Introduction

his workbook has been developed to serve as a suggested year-long resource for working the 12 Steps of Overeaters Anonymous, in a telephone conference format. A month is devoted to each of the Steps. Each Step is started in it's corresponding month, e.g., Step 3 is started in March. The suggested length for each meeting is 60 minutes.

There are four weeks devoted to each step, and the weekly format is found on page 3 of the workbook. Please note that depending on the day of the week that you have your meeting, you may have five meetings in a month. If that is the case, please refer to the meeting format page titled, "Format for the 5th Meeting in the Month," found on page 4 of the workbook.

There are assignments for participants to complete between each of the weekly meetings. Each Step is presented with suggested discussion items, reading, and writing assignments. The workbook can also be used to work with sponsors and sponsees individually.

The developers of this workbook have several suggestions for forming a "Year Through The Steps" telephone meeting

- Find a group of people who are interested in making a year-long commitment to the study of the Steps. It is suggested to have no less than 8 participants, and no more than 35. Expect some drop-outs during the process.
- Determine a start date and notify all of your participants. Send them a copy of this workbook and a homework assignment spreadsheet at least one week before the first meeting.
- Decide who will lead the first meeting, and then ask for volunteers to facilitate each week. It is helpful to get volunteers on a monthly or quarterly basis.
- Remember that there are no leaders for this meeting God is in charge, but there are several helpful service positions in addition to facilitator:
 - Secretary who will keep up with member contact information, distribute communications to the group, send requests for facilitators and keep up with meeting leaders
 - Group Conscience Facilitator who will collect agenda items and facilitate GC meetings
 - Homework Coordinator who will make corrections or changes to the homework assignments as needed
 - Host who will handle the logistics of the conference call, such as muting and unmuting all callers.
 - Treasurer
 - Time Keeper who will keep monitor time on the call and let speakers know when their time is about up.
- Have members continue to share their experiences in this Step Study with their sponsors.

Before the First Meeting

Finalize a list of participants – make sure each person knows that they are making a year-long commitment to the meeting.

Develop a roster of participants, with contact information, to distribute at the first meeting.

Let participants know that they are expected to call into the meeting on time and to do the assigned work between meetings.

Have each participant get a 4th Edition copy of the Big Book, an OA Twelve & Twelve, and an AA Twelve & Twelve.

Have participants download and print the workbook from http://www.yearthroughthesteps.com It is recommended that you print the pages on 3-hole paper and put them in a notebook.

Note to Participants

- This is the beginning of a year-long intensive study of the 12 Steps of Overeaters Anonymous.
- Meetings will be a combination of reviewing writing assignments, reading from the Big Book and Twelve & Twelve, and structured discussions.
- There will be times that the writing can be done in this workbook, and other occasions, such as completing your 4th Step, where you will write in a confidential notebook.
- Everyone is expected to do each of the Steps, and if possible, attend every meeting of the group.
- If you cannot attend a meeting, we encourage you to let your fellow group members know and complete the reading and writing assignments before the next meeting.
- Depending on how your group decides to handle phone contact with each other, you may want to take a minute to select a "buddy." This is a person you will speak to at least once between meetings. The goal here is to provide encouragement and support to each other. This person does not replace your sponsor, unless your sponsor is part of this group. Your group may also develop a roster of rotating buddies to call.

How to Facilitate a Meeting

Throughout this workbook there are instructions for the facilitator in italics. Before a meeting where you are the facilitator, familiarize yourself with the instructions.

Here is a suggested script for the telephone meeting. The words and phrases in brackets [] were used in the original meeting and should be replaced to comply with your group's :

1. Good morning. Welcome to the [Tuesday morning] Year through the Steps Phone Meeting. I'm ______ and I'll be your leader for today's meeting. This meeting begins at [6 am Mountain Time and closes at 6:50 am] for announcements and burning desires. On the last [Tuesday] of the month we close at [6:45 am MT] for a business meeting.

2. Will everyone who wishes to please join me in the serenity prayer? (recite prayer together)

3. Now I'd like to ask the host to mute the phones. [Host mutes the phones so that others can unmute at their turn to speak.]

