ADIDAS AND NSCAA: IMPROVING THE GAME

The association between adidas and soccer began in 1925 when company founder Adi Dassler made his first pair of soccer boots. Since then, adidas has remained the authentic soccer brand, committed to improving the game for players. Through its sponsorship of such organizations as FIFA, UEFA, MLS, US Youth Soccer and the NSCAA, adidas continues to demonstrate its commitment to soccer at all levels, from grassroots to the world's biggest stage.

Countless numbers of the world's top club teams are sponsored by adidas. The company is proud to have partnered with nine men's and women's World Cup championship teams. adidas' passion for the game made it the most recognized soccer brand in the world; its dedication to improving the game keeps it there.

ABOUT ADIDAS

Known as "the brand with three stripes," adidas has a rich tradition in creating the best products for athletes around the world. Adi Dassler, a cobbler from Herzogenaurach, Germany, founded the company in the 1920's.

An athlete himself,

Dassler was dedicated to creating products that would help athletes in all countries, in all disciplines, maximize their performance. His goal: to create the best sports products in the world.

It's no surprise that Dassler is commonly referred to as the father of the modern sporting goods industry.

Today, adidas has expanded its goal to being the best sports brand. While adidas is well known as the market leader in soccer, the company also provides products for a wider variety of sports than any other brand in the industry. From fencing to football, adidas is the athlete's brand. "Function first, fashion second" always has been the philosophy at adidas. In fact, the three stripes, which

Founded in 1941, the NSCAA has grown into the largest single-sport coaching organization in the United States, with more than 20,000 members. Dedicated to promoting the game of soccer and to the education of coaches, the NSCAA provides clinics, academies and seminars throughout the country. It publishes Soccer Journal, a bimonthly educational journal, and offers diploma courses in all 50 states. The NSCAA national office is located in Mission, Kan.

"The NSCAA is the leading organization in the world, solely focused on the development of soccer coaches throughout the world," notes Chris McGuire, National Promotions Manager of adidas Soccer. "Our involvement with the NSCAA brings our brand to the forefront of coaching education and allows us to assist in the NSCAA's mission of developing and educating soccer coaches. The relationship also assists the adidas Soccer objectives of giving back to the sport and working with those dedicated to improve the quality of our sports in the U.S. and throughout the world."

Jon Stewart, the award-winning host of Comedy Central's "The Daily Show," has been selected as the recipient of the National Soccer Coaches Association of America's Honorary All-America Award for 2005.

The NSCAA Honorary All-America award is presented to those who have brought particular distinction to the sport of soccer through their efforts within and beyond the boundaries of the sport. Past recipients include astronaut Sonny Carter, actor Andrew Shue and Lamar Hunt, owner of the NFL's Kansas City Chiefs and the Major League Soccer franchises in Columbus, Dallas and Kansas City.

Before Stewart launched his highly successful comedic career, he played intercollegiate soccer at the College of William and Mary. As a member of The Tribe's team from 1981 to 1983, he scored 10 goals and was credited with 12 assists for a total of 32 career points. As a senior, he scored William and Mary's lone goal in a 1-0 victory over Connecticut which helped propel The Tribe to the ECAC title and the school's second appearance in the NCAA tournament.

From those beginnings, Stewart has become one of America's top social and comedic voices. Since he began as host of The Daily Show in January 1999, he has increased the visibility of the program and its network, Comedy Central. The show has won three Emmy Awards for Outstanding Writing in a Variety, Music or Comedy Program (2000, 2002 and 2003) and received Emmys as the Outstanding Variety,

JON STEWART

Music or Comedy Series in 2002 and 2003. Stewart twice has been a nominee for Outstanding Individual Performance in a Variety or Music Program (2002, 2003).

In 2004, "The Daily Show with Jon Stewart" was honored by the Television Critics Association by winning for Outstanding Achievement in News and Information, beating out traditional news shows in the category. In 2003, Stewart received the TCA's Individual Achievement in Comedy award and the show won for Outstanding Achievement in Comedy. In 2001, "The Daily Show with Jon Stewart" also received the prestigious Peabody Award for excellence in its "Indecision 2000" campaign coverage.

Stewart's latest book (written with the writers at "The Daily Show"), AMERICA (THE BOOK): A Citizen's Guide to Democracy Inaction, was an instant hit, topping The New York Times Best Seller List the first six weeks after its release in September 2004. It also was ranked No. 1 on the best-seller lists in The Wall Street Journal, The Los Angeles Times, USA Today and San Francisco Chronicle.

The New Jersey native began honing his skills in New York City, moving through the ranks of its top comedy clubs to appearances on HBO's Young Comedians Special and "Late Show with David Letterman." Those, in turn, led him to his own late night talk show which has led to his newest venture as host of COMEDY CENTRAL's "The Daily Show with Jon Stewart."

