Row Leads To Arrest And Stolen Property

Husband and Wife Dispute Ownership Of Big Trunk — Police Get It And Contents.

A spat between a husband and wife led to the arrest of the husband Saturday and this was followed by revelations that brought the wife in to police headquarters and resulted in the recovery of a considerable amount of stolen property together with information that will keep the husband in trouble for some time.

The trouble began when Louis Gambak and his wife had a quarrel some weeks ago and he left their home at 520 Roosevelt avenue and began to room at 1 Lafayette street.

On Friday he went to the Roosevelt avenue house and removed a huge trunk. Then his wife complained to the police about the trunk.

Gambak was brought in and so was the trunk. He said the contents were stolen property and that his wife stole it. Most of it, police brought in the woman. Gambak removed the contents of the trunk and made separate piles of the articles according to where they were stolen from. A great deal was placed in one pile, and this Gambak said, was taken from the Paterson General Hospital where his wife had been a patient.

It later developed that Gambak had been employed in the hospital in the laundry and he is blamed for the theft. He was turned over to the Paterson police.

There were some articles bought at a credit clothing store in Allentown, Pa., and never paid for, and there was property stolen from a house furnished but not occupied at the time by the owners. In addition to all these admissions, Gambak also told of having borrowed $300 from a loan company under an assumed name. The money was never returned.

The goods obtained at the credit clothing house included two coats, several dresses and a fur neck piece. From the unoccupied house came thirteen window shades and two watches.

Gambak said that in Paterson and Passaic he and his wife took the respective names of Ralph and Anna Billman, 85 Hamilton avenue, Paterson. He said that they borrowed $300 from the Allentown loan office under the name John Torok, 144 Front street, Coplay, Pa.

The two watches are Waltham make, one having 21 jewels and the other 15. The list of articles taken from the hospital was given by Gambak as follows: 40 dish cloths, 52 towels, 8 pillow cases, 18 bed sheets, 15 table cloths, 14 night gowns, 4 knives, 1 slip, 6 forks, 49 napkins, 6 spoons.

The number in nearly every instance was greater than that found in the trunk. Gambak said they had been used up or lost.

There is no serious charge against Gambak or the woman in Carteret. Once, police say, he was seen taking an old iron kitchen sink from the Liebigs enclosure.

Paterson police were notified of the admissions made by Gambak and the property recovered in the trunk. Officers came to Carteret from Paterson on Sunday and took Gambak with them. The woman was released.

Strandberg, Harry Baker, Merrill Huber, Charles Bryer and Howard Thorn, all of Carteret, and Henry Holland, of Woodbridge, a former member of the board was present also.

A COMMUNICATION

Dear Editor: Scroggins was settin' full in front of his shack with a pie-plate out of turpentine, cleanin' off the cross-eyed cat when I come by. The cat was smeared with some kind of dirty yellow stuff and Scroggins was washing it away with the turps. I asks what's the trouble.

Scroggins begins to answer and set the cat down but the blamed cat walked round to the other side and sat down on the pan of turpentine. Then he got up sudden like and went away from there.

Scroggins sweats a while, then he lugsns and whines, and finally settles down and answers: "That there cat can go places if he wants to but I never saw him in such a hurry before."

"But what was the spots you was tryin' to wash off?" I asks.

"Oh," says Scroggins, "that's some more of his own fault, y'see the blame cat gets up ramblin' round town an' gets up near the borough hall. Well, there's a guy which he's always talking about shoppin' at home and he has two, three other houses in back, and he gets two other guys from Bulgaria or some place to paint up them houses . . ."

"Bulgaria!"

"Well, they was from out of town and pretty far out, anyway. And I guess the paint didn't dry. So the fool cat goes rubbin' round there and gets the points on him; then it sticks."

"I say, Scroggins," says I, "if see by the papers, I'm gettin' to call Ed. Hoil 'Angel Eddie' how come the decoration?"

"It's an old story," says Scroggins, "long time ago there was a guy round here and he got pinched for liable or something and Eddie bailed him out. Well, that guy's friends and relations was grateful and I suppose they thought that Eddie was a good angel to them, so that's how the name started, I guess."

I thought Scroggins's story was fluky but I don't see nothing in it. HUCKLEBERRY HESS.

Lukach Kiddie Day Is Hit With Kiddies

Hundreds Of Youngsters Have Good Time At Outing Sponsored By Local Man.

There were hundreds of happy kiddies at Markwal's Grove in the East Rahway section Saturday when "Lukach Kiddie Day" was held. The affair was sponsored by James J. Lukach, a well known milk dealer, of 22 John street. Several weeks ago when Mr. Lukach learned that the Board of Health would not hold a baby parade this year, he said that he would give the little folks a good time and plenty of milk and cream to drink.

He did all that and in addition sponsored games and contests, and furnished free bus transportation. Now the kiddies hope that Lukach Day will become an annual event. It beats a baby parade all to pieces in the estimation of the youngsters.

There were several contests in which prizes were awarded. The most colorful of the contests was a contest in eating huckleberry pie. Michael Pop won the contest and had less facial decorations after it than the others. He just ate pie without looking sideways to see how the others in the contest were making out.

Those who tried to watch their neighbors and eat pie at the same time were "pie from ear to ear."

The judges were: Dr. J. J. Reeson of the Board of Health; Mrs. William Duff, Mrs. John Adams, Mrs. Dennis O'Rourke and Mrs. John Bodnar.

The refreshments were in charge of former councilman William J. Lawlor, President Charles A. Conrad of the Board of Education, Sanitary Inspector Frank Born, Secretary Edward A. Lloyd of the Board of Health, Fred Colton and Philip Turk.

