Find Books

Library Catalog: Print and E-books

Students may search the catalog for print and e-books owned by the Vernon College Library System. Use the dropdown menus to limit your search by location and/or by author, title, or subject terms.

E-books: To search only for titles available electronically, select "Online" as the desired location. Use the dropdown menu to choose your search method (author, title, subject terms, etc.), then enter your search term.

Helpful feature: While viewing a book, select the "Search" tab to bring up a search bar, which will allow you to locate a word or phrase within the entire contents of the e-book.

Find Articles

Scholarly, peer reviewed articles are available online through the library's databases. All databases are accessible off-campus from any Internet connection. The following databases are good sources to consult for literary criticism and other topics related to American literature.

OFF-CAMPUS ACCESS TO DATABASES:

To search databases off-campus:

- Select Access to Databases from the Library Homepage.
- Click on the Literature/Arts category.
- Select a database such as JSTOR.
- Log-in with your VC student ID number and PIN (without Chaps).

JSTOR: JSTOR offers considerable journal coverage in literature and is a good resource to consult for literary criticism.

Literary Reference Center: The database provides access to literary criticism, work overviews, and author biographies from noted reference works and scholarly literary journals.

Academic Search Complete: This multidisciplinary database provides full-text access to numerous scholarly journals in literature. The database features an intuitive search interface with a number of limiters to help customize the search. Researchers can select "literary criticism" from the "Document Type" drop down menu.

Twentieth Century American Poetry: Twentieth Century American Poetry contains the poetry of over 300 poets, including Adrienne Rich, Andrei Codrescu, Ezra Pound, William Carlos Williams, Denise Levertov, Wallace Stevens, Langston Hughes, Lucille Clifton, and Cathy Song.

The Research Process

The Research Process

- 1) Select a topic that you find interesting and appropriate for the assignment.
- 2) Review reference sources such as encyclopedias for background information to help focus or narrow the search.

For example, students interested in Uncle Tom's Cabin may consult the Encyclopedia of American literature for ideas in narrowing the focus of the search to a particular area of interest such as how Stowe presents the incompatibility of slavery with the Christian ethic of love and tolerance.

- 3) Restate the topic as a question. Inquiry is at the heart of the research process, a quest to locate information which answers questions and leads researchers to a greater understanding of the topic.

Restating the topic as a question will help in:

- Locating information that is useful and relevant to the primary focus or thesis of your research.
- Identifying the keywords or phrases to use in the search statement.

Example: In what ways does Stowe present the incompatibility of slavery with the Christian ethic of love and tolerance?

- 4) Develop a search statement by combining keywords or concepts from the research question. For example, "Stowe" and "Christian ethic" are identified as keywords in the question above. By connecting both terms with the Boolean operator "and", the researcher will retrieve only those articles that discuss both concepts, thus improving the relevancy of the search.

Enter in database search fields: Stowe and Christian ethic

- 5) Develop alternate search statements to improve the search results. Authors may use various terms to describe the same concept.

For example, Christian ethic may be used in the same context as love.

By identifying and connecting alternate terms, researchers may expand the search results. As indicated below, consider brainstorming and listing synonyms or word variations to identify alternate keywords.

Concept 1		Concept 2
Christian ethic	AND	Stowe
love	AND	Uncle Tom's Cabin
tolerance	AND	Life among the Lowly
