Title

Retromania: Pop Culture's Addiction to Its Own Past

"Bracingly sharp. As a work of contemporary historiography, a thick description of the transformations in our relationship to time—as well as to place—Retromania deserves to be very widely read." —Sukhdev Sandhu, The Observer (London)

Run to the Roar: Coaching to Overcome Fear
Moby-Duck

GV711.A85 2010
GC231.2.H65 2011

"Whimsical curiosity begets a quixotic odyssey and troubling revelations about plastics polluting the seas in former high school teacher and journalist Hohn's charming account of what he learned searching for 28,800 rubber bath toys lost at sea in 1992... Packed with seafaring lore and astute reporting, this enthralling narrative is the Moby Dick of drifting ducks."

The Industrial Revolution

HC254.5.A78 1997

To End All Wars: A Story of Loyalty and Rebellion, 1914-1918

D546.H63 2011

"An original, engrossing account that gives the war's opponents (largely English) prominent place . . . Hochschild paints equally vivid, painful portraits of now obscure civilians and soldiers who waged a bitter, often heroic, and, Hochschild admits, unsuccessful antiwar struggle."

Stay Close
Enchantments

"[A] splendid and surprising book....Kathryn Harrison has given us something enduring – the last romantic figure of the [Romanov] era, a whip-cracking circus girl who was once an intimate part of a dying empire."

Nesbo, Jo
Oates, Joyce Carol

The Leopard
Mudwoman

"Extraordinarily intense, racking, and resonant... Masterfully enmeshing nightmare with reality, Oates has created a resolute, incisive, and galvanizing drama about our deep connection to place, the persistence of the past, and the battles of a resilient soul under siege... A major, controversy-ready novel from high-profile, protean Oates."

Behind the Beautiful Forevers:
Life, Death, and Hope in a Mumbai Undercity

HV4140.M86 B66 2012

“[An] exquisitely accomplished first book. Novelists dream of defining characters this swiftly and beautifully, but Ms. Boo is not a novelist. She is one of those rare, deep-digging journalists who can make truth surpass fiction, a documentarian with a superb sense of human drama. She makes it very easy to forget that this book is the work of a reporter. .... Comparison to Dickens is not unwarranted.”

Hopkinson, Deborah

Titanic: Voices from the Disaster

G530.T6 H66 2012

“In what's sure to be a definitive work commemorating the 100th anniversary of the sinking of the RMS Titanic, Hopkinson offers a well-researched and fascinating account of the disaster.... A thorough and absorbing recreation of the ill-fated voyage.”

Through My Eyes: A Quarterback's Journey

GV939.T423 A3 2011b

Gerszak, Rafal

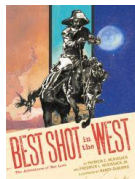

Beyond Bullets: A Photo Journal of Afghanistan

DS352.G47 2011

“Gerszak enables readers to see a side of the war that is rarely shared in the media, and, even less frequently, in a book directed at young adult. The photos tell a story all on their own, but the added narrative draws readers in and gives them a front-row seat.”

School Library Journal – Grade 8 Up

McKissack, Patricia and McKissack, Frederick Jr.

Best Shot in the West

F594.L892 M34 2012

“Although you wouldn't know it from typical cowboy stories and movies, about a quarter of actual cowhands were African-American, and this is the story of the most famous of them, the champion horse breaker and rifle shot known as Deadwood Dick....

[A] fine introduction to a little-known piece of Americana.”

Reeve, Philip

A Web of Air PZ7.R25576 We 2011
“Reeve's writing, already excellent, shines here as he turns his attention to the romantic, in both the human and poetic senses....This is clearly the middle of Fever's tale, and the end hints at more adventures to come. Imaginative, inventive and exciting.”