DOROTHY DOLAN
Carteret Child Who Has Won Many Prizes at Baby Parades

On a Wednesday, about two weeks ago, Dorothy participated in the Fortieth Annual Baby Parade held in Asbury Park and won several prizes, a beautiful loving cup. Her tenth was a "Moon Beam."

Three days later, Saturday, Miss Dolan entered the Helvedere Beach baby contest held in Keansburg and walked away with the lion's share of prizes. She won first prize and Queen's prize. For each she received a cup.

At present the three cups are on display in the show windows of the Central Pharmacy, at the corner of Pershing and Roosevelt avenues.

Walsh Is Commander Of Carteret Post

Local Legionnaires Elect Officers — Win Distinguished Honor At State Convention.

Officers were elected and reports were received from the State convention of the Legion at Atlantic City, at a meeting of Carteret Post No. 263, American Legion, at a meeting of the post Tuesday night in the Borough Hall. The new officers are: Commander, Edward J. Walsh; Jr. vice-commander, Morris Cohen; Sr. vice-commander, Michael Pally; adjutant, John J. Kennedy; finance officer, Clifford Matter; members of the executive committee, Stan Delyak, Harry Gleckner, John Katuki, and Edwin W. Casey.

John J. Kennedy was elected a member of the state committee at Atlantic City, and at a recent election of officers of the county organization, Edward J. Walsh was elected alternate delegate to the national convention in Detroit.

At the state convention in Atlantic City last week, the Carteret Post was awarded the Mathews cup which is awarded each year to the post having to its credit the most outstanding feature of service during the year. The cup was donated by a former state commander named Mathew. In 1928 it was awarded to Harry Snyder Post No. 193, of Cape May. The following year it was awarded to Shoemaker Post No. 159, of Flemington, N. J. Last year it was awarded to Bridgton Post No. 95, of Bridgton.

The Carteret Post was awarded the cup for the notable work done by the local Legionnaires last winter in providing food, clothing, fuel and other necessities for the needy of the borough.

The post winning the Mathew cup each year is considered to have attained a very distinguished honor in the Legion circles. Carteret Post had a ritual team entered in a competition at the state convention. There were two other teams in the contest. Carteret was defeated by less than two points, the actual figure being 1.3. A team representing Camden Post was the winner.

MORE VISITORS TO PADDY'S POND

WHEN Honker the Goose dropped into the pond of Paddy the Beaver deep in the Green Forest on his way to the Sunny Southland other eyes than those of Peter Rabbit saw him. That clear "Honk, honk, k'honk, honk," with which he had shouted to the world below the message that Jack Frost and Rough Brother North Wind were coming had been heard by many ears. It had reached way in to the den of Old Man Coyote up in the Old er and his followers had had time to go to sleep.

Reddy and Granny Fox had heard that message from the sky and they, too, had seen Honker lead the way down into the Green Forest and had guessed just where he had gone. Reddy was for going over there at once, but wise old Granny knew better than to do that.

"You think you know it all," she said sharply, "but you've got a lot to learn yet, Reddy Fox. It isn't every day that we have a chance to get a goose for dinner, and if it were left to you we wouldn't have any chance at all. Honker isn't like those foolish geese in Farmer Brown's yard. Oh, my no! You've got to have all your wits about you when you try to catch Honker. In fact, I don't expect that we are going to catch Honker at all, smart as we are. But I do think we may catch one of the youngsters of whom he is the leader, and that will be much better. Honker is old and tough. Perhaps we can catch two. But whatever you do, Reddy Fox, don't go near the pond of Paddy the Beaver until I tell you it is time. Honker mustn't even suspect that we know that he has come."

Reddy promised to do just as old Granny Fox said, although he was so impatient that he just had to go down on the Green Meadows and hunt for Danny Meadow Mouse so as to keep from thinking of Honker the Goose and his followers. So it was that Honker and the other geese, of whom he was the leader, went to sleep without hearing or seeing a single thing to make them anxious or suspicious. And so it was that in the still small hours of the night when those who sleep at night are usually deepest in dreamland stealthily feet trotted softly through the Green Forest toward the pond of Paddy the Beaver, the feet of Old Man Coyote coming from the Old Pasture, and the feet of Granny and Reddy Fox coming from the Green Meadows.

(By J. G. Lloyd)—WNU Service.

"You Think You Know It All," She Said Sharply.

Pasture and he had hastily thrust his head out to look up in the sky. He had seen Honker turn and lead his followers down, down, and finally disappear in the Green Forest.

Old Man Coyote had licked his chops hungrily and grinned as he watched.

"They are tired and are going to spend the night in the pond of Paddy the Beaver," thought he. Then he yawned and went back to finish his nap and dream pleasant dreams of a fat goose for dinner. You see he knew that it would be of no use to go over to Paddy's pond until after Honk-

for ANY BABY
WE can never be sure just what makes an infant restless, but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation, and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as baby has a fretful spell, is feverish, or cries and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it is a touch of the colic; or constipation. Or dreaded diarrhea—a condition that should be checked without delay. Just keep Castoria handy and give it promptly. Relief will follow very promptly; if it doesn't you should call a physician.

KILLER DISSOLVES BODIES OF VICTIMS IN SULPHURIC ACID

Confession of French Murderer Reveals Series of Fantastic Crimes.

Marseilles.—One of the most fantastic crimes which ever took place in France has been uncovered by the Marseilles police, following extraordinary confession by George Saret, insurance attorney, and two German sisters, Catherine and Philomele Schmidt, who are held here accused of robbing an insurance company of $70,000 by faking the death of one of the Schmidt sisters.

After a dramatic grilling which lasted several days the police learned that the gang had murdered two other people.

