April 2020

Dear New Students and Parents:

Congratulations and welcome to UVA! Over the next several months before arriving on Grounds in August, you will be making many important decisions, one of which will be the purchase of a new computer, an essential component of your academic career. Although not required, having your laptop during orientation will be of great assistance during your course advising and registration sessions.

As you begin thinking about your computer purchase, I encourage you to consider the advantages of the Computing at Virginia (CAV) Program offered by Cavalier Computers, conveniently located in the University Bookstore and a proud supporter of AccessUVA, the University's financial aid program. The CAV Program provides UVA students a variety of products and services not available elsewhere, along with the convenience of on-Grounds service.

Our offerings include Apple, Dell, Lenovo, and Microsoft computers, all of which are configured to simplify connections to UVA's secure network and optimize performance. The team at Cavalier Computers works closely with the IT coordinators in each school/ college at the University to ensure that all CAV Program computers are supported by and fully compatible with UVA systems. Cavalier Computers preconfigures computers to meet school-specific requirements including, but not limited to, Engineering, Architecture, and Nursing; and installs all essential UVA-licensed software. Microsoft Windows, virus protection, and other common web-based applications are installed on every CAV Program PC. The latest Mac OS X and a similar software bundle appropriate for the Apple platform are installed on all Apple computers. We also offer Microsoft Office at no additional charge for all CAV Program computers.

The CAV Program also offers various options for warranty, repairs, and support through the Cavalier Computers Service Department. All CAV Program computers include a warranty for up to four years including accidental damage protection, a CAV Program exclusive for Apple computers. If you experience issues with your computer, our on-site Apple-, Dell-, HP-, and Lenovo-authorized technicians at Cavalier Computers will manage the necessary repairs. We maintain an inventory of spare parts for CAV Program computers, and also offer loaners in the event that extensive repairs are needed.

Enclosed for your information and review is the Class of 2024 CAV Program catalogue. You may also visit www.cavprogram.com to view the current year offerings. If you have any questions about the CAV Program or about our products or services, please do not hesitate to contact Cavalier Computers via e-mail at CAVquestions@virginia.edu. We look forward to having you with us on Grounds this fall!

Sincerely

Colette Sheehy
Senior Vice President for Operations

HOOWE ARE

CAV Program computers are designed to meet the specific hardware and software standards set by UVA schools and departments. They are the ONLY fully supported computers endorsed by UVA.

The CAV Program is operated by Cavalier Computers, a division of the UVA Bookstore, owned by the University of Virginia.

Cavalier Computers is a non-profit; our operating surpluses are donated directly to AccessUVA and other UVA initiatives to support the financial needs of University of Virginia students.

We are University employees committed to UVA students' success.

I am so glad that I chose to purchase a computer through the CAV Program. Student, Jessica S.

STUDENT CHARGE

A GREAT WAY TO PAY FOR YOUR CAV PROGRAM PURCHASES

While Cavalier Computers accepts all methods of payment including cash, personal checks and major credit cards, it also allows customers to use Student Charge to pay for their CAV Program purchases.

Traditional Student Charge: Student Charge is a program unique to the UVA Bookstore and Cavalier Computers. At the beginning of the school year, new UVA students are provided a $1,000 line of credit. When making a purchase, students simply present their UVA ID and the purchase gets charged to their interest free credit account. Payment is due 45 to 60 days after the purchase.

CAV Program Student Charge: The CAV Program student charge has been designed specifically for its participants and offers even better payment terms than its traditional counterpart.

- No interest and $3,000 line of credit that enables you to purchase your CAV Program computer and accessories.
- Purchase your equipment NOW and defer your payments. First payment date is due October 31st. Second payment date is due December 31st.
