Safety Is Priority No.1

Dear Clemson University Community:

There is no higher priority for Clemson University than the safety of our students, faculty, staff and campus visitors. This has always been true, but in the last few years Clemson has focused even more attention on our efforts to keep you safe. Those efforts are paying off – a recent report in USA Today named Clemson the safest college campus in the nation.

The CU Safety website at clemson.edu/cusafety provides crucial information on all aspects of safety and security, from emergency preparedness to crime prevention. On the website, students and others can watch safety videos, report a safety issue, sign up for CU Safe text alerts, find directions on how to install the Rave Guardian application on a device and learn about hazardous weather, disaster warnings, evacuation procedures, victim services provided on campus and much more.

This publication, the annual Security and Fire Safety Report, which documents all safety programs and policies, is part of that larger effort. It reports crime and fire safety statistics, tells you who to call, what to do if you witness or are the victim of a crime and offers tips to increase your safety awareness.

Although Clemson is safe, no campus in America is completely crime free. We need your help to make sure that everyone at the university remains safe and secure. Thank you for giving your careful attention to this important information.

Sincerely,

Security and Fire Safety Overview

The Clemson University Police Department (CUPD) prepares this annual Clemson University Security and Fire Safety Report to comply with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Crime Statistics Act. The full text of this report can be located on our website at clemson.edu/cusafety. You will also be able to connect to our site via the Clemson University home page at clemson.edu. This report is prepared in cooperation with the local law enforcement agencies surrounding our main campus, separate campuses and other non-campus locations, University Housing, the Office of Community and Ethical Standards, the Clemson University Fire Department and the Division of Student Affairs. Each entity provides updated information on their educational efforts and programs to comply with the Clery Act.

Campus crime, arrest and referral statistics include those reported to the Clemson University Police Department, designated campus security authorities (see "Reporting a Crime" for a complete listing) and local law enforcement agencies. Procedures are in place to facilitate the confidential reporting of crimes should the complainant wish to remain anonymous.

The local law enforcement agency for each off-campus site is contacted to request the required crime statistics. The campus security authority at each facility is also required to provide CUPD with statistics for any reports that have been made directly to them. If reports are made to CUPD by the victim, those statistics are also included in the total number of crimes reported. The statistics gathered from those three sources are then reported for each site.

With the exception of Clemson University's International Center for Automotive Research and the Clemson University Restoration Institute, both of which employ contract security staff, the off campus sites do not have Clemson University security or police officers working on site. Students and employees are encouraged to report all crimes to the local law enforcement agency in the jurisdiction where the program is located. The local law enforcement agency is responsible for conducting any required investigation with regard to crimes reported at the off-campus sites. If there is a Clemson University program on site, please notify the campus security authority in that office if you are the victim of a crime. (See the campus security authority list for each separate campus below.) This notification will allow University personnel the opportunity to review whether or not a crime alert should be posted at the site and will assist Clemson University in maintaining accurate crime statistics for each site.

The Clemson University Student Code of Conduct is applicable to all students on all campuses. Therefore, the campus discipline system, located on the main campus, handles all non-academic disciplinary matters for all students at all campuses for the University community. For more information, please contact the Office of Community and Ethical Standards at 864-656-0510 or at 912 University Union on the main campus.

The physical location of each off-campus site is maintained in such a way to minimize security hazards at each site. There are no residential facilities affiliated with any of the separate campus sites.

Each year, an email notification is sent to all enrolled students, faculty and staff that provide the direct link to access the annual Security and Fire Safety Report online. Copies of the report may also be obtained at the Clemson University Police Department located next to Gate 10 of Memorial Stadium or by calling 864-656-2222.

Timely Warnings and Emergency Notifications

Timely Warning

A campus wide "Timely Warning" will be issued about serious crimes, as described below, that occur on campus, or other property as defined by the Clery Act, and are determined to be a serious continuing threat to the campus community by the Clemson University Chief of Police or designee. Timely Warning notices are usually distributed for the following Uniformed Crime Reporting Program (UCR)/National Incident Based Reporting System (NIBRS) classifications: arson, criminal homicide and robbery. Cases of aggravated assault and sex offenses are considered on a case-by-case basis, depending on the facts of the case and the information known by the Police Department. For example, if an assault occurs between two students who have a disagreement, there may be no ongoing threat to other University community members; therefore, a Timely Warning notice would not be distributed. Sexual assaults are considered on a case-by-case basis, depending on the facts of the case, when and where the incident occurred, when it was reported and the amount of information known by the Police Department. Timely Warning notices may be distributed for other crimes as determined necessary by the Chief of Police or their designee. The Timely Warning will include information the Chief of Police, or designee, determines is appropriate to promote safety. This may include, but is not limited to, information about the reported offense (time, location, description, etc.) and any available information about suspects. The names of victims will be withheld. Timely Warnings will be disseminated as follows:

- Media Relations will be responsible for issuing the Timely Warning by email to students' and employees' campus email addresses.
- Timely Warnings are posted on the CU Safety website at clemson.edu/cusafety.
- Timely Warnings may be posted to other locations, including both public and University media channels as deemed appropriate.
- Anyone with information possibly warranting a Timely Warning should contact the Clemson University Police Department by calling 911 or 864-656-2222.
- Information that could compromise law enforcement efforts will not be disseminated.

