SERVICE

Return policy

At IKEA you can shop with confidence. If you're not satisfied with your purchase, bring it back unassembled with its original packaging and your receipt within 30 days for an exchange or refund. For all other returns your statutory rights apply.

Take home today

IKEA kitchens are flat-packed to make them easier to transport and take home in your car. Our exclusive FAKTUM kitchen cabinet frame system is in stock, as are the most popular kitchen door styles, which means you can collect and start installing your new kitchen the same day.

Home delivery services

IKEA can arrange delivery direct to your home of any kitchen purchase you make. This service includes all kitchens held in stock for immediate delivery as well as kitchen components and worktops. Ask about times and delivery charges at the store.

IKEA Quality

IKEA furniture and accessories are tested rigorously to comply fully with European and international standards and regulations. Quality testing reflects real life situations and ensures that IKEA products are durable and safe.

Price guarantee

All prices quoted in this brochure are valid until 28 August 2005. Please note, however, that we reserve the right to adjust our prices according to any GST rate changes or other changes caused by circumstances beyond our control. (All delivery and assembly services are charged separately and are not included in this brochure).

THE SECRET TO A BIGGER KITCHEN

Smart kitchen storage and careful planning matter when you want to maximise the space you have. That's where our FAKTUM cabinet frame system (see p. 34) helps out. The wide choice of standard-sized cabinets available make it possible to furnish kitchens anyway you want for a result that's perfectly tailored to your way of living. Choosing a light door finish, such as APPLÅD in white, seen here, accentuates the total feeling of spaciousness.

10-YEAR GUARANTEE!

Much thought and care goes into the design and manufacture of the IKEA FAKTUM system to ensure they can withstand the everyday wear and tear of family life. To guarantee you the highest levels of quality and satisfaction, every part must first pass rigorous testing.

As the structure that supports the integrity of your entire kitchen, it's crucial to rely on a good quality cabinet frame. FAKTUM frames are made of a sturdy 18mm particleboard, then reinforced with a melamine foil for a hard-wearing, no scratch finish.

When full, a kitchen drawer can easily weigh around 3kg. To test that the drawers can keep up with your busy lifestyle, we load a drawer with over double that weight, 7.5kg, then we open and close it 80,000 times. Only then are we happy that our drawers will stand up to years of use. Nylon drawer wheels ensure a smooth, quiet and long-lasting operation. Our drawers can also be opened to their full length so that you can easily reach things kept at the back.

All our FAKTUM cabinet door hinges are double-jointed and nickel-plated for maximum strength and durability. How strong and durable? After opening and closing a standard door 80,000 times – that's 15 times a day for the next 15 years use – there are no signs of damage. They are easy to install yourself and you'll get a perfect fit by using the six separate adjustments on each hinge.

We really put our laminated benchtops through their paces in the IKEA test laboratory. In fact, we're darn nasty to them. We spill water, coffee, wine and cooking oil all over them and let the whole mess stand overnight to see if they stain – they don't. Then we check that they can cope with hot saucepans being placed on the surface – they can. All you have to do to keep yours in top working order is wipe it down quickly with a damp cloth.

ADDED STYLE

IKEA knobs and handles come in a wide selection of designs and materials to suit all tastes. For a quick and inexpensive makeover that'll liven up your existing kitchen cupboards in no time, just swap your old handles with a new set from IKEA.

BENCHTOPS

Your benchtop will have a dramatic impact on the total look and feel of your kitchen. Also, since it's used a lot, it needs to be tough and easy to wipe clean. All IKEA benchtops are resistant to chemical cleaners as well as food and liquid stains. Add many colours and finishes, plus different edge profiles, and you're assured a benchtop that'll look good for many years to come.

The standard benchtop depth is 60.6cm. Choose from three ranges: PRÄGEL, PRONOMEN and NUMERÄR.

Creating a larger work surface couldn't be easier! Simply use our practical joining strips to join two or more benchtops.

PRÄGEL benchtops

Laminate benchtop with post-formed edges, 38mm thick, 60.6cm depth. Available in 5 different finishes. Extra edging strips included.

TAPS & SINKS

Our taps are made of chrome-plated brass with ceramic washers, which means they'll cope well with different liquids and detergents. The single-lever mixer taps are also fitted with a child-safety feature that allows you to adjust and set the water temperature to prevent accidental scalding. All taps can be combined with any IKEA sink design.

TIPS & ADVICE

Start by drawing a rough plan of your kitchen.

Take a few minutes to measure and mark out on a piece of paper the current positions of things like doors, windows, electricity sockets, plumbing, radiators and any other key architectural features.

Make sure you have enough space below the windows for base cabinets. They need at least 90 cm from the floor.

Measure the height and width of available wall space, then the distance to windows, doors, and utilities (e.g. electricity and mains water).

Consider all of your needs carefully before deciding on your final kitchen layout (e.g. fridge/freezer, storage, workspace, size of dining area, etc.)

The work triangle.

The work triangle consists of three functions, or stations: food preparation, cooking and washing up. All three need to be considered carefully for good ergonomics when you plan a new kitchen. Here's how it works in the four most popular kitchen layouts:

If space is plentiful, consider a linear kitchen with an island workstation. Besides the feeling of openness, the island can also act as a room divider and offer more storage.

A U-shaped kitchen keeps everything you need close at hand and reduces movement to a minimum. An efficient solution in either a large or small kitchen area.

The galley kitchen makes efficient use of space with plenty of free benchtop surfaces and cupboards on both sides for easy access. The choice of professional chefs.

An L-shaped kitchen offers a flexible layout solution that can easily be integrated with a sitting or dining area in an open-plan room without interfering with kitchen routines.

Planning your kitchen layout can seem overwhelming at first, but it soon becomes easier and more fun when you know some basic facts. Just follow these handy tips from our IKEA kitchen experts and you'll save both money and time!

Good ideas to remember.

If possible, allow a minimum of 80cm benchtop space between the cooktop and the sink for food preparation. Adding drawers for cooking implements near the cooktop will also help you cook more efficiently.

Provide 65-75cm between the cooktop and rangehood, plus at least 40cm on either side of the cooktop for resting pots and pans while cooking. A spacious cupboard next to the cooktop will ensure your cookware is within easy reach.

When planning a wall cabinet that's in a corner close to a window, first use a filler piece. This will stop things like a curtain rod from preventing you opening the cabinet door.

If you're planning a galley kitchen, ensure you have at least 120cm between the facing rows of cabinets so that you can move around comfortably.

Position the dishwasher next to the sink. Not only will this facilitate its installation, it will make rinsing off plates and loading trays easier and help to avoid spills.

Drawers next to a sink or dishwasher make it easier to put away clean cutlery. Placing the oven at eye-level is not only a very comfortable working height, it will also spare you unnecessary bending down when cooking.

Some ideas to avoid.

If you're thinking of positioning your sink in front of a window that opens inwards, first make sure that the tap you plan to use won't cause an obstruction.

Don't place appliances like fridges directly against the wall in a corner without a filler piece. The doors won't open properly and pulling out trays will be difficult. The same goes for ovens and dishwashers whose heat and moisture will ruin the wall's appearance.

Drawers placed in corners can be difficult to open and may damage other doors and handles if left open. A filler piece may be the solution.
