What Certification Track is Right for You?

CBPL™ Summary

The ABPMP is proud to announce their Certified Business Process Leadership program. This is the highest level professional certification that ABPMP offers. It represents proof of a mastery level competency for those who pass the examination and become Certified as a Business Process Leader CBPL™

The CBPL™ is unique in our rapidly changing market place. This certification was developed by recognized Executive Level BPM practitioners to test the level of skill and competency in several areas of business transformation.

The certification is designed to test practitioners mastery of all things BPM and includes questions on all phases of the business transformation life cycle as well as question dealing with strategy execution and the use of BPM technologies.

The CBPL™ has been designed to comply with international certification standards and like the entry level CBPA® and the Process Architect level CBPP® certifications will quickly become the internationally recognized standard for BPM professionals. The certification will initially be offered by ABPMP through our chapters and affiliates worldwide, representing the largest qualified constituency of BPM practitioners today.