Emergency Notification and Evacuation Procedures

In the event of confirmation of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees occurring on the campus, the Clemson University Chief of Police or designee will activate some or all of the notification systems identified below. The notifications will occur without delay, unless issuing a notification will, in the professional judgment of responsible authorities, compromise efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to or otherwise mitigate the emergency. Once a determination has been made to issue an emergency notification, the content of the notification and the appropriate segment or segments of the campus community who receive the notification will be determined by the Clemson University Chief of Police or designee after consultation with any and all other appropriate campus officials. One or more of the following notification systems may be used:

- The campus exterior sirens with audio messages
- The Integrated Public Alert and Warning System (IPAWS-OPEN) is an IP-based network that has integrated the different emergency alert systems of the United States. Its purpose is to connect alert originators to a server, which then aggregates and disseminates alerts to the proper systems. IPAWS-OPEN messages all parties within range of area cellular towers irrespective of whether the parties have signed up to receive these messages
- Code Red, Reverse 911 sends emergency notifications to parties that have signed up for this service
- The CU Safe Alert system, which includes a brief message sent to students' and employees' email addresses, registered cellular devices and/or the CU Safety website
- Post information to the CU Safety Twitter account
- Follow-up information may be posted on the CU Safety website and in Timely Warnings or other Media Relations email publications
- Other notifications, as determined by appropriate authorities given the circumstances and the segments of campus who need to be notified. Clemson University Chief of Police or designee in consultation with Media Relations will determine if emergency information needs to be disseminated to the larger community via local media outlets or otherwise.
- Students and employees are automatically registered to receive text alerts when they verify their address and emergency contact information at the beginning of the semester or calendar year. To verify registration or to sign up to receive CU Safe Alerts on a mobile device, go to getrave.com/login/clemson.
- Members of the community can access safety information at clemson.edu/cusafety.
- The campus emergency notification systems are tested on a quarterly basis. These tests are normally unannounced. Safety siren tests in connection with Duke Energy take place annually and are announced. Housing evacuation drills take place every semester and are announced. A variety of other drills and exercises take place annually and vary each year. Examples include but are not limited to: tabletop exercises, discussion-based exercises, functional exercises and full-scale exercises/activities using the Homeland Security Exercise and Evaluation Program (HSEEP), designed for assessment and evaluation of emergency plans and capabilities all of which are conducted on an annual basis. HSEEP focuses on development of exercises around capabilities-based planning, the National Response Plan (NRP), the National Incident Management System (NIMS), the Universal Task List (UTL) and the Target Capabilities List (TCL) as established by the U.S. Federal Government. These tests may be announced or unannounced. In conjunction with at least one test annually, Clemson University will publicize its emergency response and evacuation procedures. More information concerning Emergency Notification and other Emergency Preparedness topics can be located at the following website: clemson.edu/cusafety/preparedness.

In determining whether an emergency exists and/or which emergency notifications are needed, the Clemson University Chief of Police or designee may consult with members of the Executive Leadership Team, the Crisis Management Team, Media Relations, Office of General Counsel, Environmental Health and Safety, Campus Security Authorities, Public Safety Officials, Building Security Coordinators or any other individuals relevant to the situation.

University Housing Security Policy

Policies governing access to University Housing facilities are determined by the type of accommodations to which the student is assigned. In University apartments, residents control access to their individual apartment units. In traditional residence halls, guests must be escorted by a resident host. The visitation policy can be found at housing.clemson.edu/new-students/contracts-policies/visitation-policies.

The Clemson University Police Department and University Housing are primarily responsible for overseeing the security in University residence halls and apartment communities. During the evening hours, the Clemson University Police Department supervises a Residential Housing Security Program, which frequently patrols and conducts live camera monitoring of on-campus residence halls and apartment communities. These personnel are assigned portable radios to maintain communication with the Clemson University Police Department's Communication Center.

Entry into all residence halls is monitored continuously by an electronic perimeter access system. Security for University Housing is further enhanced by the full-time, graduate level staff and resident assistants who live within all student housing areas. Staff is available to provide assistance 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Community desks are open from 8 a.m.–8 p.m. on Monday–Friday. During evenings and weekends, staff on-call information is available at community desks, at all times for assistance in case of emergencies. Every year, all student staff members are required to attend security and fire-safety training sessions. University Housing provides an on-call emergency responder 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The following University Housing regulations promote a safer residence hall environment:

- Residents who leave by locked security doors are responsible for leaving the doors in a locked position. If a resident props open any door, they may be held accountable to the terms of the housing contract and student code of conduct.
- Locks on room/apartment exterior doors are provided for security. Students are encouraged to use them. Students are advised to securely close and lock doors and windows whenever they go to bed and whenever they leave the residence hall room or apartment, even if just going away for a few minutes. Students are also prohibited from loaning out keys and are required to report a lost key immediately to the community desk.

During university break periods, additional precautions are recommended such as removing small portable items and closing curtains or shades. Any losses should be reported to the Clemson University Police Department.

- For personal safety, it is recommended that accessible ground floor windows be kept locked at all times.
- Lost or misplaced access cards should also be reported immediately so that they may be deactivated.

The provisions of this subsection related to any premises or property owned, operated or controlled by a private or public school, college, university, technical college or other postsecondary institution, do not apply to a person who is authorized to carry a concealed weapon (SC Code of Laws Title 23, Chapter 31, Article 4) when the weapon remains inside an attended or locked motor vehicle and is secured in a closed glove compartment, closed console, closed trunk or in a closed container secured by an integral fastener and transported in the luggage compartment of the vehicle.”

Definitions

The following definitions come from the Clemson University Anti-Harassment and Non-Discrimination policy and also apply to this policy:

1. Sexual Assault and/or Battery: Any attempted or actual act of nonconsensual sexual intercourse, cunnilingus, fellatio, anal intercourse or any intrusion, however slight, of any part of a person's body or of any other object into the oral, genital or anal openings of another person's body.

