When: May 27, 2018

What: Paris at the Turn of the Century

Description: Paris at the Turn of the Century features works on paper from the 1880s, 1890s, and early 1900s, drawn exclusively from the DMA's collection, that celebrate the French capital's beauty and dynamism, as well as its seedier and less glamorous aspects. The artists featured in the exhibit are Eugène Bédouin, Pierre Bonnard, Félix Hilaire Buhot, Edgar Degas, Jean Louis Forain, Henri de Toulouse-Lautrec, Théophile Alexandre Steinlen, Félix Vallotton, and Jacques Villon.

When: Through December 2, 2018

What: Hopi Visions: Journey of the Human Spirit

Description: The exhibition features a mural painting by Hopi artists Michael Kabotie and Delbridge Honanie displayed for the first time outside of Arizona and the Museum of Northern Arizona. The impressive work spans nearly five feet tall and forty-eight feet in length, with six distinct but interconnected panels. Journey of the Human Spirit narrates the history of the Hopi people, from the mythic emergence, through the arrival of Europeans, to the rebirth of Hopi traditions in the information age.

When: Through December 9, 2018

What: Asian Textiles: Art and Trade Along the Silk Road

Description: Asian Textiles highlights the passage of luxury goods along the Silk Road between eastern Asia, India, and places like Uzbekistan. This historical trade route led to an interchange of arts and crafts from the Mediterranean to India and the Far East.

When: April 18, 2017 - April 28, 2019

What: The Keir Collection of Islamic Art Gallery

ART AND MUSEUMS (cont'd)

Meadows Museum

5900 Bishop Blvd, Dallas, TX 75205

(214) 768-2516, <http://meadowsmuseumdallas.org>

Monday-Closed, Tuesday - Saturday 10AM-5PM,

Sunday 1-5PM

When: Through June 3, 2018

What: Memory, Mind, Matter: The Sculpture of Eduardo Chillida

Description: Eduardo Chillida (1924-2002) is one of the major sculptors of the post-war international art movement. His monumental public works can be found throughout Spain, Europe and the Americas. Memory, Mind, Matter: The Sculpture of Eduardo Chillida presents 66 works of sculpture, drawing, collage, gravitations, graphic works, and a small selection of artists' books.

When: Through December 2, 2018

What: Murillo at the Meadows: A 400th Anniversary Celebration

Description: December of 2017 will witness the 400th birthday of Bartolomé Esteban Murillo (1617-1682), luminary of Golden Age Seville. The Meadows Museum is in possession of five of this star painter's works, more paintings by him than any other museum in the United States.

When: September 9-December 9, 2018

What: Dalí: Poetics of the Small

Description: The Meadows Museum will present the first in-depth exploration of the small-scale paintings of Salvador Dalí. While many of Dalí's canvases are known around the world and are among the defining works of the Surrealist movement, the small size of many of these works is frequently overlooked. Nearly half of the artist's paintings during the early part of his Surrealist period (1929-1936) were actually smallformat works:

some measuring just over a foot, and others as small as 3 x 2 in.

Nasher Sculpture Center

2001 Flora St, Dallas, TX 75201

(214) 242-5100, www.nashersculpturecenter.org

Monday - Closed, Tuesday - Sunday 11AM-5PM

When: Through April 22, 2018

What: Foundations: First Sculpture

Description: To coincide with First Sculpture: Handaxe to Figure Stone, the Nasher Sculpture Center's curators have selected works that draw connections between the Paleolithic objects featured in First Sculpture and sculptures of the more recent past from the Nasher Collection.

When: Through April 28, 2018

What: First Sculpture: Handaxe to Figure Stone

Description: First Sculpture: Handaxe to Figure Stone is the first museum exhibition to present ancient handaxes and figure stones as works of art. Traditionally understood as the longest-used tool in human history, with examples dating back more than 2 million years, some handaxes are equally fascinating for their non-utilitarian, aesthetic qualities.

When: May 12, - August 19, 2018

What: A Tradition of Revolution

Description: Over the last 150 years, artists have continuously re-evaluated conventions and accepted practices in an extended period of cultural innovation, with each generation pushing against the achievements of the preceding generation or striking out in new directions altogether. The constant push to forge new paths to express the human experience in the modern age can be seen most clearly, perhaps, in the medium of sculpture.

When: May 12, - August 19, 2018

What: Sightings: Luke Fowler

Description: Nasher Sculpture Center and Lismore Castle Arts, Ireland—two institutions with unique outdoor settings for art, one a contemporary garden in a dynamic urban setting and the other a lush garden at an ancient castle in a bucolic rural setting—have jointly commissioned Luke Fowler to create a new sound sculpture for both locations.

When: September 15, 2018 - January 6, 2019

What: The Nature of Arp

Description: The Nature of Arp provides a long-overdue look at the achievements of Jean (Hans) Arp (1886-1966), one of the most important and multifaceted artists of the modern era. As a founder of the international Dada movement during World War I, Arp pioneered the use of chance, spontaneity, and collaboration as artistic processes and subsequently developed a vocabulary of curving, organic forms that was to become the lingua franca for several generations of artists.

NorthPark Center

8687 North Central Expressway Dallas TX 75225
