Director's Notes

I am delighted to welcome you to Celebration of the Arts 2018! Every year I look forward to our auditions and continue to be both amazed and proud of the talent we discover around Lynn University. The excitement that has flourished on campus about Celebration of the Arts is a tribute to all the students, faculty, and staff who have participated, and continue to participate, in this community-bridging evening over the past seven years. Tonight, we share with you our hearts and souls; the Celebration family will shine on stage this evening.

What truly makes Celebration of the Arts unique is that everyone performing in Celebration Circle and Unplugged, displaying artwork in Celebration Gallery, and everyone you are about to see on stage tonight is a student, faculty, staff, or alumni of Lynn University. Celebration of the Arts is a time for the Lynn family to come together to enjoy and appreciate our incredibly talented Lynn community.

Thank you to all who have contributed to Celebration of the Arts this year. The sheer amount of people who are involved is astounding and we grow every year. I would like to give a very special thank you to Dr. Gregg Cox and Dr. Katrina Carter-Tellison for their continuous support of this event. This show would not be possible without my creative team: Adam Simpson and Timea Varga, who have both worked on all seven Celebration of the Arts productions. Thank you for sharing your talents and time with this project. A very special thank you to the Wick family, who generously helped us costume our show tonight. And last but not least, I must thank this amazing cast. We have had a blast all semester in rehearsals working on these numbers and getting them ready to present to you tonight. Enjoy the show and we would love to see you next year!

Kind regards,

Carrie Simpson
Creative Director, Celebration of the Arts