This includes forcible or non-forcible sex offenses under the uniform crime reporting system of the Federal Bureau of Investigation:

- Rape – The carnal knowledge of a person without the consent of the victim including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of their age or because of their temporary or permanent mental or physical incapacitation;
- Fondling – The touching of the private body parts of another person for the purpose of sexual gratification without the consent of the victim including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of their age or because of their temporary or permanent mental or physical incapacitation;
- Non-forcible sexual intercourse between persons who are related to each other within the degrees wherein marriage is prohibited by law;
- Non-forcible sexual intercourse with a person who is under the statutory age of consent (in South Carolina, the legal age of statutory consent is 16. However, individuals as young as 14 years old are able to consent to have sex with a partner who is 18 years old or younger).

2. Sexual Coercion: The act of using pressure through threats, alcohol or drugs, or force to have sexual contact with someone against their will. Persistent attempts to have sexual contact with someone who has already refused is a type of sexual coercion.

3. Sexual Misconduct: Any other nonconsensual conduct of a sexual nature including but not limited to fondling, kissing, groping, indecent exposure, sex-based cyber-harassment, peeping or other voyeurism, forcing others to view sexual activity, and/or the non-consensual photography, video or audio taping of sexual activity.

4. Dating/Relationship Violence: Dating/Relationship Violence is violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim where the existence of such relationship shall be determined by the victim based on consideration of a) the length of the relationship, b) the type of the relationship, and c) the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship. This includes sexual or physical abuse or the threat of such abuse.

5. Domestic Violence: A felony or misdemeanor crime of violence committed by:

- a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim;
- a person with whom the victim shares a child in common;
- a person who is cohabitating with or has cohabitated with the victim as a spouse or intimate partner.
- a person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction in which the crime of violence occurred; or
- any other person against an adult or youth victim who is protected from that person's acts under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction in which the crime of violence occurred.

6. Stalking: Stalking is defined as a course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to:

- fear for the person's safety or the safety of others; or
- suffer substantial emotional distress .

7. Consent: Every member of the University community should be aware that all sexual contact or behavior on the campus and/or occurring with a member of the University community must be consensual. Consent requires speech or conduct indicating a freely given, un-coerced agreement to engage in sexual contact. Consent may not be inferred from silence or passivity alone and a current or previous relationship is not sufficient to constitute consent. Consent may be withdrawn at any time prior to or during a specific sexual act by either person.

To be valid, the person giving consent must be physically and mentally able to:

- understand the circumstances and implication of the sexual act;
- make a reasoned decision concerning the sexual act; and
- communicate that decision in an unambiguous manner.

In the absence of mutually understandable words or actions, it is the responsibility of the initiator, or the person who wants to engage in the specific sexual activity, to make sure that they have the consent from their partner(s) prior to initiating sexual activity.

- Effective consent is active, not passive
- Effective consent to one form of sexual activity is not effective consent to other forms of sexual activity
- The person who is the object of sexual advances is not required to physically or otherwise resist
- Silence, previous sexual relationships or experiences, and/or a current relationship may not, in themselves, be taken to imply consent.

Inability to Consent – There is a number of factors which may limit or negate a person's ability to consent to a sexual act. These include but are not limited to age, impairment due to the influence of alcohol or drugs (illegal or prescription), an intellectual or other disability, a person's temporary or permanent mental or physical impairment, unconsciousness, fear and/or coercion. In order to find no consent under one of these circumstances, there must be a finding that the complainant was unable to consent and a finding that the respondent knew or had reason to know the complainant was unable to consent.

Intoxication of the respondent is not an excuse for failure to obtain consent or failure to know of the complainant's inability to consent.

The following definitions come from the South Carolina Code of Laws and are included in this policy statement to provide education and awareness of local jurisdiction definitions to the community:

¹Sexual Assault: While South Carolina Code of Laws does not define "Sexual Assault", it does define "Sexual Battery" as follows: "Sexual Battery" means sexual intercourse, cunnilingus, fellatio, anal intercourse or any intrusion, however slight, of any part of a person's body or of any object into the genital or anal openings of another person's body, except when such intrusion is accomplished for medically recognized treatment or diagnostic purposes (S.C. Code Ann. § 16-3-651).

²Stalking: "Stalking" means a pattern of words, whether verbal, written or electronic, or a pattern of conduct that serves no legitimate purpose and is intended to cause and does cause a targeted person, and would cause a reasonable person in the targeted person's position, to fear:

- death of the person or a member of their family,
- assault upon the person or a member of their family,
- bodily injury to the person or a member of their family,
- criminal sexual contact on the person or a member of their family,
- kidnapping of the person or a member of their family, or
- damage to the property of the person or a member of their family (S.C. Code Ann. § 16-3-1700).

³Domestic Violence: South Carolina Code of Laws states that it is unlawful to:

- cause physical harm or injury to a person's own household member, or
- offer or attempt to cause physical harm or injury to a person's own household member with apparent present ability under circumstances reasonably creating fear of imminent peril (S.C. Code Ann § 16-25-20).

“Household member” means:

- i. a spouse,
- ii. a former spouse,
- iii. persons who have a child in common, or
- iv. a male and female who are cohabiting or formerly have cohabited (S.C. Code Ann. § 16-25-10).

⁴Dating Violence: South Carolina Code of Laws does not define or have a statute associated with “Dating Violence.”

⁵Consent: South Carolina Code of Laws does not define or have a statute associated with “Consent.”