Hosting a late-night talk show was nothing new to Stewart. After briefly hosting a half-hour nighttime talk show on MTV, aptly titled "The Jon Stewart Show," Paramount enlarged the show to a one-hour format for national syndication. The critically-acclaimed talk show featured a variety of celebrity guests

Williams and Danny De Vito; "Big Daddy" with Adam Sandler; the romantic drama "Playing by Heart" with Gillian Anderson and "The Faculty," a horror-comedy directed by Robert

Rodriguez. Television credits include the CableAce-nominated one-hour HBO comedy special, "Jon Stewart:

Unleavened," which premiered in September 1996, as well as guest hosting CBS' "The Late, Late Show with Tom Snyder," NBC's "NewsRadio" and HBO's "Mr. Show with Bob & David." His debut book, Naked Pictures of Famous People, a collection of humorous from the worlds of music, entertainment, sports and fashion. The show aired from September 1994 through June 1995.

Stewart's feature film credits include "Death to Smoochy" with Edward Norton, Robin what-if essays, appeared on many best-sellers lists including that of The New York Times. Stewart has also written for several magazines, including The New Yorker, Esquire and George.

2005 MISSOURI ATHLETIC CLUB'S HERMANN TROPHY

In 2003, the protocol for the selection and announcement of the winners of the Missouri Athletic Club's Hermann Trophy underwent modifications designed to bring greater attention to college soccer's most prestigious individual award. Now a "watch list" is published in August, with 15 semifinalists named in November. From that list three finalists are identified in early December, with the winners announced during a nationally-televised news conference at the Missouri Athletic Club.

GAREY
MARYLAND

The first player in Maryland history to earn the Missouri Athletic Club's Hermann Trophy, Jason Garey continued a trend on the men's side by also winning the NSCAA/adidas Scholar Athlete of the Year Award, following in the footsteps of St. John's Chris Wingert and Indiana's Danny O'Rourke. The Gonzales, La., native scored 22 goals and seven assists for 51 points this season while leading the Terrapins to their first NCAA title since 1968. Maryland's all-time leading goal-scorer (60), he also is the Terrapins' all-time leader in career points (140). He set an NCAA Tournament record with two goals in 15 seconds in the semifinal match against SMU and was named the College Cup Offensive MVP. Twice selected as Player of the Year by Sports Illustrated On Campus, Garey also has been named the ESPN the Magazine CoSIDA Academic All-American of the Year. He is a two-time NSCAA/adidas All-America, having received third-team honors in 2004.

MEN'S FINALISTS

Brian Plotkin, a senior midfielder from Lisle, Ill., scored eight goals and added 12 assists for the Hoosiers to lead the Big Ten in scoring. He led the Big Ten in game-winning goals (4) and was named the Big Ten Offensive Player of the Week three times. Plotkin was named the Big Ten Player of the Year and was the only unanimous all-conference selection.

Jeff Rowland, a senior forward from Albuquerque, N.M., started every game for the Lobos. He led the Mountain Pacific Soccer Federation in scoring with 36 points on 16 goals and four assists. Rowland scored the game-winning goal in UNM's 1-0 overtime victory over California in the NCAA quarterfinals to send the Lobos to the Men's College Cup for the first time in school history.

CHRISTINE
SINCLAIR
PORTLAND

One of 24 players being considered for the 2005 FIFA Player of the Year, Christine Sinclair made history on several levels this season. The native of Burnaby, B.C., is the first female player to claim the Missouri Athletic Club's Hermann Trophy and the NSCAA/adidas Scholar All-America awards in the same season. An NSCAA All-America for the fourth time, she becomes only the third female, and the first foreign-born, to win the Hermann Trophy in consecutive years. She led the nation in scoring with 39 goals and 88 total points while powering Portland to its second national title. Her 39 goals broke the NCAA season record of 37, previously held by SMU's Lisa Cole, while her 88 points marks the second highest in NCAA season history, trailing only Mia Hamm's 97 in 25 games in 1992. Her 110 career goals are second in NCAA history and her 252 points rank second all-time. She set an NCAA D-I record with a goal scored in 17 consecutive games, later tied by Penn State's Tiffany Weimer. Portland's all-time leader in goals, points, game-winners and shots, she set UP single-season records for goals and points while earning West Coast Conference Player of the Year for the third time in her career. She joins Tiffany Milbrett, Carin Jennings (UCSB), Lisa Cole (SMU), Mia Hamm (North Carolina) and Danielle Fotopoulos (Florida) as the only players in NCAA history with more than 100 career goals and 30 assists. The 2005 NCAA College Cup Offensive MVP, Sinclair extended her NCAA post-season goals scored record to 25 with seven goals in 2005.

WOMEN'S FINALISTS

Katie Thorlakson, a senior forward from Langley, B.C., led Notre Dame with 35 assists and added 18 goals to tie for the team lead with 71 points. She played in all 25 matches for a Fighting Irish squad that reached the NCAA quarterfinals. A two-time Big East Offensive Player of the Year, she led Notre Dame to the national championship and was named the Women's College Cup's Most Valuable Player.

