

Silent Meditation

God's very being is mercy.

The mercy of God lies in God's readiness to share in sympathy the distress of another, a readiness which springs from God's inmost nature and stamps all God's being and doing... And this, of course, is why we are able to face, acknowledge, accept and live through suffering, for we know that it can never be ultimate, it can never constitute the bottom line.

God is at the foundation and God is at the boundaries.

~ Eugene Peterson

Jesus) calls us... "to ruin our lives, to break our hearts,
to love the wrong person and to die."

We are invited to ruin the old life of silence, to break our hearts with compassion over suffering, to love the wrong person—that would be Jesus—and to die.

As (was) said to me last week, "to get resurrected ya gotta get dead."
Because we know, from Jesus's example, and from our own lives, what lies on the other side of that death. The other side of silence and distraction, of the deadly life of business as usual, is new life, resurrected life, born of compassion - awake and broken-hearted, and,
yes, dangerous. Take up your cross. Amen

* Call to Worship

Nancy Ellett Allison

One: Blessed is the One who comes in the name of the Living God!

Many: Hosanna to the Son of David!

One: Humble and riding on a donkey,

Many: We greet you; Hosanna in the highest!

One: Acclaimed by crowds and caroled by children,

Many: We cheer you; Hosanna in the highest!

One: Moving from the peace of the countryside to the corridors of power,

All: We salute you: Hosanna in the highest! Christ our Lord!

* Processional Hymn

“All Glory, Laud, and Honor”

ST. THEODULPH

David A. Smith, trumpet

*Refrain: All glory, laud and honor to you, O Christ we sing,
To whom the lips of children made sweet hosannas ring.*

O promised One of Israel, of David's royal line, the one called “God’s beloved,” of flesh and yet divine. Refrain

The people of the Hebrews with palms before you went;
Our praise and prayer and anthems before you we present. Refrain

To you before your passion they sang their hymns of praise;
To you, now high exalted, our melody we raise. Refrain

As you received their praises; receive our prayers today,
Whose justice and whose mercy and sovereignty hold sway. Refrain

The company of angels is praising you on high,
And we with all creation in chorus make reply. Refrain

Children's Offering & Message

Nancy Ellett Allison

(Following the Children's Message, preschoolers go to extended care and those in kindergarten through fifth grade to Children's Church.)

Prayer of Confession

Nancy Ellett Allison

One: The worshiping crowds wanted a forceful leader.

Many: We continue to place our trust in force and warriors and weaponry.

One: The people wanted a political solution where Jesus would use power to establish control.

Many: We too trust more in power than peace and nonviolence.

One: The Hebrews identified their oppressors as evil.

Many: Though we know better, we too are inclined to divide the world into good and evil people.

One: Gracious Jesus, may we catch a glimpse of your humility on this Palm Sunday; do not pass us by but stay and invade the inward citadels of our souls with your ways of peace and justice.

All: Correct us where we go astray. Assist us with the impossible human task of loving the unlovable which includes our enemies. Help us learn how to transcend the differences we have and acquire the art of reconciliation and forgiveness. Let your mind be within us, bring peace to our souls, O Prince of Peace.

Silent Confession

Assurance of Grace

Nancy Ellett Allison

One: Christ came riding a donkey of humility and reconciliation, not a charging war horse of judgment. Through Christ's love and peace we are forgiven!

Many: Thanks be to God!

*Hymn

“When I Survey the Wondrous Cross”

HAMBURG

When I survey the wondrous cross
on which the Prince of Glory died;
My richest gain I count but loss,
and pour contempt on all my pride.

Forbid it, Lord, that I should boast,
save in the death of Christ, my God;
All the vain things that charm me most,
I sacrifice them to his blood.

See, from his head, his hands, his feet,
sorrow and love flow mingled down.
Did e'er such love and sorrow meet,
or thorns compose so rich a crown.

Were the whole realm of nature mine,
that were an offering far too small;
Love so amazing, so divine,
demands my soul, my life, my all.