Education and Prevention Programs

Clemson University engages in comprehensive educational programming to prevent domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking. Educational programming consists of primary prevention and awareness programs for all incoming students and new employees and ongoing awareness and prevention campaigns for students and faculty that:

- Identifies domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking as prohibited conduct;
- Defines what behavior constitutes domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking;
- Defines what behavior and actions constitute consent in the State of South Carolina;
- Provides safe and positive options for bystander intervention that may be carried out by an individual to prevent harm or intervene when there is a risk of harm to another person other than the bystander;
- Provides information on risk reduction so that students and employees may recognize warning signs of abusive behavior and how to avoid potential risks;
- Provides primary prevention programs that aim to prevent violence before it occurs;
- Provides general information and University policies regarding sexual misconduct; and
- Provides University and area resources for victims of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking.

Clemson University offered comprehensive educational programs to promote awareness and to prevent domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking during the 2016–2017 academic year. A chart that provides training information is located on page 23.

The Office of Access & Equity provided Title IX training to individuals across campus including undergraduate students, graduate students, staff and faculty. This training was given to the following groups: University Athletics (including all football coaches and all head coaches), student athletes, International Affairs staff, police department personnel, University Band, Faculty Senate, Residential Life staff, Dean of Students staff, Campus Recreation staff, Hearing Board, Counseling and Psychological Services staff, Student Organizational presidents, student organizations, Women’s Commission, Women’s Commission Open Forum, Aspire facilitators, study abroad (faculty, staff and students), academic chairs and deans, new graduate students, math graduate students, graduate teaching assistants, physics and astronomy graduate students, CU 1100 tutor training for graduate students, tutor training for supplemental instructors, housing summer programs student staff, Biosciences Department (faculty and staff), libraries (faculty and staff), Administrative Council, Administrative Board Representatives.

1. The Aspire to Be Well Session was given to all new undergraduate students in fall 2016.

The Office of Access & Equity continued the online program Think About It to incoming first-year and Bridge students in fall of 2016. This course combines sexual assault and substance abuse prevention via a comprehensive harm-reduction model. A more condensed version of this training will be made available to returning undergraduate students, new and returning graduate students and employees.

Other educational programs for academic year 2016–2017 included:

- LawRoom – All new employees are required to complete an online prevention program covering information about sex discrimination, reporting sexual misconduct, how to assist victims of sexual assault, bystander intervention and how to recognize abusive relationships. This training focuses on sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking.
- All new undergraduate students and all graduate students are required to participate in an Aspire to Be Well Session, which is a 90-minute, peer-facilitated dialogue covering alcohol and other drug misuse, interpersonal violence and mental health awareness.
- Awareness raising events are offered during Campus Safety Month and Sexual Assault Awareness Month.
- Numerous Creative Inquiry courses provide academic credit to students to conduct research on interpersonal violence related issues.
- Office of Access & Equity and Clemson University Police Department will continue to provide additional training upon request and as needed.

Procedures for Reporting a Complaint and Adjudication of Complaints

Clemson University will respond to and investigate all claims of sexual harassment, sexual assault, domestic violence and stalking and will take steps to ensure that no retaliation will be taken against any person making a complaint or participating in the investigation process and that any person against whom an allegation is made is treated fairly. Reports should be made as soon as possible to enable the University to more effectively investigate the allegations.

There are three options for reporting complaints as described below. A criminal complaint and an on-campus complaint through the Office of Access & Equity or the Office of Community and Ethical Standards can be made simultaneously:

1. Criminal Reporting – If the alleged activity is a crime, a report should be made to the Clemson University Police Department or other appropriate law enforcement agency if the incident occurred off campus. Sexual assault, sexual battery and other forms of sexual violence/misconduct are criminal acts and Clemson University encourages victims to meet with police officers as soon as possible in order to receive prompt medical attention and allow officers to gather information in a timely manner. The sooner law enforcement becomes involved, the greater the likelihood of identifying, arresting and convicting the perpetrator. If a report is made to the Clemson University Police Department (CUPD), the department will provide an advocate to ensure that medical treatment and counseling services are offered, regardless of the person’s decision to pursue the matter criminally.

To make a report on campus, concerned persons should call 911 or 864-656-2222 immediately to reach the CUPD. Away from campus, concerned persons should call 911.

In addition to the criminal process or for complaints that are not violations of criminal law, the following on campus reporting options are available:

2. Alleged Perpetrator is a Student – If the alleged perpetrator is a Clemson University student, a complaint may be filed with the Office of Community and Ethical Standards (OCES), which is responsible for resolving student conduct issues, or they may report directly to the Title IX Coordinator. The Student Code of Conduct extends to incidents that occur on University property, at University-sponsored activities and off campus.

If after submitting a complaint to OCES the complainant decides not to go through the student complaint process, the matter will be referred to the Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Access and Equity for further review.

Contact information for OCES is 912 University Union, telephone: 864-656-0510. Student complaint procedures can be found in the Student Code of Conduct at: clemsun.edu/administration/student-affairs/student-handbook/code-of-conduct/student-conduct.html.

3. Alleged Perpetrator is an Employee (faculty or staff) or other Non-Student – If the alleged perpetrator is a Clemson University employee (faculty or staff), visitor to campus or other non-student, a complaint of harassment/discrimination may be filed with the Office of Access and Equity (A&E).

A&E is the office of the University’s Title IX Coordinator.

Contact information for A&E is 110 Holtzendorff Hall, telephone: 864-656-3181 (voice) or 864-656-0899 (TDD).

A&E complaint procedures can be found at: clemsun.edu/campus-life/campus-services/access/procedure.html.

Adjudication of Complaints by the Office of Community and Ethical Standards or the Office of Access and Equity

The complaint processes will include a prompt, fair and impartial investigation and resolution. In regards to the process, the following will apply.

