassador Program (GAP)! GAP is a year-long international dialogue program that breaks down intercultural barriers and fosters friendship between domestic and international students. The program matches students of different races, nationalities, sexual orientations, and class years, and provides a safe(r) space for discussing topics such as culture shock, identity, and family traditions, among others. During this session we'll explain what we do in GAP, how to apply, and you'll get a chance to participate in an example activity!

Columbia Engineering: Transfer, Visiting, Combined Plan Academic Assembly

12:00–1:00 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Required for all Columbia Engineering Transfer, Visiting, and Combined Plan students

Dean Mary Boyce will welcome all new students to Columbia Engineering, sharing the school's vision, Engineering for Humanity, and the exciting research being conducted by the faculty. You will also hear from a member of faculty and fellow students who will share their experiences as new students to Columbia Engineering.

Late Night Activities: Open Mic Night w/ RHLO

8:00–10:00 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Show off your skills with live performances in a casual, relaxed setting with fellow new students! Whether it's singing, slam poetry, playing an instrument, or magic tricks, all talents are welcome! Hosted by the Residence Hall Leadership Organization (RHLO)

Visit us at columbiarhlo.com

OL Roundtable: Virtual Learning 101

9:30–10:30 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Remote learning is new and can be challenging. With the switch to virtual classes, many have had to adapt to learn in new ways. Come speak with our OLs who can offer insight into how to virtually succeed at Columbia.

OL Roundtable: Life as a Transfer Student

9:30–10:30 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Transfer students! You've done this before. We know you already got a few things down pat, but if you have any lingering thoughts, former transfer students are here to answer your questions.

OL Roundtable: Life as an International Student

9:30–10:30 p.m.

Live on Zoom

As an international student, you're balancing multiple transitions at once: the transition to college and the transition to the U.S.A. Sometimes information can slip through the cracks. If you have any questions that went unanswered throughout the week, current international students are here to answer your questions.

Late Night Activities: Trivia

10:00–11:30 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Team up with friends to learn the mysteries of Columbia and its history with trivia! Superior knowledge and strategy will earn exciting prizes!

Hosted by the Residence Hall Leadership Organization (RHLO) Visit us at columbiarhlo.com

Wednesday, Sept. 2

Morning Exercise: Bodyweight Training

8:00-8:45 a.m.

Live on Zoom

Start the day with strength training that relies solely on one's own body weight. Open to Barnard, CC/SEAS, and GS students!

On the Meeting of Cultures

9:00- 10:00 a.m.

Live on Zoom

Welcome to Columbia! Students arriving from around the globe have so many new and exciting experiences ahead of them. This session will focus on the importance of maintaining your emotional well-being as you transition to this new environment and to the Columbia community. We know that this academic year will bring additional challenges with the mix of in-person and remote learning. We will discuss these challenges and other important topics that will help you adapt to a new cultural environment while also maintaining relationships back home.

Academic Resources Fair

3:00–5:00 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Highly Recommended for First-Year, Transfer, Visiting, and Combined Plan Students

This is your opportunity to begin navigating the vast academic resources available to you as a Columbia student. At this virtual fair, you will have the opportunity to zoom with faculty representatives from academic departments and programs across the divisions. You are encouraged to chat with faculty from fields with which you are already familiar, but also take the opportunity to zoom in and learn something about a field that is completely new to you. What you learn may surprise you! Ask questions, get program information, explore opportunities to learn, to continue your studies, to conduct research and more. This event is highly recommended.

Transfer Specific: Social

5:00–6:00 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Meet some of your fellow transfer students in this afternoon social!

OL Roundtable: Finding Community with the 4-Schools

8:30–9:30 p.m.

Live on Zoom

There are four schools in the Columbia University system, but Barnard has their own campus? CC and SEAS live together on Columbia’s campus but have different requirements? And many GS students do not live on campus at all? Join us if you are still a little confused about the four-school relationship and are interested in learning more about ways to build community between students within the university’s four schools.

OL Roundtable: Managing a Budget

8:30–9:30 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Moving away from home can be hard. The “broke college student” is as much a cliché as it is reality, and the best way to learn how to navigate NYC is through experience. Drop in and hear from experienced, practical and thrifty OLs on how to spend your dollars wisely, budgeting, or on-campus jobs.

Late Night Activities: Escape the Zoom w/ RHLO

10:00–11:30 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Instead of escaping from your room, try your hand at escaping the Zoom! Team up to navigate your way through a virtual escape room that challenges you and tests the limits of your out-of-the-box thinking. Registration closes on Tuesday, September 1 at 5PM! Hosted by the Residence Hall Leadership Organization (RHLO) Visit us at columbiarhlo.com

Community Unscripted: Music (Non-Performative)

10:00–11:00 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Can you spend hours on end discussing your favorite artists? Do you pass time curating perfect playlists based on various subjects and moods? Are you the designated DJ within your group of friends? If you are any of these things and want to learn about how you can get involved in the music scene on campus, come to this Community Unscripted.

Community Unscripted: Academic Competitions

10:00–11:00 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Are you known as the debater in your friend group, able to win any argument? Do you want to try your hand at mock government and draft your own policies to improve the world? Do you love shows like Jeopardy, and want to try it out for yourself? This community unscripted is for you! Come chat with OLs who are involved in academic competitions on campus and learn how you can get involved.

Community Unscripted: Creative Writing/Publications

11:00 p.m.–12:00 a.m.

