Brunch at Brunner's

An Elegant Lady

Jim Hettig '67 copyright 2011

Not far west of Harlem,
On the southern side of Main,
In the hamlet known as Snyder,
We embark down Memory Lane.

For here stands stately Amherst,
And within her ivied walls
The spirits of our younger selves
Still roam those hallowed halls.

Now lofty praise and platitudes
Won't quite grasp what I recall.
We'll hearken back to yesteryear,
But we'll do it warts and all.

For at times the ride got bumpy -
It's a fact that we all know.
So saddle up you Tigers...
Let's start this rodeo!

The first time that I climbed those steps
And pushed through that big oak door,
My sophomore heart was thumpin',
I had butterflies galore.

For this was it ... the "Big House!"
I was feeling kind of small.
The throbbing zit between my eyes
Didn't help things much at all.

Wild appetites and urges,
We were at an awkward age...
Squirming with pubescence,
Our hormones all a-rage.

My attention span grew narrow,
My thoughts would tend to wander.
Scholastics would just fade away
When I had bigger things to ponder.

That Pythagorean Theorem?...
Well, it never stood a chance,
When a girl walked by in koolats...
"Is that a skirt or are those pants?!"

And those movie star twelfth-graders in tight sweaters that would cling...
"Ya think she's wearing falsies,
Or are those the real thing?!"

We faced some tricky waters
We all had to navigate.
You had to start to map it out...
Which way you'd gravitate.

Our turf was split between two camps...
Kind of tribal so to speak.
You had to make your mind up...
"Are ya hood or are ya squeak?"

And clan affiliation
Would dictate what you wore...
Like penny loafers and a crew cut
Or shit kickers and a pompadour.

But none of this would matter soon
For these were changing times.
A tidal wave was coming
That would shift our paradigm.

Ed Sullivan would bring it here
On his Sunday TV show.
The act was huge - it changed the world!...
And it wasn't Topo Gigio

No, this group came from England
And redefined our sense of cool.
They swept us off our teen-age feet -
Four long-haired lads from Liverpool.

And then everything went English,
We just couldn't get enough -
Like English Leather, British Walkers
Pea coats and duffers and stuff.

But the real gift these boys brought us
Was the music that they made -
The sound track for our high school years.
It still knocks me out today!

Sometimes we had to move beyond
The prying eyes of teachers.
We fought and necked and drank some beers
In the shadows 'neath the bleachers.

But as we grew and learned to drive,
The school grounds seemed to cramp us.
Whenever we could get some wheels,
We'd seek our thrills off-campus.

The last bell of the day would ring
And we'd bow our heads in thanks.
Then a mad dash to our lockers
And the race was on to Frank's!

We'd stampede to the parking lot
And burn out down the street.
Frank's was the honkin' hot spot
Where the "In-Crowd" went to meet!

Loganberry was our drink
With french fries drenched in gravy.
Big Nancy had a mouth on her
Like a veteran of the navy.

Amidst the smoke and laughter,
There were secrets that were told,
"There's a party at the club house...
Don't dare tell a soul!"

The location was convenient
Cause standing right next door
Was Brunner's for when we'd come of age,
And some of us before.

We'd blast down Hertel Avenue
On our way to Alioto's ...
Ten screamin' kids all crammed inside
A fifty-five Desoto.

"Raven" and "The Road" were bands
With local drawing power.
"The Maniacs" were playing
At Grand Island's Idle Hour.

I lost my brother's fake ID
To a bouncer at the Glen -
The Inferno was the place I'd gone
To hear Wilson Pickett sing.

So many things throughout those years
I think back upon and smile.
I'd love to travel back in time,
If only for a while.

I'd spend a summer day with friends...
Our skin was tan, our hair sun-bleached -
Iodine and baby oil...
Allegany, Sherkston, Crystal Beach.

I'd zip my Barracuda
Against the chill October air
And stand and cheer our football team
In the spirit that we shared.

I'd carefully pin her corsage on,
And she my boutonniere.
We'd join our decked-out classmates
For the prom, our senior year.

And before my time back then was up,
I'd seek an explanation
For a policy the school employed
In physical education.

In swim class girls were stylin'
In a tank suit and a cap.
The boys swam bare-ass naked...
Now what was up with that?!!

Just one last thing before I close,
And it's weighed heavy on my mind.
For Amherst, our grand matriarch,
The years have not been kind.

She was once an elegant lady,
Draped in an emerald gown.
Someone ripped her dress away...
Who the hell took the ivy down?!!

Just in case you weren't feeling too old today, this will certainly change things. Each year the staff at Beloit College in Wisconsin puts together a list to try to give the faculty a sense of the mindset of this year's incoming freshmen. Here's this year's list:

The people who are starting college this fall across the nation were born in 1998.

They are too young to remember the space shuttle blowing up.

Their lifetime has always included AIDS.

Bottle caps have always been screw off and plastic.

The CD was introduced 7 years before they were born.

They have always had an answering machine..

They have always had cable.

They cannot fathom not having a remote control.

Popcorn has always been cooked in the microwave.

They never took a swim and thought about Jaws.

They can't imagine what hard contact lenses are.

They don't know who Mork was or where he was from.

They never heard: "Where's the Beef?", "I'd walk a mile for a Camel", or "de plane, Boss, de plane.."

They do not care who shot J. R. and have no idea who J. R. even is.

Mc Donald's never came in Styrofoam containers.

They don't have a clue how to use a typewriter.

So have a nice day!!!! It is good to have friends who know about these things and are still alive and kicking!!!!
