Leadership in the Boy Scout Section

The Adult Leader responsible for the effective implementation of the Program of the Boy Scout Section in a Boy Scout unit is called the Troop Leader. He is assisted in the performance of his responsibilities by two (2) Adult Leaders, the Assistant Troop Leader for Program and the Assistant Troop Leader for Administration. They, however, are not the functional leaders of the unit. Effectively, they are the ones that provide guidance and direction to the unit through boy leaders who are the real leaders of the Boy Scout Unit. These boys are elected by the Scouts and sits in what is called as the Troop Leaders Council. These are the Senior Patrol Leader and the Patrol Leader. The Troop Scribe, the Troop Quartermaster, and the Junior Assistant Troop Leader also sit with them.

Organization of a Boy Scout Unit

A Boy Scout Unit is called a Troop. It is composed of a maximum of thirty two (32) boys plus three (3), the Senior Patrol Leader, the Troop Scribe and Treasurer, and the Troop Quartermaster.

A Troop is divided into four (4) sub-units called Patrols each headed by a Patrol Leaders. A patrol has a minimum of six (6) and a maximum of eight (8) members. It is organized as follows:

1. Patrol Leader
2. Assistant Patrol Leader
3. Patrol Scribe
4. Patrol Treasurer
5. Grubmaster
6. Quartermaster
7. Hikemaster
8. Cheer Leader