- Students may file Title IX Complaints with A&E or OCES.
- Employees may file Title IX Complaints with A&E.
- The individual(s) accused of violating the Anti-Harassment and Non-Discrimination Policy will be given a written statement of the allegations made by the complainant.
- If warranted, the matter will be investigated, and the investigation shall include interviews with the parties, interviews with other witnesses as needed and a review of relevant documents, if appropriate.
- Both the complainant and the respondent may have an advisor present (the advisor can be an attorney) during any meetings with the investigator. However, the advisor is present solely to advise the party and not to ask or answer questions during the investigator’s fact finding process.
- The investigation shall be completed as promptly as possible. Generally, the investigations will be completed within 60 days of receipt of the complaint. However, complicated cases, absence of witness or other factors may result in longer investigations. At the conclusion of the investigation, any matter in which the Respondent is a student will be referred to OCES for adjudication in accordance with the Student Code of Conduct (clemsun.edu/studentaffairs/student-handbook/code-of-conduct). If the adjudication of the matter requires an administrative hearing, the parties will be given at least 5 days notice before any hearing is scheduled. However, if the Respondent has been suspended on an interim basis, the hearing will be held within 10 University working days. If an appeal is available, it must be filed within 5 businesses.
- The complainant and respondent will both be notified simultaneously, in writing, of the outcome of the process”. In the event the complainant is deceased, the next of kin will receive the notification.
- Where the Respondent is an employee, both parties will be notified of the following at the conclusion of the investigation:

- o Whether the alleged conduct occurred and whether it violated any Clemson University policy.
 - o Any sanctions imposed against the Respondent that directly relate to the Complainant.
 - o Any other steps taken to eliminate a hostile environment and to prevent its recurrence.
 - o If all witnesses identified by the parties were not interviewed and the reason they were not interviewed.
- Please note that when a complainant does not consent to the disclosure of their name or other identifiable information to the alleged perpetrator, the University’s ability to respond to the complaint may be limited

Medical Assistance/Preserving Evidence

After an incident of sexual violence, sexual assault, domestic violence or dating violence, the victim should consider seeking medical attention as soon as possible (Baptist Easley Hospital offers physical evidence recovery kit collection and access to forensic nurse examiners and sexual assault nurse practitioners – 200 Fleetwood Dr., Easley, SC 29649 864-442-7200. See page 19 for additional local hospital information). In South Carolina, evidence may be collected even if you choose not to make a report to law enforcement.

It is important that a victim of a sexual assault not bathe, douche, smoke, change clothing or clean the bed/linen/area where they were assaulted if the offense occurred within the past 96 hours so that evidence as may be necessary to the proof of criminal activity may be preserved. If victims of sexual assault do not opt for forensic evidence collection, health care providers can still treat injuries and take steps to address concerns of pregnancy and/or sexually transmitted disease. Victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, stalking and dating violence are encouraged to preserve evidence by saving text messages, instant messages, social networking pages, other communications and keeping pictures, logs or other copies of documents, if they have any, that would be useful to University hearing boards, investigators or police.

Although the University strongly encourages all members of its community to report violations of this policy to law enforcement, it is the victim’s choice whether or not to make such a report, and victims have the right to decline involvement of the police. Alesia Smith, Title IX Coordinator will assist any student or employee victim with notifying local police if they so desire. Alesia Smith may be reached during regular business hours at 864-656-3181 or alesias@clemsun.edu. Mrs. Smith’s office is located at 110 Holtzendorff Hall. The Clemson University Police Department (CUPD) can be reached directly by calling 911 or 864-656-2222. CUPD has a victim’s advocate who can be reached at 864 656-5251.

Victim’s advocates in the applicable local jurisdiction can assist victims with obtaining restraining orders, or other orders of protection, even if a criminal complaint is not filed.

Law Enforcement Agency	Victim Advocate	Non-emergency line
Clemson City Police Department	864-624-2012	864-624-2000
Pickens County Sheriff’s Office	864-898-5634	864-898-5500
Oconee County Sheriff’s Office	864-638-4247	864-638-4111
Anderson County Sheriff’s Office	864-222-3952 864-222-6656	864-260-4400
Greenville County Sheriff’s Office	864-467-4704	864-467-5300

As time passes, evidence may dissipate or become lost or unavailable, thereby making investigation, possible prosecution, disciplinary procedures or obtaining protection from abuse orders related to the incident more difficult. If a victim chooses not to make a complaint regarding an incident, they nevertheless should consider speaking with CUPD, or other law enforcement, to preserve evidence in the event the victim changes their mind.

Assistance for Victims: Rights and Options

Regardless of whether a victim elects to pursue a criminal complaint, the Clemson University Police Department, the Office of Community and Ethical Standards and the Office of Access & Equity will assist victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking by providing them with information about University policies and procedures, on and off campus resources, and other relevant information. In South Carolina, a crime victim has the following rights:

- To be treated with fairness, respect and dignity, and to be free from intimidation, harassment or abuse, throughout the criminal and juvenile justice process, and informed of the victim's constitutional rights provided by statute
- To be reasonably informed when the accused or convicted person is arrested, released from custody or has escaped
- To be informed of and present at any criminal proceedings that are dispositive of the charges where the defendant has the right to be present
- To be reasonably informed of, and be allowed to, submit either a written or oral statement at all hearings affecting bond or bail
- To be heard at any proceeding involving a post-arrest release decision, a plea or sentencing
- To be reasonably protected from the accused or persons acting on their behalf throughout the criminal justice process
- To confer with the prosecution after the crime against the victim has been charged, before the trial or before any disposition and informed of the disposition
- To have reasonable access after the conclusion of the criminal investigation to all documents relating to the crime against the victim before trial
- To receive prompt and full restitution from the person or persons convicted of the criminal conduct that caused the victim's loss or injury, including both adult and juvenile offenders
- To be informed of any proceeding when any post-conviction action is being considered and be present at any post-conviction hearing involving a post-conviction release decision
- To have a reasonable disposition and prompt and final conclusion of the case
- To have all rules governing criminal procedure and the admissibility of evidence in all criminal proceedings protect victims' rights and have these rules subject to amendment or repeal by the legislature to ensure protection of these rights