Learns of Murders.
M. Cal, Marseilles chief of detectives, questioned the two women separately and obtained some scraps of information which he utilized with such effect when subsequently interrogating Saret that the latter thought he had been denounced and broke down and confessed that in July, 1923, he shot a man who was trying to blackmail him and dissolved his body in sulphuric acid.

Saret admitted that he invited his man to a villa, where Catherine awaited him, and while he was looking out the window Saret shot him in the back. The two women who had robbed an insurance company by faking a death, were horrified at the sight of a real corpse.

Bodies Dissolved.
The killer then told the women that he was going to find the man's wife so he could say that he had slain her husband in self-defense. When the wife arrived, according to the police, Saret shot and killed her. Then, aided by the two sisters, Saret took the bodies to the bathroom and pushed them into the tub, which he filled with sulphuric acid. In three days the bodies were completely destroyed.

According to Professor Balthazar, one of the leading crime specialists of the French Academy of Medicine, it is easily possible to dissolve completely a human body and its clothing in pure sulphuric acid. The physician recalled a similar case which took place about twenty years ago when the police discovered that Henri Pel, a watchmaker, had killed several newborn babies by plunging them in a bath of sulphuric acid. The small bodies were dissolved in a few hours.

Toothless Police Dog Puts Copper to Flight

Evanston, Ill.—A police dog who couldn't recognize a policeman afforded residents of Evanston the spectacle of one of the town's special officers in undignified flight.

Iven J. Rubin, court clerk and policeman, has as a result threatened jail for any one who reminds him of the episode, and the pet of the children along Railroad avenue is languishing in the pound because of his falling sight.

A threatening move from Rubin brought the police dog after him. Pursuit continued for several blocks. Harry Rubin, seeing his brother's plight, overtook and tackled the animal. As the dog's jaws closed over his arm, Rubin yelled, while neighbors shouted with laughter.

The dangerous police dog, long ago due for the pension list, is toothless and has been for years.

Half-Starved Monkey Quelled by Policemen

New York.—A small, brown, half-starved monkey with a "Two-Gun" Crowley complex was captured after a two-hour siege by firemen, police and civilians.

The starving simian had gone on a foraging expedition through apartments in a five-story tenement house on First avenue, to the consternation of housewives.

Flooded with phone calls, police dispatched the emergency squad. After striving nearly a half-hour to dislodge the monkey, police put in a call for firemen, and more than 1,000 persons were attracted to the scene.

The animal finally was taken by Joseph Gatto, a fearless bystander armed with a banana.

Tarpon Jumps Into Boat; Smacks Angler

San Benito.—Tarpon fishing held unexpected thrills recently for four San Benito men when a giant silver king leaped into their boat and gave one of the fishermen a resounding whack on the back of the neck.

While making a strike the fish leaped over the shoulder of one man, seated on the deck in a camp chair, and struck another in the middle of the boat. The impact threw the tarpon onto the boatside, where it flopped back into the water, the surprised witnesses state.

N. J. Davis, F. E. Burger, E. R. Temple and F. Rhotas were fishing near Brazos Santiago pass when the tarpon, estimated to be about five feet in length, leaped overboard.

GHOST OF MOTOR VICTIM BEGS RIDE

Spook Causes Kentuckians to Watch Their Step.

Cincinnati.—The maid of the Licking has taken her place in ghostly legend alongside the headless horseman, Marley and the Flying Dutchman.

Her story has residents of northern Kentucky walking warily in the late hours of the night, particularly when they cross the dimly lighted bridge across the Licking river from Covington to Newport.

Harry Stellar, a Bellevue (Ky.) youth, is the latest to give the maid a ride to her former home.

According to Stellar's story, he encountered the beautiful girl as he reached the bridge. She seemed to have appeared out of the mists that rose from the river.

"I've lost my pocketbook," she told him, "and can't get home." She said her name was Virginia Smith, but talked little during the moonlight trip.

When he was nearing the house to which she directed him the girl suddenly vanished. The youth heard no noise, no movement, but his companion disappeared while the automobile was still in motion.

Stellar then went to the house and rang the bell. An elderly man answered.

"Does Virginia Smith live here?" the youth asked.

"It's all right," the man replied when he had told his strange tale. "I'm her father. Nine year now it has happened on the day my girl was killed in an auto accident. Each year some one brings her home like this and then she vanishes."

Burglar Snatches One Kiss and Then Departs

Vancouver, B. C.—When a "difficulty" arose to foil his holdup attempt, a well-dressed young bandit took the "difficulty" in hand, planted a kiss squarely on her lips and bowed gracefully out of the door.

The "difficulty" was pretty Miss M. Hagglund. She was awakened when a burglar entered the bedroom she shared with her mother, Mrs. E. Hagglund, and Miss J. Harvey.

Refusing to tell him where she kept her purse, Miss Hagglund rose from bed, flung open the door and ordered the intruder to leave.

After hesitating a moment, the man walked to the door, and as he passed Miss Hagglund he grasped her firmly in his arms and kissed her.

Sheriff Puzzled Over Theft of Oil Pipe Line

Redwood City.—Sheriff J. J. McGrath is wondering who and, more particularly, how, and also when, some one stole 2,000 feet of pipe from the Mid-State Oil company premises here.

Sections of the pipe line were discovered in a San Francisco Iron works, but the company insisted that it had purchased the pipe from a man named C. Vincent, who had posed as an official of the oil company.

Charles White, manager of the concern, denied that there was any such person connected with the company.

Burglar's Lost Shoe Leads to His Capture

St. Louis, Mo.—When a burglar lost his shoe in a home he was robbing police faced the same task as the prince in the tale of Cinderella.

Armed with the burglar's shoe, the officers broadcast an alarm. A few minutes later police arrested a man who was strolling down an avenue with only one shoe. They tried the shoe on. It fit.