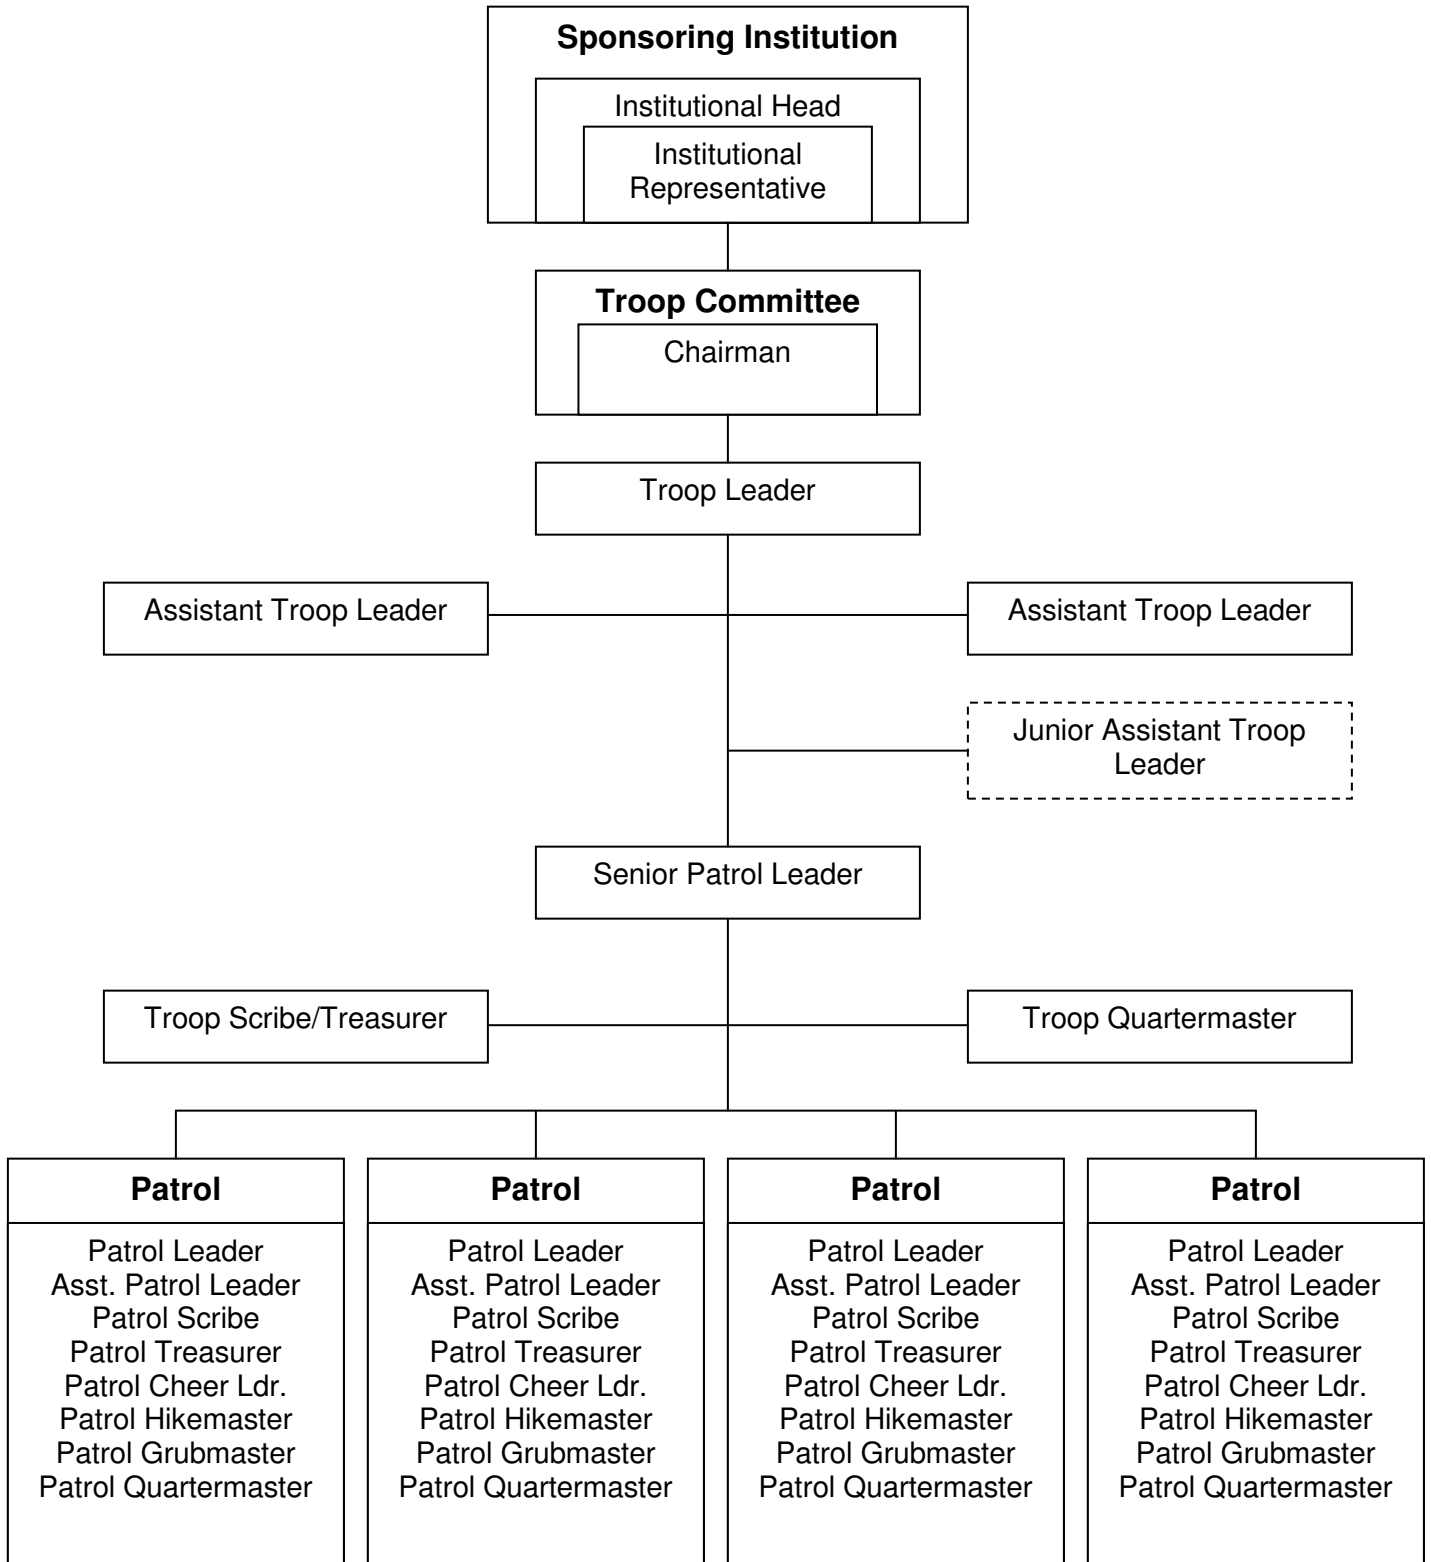

Advancement Ranks in the Boy Scout Section

When a boy registers as a member of a Boy Scout Troop, he starts with the rank of Tenderfoot. Then as he grows and develops along the advancement trails and passes the requirements, he is awarded the following ranks:

1. Second Class
2. First Class
3. Outdoorsman
4. Venturer, and the highest of them all
5. Eagle Scout

Properly implemented, the Boy Scouts of the Philippines feels certain that the program of the Boy Scout Section would have planted the seed of true citizenship, a citizenship anchored on age of 17. Least we be misled, however, let us bear in mind that the Program for the Boy Scout Section does not pretend to make leaders out of the Boys Scouts. It does not pretend to make successful Presidents, nor Governors, nor Mayors, nor Officers of the Armed Forces, nor Heads or Top Executives of a business enterprise. Rather, the program of the section provides a wide range of opportunities for developing the leadership potential to the fullestan education for life... A decisive first step would enable them to live a happier and a fuller life.
