The Florida Education and Training Placement Information Program (FETPIP) data is the source for this information. Each of the 28 Florida College System Institutions are required to report student outcomes to the Florida State Department of Education annually. This data includes information on student graduation, employment, earnings, and continued education rates. The data reported lags at least two years behind but is collected in a consistent manner. The graph below represents the percent of employed FSCJ graduates compared to the percent of employed graduates of comparative schools (averaged). The data is available at: https://www.floridacollegesystem.com/data/florida_college_graduates_succeed.aspx.