St. Louis, Mo.—Police recently saw two men rolling a barrel up a busy street here.

"Sauerkraut is in it," the other said.

Suspicious then, police broke the barrel open. It contained mustard. The two were arrested on theft charges.

NUTTY NATURAL HISTORY

THE BIAMESE DINGLEWOP

In the early spring these animals are covered with long brilliant stripes which by summer are worn off by porcupines and wild pineapples. They eat ham and eggs and jellyroll, and if hungry will eat both hard tack and soft tack. The female dinglewop is quiet ferocious and will attack anything from a Burmese Jew to a white elephant.

You guessed it. Its head is nothing but an old English walnut and a double peanut for a body. Chewing gum sticks on the toothpick neck, and its toothpick legs have raisin feet. Stripes and eyes are pen and ink or paint or any old thing.

State Legion Ready For Detroit Trip

Provision Made For Transportation To Scene Of National Convention — Special Train On Lackawana R. R.

Trenton, Sept. 18 — State headquarters of The American Legion today announced completion of arrangements for the transportation of the New Jersey Legionnaires going to Detroit, Michigan, on the Legion special train, to participate in and witness the National Convention of The American Legion.

The Jersey Legion special train will leave from the Lackawana station at Hoboken, Sunday night at six o'clock, stopping at Newark, Morristown and Dover, arriving at Detroit 8:30 a. m., Monday morning.

Approximately 200 members and their wives will travel on the special train. Included in the group are the East Orange and Morristown Drum Corps of the Legion, and the Auxiliary Drum Corps from Hudson County. The East Orange Drum Corps, champions of the state this year, will participate in the national competition and parade. The other corps will participate in the convention parade only.

From reports received at headquarters, it is estimated fifteen hundred Jersey members will be in attendance at the National Convention. Many will travel by auto and regular trains.

The New Jersey crowd will wear the official national convention uniform of the state, consisting of a green blazer jacket with gilt buttons and gold trimming and a green beret with a yellow sash embroidered on top. On the jacket will be worn a large calloid badge in the shape and color of an apple with space in the center for a card bearing the name of the wearer. The beret and jacket carry the name of the state in gold letters.

The New Jersey headquarters will be established at the Tuller Hotel, in charge of State Adjutant Roland F. Cowan. Headquarters will open Saturday morning.

ECONOMICAL DISHES

AS MOST of the housekeepers the world over must economize, they are always looking for recipes that are good without being too expensive of time and material.

Economy Spice Cake.
Sift two cupfuls of bread flour with two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and five teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Beat one cupful of sugar with one and one-half cupfuls of water, one-fourth cupful of cooking oil, one teaspoonful each of cinnamon, nutmeg, and salt and one cupful of raisins together, two minutes. Cool and add the flour and when well blended, pour into a floured pan to bake in a moderate oven for 45 minutes. Cover while hot with the following topping: the juice of one orange, a little of the rind if desired and one-fourth cupful of sugar well mixed. This mixture soaks in the cake leaving a light glazing top and adds greatly to the flavor of the cake. This may be used with any plain cake.

Apple Sauce Cake.
Mix and sift two cupfuls of flour with one teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of cinnamon and one-fourth teaspoonful of cloves. Slice one-half package of dates and mix the dry ingredients with a fork. Cream one-half cupful of shortening, add one cupful of sugar gradually with one beaten egg. Add the dry ingredients alternately with one cupful of hot strained apple sauce. Season with one-half teaspoonful of salt, mix well and bake in a shallow pan 40 minutes.

Corned Beef Hash.
Take two cupfuls of cooked corned beef, two cupfuls of cooked potatoes, all chopped, two onions chopped, salt and pepper to season, one-half cupful of milk and two tablespoonfuls of vegetable oil. Bake in a well oiled pan in a hot oven for 20 minutes, or cook in a well oiled frying pan until brown on the bottom, then fold like an omelet.

Quick Pie Crust.
Sift two cupfuls of flour, add one teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of baking powder; add one-half cupful of vegetable oil, stir in with a fork lightly, then add four tablespoonfuls of water, very cold, turn out on a floured board and roll out half at a time.

Tank House Threatens Yard To Championship In Second Half

Victory Over Yard Enables Tank House To Cut Leader's Advantage To Only One Half Game — Tank House Must Win Two Games To Cop Flag In Factory League.

The Yard tossers today were still in possession of first place in the U. S. Metals baseball league, but their margin over second-place Tank House team has been reduced to a scant game. This was brought about yesterday when the Tank House defeated the leaders by a 5-0 score, once again becoming a leading contender for the second-half championship.

The Yard's how things line up: The Tank House has two. If the Yard wins its game, the worse it can be of is a tie. That is, probably the Tank House emerges victor in both its games. If the Yard wins to lose, the Tank House has two games to cop the flag.

ADIOS, JIMMY

The Late James Gleason

At the Woodbridge board speedway, Sunday afternoon, touching tribute was paid to the late Jimmy Gleason, Philadelphia racing driver who was killed during the time trials at the Syracuse fair last Saturday afternoon. Harry Riggs, of Norfolk, Va., announcing the events of the afternoon, asked the fans to stand for a moment or two in silence as a tribute to the driver who was so well liked here as well as on numerous speedways throughout the country.

Winn, Karnatz, Theisen Thrill Speedway Fans In Bitter Duels; Karnatz Crashes In Final Race

Blond Atlantan and Speedy Detroitier Clean Up In Close Competition — Theisen, A Newcomer, Runs Smack Into Popularity With Daring Driving — Karnatz Crashes Into Rail In Australian Pursuit Race After Four Are Eliminated—Parachute Jump, Motorcycle Stunting, Singing and Music Please Crowd.