Furthermore, Clemson University Police Department complies with the SC Protection from Domestic Abuse Act in recognizing orders of protection. For example, any person who obtains an order of protection from South Carolina, or any other United States territory or state, should provide a copy to CUPD when possible. A complainant may then meet with CUPD (with assistance from the Office of Advocacy and Success and/or Human Resources as needed) to develop a Safety Action Plan, which is a plan for campus police and the victim to reduce their risk of harm while on campus or coming and going from campus. This plan may include, but is not limited to: escorts, special parking arrangements, changing classroom location or work assignment location, etc. Protection from abuse orders may be available through Pickens County Family Court or the Family Court of the appropriate jurisdiction where the domestic abuse occurred. Restraining orders may be available through Magistrates Court of the appropriate jurisdiction where the domestic abuse occurred. The Magistrates Court closest to Clemson University is Pickens County Magistrates Court located at 216 C. David Stone Rd., Pickens, SC 29671, 864-898-5592.

To the extent possible given the victims' cooperation and consent, University offices (including but not limited to the Office of Advocacy and Success, Dean of Undergraduate Studies, Dean of Graduate Studies, Human Resources, Redfern, CAPS, CUPD, Access & Equity, Office of Community and Ethical Standards etc.) will work cooperatively to ensure that the complainant's health, physical safety, work and academic status are protected, pending the outcome of a formal University investigation of the complaint. For example, if reasonably available, a complainant may be offered changes to academic, living or working situations in addition to counseling, health services and assistance in notifying appropriate local law enforcement.

Additionally, personal identifiable information about the victim will be treated confidential to the extent permitted by law. Internally, Clemson University will only share information with persons with a specific need to know who are participating in the investigation and/or adjudication of the complaint or delivering resources or support services to the complainant. The University does not publish the name of crime victims nor house identifiable information regarding victims in the CUPD Daily Crime Log or online. Student victims may request that their directory information (address, phone number, email address and other types of directory information as defined in the Clemson University Notification of Rights under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)) not be disclosed by picking up, completing and returning a directory information suppress form to Registration Services, located in E-206 Martin Hall. If you have any questions about the form, please contact Registration Services at 864-656-2305.

Confidentiality

The University recognizes that a complainant may desire confidentiality and may request that the University not investigate or pursue resolution of an allegation of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking. In such cases, the University will maintain confidentiality to the extent permitted by law and other safety and welfare considerations. However, the University may determine that it must investigate and pursue resolution of a report and take whatever measures it deems necessary in response to an allegation of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking in order to protect the rights, interests and personal safety of the Clemson community. As such, the University may have to disclose the allegation and the identity of the complainant to the accused, other University officials and others (to implement interim measures) as appropriate. Nevertheless, we will only share information on a limited basis and will keep information confidential to the extent permitted by law.

Confidentiality and Allegations of Sexual Violence

If a complainant alleging sexual violence requests that their name not be revealed to the alleged perpetrator or asks that the school not investigate or seek action against the alleged perpetrator, the complainant must understand that honoring this request may severely limit the ability to fully respond to the complaint, including pursuing disciplinary action against the alleged perpetrator. All such requests will be referred to and reviewed by the Title IX Coordinator. A range of factors will be considered in evaluating these requests including but not limited to:

- whether there have been other sexual violence complaints about the Respondent;
- whether the Respondent threatened further violence against the Complainant or others;
- whether the alleged sexual violence was perpetrated with a weapon;
- whether the school possesses other means to obtain relevant evidence (e.g. security cameras, witnesses, physical evidence etc.)

If a complainant wishes to speak to a confidential resource, the following resources are available:

A. Counseling and Psychological Services: Student victims of sexual violence can seek confidential crisis counseling services through Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS). During normal business hours, CAPS can be contacted by calling 864-656-2451. After hours and on weekends, CAPS can be contacted by calling 864-656-2222, asking for the CAPS on-call counselor.

B. Employee Assistance Program: The Office of Human Resources offers confidential, professional referral assistance to faculty and staff by contacting the Employee Assistance Program at 864-656-3360 or 864-656-2726.

C. All victims of sexual violence may seek crisis-counseling services through the Pickens County Advocacy Center at 864-442-5500.

The University provides many other non-confidential resources to students who have been victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking. Although the University encourages all students to seek help by means of speaking to someone, it is important to keep in mind that the University is required by law to review and attempt to resolve any allegation of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking that is reported to any University official with the exception of those receiving parties that are confidential resources.

The University also has a duty to report allegations of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking to the Clemson University Police Department for federal statistical reporting purposes (as dictated by the Clery Act). All personally identifiable information is not disclosed, but statistical information must be reported regarding the type of incident and its general location (on- or off-campus, in the surrounding area, but no addresses are given) for publication in the annual Security and Fire Safety Report. This report helps to provide the community with a clear picture of the extent and nature of campus crime to ensure greater community safety.

Sanctions and Interim Measures

Persons found to be in violation of the Clemson University Anti-Harassment and Non-Discrimination policy, which includes sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking, will be subject to immediate and appropriate disciplinary action, proportional to the seriousness of the offense. In cases involving violations by students, sanctions will be determined in accordance with the Student Code of Conduct. Possible sanctions include but are not limited to reprimand, disciplinary probation, suspension or dismissal. In cases involving violations by non-students, sanctions may include but are not limited to: oral or written reprimand, reassignment, demotion, suspension or termination of employment and/or removal from campus.

