The Moment of Caravaggio ☼

Michael Fried

"No one sees paintings better than Michael Fried, or thinks as persistently or with such philosophical depth about such seeing, about the very possibility of pictorial meaning. The Moment of Caravaggio is a spectacular, compelling addition to his oeuvre. An engrossing and often simply thrilling read, the book is a triumph."

—Robert B. Pippin, University of Chicago

This is a groundbreaking examination of one of the most important artists in the Western tradition by one of the leading art historians and critics of the past half-century.

Michael Fried is the J. R. Herbert Boone Professor of Humanities and the History of Art at Johns Hopkins University.

Kissing Architecture

Sylvia Lavin

"In the most sober assessment I can offer, I find Sylvia Lavin's Kissing Architecture to rank among the most original writings in contemporary art discourse I have ever read. Utterly disarming, it is wondrous, brilliant, innocent, naughty, trite, hilarious, fresh, weightless, and profound. Simply put, I am mad for it."

—Jeffrey M. Kipnis, Ohio State University

"Lavin is poised to become one of the most important writers on architecture since the 1970s, and this book is surely a significant step toward that inevitability."

—K. Michael Hays, author of Architecture's Desire

Kissing Architecture explores the mutual attraction between architecture and other forms of contemporary art. In this fresh, insightful, and beautifully illustrated book, renowned architectural critic and scholar Sylvia Lavin develops the concept of "kissing" to describe the growing intimacy between architecture and new types of art—particularly multimedia installations that take place in and on the surfaces of buildings—and to capture the sensual charge that is being designed and built into architectural surfaces and interior spaces today. Initiating readers into the guilty pleasures of architecture that abandons the narrow focus on function, Lavin looks at recent work by Pipilotti Rist, Doug Aitken, the firm Diller Scofidio + Renfro, and others who choose instead to embrace the viewer in powerful affects and visual and sensory atmospheres.

Sylvia Lavin is professor of architecture and urban design at the University of California, Los Angeles.

POINT: ESSAYS ON ARCHITECTURE

Sarah Whiting, series editor

POINT offers a new cadence to architecture's contemporary conversation. Situated between the pithy polemic and the heavily footnoted tome, POINT publishes extended essays. Each essay in this series hones a single point while situating it within a broader discursive landscape, and thereby simultaneously focusing and fueling architectural criticism. These short books, written by leading critics, theorists, historians, and practitioners, engage the major issues concerning architecture and design today. The agility of POINT's format permits the series to take the pulse of the field, address and further develop current issues, and turn these issues outward to an informed, interested public.

A General Theory of Visual Culture

Whitney Davis

"This brilliant study addresses what the author rightly terms the 'urgent' question of art history's 'expansion into visual culture.' As penetrating in its theoretical analysis as it is wide-ranging in its historical scope, this is without doubt the most thoughtful and comprehensive work on the subject."

—Stephen Bann, University of Bristol

What is cultural about vision—or visual about culture? In this ambitious book, Whitney Davis provides new answers to these difficult and important questions by presenting an original framework for understanding visual culture.

Art of the Deal

Contemporary Art in a Global Financial Market
Noah Horowitz

"Calmly, trenchantly, Horowitz examines the intricate relationship between the contemporary art market and the value of its objects. This book will prove indispensable to anyone who wants to know how the art market works and what tomorrow's art economy might look like."

—Alexander Alberro, Barnard College, Columbia University

Art today is defined by its relationship to money as never before. Prices of living artists' works have been driven to unprecedented heights, conventional boundaries within the art world have collapsed, and artists now think ever more strategically about how to advance their careers. Artists no longer simply make art, but package, sell, and brand it.

Noah Horowitz exposes the inner workings of the contemporary art market, explaining how this unique economy came to be, how it works, and where it's headed. He takes a unique look at the globalization of the art world and the changing face of the business, offering the clearest analysis yet of how investors speculate in the market and how emerging art forms such as video and installation have been drawn into the commercial sphere.

Noah Horowitz is a member of the faculty of the Sotheby's Institute of Art and director of the VIP Art Fair.

Create Dangerously

The Immigrant Artist at Work

Edwidge Danticat

"Danticat's tender new book about loss and the unquenchable passion for homeland makes us remember the powerful material from which most fiction is wrought: it comes from childhood, and place. No matter her geographic and temporal distance from these, Danticat writes about them with the immediacy of love."

—Amy Wilentz, New York Times Book Review

"Danticat is a marvelous writer, blending personal anecdotes, history and larger reflections without turning the immigrant writer into a victim, misunderstood by all."

—Sandip Roy, San Francisco Chronicle

Create Dangerously is an eloquent and moving expression of Edwidge Danticat's belief that immigrant artists are obliged to bear witness when their countries of origin are suffering from violence, oppression, poverty, and tragedy.

Edwidge Danticat was born in Haiti in 1969 and moved to the United States when she was twelve. She is the author of two novels, two collections of stories, two books for young adults, and two nonfiction books. In 2009, she received a MacArthur Fellowship.