Automobile racing, a parachute jump, aeroplane acrobatics, motorcycle stunting, a yodeling cowboy and an orchestra gave several thousand fans at the Woodbridge board speedway one of the most varied programs of entertainment ever presented at the saucer, Sunday afternoon. Seven racing events, each one a corker, kept the crowd in a noisy uproar which became subdued only when the possibility of a tragic occurrence struck awe into the hearts of the spectators — and that happened often.

Billy Winn, courageous Atlantan, piloting the Katz owned Dusenbergs, formerly driven by Larry Beals, and Burt Karnatz, of Detroit, driving Jimmy Cottrell's Solder Seal Miller, were, no doubt, the outstanding performers of the afternoon. Winn was a bit luckier than Karnatz, and enjoyed a more profitable afternoon, but the Detroitier won himself a place in the hearts of the fans with his fine sportsmanship and his clever driving.

Two Heat Feature

The feature race of the afternoon, a twenty mile, forty lap affair, was to be run on Harold Larzelere's track, Sunday afternoon. Winn and Karnatz were the main contenders.

Harold Larzelere won the second ten lap heat in 3:53 flat after losing the pole to Insinger going into the first turn. He regained the lead on the far straightaway and was not headed after that. Mackenzie, Buechler and Denver were the other entrants.

The third decade grind was the most thrilling. Herman Venth, dubbed "Poppy" by the announcer, came up from fourth position to win the grind after a great duel with Bill Buechler who started in second position. Venth's time was 4:00 3/4.

Mackenzie drew the pole but lost the lead to Buechler after a few laps had been run. Venth "took" Denver and then began to battle Buechler for the lead. The Perth Amboy pilot was daring and stubborn with the result that Venth had a tough job on his hands. The New Yorker took the lead on the last lap, getting the checkered banner a short distance ahead of Buechler. Mackenzie was third. Denver, Decker, Wohlfiel, Cyr, Moretti, Patterson and Wright were in the field.

Consolation "Hot"

The twenty lap consolation race was one of the most interesting of the afternoon. It was won by Bill Denver who regained the lead on the sixteenth lap. His time was 8:10 1/2.

The Second Heat

Karnatz made a herculean effort to win the second heat of the feature race, but he crossed the finish line with the nose of his car a scant few inches from the tail of Billy Winn's "Dusey." Winn's time for the additional ten laps was 3:56 flat. The winner's time for the entire distance was 15:58 3/4.

The duel between Karnatz and Winn was a corker. While Karnatz was unable to pass Winn, he rode so close to the Atlantan's chief that a crash seemed imminent at any moment. They rounded turns together, slid together, and battled furiously for leads that amounted to a few feet or less. There were no mishaps in the second heat.

Australian Pursuit

The Australian pursuit race, an extra added attraction, ended abruptly after the field had narrowed down to Winn and Karnatz. This race was open to the six fastest cars running.

Winn, Karnatz, Theisen, Insinger, Mackenzie and Buechler were started at various points on the track. As soon as a driver was passed he was automatically eliminated, the race to run until only one car remained.

Mackenzie had hardly started on the far straightaway when Winn whizzed by, eliminating him. Theisen was next to go, followed by Buechler and Insinger. The crowd settled down to watch Winn and Karnatz play what appeared to be a long game at tag.

Just two laps after they had the track to themselves, a dangerous off-stretch of boards, Karnatz let control of his Miller in the hands of the driver, who was not to be seen again.

Win First Game Of Series — Three Run Rally In Seventh Decides Issue.

The St. Joseph's baseball tossers drew first blood in their annual series with the Sacred Heart by defeating them, 8 to 6, at the high school field Sunday afternoon. A three run rally in the last half of the eighth round enabled St. Joe's to come from behind and win.

The game was filled with poor playing. Errors were plentiful. The Sacred Hearts committed eight miscues in the field, some of which resulted in runs. Their opponents were guilty of four errors.

The Hearts got off to a flying start, scoring three times in the first inning. Mayorek, leadoff man, walked. The next two batters went out. Mike Poll drew a base on balls. Roman nailed a single, scoring Mayorek and sending Poll to third. On the first pitch which D'zurilla let go by Roman stole second. Then Johnny poked a double into deep center, scoring two more tallies.

St. Joseph's got one back in their half of the round and took the lead in the second by scoring three runs on one hit. Galvanek's generosity in muffing three balls that came his way were responsible for this rally.

Then after two scoreless frames the Hearts went on a batting rampage in the fourth that gave them three runs and enabled them to regain the lead. The score at this point was 4-1.

An error by Galvanek and a single by Emil Mudrak enabled the High Street team to close in on the Hearts, 6-5. And in the next inning, on the eighth, the St. Joe's won the game by scoring three runs.

Although each team made eight hits, Dick Donovan, winning pitcher had the edge over his opponent simply because he was more effective. Donovan experienced only two bad innings, while Frank Poll was hit freely all the way.

Hitting honors for the day went to Walt Woodhull, St. Joseph's left fielder, who made three hits, including a triple.

Stauback To Lead Team Against Amboy

First Of Five Game Series To Be Played A Week From Sunday, Sept. 27 — Sabo, D'zurilla In Carteret Lineup.

After a few weeks of dickering, Henry Stauback finally got what he wanted last night and is ready to lead his Carteret Field into the City Stadium in Perth Amboy a week from Sunday afternoon, September 27, for the first of a five-game series with the Amboy A. A.

The second game will be played the following Sunday, and the series will be continued every Sunday thereafter right up to October 25.

All this brings back to mind memories of old when Carteret and Amboy used to fight it out on the diamond with such stars as Waite Hoyt, Rube Walberg, Bing Miller, Meade Shaas, Jimmy Dykes, all of the Philadelphia Athletics, world champions, in the game. Along with these were many other big league stars who were famous in their day. The list is too long to mention.