4. According to our seventh tradition, we are self supporting through our own contributions. We divide our contributions as follows to help carry the message to the still suffering compulsive overeater: [ten percent to Region III, twenty percent to Denver Intergroup, twenty percent to Northern Intergroup, twenty percent to World Service, and thirty percent to our group's prudent reserve to be used for donations to OA events, including scholarships and raffle baskets and other opportunities as we see fit.] We suggest that contributions be made quarterly by check or money order and sent to our treasurer.

5. This is week # ______ of AYTTS. Last week's homework was ______. We will now begin sharing on the discussion topic or the homework, or any other topic critical to your recovery today. A timer will be used. When the timekeeper calls 'Time to wrap up', you have 10 seconds to wrap up your share.

6. Note to Leader: As each person is called and un-mutes his/her phone to share, greet the person simply with, "Good Morning, Jim / Jane" so that he/she receives clear feedback, signaling that the phone is un-muted, and the caller is heard. Remember to repeat names slowly two or three times to give callers a chance to unmute and to hear their names over other beeps. You may want to remind callers how to unmute / remute their phones.

7. At 10 minutes to the hour: We have 10 minutes left. Are there any burning desires?

Format for the 5th Meeting in a Month

Open the 5th meeting in a month by reading the script above, replacing item 5 with the following:

This is the fifth meeting on Step _____ this month. We will review the parts of this month's Step that have had a special impact on us. I will share first, and then continue sharing with the next person on our call list.

Continue following the standard script.

There are no reading or writing assignments made on these weeks.

Step 4

Week 1

Opening

Read format located on page 3 of the workbook.

Discussion Topic for This Week

What do the concepts of "fearless and thorough" mean to you?

Note to participants:

The most essential results of Step 4 will be to provide enough data to be able to write down a statement of the nature of your wrongs (defects of character), to provide data for step eight, with an initial listing of persons you have harmed and to reinforce your process of psychic change. When you are doing your homework, and completing your inventory, stay in close touch with your sponsor. You may find it helpful to talk about difficult issues immediately, rather than waiting until Step 5.

Step 4 is composed of these lists:

- 1. Resentments (page 64, line 23)
- 2. Fears (page 63, line 3)
- 3. Sexual Injury (page 69, line 12)
- 4. Harms (page 70, line 30)

Let's look at the first list - Resentments. You will have 4 columns, as shown in this example:

Resentments
WHO N	WHAT	WHY	FAULTS (My Part)
"Who" is the per- son, or what is the tr institution or prin- ciple that you re- sent. A resentment F is a negative feel- ing and more in- tense than dislike and less violent than anger. In the 1 st column, list the I name of the per- son, institution or	"What" is called the "cause" column, on page 65 of the Big Book. In this column, you de- scribe briefly what the resented party did that triggered your resentment.	The "Why" column requires deep searching. Just what is it about you that was triggered by the other person or their actions? What did their ac- tions affect in you?	The Big Book says, "The inventory was ours, not the other man's. When we saw our faults we lis- ted them." (page 67, line 21). In this column, you describe where you were at

Here is an example –

Resentments
WHO	WHAT	WHY	FAULTS (My Part)
My sister, Joan	my parents about what a loser I was. She told them how much I drank, and about the trouble I got in.	and my relation- ship with my par- ents. They cut me out of their will when I was drink- ing. It affected me financially. I lost	also very self- centered – I never thought about how

For this step, you will do your writing in a separate notebook. Develop a 4-column 4th Step for Resentments, like the example shown above. Keep it in a safe and confidential place. You will not share details of this writing with the group, however, you will be asked to share any discoveries you had in the process.

My Thoughts about the process of describing resentments:

Discussion Topic for This Week

Discuss the concept of fear. The Big Book says that the "driving force in the life of most alcoholics is the self-centered fear that we will lose something we have or that we will not get something we think we need or want?"

Note to participants:

Remember, that we're looking at the nature of our wrongs in this step (defects of character), to provide data for step eight, with an initial listing of persons we have harmed and to reinforce our process of psychic change.

We've already written about resentments. This week we'll look at fears.

You will have 3 columns, as shown in this example:

Fears
WHAT	WHY	FAULTS (My Part)
of your fear	of the fear in an effort to understand it	What about you adds to this fear, or causes this fear to be present in your life? How could you be making the fear worse, or causing it to be present in the first place?