The following interim measures may be implemented by the University in Responding to Harassment/Discrimination Complaints:

What Happens When a Campus Sexual Assault is Reported to the Clemson University Police?

When you notify Clemson University Police of a campus sexual assault, the following will occur:

- A police officer will come to your location to help you obtain emergency medical treatment, ensure your safety and obtain a description of the suspect. They will ask you for the location and time of the assault, a description of the assailant and a description of your injuries
- The case will be assigned to the Clemson University Police Department's Investigations Division. All investigators of this Division have been trained in the investigation of sexual offenses and the crime's impact on the victim. These investigators will approach each case in a sensitive manner
- Clemson University Police will request a medical examination to ensure that you have suffered no physical injury and so that a medical report can be completed for use in a court proceeding if charges are pressed. You will be examined by a trained sexual assault specialist
- You will be interviewed (you may request the gender of the officer). If you have asked a friend or counselor for support, they can be with you at this time
- A report of the incident will be referred to the Title IX Coordinator and the Office of Community and Ethical Standards. If the suspect is a Clemson student, disciplinary action may be initiated

When you report a campus rape, you are not making a commitment to file charges or testify in court. By reporting the matter to the Clemson University Police, you can be assured of immediate physical protection and transportation to a medical facility.

For information about support services available to victims of sexual assault, please reference the Counseling and Support Services section of this report.

Missing Student Policy

Clemson University Missing Student Notification Policy

The purpose of this policy is to establish procedures for the Clemson University community regarding the reporting, investigation and required emergency notification when a student residing in on-campus housing is determined to be missing (see 20 USCA section 1092; 34 CFR 668.46(h)).

This policy applies to residential students. For purposes of this policy, a residential student is a currently enrolled student who resides in University-owned, on-campus housing under a housing contract.

Identifying a Contact Person

All Clemson University students applying for on-campus housing will have the option (at the time the student completes the University Housing Application) of identifying an individual to be contacted by Clemson University within 24 hours of a determination being made that the student is missing in accordance with this policy. This contact information will be registered confidentially and will not be disclosed externally except to law enforcement personnel in furtherance of a missing person investigation.

If a residential student is under 18 years of age and not an emancipated minor, Clemson University is required to notify a custodial parent or guardian within 24 hours of the determination that the student is missing, in addition to notifying any other contact person designated by the student.

Procedure for Identifying a Missing Student

If a member of the University community has reason to believe a residential student is missing, they should immediately report this information to the Clemson University Police Department at 911 or 864-656-2222.

The Clemson University Police Department, upon receipt of a report of a possible missing residential student, will immediately initiate a missing person investigation. If the Clemson University Police Department determines that a student is missing, the Clemson University Police Department will take the following actions.

- If the student has designated a contact person, the Clemson University Police Department will notify that contact person within 24 hours of the determination that the student is missing
- If the student is under 18 years of age and is not an emancipated minor, Clemson University Police Department will notify the student's custodial parent or guardian and any other designated contact person within 24 hours of the determination that the student is missing
- Regardless of whether the student has identified a contact person, if they are above the age of 18 or are an emancipated minor, the Clemson

University Police Department will inform any other law enforcement agencies that have jurisdiction in the area within 24 hours of the determination that the student is missing. Clemson University Police Department and any other appropriate law enforcement agencies will continue to investigate the missing person report

Nothing in this policy restricts Clemson University from making notifications earlier than noted above if deemed appropriate under the circumstances. Nothing in this policy restricts Clemson University from contacting other individuals if deemed necessary to prevent harm to a student or others, necessary to the investigation, or otherwise appropriate under the circumstances.

Fire Safety Policies

Reporting a Fire

Members of the Clemson University community should report all fires by calling 911 or 864-656-2222. If you are off campus, call 911 or the local fire department.

Fire Safety System

The following is a description of each on-campus student housing facility fire safety system, including the fire sprinkler system.

All residential areas (residence halls and apartments) are equipped with sprinklers and life safety systems with the exception of Thornhill Village (an on-campus single story, duplex community). The systems are all automatic sprinkler systems that are electronically monitored 24 hours, seven days a week by the Clemson University Police Department. The Residential Facilities Office has three NICET certified technicians on staff. These three technicians – one Level One, one Level Two and one Level Three – who perform the routine inspections, testing and maintenance of the sprinkler systems. An outside contractor provides the inspection and testing of the alarm systems (electrical) as well as the fire extinguishers.

Each residence hall (but none of the apartment areas) is equipped with an emergency generator that is designed to operate immediately once there is a loss of power and the routine testing of the generators is performed by Residential Facilities. The generators provide power for emergency lighting and the fire protection equipment in the event of a power failure.

All residence hall kitchens are equipped with an ABC fire extinguisher. All on-campus apartment communities are also equipped with an ABC fire extinguisher in the kitchen area.

To see the number of regular mandatory supervised fire drills, find the attached 2016 Clemson University Fire Protection Matrix for On-Campus Housing Facilities.

Clemson University has several policies or rules on portable electrical appliances, smoking and open flames (such as candles), procedures for evacuation and policies regarding fire safety education and training programs that are provided to students, faculty and staff.

Cooking and Food Preparation

Residence Halls — The ability to cook and prepare food in residence halls is very limited. Residents may prepare food in the hall kitchen areas.

Microwave Ovens — Microwave ovens are allowed in hall kitchens only. Cooking in rooms/suites is limited to what can be prepared in a Microfridge. Microfridges, a combination microwave/refrigerator (Microfridge), are available for rent through a program sponsored by Student Government. Any residence hall resident who possesses or uses in their room any cooking device other than a Microfridge will be required to remove the appliance. Students may alternately have a refrigerator in their room if it is 3.6 cubic feet or smaller. Students in residence halls may use coffee makers and Keurig machines. These appliances must be plugged directly into wall outlets; extension cords are prohibited for use with these appliances.