This year Stauback intends to impart a number of major league stars if he has the support of the fans. Right now he has in mind Fitzsimmons, of the New York Giants.

"Whether or not I have many big leaguers," says Stauback, "depends on how the fans respond for the first game."

For the first game there will be no major leaguers, as the big league season will not be over by then. But Carteret fans will be given a bigger treat for they will get a chance to see two of their own, Ernie Sabo and Mickey D'zurilla, in action. Ernie recently came back from Wilkes-Barre in the New York-Penn League where he enjoyed a good year.

The rest of the lineup will be made up of stars including Kiggle Coplan, Hebrew cigar merchant from Elizabeth, Blackie Regan, Sam Smolenski, Jess Sullivan, Al Stutzke, Howie Krausche, and Posnack, of Elizabeth. No one in this list needs an introduction. All are big favorites with Carteret's baseball fraternity.

Amboy also will be reinforced. Garrett, of Rutgers, will do the pitching. Assisting him will be an all star outfit.

For the second game, Amboy may have Waite Hoyt and Billy Urbaniski.

Defeat Sends Liberty Falcons Into Tie With Pastry Boys For Second Place — Two Teams To Battle Tonight To Determine Second Place — Mike Karmon Stars For Boys Club In Victory Over Falcons.

Two games were played since last Friday. The Pastry Boys won one, and the Boys Club took the other. Last Friday, the Pastry plastered the FoFesters by a 13 to 4 score. And on Wednesday evening the Boys Club won from the Falcons, 4 to 2. That's all.

Pastry Boys 13—Foresters 4. Boys Club 4—Falcons 2.

A three run outburst in the fourth helped the Boys Club defeat the Liberty Falcons, 4 to 2, at the high school field Wednesday evening and at the same time gave them the second half championship of the Twilight League. The game went four and a half innings, darkness ending it in the last half of the fifth.

Although Mike Karmon pitched a whale of a game, permitting only one hit, he was wild as a hawk and his generosity got him into trouble more than once. Karmon walked three and hit three others. Twice the Falcons filled the bags, but both times Karmon came through before much damage was done.

Mickey Dapolito hurled for the Falcons and except for the fourth inning in which the Boys Club, through no fault of his, scored three times on only one hit, he turned in a neat performance, giving but five hits.

By winning, Karmon posted his eleventh victory, this season's fourth of this half. He hasn't lost a game all season.

In the first inning Karmon got into hot water by hitting two batters after one was out and then walking another to fill the bases. Dapolito came to bat and hit to the second baseman who, realizing that he couldn't catch the runner going home, made the putout at first instead. Beisel sturked out for the third out.

Casey led off for the Boys Club with a single and things for the moment looked bright. But Dapolito put on steam and retired the side in quick order, thus leaving Casey stranded on first. In the first half of the second inning the Falcons went out in one-two-three order.

But the Boys Club took their time about getting out and by scoring a run in their half of the round tied the score at 1-1. Hart and Szlag singled and Galvanek bunted, scoring Hart.

The Falcons broke in the tie and took the lead in the third. And the Boys Club, not to be outdone, came back in the next frame to score three runs which enabled them to come from behind and tuck the game away in their vest pockets.

Eagles' Two Run Rally Tops Royals

Come From Behind With Two Run Spurt In Eight To Win From Amboy Nine, 7-5.

With the score locked the Eagles scored two runs in the last half of the eighth inning to defeat the Royal 7 to 5, at the high school field Sunday afternoon. The score was 7 to 5, the Eagles winning by a two-run margin.

Although they outthrew their rivals, by nearly three to one, the Eagles, wasted many of their blows and thus had a tough time in winning. The Eagles hammered out fourteen hits, while their opponents gathered only five off Roll who turned in a neat performance, despite the fact that he was exceedingly wild and walked six men.

Each team scored one in the first frame. The Royals, aided by three bases on balls in the second, added three more runs and enabled them to take the lead 4 to 1.

And the score remained that way until the Eagles got industrious and manufactured three runs to lock the score in the fourth. Three sessions later, the seventh, the Eagles gained the lead for the first time by pushing a run across the plate.

Their advantage was short-lived, however, as the visitors came back in the first half of the next inning to knot the score. And then the Eagles won the game with a two-run spurt in the eighth.

Leo Hart was by far the big noise in the Eagle attack. All alone, he gathered four hits for a perfect day at bat. Two of his blows were doubles. Aside from this, he drove in four runs to walk away with the lion's share of honors.

Season's "Dead" Ball Angle

By HARDIN BURNLEY

Even before this season's batting statistics are complete, fan discussion is warming up over the effect of the so-called new ball used this year for the first time. In order to curb too free hitting, both the National and American leagues took action last winter. Although the manufacturers denied, and still deny, that the regulation baseball was ever "livened up," the home-run epidemic for about ten seasons was such that the magnates decided to give the pitchers "a break." So the American League used outside stitching on the ball and the National not only did the same but it increased the ball's weight slightly.

With what results? Well, as the season is entering its final month, there is an average difference of nearly 30 points in hitting figures between the twenty leading batters in both the big leagues, the heavier swatting being done by the American sluggers.

Does that mean that National League pitching thus far in 1931 has been better than that of the rival circuit? Hardly. Indeed, most critics believe the contrary is true. But many of them do think that the National League ball helps a skilled pitcher more than does the American League pellet.

Though the difference in weight is a scant fraction of an ounce, the slightly heavier National ball may account largely for less heavy hitting in the senior circuit. The amateur and other mathematicians of baseball should have a great time arguing that point throughout the entire winter league sessions of 1931-32.