Tiffany Weimer, a senior forward from North Haven, Conn., set the Big Ten Conference single-season record with 32 goals. She shares the NCAA record for consecutive games with a goal (17) with Christine Sinclair and helped Penn State to its eighth consecutive Big Ten regular season championship. The Big Ten Offensive Player of the Year for the second consecutive season, this is the second year in a row that she was an M.A.C. Hermann Trophy finalist.

NSCAA/ADIDAS AWARDS SELECTION PROCEDURES

The National Soccer Coaches Association of America serves as the recognized leader in naming All-America soccer players. In conjunction with its sponsor, adidas, the NSCAA selects All-America teams at every level of play.

Through its annual sponsorship of the adidas All-America teams, NSCAA provides coaches the opportunity to help their players receive richly deserved recognition while helping promote the growth of the sport.

The NSCAA is indebted to Vice President Steve Malone, Awards Coordinator Jeff Farnsworth and the many members of their committees for their efforts in the selection process for the NSCAA/adidas All-America and Scholar All-America teams.

ALL-AMERICA

SENIOR COLLEGE MEN AND WOMEN

An All-Region selection process is carried out by ballot at the end of the regular season. The All-America selections are based on the various levels of play that the school has selected for seasonal play (NCAA Division I, II or III; NAIA or NCCAA).

JUNIOR COLLEGE MEN AND WOMEN

The initial step is the selection of All-Region teams. Post-game in-season voting and a team caliber index are used for this purpose. The All-America team is chosen from the top candidates in each of the regional programs (Divisions I and III).

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS AND GIRLS

Each of the eight NSCAA regions are allocated a specific number of All-America players based on the high school NSCAA membership in each region. To become an All-America, a player must first be selected to his or her respective All-Region team.

The All-America Teams are comprised of the top players from each region. A unique characteristic of this level is that schools play in three seasons, so some players honored today already have graduated from high school.

YOUTH BOYS AND GIRLS

The teams presented this year are chosen by a panel that solicits input from all youth soccer organizations in the United States. Many have experience in the National Team (Olympic Development) process carried out during the year.

SCHOLAR ALL-AMERICA

SENIOR COLLEGE MEN AND WOMEN

The NSCAA selects Scholar All-America teams for male and female athletes competing in soccer at the NCAA Divisions I, II and III, NAIA and NCCAA institutions. This year, the women's team is divided into University (NCAA Division I) and College (all other levels) divisions.

To be nominated, a student-athlete must have at least a 3.3.0 cumulative grade point average (on a 4.0 scale) throughout his or her career; start more than 50 percent of all games and be a significant contributor to the team; have a nominating coach who is a current NSCAA member; be a junior or above in academic standing at the current institution; be in his or her second year at the current school if he or she is a transfer student; and submit an official copy of a certified transcript.

Those meeting the above criteria will be considered by the committee for one of the Scholar All-America teams. The committee reviews both the academic and athletic accomplishments of the nominees.

The NSCAA Scholar Athletes of the Year for men and women are selected by the national selection committee from all levels of the Scholar All-America teams.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS AND GIRLS

To become a Scholar All-America at the interscholastic level, a player must first be nominated by his or her head coach. The coach must be an NSCAA member at the high school level. To be nominated, a player must have a cumulative grade point average of 3.75 or better (on a 4.0 scale), must have demonstrated excellence in soccer at the high school level and must have performed service in his or her community.

The Scholar All-America Committee examines the resumes of the eligible candidates and then selects the team.

TEAM ACADEMIC AWARD

COLLEGE

For a team to be considered, it must have a composite team grade point average of at least 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale) for all team members who appear on the official NCAA, NAIA or junior college roster forms for the fall season. The nominating coach must be a current NSCAA member and the nominated program must be a current member of the NSCAA College Services program. All players on the roster must be included in the calculation of the team GPA, and the nomination form must be notarized with the institution's seal.

HIGH SCHOOL

For a team to be considered, it must have a composite team grade point average of at least 3.25 (on a 4.0 scale) for all team members who appear on the official eligibility roster for the season, and the coach must be a current NSCAA member. All players on the roster must be included in the calculation of the team GPA. An official roster must be submitted with the nomination form.

Help Save The Women You Love

If a woman must tell the people she loves ... children, husband, partner, teammates, colleagues, friends, parents, sisters, brothers ... that she has cancer, all of those lives are changed forever.

Support the Kicks Against Breast Cancer™ Pin Project. It's the American soccer initiative to help women with cancer survive and thrive. Buy pins for your teammates, family, friends, players and coaches. Wear them proudly.

Order your Kicks Against Breast Cancer™ pins today at www.kicksagainstbreastcanc.com.

10 Pins for $20. 100% of all profits from the Kicks Against Breast Cancer™ soccer pin go to the Claudia Mayer Cancer Resource and Image Center, a service of Howard County General Hospital, a Member of Johns Hopkins Medicine. For complete information on the Kicks Against Breast Cancer™ program, visit kicksagainstbreastcanc.com.
