

RAINBOW CONNECTION

“Kamaji is magical”. How many times have you heard this? How many times have you SAID this? How many times have you thought this to yourself? It is, it is truly magical. But now try to explain why. It’s hard!! Because for us Kamaji girls, it just IS. Maybe it is the smell of the pines, the distant sounds of laughter through the trees, the sound of Wolf Lake lapping on the shoreline, the sound of the bell echoing, the sounds of the tetherballs bouncing off the poles, watching campers run and jump up on the “pig” (decorated propane tank) or maybe it is watching friends walk arm in arm up to the archery field, the sounds of the giggles as you walk past a cabin porch or the glimpses of rainbow tu-tus run by you in a flurry of color and tulle. To me, it is all magical, all of it is Kamaji.

But now try to explain all that to someone who has never been! How do you describe your friendships? How do you describe the sounds, the colors, the smells?

It is almost impossible! You begin saying, “It just IS, you don’t understand!” And you’re right, they don’t understand, they can’t, not yet. So this was my task, how do we describe why Kamaji IS so special, so magical. There are lots of words and things we can say but I think what separates Kamaji from so many special camps and special places is something truly magical.

We celebrate courage.

Think about it. We do! It starts at the very beginning, the guts it takes to get on an airplane and come to Kamaji where there is (gasp!) no electricity in the cabins (thank goodness for those lights and flushing toilets in the washhouses though!!) and live with people that you don’t know. That is brave! That’s why we make sure we have staff there to greet you, hug you, jump up and down with you.

And at Kamaji you are encouraged not to just do the activities you're good at or the ones that you participate in at home, this is the place where you are encouraged to try things that are completely new. You may be a pro tennis player at home, but at Kamaji you can take dance and perform on stage in front of all of camp. You don't have to be a professional, in fact, the audience is loudest when we know that you AREN'T a professional. When campers get up on stage to sing a solo, perform a dance or a skit, the audience doesn't cheer loudest for the "best" performance, we cheer loudest to recognize how hard it is to perform in front of all of camp!

Kamaji campers work hard to learn new skills at camp. Campers aim to cross off accomplishments on their skills checklist in their activities. They are eager to show that they can windsurf across the lake and grab a reed from the other side. They want to show that they can jump their horses up in the ring or ski in and out of the wake on one ski. And we make sure we recognize all these amazing accomplishments when the counselors announce them after lunch in the dining hall. But notice, we don't JUST announce the girls that have reached "Kami-Ex" (Kamaji Expert) level... the cheers are just as loud for the campers that learned out to get up for the first time on skis. We cheer for the girls who climbed up to the top of the 60 foot climbing wall blindfolded, the camper who passed to level two sailing and the applause is thunderous for the campers who practiced swimming and passed the swim check halfway through the session. We recognize how gutsy it is to keep working to learn something new or improve on a skill that does not come naturally to you.

We often hear that "Kamaji is a camp for nice girls". Heck yes it is! I think it is because your thoughtfulness, your kindness, the way you accept other campers and staff is celebrated. If you are a new camper and you want to run to be Tribe Leader against the oldest, Pine Manor campers, people are in awe of you. Older campers comment about how cool that is.

In the recent past we have had a camper who chose to wear her bright red rainboots everyday of camp...even when it is blistering hot outside. She wanted to make that her "thing". And it was beloved, she was beloved. We had a camper that wore the same, very identifiable hat everyday... she earned herself an endearing nickname. At home you might be teased, and at Kamaji, you are embraced.

At home you might fear standing out and being mocked, but at Kamaji, you may stand out for the same "quirk" but you are celebrated for your individuality. You are ours. You help define who we are as a community and as a camp. You are what makes Kamaji magical.

I think that anyone can understand why a place like that is pretty special. So next time someone asks you what you love about Kamaji and you find yourself stuttering, and spitting out things about the trees, the dance parties, the lake, your friends, and magic...now you can also tell them about the courage. You can tell them that at camp, your courage is celebrated.

Things We Can't Forget

FIRST SESSION

Doc, Doc, Who's There?!

We are SO thrilled to have all of our camp docs from last summer returning! In addition to MIA LEVY, STEVE SCLAMBERG, LISA SUFFIAN, RISA SIEGEL and SIATTA DUNBAR, we have...

JUDY MEISNER, who is returning for her 20th summer at Kamaji! Judy is from Minnetonka, MN where she was an anesthesiologist for 12 years.

