General Statements.

SCOPE OF THE UNIVERSITY.

The University includes a Preparatory School, an Academic School (with prescribed courses for the degrees of Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy), an Engineering School, a Law School, and a Theological School. All these are thoroughly equipped and provided with ample means of instruction.

BOARDING.

Students are received into the best families of the town, and are thus brought under the moral influences of good society.

SUGGESTIONS TO OUR PATRONS.

If possible, every student should enter the institution on the first day of each term, and should remain to the close. No student gets the full benefit of our courses of instruction if he loses any portion of them. Minors should be directed in the selection of their boarding-houses and courses of study, and should never be allowed to open accounts in the stores.

Inasmuch as some of our friends have both sons and daughters to be educated, and might wish to have them in the same town for their mutual comfort and protection, special attention is here called to the fact that a superb female school, manned in part by college professors, though in no way connected with the University, is in operation here. Those desiring to see the catalogue of this school can address Prof. B. S. Foster, principal, Lebanon, Tennessee.

MATRICULATION.

No student will be allowed to recite before matriculating. As soon as the term has opened, and the student has selected his course of study, he will report to the University Treasurer, who will receive his fee and furnish him a receipt bearing the seal of the University. This he is to show to the professors to whom he may recite.

LECTURES.

Public evening lectures on literary and scientific subjects are delivered from time to time, at Caruthers Hall, by members of the University Faculty.

LIBRARY AND READING-ROOM.

The University Library contains nearly twelve thousand volumes. It is open on certain days, and is free to all students.

CABINET OF MINERALS AND FOSSILS.

This includes many fine specimens, and additions are constantly being made. The friends of the University will confer a great favor by sending to the Professor of Natural Science any thing of this kind that they can secure.

PHILOSOPHICAL AND CHEMICAL APPARATUS.

This is amply sufficient for the full illustration of the course. A number of instruments of precision have been added during the past year.

CHURCHES, ETC.

Lebanon is well supplied with churches and Sunday-schools, and all suitable means are used to induce students to attend them regularly.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

There is a live College Association, and it is a means of great good to the students of all departments of the University.

SOCIETIES.

Connected with the University are three literary societies:

THE AMASAGASSEAN SOCIETY.—This society was organized in 1837, at Cumberland College, Princeton, Ky. In 1842 it was transferred, with the College, to Lebanon. Motto: "Nos Palma Manet."

The Heurethelian Soceity.—This society was organized in 1854. Motto: Γνῶθε τόν Θεόν. Γνῶθε σεαυτόν.

These societies all have commodious and well-furnished halls, and hold their meetings every Saturday evening during the scholastic year. They also give public exhibitions from time to time in Caruthers Hall.

COLLEGE CODE.

The laws of the University are all embraced in the motto: "Semper præsens, semper paratus."

THE ASSEMBLY'S AGENT.

Rev. J. S. Grider is the Agent appointed by the General Assembly for the endowment of the University. He is now actively engaged in securing endowment for the Theological School. If the Church will rally to the support of the University it will in a few years be placed beyond embarrassment.

HISTORICAL NOTE.

CUMBERLAND COLLEGE was established at Princeton, Ky., in 1827. It continued in operation, under the patronage of the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, until 1842. In consequence of a debt which it had incurred, and which was seriously impeding its progress, the General Assembly resolved to withdraw its patronage and give it to Cumberland University, which was located at Lebanon, Tenn., and was opened in September, 1842. Its Faculty for that year was: F. R. Cossitt, D.D., President; the Rev. C. G. McPherson, Professor of Mathematics, and the Rev. T. C. Anderson (afterward D.D.), Professor of Languages. Dr. Anderson, however, did not enter upon his duties until September, 1843; and at that time N. Lawrence Lindsley was added to the Faculty. The University was chartered in 1844. The school grew in favor and was unusually prosperous until the war caused it to suspend. After the war this department was re-organized, and its facilities have been increased from year to year. Many illustrious names are found among its alumni. The method of instruction is daily examination, drill, and lecture, all combined, and thus the greatest thoroughness is attained. The course of study is very comprehensive, and the text-books used are of the highest grade.

ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be prepared for examination in the following text-books and subjects, or their equivalents:

Latin Grammar (Andrews and Stoddard, Harkness, or Allen and Greenough), Cæsar (three books), Virgil's Æneid, Greek Grammar (Crosby, Hadley, or Goodwin), Greek Lessons (Crosby), Xenophon's Anabasis, Ancient Geography, Arithmetic, Elementary Algebra, Elementary Geometry, English Grammar, Modern Geography.

Candidates for admission to either of the higher classes must be prepared for examination upon the course of study for all the lower classes.

Students leaving before the end of any term will be required to stand an examination upon the portion of the course which they have missed before they can enter their class again.

DEGREES.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts (A.B.) is conferred upon students who have completed the course of study as given in the schedule of required studies on page 28.

The degree of Bachelor of Science (B.S.) is conferred upon students who complete the course of study as given in the same schedule.

HISTORICAL NOTES.

