* Anything in Red

Have you ever wondered why our Lord used ordinary Bread and Wine in the Sacrament of the Eucharist and not Rice and Water?

At first glance this may seem like a funny question, but the answer is deeper than we may think, and the answer may surprise you.

First it is because no two substances in nature better symbolize unity than bread and wine. The Catechism of the Catholic Church (CCC) #1333 reads in part, “fruit of the earth, work of human hands,” but above all as “fruit of the earth” and of the vine – gifts of the Creator.

So, we have “fruit of the earth” from God’s bountiful gifts and blessings bestowed on humanity, but He needs mankind to participate (to be in communion in the preparation) of his free will and labor. Our Lord asks us to be in communion even in the labor, to make something from his “fruits.” There is no such thing as a bread tree, nor does wine springing up from the ground. Both substances need human participation in real hard labor to become bread and wine.

Have you ever had your children approach you for money to buy you a gift? The chances are, you gave your children money to buy you a gift, but why? Because we want to see our children’s participation in the effort to shop for the gift and the expression of love in what the gift means to us, but we do not shop for them and purchase it for them, it must be freewill.

Well, our Lord wants the same thing by providing the bountiful gifts. However, he wants to see the labor and expression of love in the long laborious process of planting the vine, watering it for many years, nurturing the vine, eventually harvesting the vine and crushing grapes in a process that requires us waiting for natural law to transform and ferment the grape juice into wine. The same with the wheat that starts at tilling the soil, planting the seed, watering, nurturing, passing through the rigors of winter, until eventual harvest. Once harvested, the labor of separating the kernel and germ from the chaff, grinding it into a fine powder, mixing it with water, then adding leaven (yeast) waiting again for nature to transform and expand the dough, then the wood for the fire in the oven and the eventual baking into bread.

Our Lord asks for OUR love labor and participation (“work of human hands”), in cooperation with His will, to become the substance for the Holy Sacrifice. If it was just Rice and Water, very little if any human intervention would be necessary. God relies on our cooperation of our will with His will (in communion) to have the substance for the Sacrifice, but also, in order to receive, our complete will in a state of grace (without sin) to receive the Holy Eucharist at Mass.

Respect Life Ministry

A big heartfelt thank you to all of you that participated in this Lenten 40 Days for Life. We had about 60 parishioners stand and pray on the sidewalk in front of Planned Parenthood for our Church Day and many came down and prayed on other days. Standing and praying on the sidewalk in front of an abortion facility does make a difference. Thank you so much for your prayers and presence.

INTERESTED IN BECOMING CATHOLIC?

Interested in becoming Catholic or learning more about the Church and her teachings? There is a place for you, here with us. As an adult, you become Catholic through the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA). RCIA will meet weekly during the year, beginning in September. Our meetings will last approximately 1 1/2 - 2 hours on Sunday mornings. This process is for you if you:

- Have never been baptized
- Were baptized in another Christian faith
- Were baptized Catholic, but didn't receive First Holy Communion and Confirmation.

You will be guided and supported in the faith through instruction. If you or someone you know would like to learn more about becoming Catholic, contact Charles Noll at 830-980-2268, ext. 205, or CharlesN@stjhc.church.
