I am not exactly sure what the future holds in store for me, but I am sure that it will be fun, be it geology, a music degree, psychology, or anthropology—who knows, maybe I'll live in a cave for a while—or a tree. Anyway, I'm just glad to be graduating and I can't wait to see what's next. I have only recently become a Mainer, having moved here in September of 2010 to attend the Blue Hill Harbor School, which is an absolutely magnificent place of learning where each student has a curriculum that is tailor-made to fit him/her like a glove. During my short stay here I have had the greatest time in my entire school career. I have participated in quite a few projects, from drawing to music to dissecting a harbor seal at MERI.

Vita Rose Poole

Daughter of Anne and Robert Poole of Brooksville.

After my first big traveling experience in Central America I've caught the explorer bug. I plan to work a ton this summer in order to fund another trip to Trinidad and Tobago. After that I plan to go to art school. My main goal this year after finishing up my necessary credits was to enrich my portfolio for art school, so I've been drawing and painting in school as of late.

If you don't know where you are going, any road will get you there. —Lewis Carroll

May those who love us,

Love us.

And those who do not love us,

May God turn their hearts.

And if He cannot turn their hearts,

May He turn their ankles,

That we may know them by their limping.

—Irish Blessing

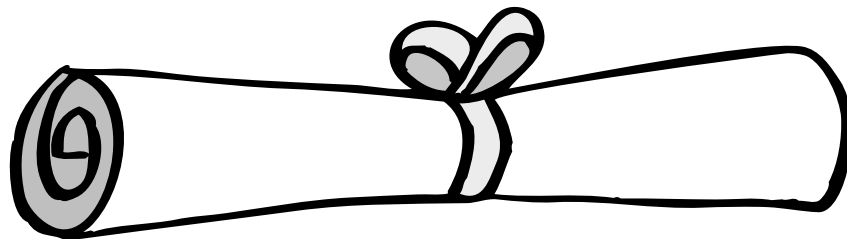

Lucas Aaron Randall

Son of Melissa and Stephen Randall of Blue Hill.

In August I plan on going to Central Maine Master's Commission, a discipleship college in Waterville. The Blue Hill Harbor School is a great school. I woke up in the morning and wanted to go to school. I made a lot of friends and they feel like family to me. All the teachers are nice, like Ron Stanko and Andrew Dillon. They always help when they can. I was homeschooled before I came to the Harbor School. The transition was easy for me.