THE Theological School of the University was founded in 1853. During the first twenty-five years of its existence Dr. Beard was the Principal, and during much of the time the only instructor. He did a good work for the Church—a work which can not be valued too highly. Hundreds of young men preparing for the ministry received their education, in part or entirely, from him. In 1877 the school was re-organized. The Faculty was increased by the addition of two regular professors and two lecturers. The course of study was at the same time extended so as to include two years instead of one, as heretofore. In 1880 Dr. Beard died. Dr. Burney was then transferred to the chair of Systematic Theology. Professor Kirkpatrick was called to give instruction in the branches heretofore in the hands of Dr. Burney. The number of students in the school has been steadily increasing since the re-organization, and we are encouraged to believe that there is a useful and bright future before it.

Some topics in the course are treated chiefly in the lectures of the Professors. Suitable reference works are recommended from time to time, and it is sought to teach the students how to study and investigate for themselves. Besides the general library near by, there is a small select reference library in one of the lecture-rooms.

A short devotional service is held by faculty and students every morning at 8.20 o'clock. Practical homiletical exercises every Friday. The course and schedule are so arranged that each student is required to attend eighteen lectures and recitations per week.

Each student is frequently and closely catechised, and his exact grade is known to the Faculty and his fellow-students. While high attainment in sacred learning is, as a rule, earnestly recommended, it is also at the same time the earnest endeavor of this institution to furnish the Church with a practical, spiritually-minded, and efficient ministry.

DEPARTMENT OF INSTRUCTION.

The following more explicit statements will convey a clearer idea as to what is actually taught in the Theological School:

I.—EXEGETICAL THEOLOGY.

Under this head the origin, authorship, language, history, character, exposition, and doctrines of the Sacred Scriptures are studied. It includes: 1. General and Special Introduction, under which are placed Sacred Philology, Isagogics, Canonics, Sacred Criticism, and Hermeneutics. 2. Practical exercises in Exegesis, founded on the rules and principles established by Hermeneutics. In these exercises the student is required to study the grammatical, logical, rhetorical, and historical peculiarities of the passages assigned, and to observe in every case, so far as practicable, the rule that Scripture is the best interpreter of Scripture. 3. Biblical Theology, or the doctrines of the Old and New Testaments, studied according to their progressive development, and the various forms under which they appear. It includes Messianic Prophecy, or Christ in the Old Testament both in its narrow and broader senses.

II.—HISTORICAL THEOLOGY.

Under this head are included; 1. Biblical Antiquities, or the study of the various customs, manners, social and political institutions, etc., of the ancient Bible nations. This is essential to a thorough and intelligent understanding of many parts of the Scriptures. 2. Christian Antiquities, or the domestic, social, and civil life, etc., of the early Christians. 3. History of Church Doctrine. 4. Church History.

III.—SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY.

This branch of Theological Science, as taught here, occupies itself with the investigation and systematic development of Christian doctrines, some of which are peculiar to Cumberland Presbyterians, others being confessed by the Christian world as a whole. They are presented, for the most part, didactically and polemically, the historical discussion of them being referred to the department of Historical Theology. The plan pursued is substantially that given in Dr. Beard's published lectures. The logical basis of Systematic Theology is laid by the instruction given in Exegetical Theology, though this must necessarily, to a certain extent, be anticipated, and the two be pursued simultaneously.

IV.—PRACTICAL THEOLOGY.

Or, 1. The ground, origin, extent, aim, and nature of the various offices of the Church, especially of the Ministry of the gospel. 2. The nature, character, material, form, and delivery of the sermon. 3. Sacred worship, or the principles regulating the public service. 4. The pastor in relation to his flock and to the world. 5. Christian Missions. 6. Apologetics and Christian Ethics.

POST-GRADUATE THEOLOGICAL COURSE.

This course has been creditably pursued by several of our former students. It consists in the preparation of written dissertations based on original studies, and is divided into the following branches: I. Historical and Doctrinal. 2. Historical and Critical. 3. Historical and Exegetical. 4. Biblical Theology. 5. Practical Theology. 6. Comparative Theology. 7. Biblical Philology. 8. Philosophy and Psychology. To those who may think of pursuing this course a more detailed description as printed in former catalogues will be furnished on application.

RECEPTION ROOM.

During the past year Mrs. C. H. Bell raised money among the friends of the University and fitted up elegantly a Reception Room and a Lecture Room in Divinity Hall. These add greatly to the comfort and convenience of the students.

NEW DORMITORIES.

There is now in process of erection on the Divinity Hall campus a new brick building to be used as dormitories. It will accommodate twenty-four students.

HISTORICAL NOTE.

The success of this School, from its origin to the present, has been unparalleled by any other similar institution. Fully two thousand young men have here received instruction in the law, and of this number there are preserved and published in the last general catalogue the names of more than one thousand who have been graduated from its walls. They are scattered throughout the entire country, at the bar and on the bench. They are present in both houses of the United States Congress, and wherever they may be found it may be said the systematic training received here and exhibited in successful careers is giving prestige to their alma mater.