SHEL OVERHOLT is back for her 10th summer at Kamaji! Shel joins us from Brainerd, MN with husband Dale Ray, son Bridger (originator and Tribe Leader of the "Agongos" tribe for Kamaji Rainbow Boys. It is the brown tribe and means "Ground Squirrel" in Ojibwe!) and future Kamaji camper, Oakley!

KELLY CURRAN returns for her 3rd summer at good ol' Camp Kamaji. Kelly works as an adolescent medicine physician in Oklahoma City. Kelly will return with fellow physician and husband, Dave, and newest edition, son, Peter Benjamin!!

JENNY MENDELSON is back for her 15th summer at camp. Mendel currently lives and works in Tucson, AZ as an emergency physician who specializes in pediatrics. Mendel best known at camp these days as "Moxie's mom" (her longtime pooch!)

We are so excited to share that Bri Humphries will be joining Kamaji's year-round team as our Office Administrator!

Full Name: Bri From-The Office, but my mom calls me "Briana Ashlyn Humphries".

From: Indiana and graduated from Franklin College with a Political Science degree.

What did you do this fall: I spent the past fall interning in the costuming department at Walt Disney World in Orlando, Florida. I had a great time getting to know Mickey and all of his friends, but he couldn't convince me to stay and miss out on a summer at Kamaji.

What you love about Kamaji: I love that Kamaji is a place where everyone is free to be themselves.

What are you looking forward to the most in your role? I'm looking forward to the challenge of having more responsibility. I'm very excited to grow as a person in this new role.

Favorite part of camp: I absolutely love spending time getting to know the girls. They all have such unique personalities! The girls make all the late nights and early mornings completely worth it.

Besides the Rainbow tribe, which tribe do you identify with the most? This is a tough call, but I'm going to have to go with the Geshigs. I have a special place in my heart for girls that love arrows as much as I do.

Any other info you want to share with your adoring fans? I enjoy long walks through the dining hall, wearing friendship bracelets, and sorting the mail.

Buzz, Buzz...Rumors

We have HEARD that the following people are interested and/or trying to come back and work at camp. Feel free to contact them to help “encourage” them along!!

Kat and Jason have begun interviewing people who are interested in working at Kamaji this upcoming summer.

If you are interested in working at camp this summer or know of a fun, trustworthy, hard-working, dedicated, enthusiastic, tireless, energetic, empathetic, funny, qualified person who would like to learn more about one of Kamaji’s many and varied positions, email kat@kamaji.com or jason@kamaji.com ASAP!

Randy’s Ramblings

Hello from the great north woods of Minnesota! The weather has turned from a fall that felt more like summer time to camp now having snow, not a lot, but in a fine dusting! The weather for the most part has been beautiful for this time of year with temperatures in the 30s during the day and low teens at night. As of today, 1 Dec, the lake is frozen over with a thin sheet of ice. Not enough to walk on but enough that the little snow that we have will sit on top of the ice.

I have been working on putting new shingles on Cabins 2, 3 and

Randy’s Ramblings cont’d

Nutshell. Cabin 2 and 3 are complete and 4 of the 6 sides of Nutshell are done too. Now that we have a little snow, the job of shingling has become a bit more difficult. Standing on a roof with ice or snow is a challenge but I have figured out a way to get it done! I also began the remodel of the upper wash house. We are going to have new walls in the shower room and new siding on the outside. Maybe even a new roof if I get to it before camp starts! Patch and Oreo have returned to Camp Kamaji to assist with maintenance and Camp Security. They did take a couple of weeks off during deer hunting season so as the hunters didn’t mistake Oreo for a deer. Oreo has put on a couple of pounds over the summer so he resembles a small Buck! Patch, on the other hand, is just as energetic as ever and has not slowed down in his older age. He has turned 10 yrs old but still acts like he did when he was a pup. When I’m not at camp I have been busy with my daughter, Georgia’s, swimming and my son, Josh’s, hockey! Every weekend is a swim meet or hockey tournament somewhere in Minnesota. Well, that’s enough ramblings from me, until next time.

-Randy, Oreo and Patch: The Boys!

Newsbits

RYAN SIEVE's love for horses just keeps on growing, thanks to Camp Kamaji! (says Ryan's mom!)

This fall Ryan started riding lessons! She goes once a week and learns new things each week! She is really enjoying it!

She is also busy with school and is playing volleyball this fall.

Just in from Glencoe...BELLA FRIEDMAN and CAMMI AVERY were both cast as Jane in Tarzan, their middle school play! They play the same part double casted!!! And ALEXIS BURTON also got a main part in the same show!! Kamaji represented!!!