Here is an example:

Fears

For this step, you will do your writing in a separate notebook. Develop a 3-column 4th Step for Fears, like the example shown above. Keep it in a safe and confidential place. My Thoughts about the process of describing fears:

Read the Solution to Fear (second and third paragraphs, BB p. 68). "We ask him to remove our fear and direct our attention to what He would have us be. At once," the Book says, "we commence to outgrow fear." Think about some of your fears. How will you use the solution we just read about to solve each of them?

Think about some of your fears. How will you use the solution we just read about to solve each of them?

Note to Participants:

Remember, that we're looking at the nature of our wrongs in this step (defects of character), to provide data for step eight, with an initial listing of persons we have harmed and to reinforce our process of psychic change.

We've already written about resentments and fears. This week we'll look at our Sex Conduct and Harms we have caused.

For the Sex Conduct, You will have 3columns, as shown in this example: (have another member of the group read the explanations in the table).

Sex Conduct – this is a list of our sexually related conduct in which we have been selfish, dishonest, inconsiderate or hurtful, or where we have unjustifiably aroused jealousy, suspicion or bitterness.

WHO	WHAT I DID	THEIR HURT
		How your actions hurt this person

Here is an example

Sex Conduct
Who	WHAT I DID	THEIR HURT
My ex-wife	home when I was drink- ing, and several times	She was often scared that I had been injured, then felt betrayed when she found evidence of my infidelity

Now, we'll look at the Harms Inventory. The Big Book says that "we have listed the people we have hurt by our conduct." This is a preliminary version of your list for Step 8. This list should contain all the persons and institutions you have harmed.

Harms I Have Caused
WHO or WHAT	WHAT I DID
Who or what I hurt	This is a short description of what you did

Here is an example:

Harms I Have Caused
WHO or WHAT	WHAT I DID
My employer	Often, when I traveled on business, I found blank receipts and made up fake expenses and put them on my expense re- port. It probably has added up to thou- sands of dollars.

Writing Assignment for Next Week

Make a list of the shortcomings that you will ask God to remove. These are the "defects of character" you identified in Step 4 and Step 6. Make a grid in your confidential notebook similar to the one shown below, but use your own "defects" for the column on the left. We have identified 5 levels of willingness to have each character defect removed.

These are:

- 1) Already removed
- 2) Absolutely willing
- 3) Almost willing
- 4) Give me more time
- 5) Never

Place one of these level indicators in the right column of the grid for each character defect.

Here is an example of a person's character defects as they identified them in Steps 4 and 6.

Character Defect	Willingness to have the defect removed
Abusiveness	Almost willing
Anger	Absolutely willing
Dishonesty	Almost willing
Fear	Give me more time
Infidelity	Already removed
Irresponsibility	Already removed
Procrastination	Almost willing
Stinginess	Give me more time
Thievery	Already removed
Thoughtlessness	Already removed

Writing Assignment for Next Week

More about God. In Step 7, we ask God to do something – to remove our defects of character. But not all conceptions of a Higher Power are likely to improve us. Some of the Higher Powers we have encountered are a tree, a rock, a light bulb, and even the AA Group. Amongst these, the only candidate for removing shortcomings may be the AA Group. However, we do not think it is prudent to go through your defects listing before your Group. It may now be important to open yourself up to the Spiritual source. Here is an opportunity for you to identify further your own conception of God. Answer these 6 questions:

My Thoughts

1. What is the name of your Higher Power?

2. Where is your Higher Power located?

3. What is the primary location of your Higher Power at the time you are meditating or praying?

4. How do you pray, and why do you pray this way?

5. Can your Higher Power read your thoughts when you pray? Does your Higher Power hear you better when you speak aloud?

6. Is your motive underlying the prayer as important as the thoughts and words of the prayer it-self?

Step 10 in the AA Twelve & Twelve describes 4 varieties of 10th Step inventory:

- 1) There's the spot-check inventory, taken at any time of the day, whenever we find ourselves getting tangled up.
- 2) There's the one we take at day's end, when we review the happenings of the hours just past. Here we cast up a balance sheet, crediting ourselves with things well done, and chalking up debits where due.
- 3) Then there are those occasions when alone, or in the company of our sponsor or spiritual advisor, we make a careful review of our progress since the last time.
- 4) Many AA's go in for annual or semiannual house-cleanings. Many of us also like the experience of an occasional retreat from the outside world where we can quiet down for an undisturbed day or so of self-overhaul and meditation.

Discuss how you feel about the four types of self-examination.