PLAN OF INSTRUCTION.

It is only by exerting the energies of his own mind that a student can qualify himself for the bar. Any plan which would propose to make a lawyer of him without his doing the hard work for himself would be idle and visionary. The virtue of any plan of instruction must consist of two things:

1. That it cause the student to work, or, in other words, to study diligently.

To accomplish this we give the student a portion of the text as a lesson every day, and examine him on it the next day. He is required to answer questions upon the lessons thus assigned in the presence of the whole class. If he has any spirit in him, and pride of character, this will insure the closest application of which he is capable. Neither the old plan of studying in lawyers' offices, nor the old law-school plan of teaching by lectures, have any thing in them to secure application. The student is brought to no daily examination to test his proficiency. There is not the presence of a large class in which he has to take rank, either high or low. All that is calculated to stimulate him to constant, laborious application is wanting in both these plans. We suppose no young man would from choice adopt the office plan as the best mode of acquiring a knowledge of law, and yet the law-school lecture system is no better. The law is in the The professor can no more make the law than the student himself. Every subject upon which a lecture could be given has been exhausted by the ablest professors, and printed in books, after the most careful revision by the authors. We would regard it as an imposition on students, and as presumptuous on our part, to pretend that we could improve upon Kent, Story, Greenleaf, Parsons, and others, who have given to the public, in printed form, and acceptable to all, lectures on every branch of the law. We therefore think it better for the student to occupy his time in learning, with our assistance, what others have written, than in learning from any thing we could write. If our mode of teaching is more difficult to us, it is much more profitable to the student.

. 2. The plan should not only be calculated to make a student work, but it ought so to guide him and direct him as to make him work to the greatest advantage.

A man may work very hard, but still so unwisely that he will accomplish no valuable object. It is equally so with the farmer, the mechanic, and the law student. The student ought to have such a course of study assigned to him, and be conducted through it in such a way as that he will understand at the end of his pupilage the greatest amount of pure, living, American law, and will know best how to apply it in practice.

The duty of the professor in this School is to conduct the daily examination of students upon the lessons assigned them; to direct their minds to what is most important in the text-books; to teach them what is and what is not settled; to correct the errors into which they may fall; to dispel the darkness that hangs upon many passages—this is necessary every day, and at every step of their progress.

MOOT COURTS.

The law is a vast science, and a very difficult one, and the student needs every possible facility to enable him, by the most arduous labor, to comprehend its leading elementary principles. But this is not all he has to do. He has to learn how to apply these principles in practice. This is the art of his profession, and he can only learn it by practice. It is as necessary a preparation for assuming the responsibilities of a lawyer as the learning of the science. If he learns it at the bar, it is at the expense of his client; if he learns it in the school, it is at his own expense.

The advantage of the Moot Court System is that it not only indoctrinates a student in the elementary principles of law involved in his cases, but also in the law of remedies. It trains him also in the discussion of facts, and to the exercise of that tact which is so important in real practice.

Practice in Moot Courts forms a part of the plan of instruction. Every student is required to bring suits in the forms adapted to all our courts, and conduct them to final hearing. The professors act as judges, and the students act as attorneys, jurors, clerks, and sheriffs.

Course of Study.

This has been selected with care from the best works of the best American authors. It begins with the mere rudiments, and extends to every department of law and equity which may be of any practical benefit in this country, and is designed to prepare the student for an immediate entrance into the active duties of his profession.

FOR THE JUNIOR CLASS.

History of a Law Suit (by Judge Abraham Caruthers, who wrote the book expressly for this school), Kent's Commentaries (Vols. I., II., III.), Field on Corporations, May on Insurance, Greenleaf's Evidence (Vol. I.), and Stephens' Pleading.

FOR THE SENIOR CLASS.

Kent's Commentaries (Vol. IV.), Barton's Suit in Equity, Story's Equity Jurisprudence, Parson's on Contracts, and Bishop's Criminal Law.

This course may be completed in ten months, each class requiring a term of five months' study. Students entering either the Junior or Senior Class may begin in September or January. As only ten months are required, students will be expected to enter promptly at the beginning of each term.

Those who read the Junior course privately, and apply for admission to the Senior Class with a view to graduation, will be subjected to a rigid examination. If it is approved by the Faculty, the candidates will take their places in the Senior Class on the same footing as other members. It is most earnestly urged, however, upon all who possibly can, that they enter the Junior Class. Failing to do so, they miss much of the practice and drilling in elements and in forms taught in that class every term. A license to practice and a diploma will be given to all who are graduated. No previous reading of law, or any special literary qualifications, will be required to enter the school.

Books for the course may be bought in Lebanon at the prices stated under the head of Expenses, which is less than publishers' rates; or if the student should prefer not to purchase, the books for either class can be rented from booksellers in Lebanon for $12.50, to be paid in cash at the beginning of the term.

It must be remembered that the books used in this school are the regular text-books of the profession, and will always be needed in practice, and when once bought will last a life-time.