Live on Zoom

Enjoy a nice night discussing your poetry, the newest plot twist you were considering, an investigation you're pursuing, or even just your daily journal entry. This Community Unscripted was made to help you find a community to nurture your creative juices. Here you will listen to others' stories and learn how to share your own in the Barnumbia (Barnard + Columbia) Community.

Community Unscripted: Research

11:00 p.m.–12:00 a.m.

Live on Zoom

Where do you find yourself most at home? In a lab, microscope and slide in hand? Or maybe in a medical center, synthesizing bacterial samples from patients? It might even be analyzing the economic situations of political constituents. If your jam is to be at the forefront of discovery, come talk to our OLs involved in research and ask about how to get involved.

Thursday, Sept. 3

Morning Exercise: Yoga Core

8:00-8:45 a.m.

Live on Zoom

Breathe, stretch and strengthen with vinyasa flow yoga poses and focus. Open to Barnard, CC/SEAS, and GS students!

Live on Zoom

You may have a lot of questions about accessing healthcare, what to do with insurance, and the availability of Columbia Health's programs services for you, whether you are spending Fall semester on campus or elsewhere. Not to worry, Dr. Michael McNeil, Chief of Administration at Columbia Health will be on hand to answer all of these and more in this online Q&A session.

Late Night Activities: Yoga

8:30–10:00 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Bring the studio to your room and wind down your day with a relaxing yoga session led by a professional instructor! Hosted by the Residence Hall Leadership Organization (RHLO) Visit us at columbiarhlo.com

Late Night Activities: Dance Workshop

10:00–11:30 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Come get active and learn an easy-to-follow choreographed routine from Camilla Cox, a rising junior who has been active in student theatre at Columbia! Camilla has performed with groups like CMTS and XMAS!, and is helping to develop a new group called the Columbia Theatre Workshop. The Dance Workshop will include a warm up and cool down, and is suitable for all experience/skill levels! Hosted by the Residence Hall Leadership Organization (RHLO) Visit us at columbiarhlo.com

Community Unscripted: Musical Performance

10:00–11:00 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Bob Marley himself said, “One good thing about music, when it hits you feel no pain.” If you are a singer, composer, instrumentalist you know what the feeling of being ‘hit’ by music is too well. At Barnumbia (Barnard + Columbia) there are many spaces and ensembles for performers to develop their skills and thrive in. If you are a musician of any sort, or someone interested in developing your musicianship, this Community Unscripted is the space for you!

Community Unscripted: Theatre

10:00–11:00 p.m.

Live on Zoom

Do you love a good play or musical? Are you the Leonardo Da Vinci of Set Design, or the Stanley McCandless of Lighting Design? Have you never done Theatre before, and just want advice on how to get involved in college? The process of breaking into theatre on the Barnard and Columbia campus is certainly unique. Come to this Community Unscripted to meet other students involved in theatre and learn about various classes, productions, and spots available this upcoming semester!

Community Unscripted: Visual Arts

11:00 p.m.–12:00 a.m.

Live on Zoom

If you're a filmmaker, a photographer, a painting enthusiast, an adept chalk drawer, or really anything else under the sun, you'll find a space for you at this Community Unscripted! Share your latest work with others or discuss the best spots to capture the beauty of the city or ask questions on how to get actors and models involved in your projects at Barnumbia (Barnard + Columbia).

Community Unscripted: Volunteering

11:00 p.m.–12:00 a.m.

Live on Zoom

Some people find their jam by serving others, both inside of the Columbia community and out. There are a number of ways to get involved in community service in New York City, so drop in and learn about how you can give back. You might even find some friends to embark on your volunteering journey with you.

Late Night Activities: Bar None Trivia

9:30-11:00 p.m.

Live on Zoom

NSOP 2020 will be hosting a Bar None Trivia event on Sunday, September 6 and Monday, September 7! This will be a great opportunity to meet your peers over a 90-minute interactive and collaborative game of team trivia. Hop onto Zoom, break into smaller groups, and over four rounds of varied, topical trivia (including creative categories, picture rounds, and music rounds), we'll crown a Columbia Class of 2024 trivia champion. The game will open 10 minutes before the start time; the first 300 students who join each game will be eligible to play. Please only join one event (either Sunday or Monday) so we can maximize the number of students who can play. Looking forward to seeing many of you there!

Monday, Sept. 7

Late Night Activities: Coffee and Crayons

11:30 a.m.–1:00 p.m.

Tired of looking at the bare walls in your room? Pull out a notebook and pencil, or brushes and paint, and channel your inner Bob Ross at this brunch sketching and painting event! Grab a cup of coffee and try your hand at a freestyle design or make some happy trees! (Bob Ross not included.)

Late Night Activities: Afternoon Movie

Disability and Accessibility Information

Disability Services (DS) facilitates equal access for students with disabilities by coordinating reasonable accommodations and support services. Reasonable accommodations are adjustments to policy, practice and programs that provide equal access for students with disabilities. Examples include the administration of exams; services such as note taking, sign language interpreters and assistive technology; and coordination of accessible housing needs. Accommodation plans and services are custom designed to match the disability-related needs of each student and are determined according to documented needs and the student's program requirements. Registration includes submission of both the Application for Accommodations and Services and disability documentation. The application and disability documentation guidelines are available online (health.columbia.edu/content/disability-registration-form) and at the DS office. Students are encouraged to register within the first two weeks of the semester to ensure that reasonable accommodations can be made for that term. Please note that students are not eligible to receive reasonable accommodations until the registration process is complete.