Michelangelo

A Life on Paper

Leonard Barkan

"Open this book and sit down at Michelangelo's worktable, where writing and art-making happen one on top of the other. Writing surfaces continually invite doodles, while stunning feats of draftsmanship meet an unrelenting stream of bills, letters, poems, and inside jokes. In the congenial company of a preeminent critic of the art and literature of the Renaissance, we follow the careers of sheets of paper marked up, handed off to assistants, corrected, then revisited years later, then sent off—or, more often, filed away in Michelangelo's scrupulous archive. From the midst of this productive chaos, Leonard Barkan counsels us to abandon the dream of a congruent collaboration of word and image, pointing the way instead to a concrete and strangely familiar poetics of intersection and interruption." —Alexander Nagel, New York University

Michelangelo is best known for great artistic achievements such as the Sistine ceiling, the David, the Pietà, and the dome of St. Peter's. Yet throughout his seventy-five-year career, he was engaged in another artistic act that until now has been largely overlooked: he not only filled hundreds of sheets of paper with exquisite drawings, sketches, and doodles, but also, on fully a third of these sheets, composed his own words. Michelangelo: A Life on Paper is the first book to examine this intriguing interplay of words and images, providing insight into his life and work as never before.

Leonard Barkan is the Class of 1943 University Professor of Comparative Literature at Princeton University.

Gauguin

Maker of Myth

Edited by Belinda Thomson

With contributions by Tamar Garb, Charles Forsdick, Vincent Gille, Linda Goddard & Philippe Dagen

"These essays break new ground and exemplify a very high order of rigor and creativity. Gauguin repositions the artist as a canny and deliberate agent of his own reputation and eventual mythos. Stunningly illustrated and unprecedented in scope, Gauguin features more than 200 museum-quality reproductions of paintings, works on paper, ceramics, woodcarvings, and writings, including Gauguin's beautifully illustrated letters and books.

Translated by David Tod Roy

"Clearly David Roy is the greatest scholar-translator in the field of premodern vernacular Chinese fiction.... The puns and various other kinds of word plays that abound in the Chin P'ing Mei are so difficult to translate that I can't help 'slapping the table in amazement' each time I see evidence of Roy's masterful rendition of them."

ARTiculations

Undefining Chinese Contemporary Art

Edited by Jerome Silbergeld & Dora C. Y. Ching

What does it mean to say that some of the best Chinese contemporary art is made in America, by Americans? Through words and images, this book challenges the artificial and narrowly conceived definitions of Chinese contemporary art that dominate current discussion, revealing the great diversity of Chinese art today and showing just how complex and uncertain the labels "contemporary," "Chinese," and "American" have become.

Jerome Silbergeld is the P. Y. and Kinmay W. Tang Professor of Chinese Art History at Princeton University and director of Princeton's Tang Center for East Asian Art. Dora C. Y. Ching is associate director of the Tang Center for East Asian Art.

Edgar Degas Sculpture

Suzanne Glover Lindsay, Daphne S. Barbour & Shelley G. Sturman

With Barbara H. Berrie, Suzanne Quillen Lomax & Michael Palmer

As an artist, Edgar Degas (1834–1917) defies easy description. He is perhaps best known as a painter, but his most widely known work is a sculpture, Little Dancer Aged Fourteen. It is the only sculpture Degas ever showed publicly, though more than one hundred—of dancers, horses, and bathers—were found in his studio after he died. For almost forty years after his death, these works were known only through the bronzes his heirs had cast from the originals. Then, in 1955, the waxes themselves appeared on the art market. Thanks to the discernment and generosity of Paul Mellon, the majority are now preserved at the National Gallery of Art, Washington, most on permanent display.

This groundbreaking volume honors this extraordinary gift by linking art and science. Including essays on Degas' life and work, his sculptural technique and materials, and the story of the sculptures after his death, it features art-historical and technical discussions of every work in the collection as well as indispensable concordances and bibliography.

Suzanne Glover Lindsay is adjunct associate professor in the history of art at the University of Pennsylvania. Daphne S. Barbour is a senior object conservator at the National Gallery of Art. Shelley G. Sturman is head of object conservation at the National Gallery of Art.

NATIONAL GALLERY OF ART

National Gallery of Art experts and scholars from around the world contribute to the thirty-volume Systematic Catalogue, which ultimately will document more than five thousand paintings, sculptures, and decorative arts in the National Gallery of Art collections. Comprehensive essays about each work are presented, along with full-color or duotone reproductions. Several volumes feature a range of comparative figures and technical illustrations to aid understanding of the latest conservation research. Where appropriate, concordances of old and new titles, attributions, and accession numbers are included; in addition, each catalogue contains extensive notes, references, a full bibliography, and an index. Eighteen volumes of the Systematic Catalogue have been published. Backlist and future titles in this series are now being distributed by Princeton University Press.

Volume III

Nineteenth- and Twentieth-Century Paintings

Richard R. Brettell, Paul Hayes Tucker & Natalie H. Lee

Robert Lehman, one of the foremost art collectors of his generation, embraced both traditional and modern masters. This volume catalogues 130 nineteenth- and twentieth-century paintings that are now part of the Robert Lehman Collection at the Metropolitan Museum. The majority of the works are by artists based in France, but there are also examples from the United States, Latin America, and India, reflecting Lehman's global interests.

The catalogue opens with outstanding paintings by Ingres, Theodore Rousseau, and Corot among other early nineteenth-century artists. They are joined by an exemplary selection of Impressionist and Post-Impressionist canvases by Degas, Renoir, Sisley, Pissarro, Seurat, Signac, Van Gogh, Cézanne, and Gauguin. Twentieth-century masters include Bonnard, Matisse, Rouault, Dalí, and Balthus. Newly researched modern works are represented by Vicente do Rego Monteiro, Kees van Dongen, Dietz Edzard, and D. G. Kulkarni (DIZI).