"If You're Ever Ruined By the Horses, Remember, I Warned You, Kid."

YOU KNOW ME, AL

Dear Al, Well, you would have knocked me over with a five bar truck when Edna showed up at the camp the other day with Hazel Black who is the girl I always figured Kid Dugan is stuck on, and I don't believe she exactly hates the Kid. The Mrs. says, "Well, I see you're going to fight as a certain prize," and I came right back at her with "Yes, what of it?" "Well," she says, "I hope you ain't going to fight under your own name and disgrace me." I told her I guessed she was disgraced enough already being married to me and she didn't give me no argument on that, although she generally contradicts everything I say. But I bet she won't waste no time declaring herself in on the dough after I get paid off. Edna is smart that way. We've decided I'll fight under the name of Rube Simpson. Then it will be just my luck to win, and he'll get all the credit. Yours as usual, Jack Keefe.

THE GONE COON

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

Capt. Martin Scott, who was born on a farm in Vermont, something over one hundred years ago, enjoyed a rather unusual reputation as a marksman. It is said that his fame was so considerable throughout the state of Vermont that even the animals were aware of it.

He went out one morning, so the story goes, with his rifle, and, seeing a raccoon on the branches of a high tree, he brought his gun up to his shoulder. The coon raised his paw as a sign of truce.

"I beg your pardon, mister," said the raccoon politely; "but may I ask if your name is Scott?" "Yes," replied the captain. "Martin Scott?" still continued the animal. "Yes," replied the captain. "Captain Martin Scott?" "Yes." "Oh, then," says the animal, "I may just as well come down, for I'm a gone coon!"

I have been acquainted with Morton for forty years or more. He is a most enthusiastic hunter of all sorts of financial and business coons.

He was telling me just the other day of an enterprise which he has under way which is going to make him a small fortune. He is raising peaches in Michigan or figs in Texas or pecans in Florida, or something of the sort, and is on the verge of a great financial clean-up. I heard him tell the same story ten years ago, I believe at that time, about tobacco in Tennessee.

Gore is a young fellow under thirty, I should guess, but he is a sure marksman. He tackled all sorts of difficult jobs in college for the work of which he was not particularly well prepared. No matter what college course he undertook to carry, it was a gone coon when he fired at it. He proved his ability to do well any subject which he pursued. When he had graduated he tackled an examination for a professional appointment which all his friends told him he was foolish to at-

The Old Gardener Says:

THE autumn flowering crocuses, which are very much like the spring crocuses but bloom late in the year, come into flower only a few weeks after they have been planted. They are choice subjects for the rock garden but may be scattered through the border, too. These autumn flowering crocuses are often confused with other autumn flowering bulbs called colchicums but the latter have very much larger leaves, and for that reason are not as well suited for the rock garden because the heavy foliage interferes with more delicate rock plants. Colchicums, however, are very handsome in the border.

Last Words

Last words of dying persons are like the mutterings in a delirium. Why then are they so treasured? asks Dr. J. Shelton Horsley in an article in Hygeia Magazine. The melodramatic picture of relatives hovering over a deathbed is based on the wrong conception. Last words are of no value when they come from a mind bewildered by approaching death. It is better to remember the words spoken while the person was in a healthy mental and physical state.

Our Petulance, Too

Not that professional athletes and criminals have anything in common, but it's a curious fact that we lavish most of our pet names on these two classes.—San Bernardino Sun.

Summing It Up

It is a good thing to be rich and a good thing to be strong, but it is a better thing to be loved by many friends.

tempt. He was too young, they said, too inexperienced, but he proved otherwise, and did himself credit. Young as he is he is now holding an executive position which few men of his age would attempt, but his aim is sure; through hard work he gets what he goes after. When he points his gun up the tree the coon might just as well say, "I will come down, for I know I am a gone coon."

Black and Blue Marks For Players

Marie Dressler and Polly Moran Take Punches and Falls to Get Laughs in "Politics."

It looks funny on the screen but it's often just a "pain" to the players.

In "Politics," which will open at the R. K. O. Rahway Theatre, Friday and Saturday, September 18, 19, both Polly Moran and Marie Dressler took a lot of "punishment" during the process of creating laugh episodes. The comic Miss Moran is on the receiving end of many of the laugh incidents of a riotous episode at the opening of the picture in which she and Miss Dressler pursue a canary who has escaped from his cage.

In trying to capture the bird, she falls over all sorts of objects. When the canary flies underneath a bed, pops a receipt down her, thinking she has caught the canary as it flew out from the other side—in the end she has caught Miss Moran's head. Finally, in trying to lure the bird from a fireplace chimney, Miss Moran gets a face full of soot. Later in the story, however, she has an opportunity at the active side of the fun when she gives the double-crossing mayor a swift kick in the seat of his pants!

Roscoe Ates, who plays Miss Moran's husband, also shares in the "black and blue" marks, an uproarious scene being that in which he attempts to bring a trunk down from an attic and eventually finds himself at the bottom of the stairs with the trunk on top of him.

In "Politics," Miss Dressler is seen as a candidate for the mayorship of a small American city. Miss Moran helps her to get the votes. The cast also includes Karen Morley, William Bakewell, John Miljan, Joan Marsh, Tom McGuire, Kane Richmond and Mary Alden.

Charles F. Reisner, who filmed the previous Dressler-Moran comedy hits, again directed.

Mohair Highly Thought Of
Mohair was once the prized cloth of kings. Solomon used it for royal robes and for the veils of the Temple.

Dorothy Mackaill and Conrad Nagel give outstanding characterizations in "The Reckless Hour." This picture will be shown at the Rahway theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, September 23 and 24.

