- The timeless chic of a new sunburst satin-finish blue dial
- Two models with a feminine silhouette: an understated 36 mm pink gold version and a sparkling 36.5 mm diamond-set pink gold version
- A self-winding calibre with a 22 carats gold openworked oscillating weight, inspired by the Maltese cross

Available in two 36 mm and 36.5 mm feminine versions, the Patrimony self-winding watch adopts a new sunburst satin-finish blue dial making a perfect match with the pink gold of its case. A chic and timeless signature, pared down or set with diamonds. Simply quintessential!

The pure, perfectly rounded shape of its silhouette is refined, subtle and delicate. Its appearance is understated, distinguished and aesthetically pleasing. Since 2004, the Patrimony line embodied timeless watchmaking, triking a perfect balance between classicism and modernity. Presented in 36 mm and 36.5 mm diameters, the new self-winding Patrimony models now grace women's wrists with the splendid gleam of their midnight blue dial, specially created for this iconic line by Vacheron Constantin. Accentuated by pink gold in a pared-down version or rimmed with diamonds in a glowing pink gold interpretation, the Patrimony self-winding watch asserts the absolute elegance of its deep blue dial as a matter of course. This minimalism, designed for day and night, is paired with a dark blue alligator leather strap and a self-winding movement featuring a 22 carats gold openworked oscillating weight inspired by the Maltese cross.

Patrimony self-winding – Simply quintessential!

The Patrimony self-winding model is the ideal watch for women who cultivate their appearance with impeccable taste. Self-assured and precise by nature, their character is revealed on the wrist in a fine 36 mm pink gold case framing a midnight blue dial. Creating shimmering reflections and light effects achieved by the sunburst satin finish, this mysterious shade is discreetly punctuated by slender hour-markers, a "pearl" minute-track slightly recessed into the dial surface and a date display at 6 o'clock. This marvel of sobriety and elegance is swept over by slender pink gold hours and minutes hands. In addition, each passing moment is marked off by the large central seconds hand that is delicately curved to follow the dainty outline of the dial. Behind the scenes, the tempo is set by the mechanical self-winding 2450 Q6/2 calibre. Its ethereal 22 carats gold oscillating weight is inspired by the Maltese cross. The watch embraces the wrist with a slim and apparently seamless strap made of dark blue alligator leather matching the dial colour.

Patrimony self-winding gem-set – Sleek lines lit up with diamonds

The Patrimony self-winding gem-set interpretation attires its sleek lines in flamboyant apparel: the sparkling silhouette of its 36.5 mm pink gold case; the entrancing beauty of 68 round-cut diamonds carefully aligned on the bezel; and the ultimate touch of a diamond-set crown with a diamond. A precious spark that gives even greater intensity to the midnight blue shimmer of the sunburst satin-finish dial, whose extremely understated, subtly curved surface is punctuated by a “pearl” minute-track delicately carved into the material. Sleek hour-markers, a date window at 6 o’clock, slender pink gold hours and minutes hands complemented by a slim seconds hand, delicately curved to follow the dainty outline of the dial. The magic also weaves its spell inside the case, through the intricate workings of the self-winding 2450 Q6/2 movement adorned with a Côtes de Genève motif and equipped with a 22 carats gold openworked oscillating weight inspired by the Maltese cross. Precision and preciousness are the watchwords while that define this timeless watch that gently embraces the wrist with its apparently seamless midnight blue alligator leather strap.

Summary

Sculpted in pink gold in two 36 mm and 36.5 mm diameters, the feminine lines of the Patrimony self-winding adopt a midnight blue dial. Pared down or set with diamonds, Vacheron Constantin's iconic watch expresses its timeless elegance with unfailing precision. Setting the tempo behind the scenes is the 2450 Q6/2 calibre adorned with a Côtes de Genève motif and equipped with a gold openworked oscillating weight inspired by the Maltese cross. The epitome of horological refinement for these two minimalist watches that embrace the wrist with their apparently seamless dark blue leather strap matching the dial colour.