Brace yourself for some serious mom gushing...CALEB NELSON (8 months old) has taken his first solo steps and is actually walking! Mom and dad are both thrilled and terrified.

Congrats to SYDNEY BERGER on winning her field hockey team's sportsmanship award!

Another HUGE congrats to DINA SCHULMAN and EMILY GREEN on completing the Columbus Half Marathon together.

The PHILLY GIRLS participated in a nighttime glow-in-the-dark Color Run Together!

CASSIDY CHOMAS and CLAIRE SERWER hung out over Thanksgiving while Claire's dad and Cassidy's Uncle Michael hung out too...they were friends from 3rd grade on in school and fellow campers at Camp Nebagamom- small world!

In Her Own Words

Chloe Arndt (5th grade) wrote the following poem about herself. Thank you for sharing, Chloe!

“Where I’m From”

*I am from a colorful array of bracelets
From the beads and from various types of strings
I am from the beautiful picture and chapter books on my shelves
I am from the rose and lemon tree in my backyard
Whose long gone limbs I remember as they were my own.*

*I am from my great grandma’s famous leek soup
From my mom’s Christmas sugar cookies
I am from Randy Arndt and Nicole Gauthier
I am from always being early to school
From day dreaming and traveling to lots and lots of traveling
I am from loving and caring to learning to say please and thank you
I am from Camp Kamaji a place I love so much.*

*I am from Walnut Creek, California the place I grew up
From Manihi an island in Tahiti
I am from delicious fresh mussels
From Brussel sprouts with a bit of lemon juice and garlic salt on them.*

*I am from my cats scratching on my door every night while I sleep
I am from the love of my stuffed animals
Who lay on my warm and soft bed as I sleep every night.*

Camp for ALL Kids

Our scholarship foundation, Camp for All Kids, helps us to recognize our differences and celebrate our similarities.

What a wonderful message to teach our youth, especially these days. How special that our campers learn that differences in one another are not scary, but just different, and that there are more similarities than anything else.

Camp for All Kids promotes and facilitates racial diversity by sending kids from under-served communities to overnight summer camp.

Please help us promote this wonderful message and provide camping experiences for more children who wouldn’t be able to otherwise.

It does not just benefit the scholarship recipients, it benefits your daughter, our staff, our community.

Kamaji Kaptured

bout to bust deerfield! @kamaji

It IS a Small World Afterall

Former Kamaji camper and counselor, MARGARET BYLSMA, writes,

So my mom and I are watching the movie Beasts of No Nation on Netflix which is about a civil war in Africa where a warlord trains kids to be soldiers. All of a sudden I have to pause the movie because the boy in the background is wearing something familiar!!

Any Kamaji camper and staff member from the 80's- '05 knows that shirt! It is a shirt from Leroy's Minnows Bait Shop in Cass Lake, MN (which closed in 2005). Leroy's t-shirts were all the rage amongst Kamaji girls for many, many years...and apparently one made it all the way to Africa. What do you want to bet there is a Kamaji camper name written in indelible ink on the inside of that shirt?

Come December

Don't forget to join Kamaji girls around the world in re-lighting your candle from the last night of camp on New Year's Eve.

As you re-light your candle, remember the friendships, the fun times and your Kamaji community joined together again through this wonderful tradition.

Remember when...you were new to camp? You had so many questions and you did not know anyone!

It meant so much to you to have a Kamaji Big Sis contact you before camp, answer your questions, look for you at the airport, sit with you on the bus and check in with you at camp.

If you would like to take on this great responsibility of being a "Kamaji Sister" for a new camper, please email kat@kamaji.com ASAP!

Camp for your Family

Family camp is filling up with current camp families, alumni and their families, friends of current families and friends of alumni!!

If you are interested in joining us, don't delay in sending in your registration form.

Email jason@kamaji.com if you want more information!

In Closing...

We continue our travels through the winter, excited to watch the 2015 Video Scrapbook with our campers. If you are unable to attend a reunion, we will mail your DVD to you when all the reunions are completed.

The New Year will bring a new Kamaji website and new brochures not far behind.

We are so excited to bring Bri on with us full-time and to welcome staff new and old to our 2016 Staff Line-Up.

We hope you will have some time this winter to spend with your family and friends. Take the opportunity given to you in this holiday season to recognize those people that are important to you. Tell them what they mean to you, and use them as a model to provide a similar support and love for someone else.

No matter what you celebrate, have a happy holiday season!

With hugs and high fives,
Kat, Jason & Caleb too!