Sally Eilers is the charming heroine co-featured with George O'Brien in a "Holy Terror" at the Rahway Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, September 23 and 24 with Dorothy Mackaill in "The Reckless Hour."

"Politics" Holds Boards At Rahway

Polly Moran and Marie Dressler In Their Funniest At Rahway Playhouse Tonight, Tomorrow.

Marie Dressler and Polly Moran in their biggest laugh hit "Politics" is the attraction selected to hold the boards at the R. K. O. Rahway theatre today and tomorrow. For clean wholesome fun, no pair is funnier than these queens of comedy in "Politics."

Sunday, September 20, brings another excellent double feature program—R. K. O. Radio's withering drama, ablaze with three great stars—"Transgression," with Kay Francis, Ricardo Cortez and Paul Cavanagh. On the same program Lawrence Tibbett, in his first modern musical story, "The Prodigal," with Esther Ralston, Roland Young, Cliff Edwards and Emma Dunn, will be presented.

Monday and Tuesday, September 21, 22, Ruth Chatterton in "The Magnificent Lie" with Ralph Bellamy and Stuart Erwin, will be featured. The story of a strange deception... of a girl of doubtful virtue... hungry for love, of a masquerade, starting with a gay wager that becomes tragically realistic. Based on the novel "Laurels and the Lady."

Wednesday and Thursday, September 23, 24, another double feature program—Dorothy Mackaill in the "Reckless Hour," with Conrad Nagel, H. B. Warner and Joan Blondell. A stirring drama of a lovely model who despised all men because of one, opens the program. On the same bill, George O'Brien and Sally Eilers in "A Holy Terror" with Rita La Roy, and James Kirkwood, will be shown. Romance of the great outdoors, thrills in airplane, action on a polo field together with mystery and plenty of laughs. A relief for those who are tired of gangster pictures and sophisticated dramas!

Friday and Saturday, September 25, 26, brings to the screen of the R. K. O. Rahway, screen land's best comedy trio re-united—Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey and Dorothy Lee in "Caught Plastered." When each of these stars came into their own, and rose to stardom in their own right, so great were the requests from film fans throughout the country to have them re-united, R. K. O. Radio pictures have consented to comply with that request and "Caught Plastered," brings the return to the screen of this trio of fun makers.

Sunday, September 27th, Eddie Dowling in "Honey Moon Lane," and Ramon Novarro in "Son of India," two big features on one program, will be shown.

English Expression

The expression "So long" is an English provincialism which was introduced into the United States. J. Redding Ware in his "Passing of the English of the Victorian Era" speaks of the custom in England of adopting the words of foreigners resident there and Anglicizing them, and mentions as an instance the expression "So long," which he believes originated in the Whitechapel district of London, being a corruption of the Jewish "selah," a phrase which spread all over England.

LOOKING FOR THE TOWN

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

He had motored from Kansas or Arizona or some place beyond the Mississippi and was eager to see for the first time the beauties of New England. Perhaps, he was one of those countless thousands, or millions possibly it has grown to be by this time, whose ancestors came over in the Mayflower and he was looking up the places where they first settled. It was at Provincetown where he ran onto me out by the breakwater at the far end of the cape. He had come via Boston and had traversed the whole length of the narrow wobbling street along which the village is scattered. "I wonder if you could help me out," he inquired.

"Possibly, but not likely," I had modestly to admit.

"I'm looking for the town," he explained.

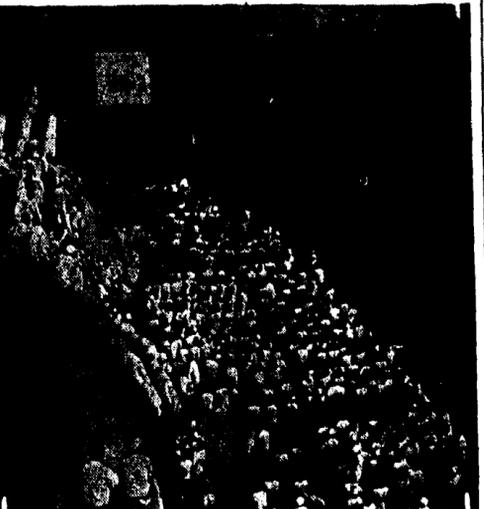

He had been from one end of Provincetown to the other, but he hadn't seen it. The old village, touched by his imagination, was something very different from actuality. He had missed it all as he was driving along.

There are many of us who miss the town in other ways than did the Kansan when in reality it is all about us. I can, in a vague way, now realize how much of the beauty of the prairie I missed as a boy even when I was looking for beauty. I can see the knolls in spring now as I did not visualize them then, blue with violets and the lowlands in August brilliant with wild phlox. There were lilacs—thousands of them—and goldenrods and yellow sunflowers, "rosin weeds" we called them, from the resinous gum which the sun melted out of their stems. I didn't see them, as I can well realize now, that while I was longing to see the beautiful things of the world here was a sight before me that I would travel many miles to see again. The town was about me, and I was looking for it.

Friendship and love and beauty—opportunity and happiness—how many of us pass along beside these things and miss them like the man in the midst of houses and yet looking for the town.

Mr. Baker announces the following changes in the personnel of the hotel:

Dates For Play-Off Series In Twilight League Announced

Dates for a play-off series, if one should happen to be necessary, between the winner of the first half and the winner of the second half, were named at a meeting of the Carteret Twilight baseball team in Rockman's annex Tuesday evening.

If the Liberty Falcons should win the second half, they will play the Boys Club, first half winners, in the first of a three game series at the high school field this Sunday afternoon. The second game will be played the following Sunday, and the third, if necessary, will be played the Sunday after that, or October 4.

If, however, the Boys Club captures the second half, then there will be no play-off as they will be the winners in both halves.