Apartments — Most normal kitchen appliances, including microwave ovens, may be used in apartment kitchens. These include George Foreman grills, Panini presses, coffee makers and Keurig machines, blenders, slow cookers and toasters (not toaster ovens).

Grills — Grills (charcoal or propane), propane gas tanks and gas or charcoal grill supplies cannot be stored inside or outside, in any campus residential area, including apartments.

Electrical Equipment

Residents may not alter or repair any electrical equipment or fixture provided by the University. Defects in electrical equipment or wiring should be reported to the Residential Facilities Office by calling 864-656-5450. If more than two appliances with a cumulative wattage of more than 1,500 watts are plugged into a single wall outlet, a U.L.-approved power strip with a built-in circuit breaker must be used. If the power strip is approved for multi-outlet use, then two power strips per wall outlet may be used, allowing four power strips per room. Extension cords shall not be used in succession or in conjunction with power strips. Extension cords shall not be used as a substitute for permanent wiring. Space heaters, window air conditioner units, ceiling fans and similar items are prohibited.

Firearms, Explosives, Fireworks and Flammable Materials

The possession, storage or use of firearms, ammunition, bows and arrows, paintball guns, slingshots, explosives, fireworks, candles, halogen lamps, incense, dangerous chemical mixtures, propelled missiles or similar items are prohibited. Persons authorized to carry a concealed weapon per South Carolina Code of Laws section 23-31-205 are not permitted to possess a concealed weapon in an on-campus residential facility.

Fire Evacuation

Evacuation of University buildings is mandatory when a fire alarm sounds. Residents should follow posted evacuation plans/routes. Sounding of false fire alarms or tampering with fire-fighting or safety equipment, including fire extinguishers, fire sprinklers and connecting pipes, EXIT signs and the alarm system are prohibited. Anyone violating this policy will be responsible for any costs associated with tampering and/or damage to fire safety equipment.

Smoking

Smoking is prohibited in all University housing facilities.

Window Treatments

All curtains, decorations or displays used in windows must be made of fire resistant materials.

Additional Fire Safety Information Provided to Students in On-Campus Housing

Fire safety in a residence hall or apartment is everyone's responsibility. It is important that everyone not only follow fire safety procedures but report all violations or fire hazards to the Resident Assistant immediately.

- Smoke only in designated areas
- Turn off electric blankets, irons, lamps and curling irons right after use
- Never cover lamps with any material for any reason
- Candles and other open flame devices are not allowed in residence halls or apartments (not even for decoration)
- Halogen lamps are not permitted in residence halls or apartments
- Check the smoke detectors weekly. Go to residence hall and apartment front desk for replacement batteries. Check the fire extinguisher
- Keep hallways and exit paths clear at all times
- Do not overload circuits by plugging too many appliances into one outlet. If two or more appliances with a combined wattage of more than 1,500 watts are used, use an Underwriter Laboratory approved power strip with a built-in circuit breaker (15 amps or less)
- Extension cords shall not be used as a substitute for permanent wiring
- Extension cords must not be used in succession or in conjunction with power strips
- If a fire is observed, immediately move to a safe area, and call 911 to report the fire
- If clothing catches on fire, drop to the floor and roll back and forth until the flame is out
- ALWAYS take fire alarms seriously, and leave the building by assigned routes
- Gas grills may not be used or stored in any residential area (including apartments)
- All curtains, decorations or displays used in windows must be made of fire resistant materials
- Do not tamper with or remove any fire detection device, and do not hang anything from a sprinkler head

The following is a summary of staff and student employee fire safety training:

1. All full-time employees are required to complete fire extinguisher training annually.
2. Graduate Staff training includes a session with the Clemson University Fire Department. Learning outcomes include the ability to:
 - understand and learn expectations regarding room inspection checklists,
 - recognize fire hazards,
 - know how to conduct fire drills,
 - know when and how to call the Clemson University Fire Department,
 - understand how to properly inspect equipment such as fire extinguishers,
 - view video related to residence hall fire safety,
 - understand their role in residence hall fire prevention and evacuation,
 - learn the correct P.A.S.S. method of putting out a fire with a fire extinguisher.
3. Resident Assistant training includes a session with the Clemson University Fire Department. Learning outcomes include the ability to:
 - know when and how to call the Clemson University Fire Department,
 - know how to properly inspect equipment such as fire extinguishers,
 - view video related to residence hall fire safety,

- understand their role in residence hall fire prevention and evacuation,
- learn the correct P.A.S.S. method of putting out a fire with a fire extinguisher.

Resident Assistants review procedures with their residents at the first floor meeting that includes fire safety and when/how to exit the building in an emergency. Fire drills are conducted at the start of each semester in coordination with the Clemson University Fire Department. The Clemson University Fire Department will meet with each student who has identified himself or herself as having special mobility needs to discuss their needs and establish a plan of action in case of an emergency.

An employee of University Housing conducts a fire safety inspection of all rooms in their area, once a semester. This information is compiled and forwarded to the Clemson University Fire Department. Information in the report includes building, room, violation/concern, action, violation/concern corrected and who followed up on the matter.

4. University Housing Summer Programs student staff members participate in two hours of residence hall safety training each summer. The students rotate through two separate sessions: Residence Hall Fire Safety 101 and Residence Hall Safety (provided by the Clemson University Police Department and the Clemson University Fire Department). Each session focuses on specific issues that could affect staff and participants while living in the residence halls during summer camps.

5. For future plans if deemed appropriate by the institution, see attached Clemson University Fire Protection Five-Year Future Upgrade Matrix.
