Biographical Information:

Founded by Edward B. Haines (1849-1911) in 1890, the Paterson Evening News has been one of Paterson's leading newspapers for the majority of the 20th century. In 1911, Edward's son, Harry B. Haines (1883-1972), the newspaper's longtime publisher and the city's renowned civic leader, took over the family business, and remained the paper's publisher until his death in 1972. Harry's son, Edward (1910-1984), also had a long history of association with the paper.

The Paterson Evening News remained a Paterson newsstand mainstay until 1980, when it merged with the Paterson News and Call, becoming The News.

Archival History:

The collection consists of a large portion of the Paterson Evening News photographic archive. Several years after the paper has finished its run, the photographic archive was donated to the Passaic County Historical Society. Unfortunately, many of the images have been removed from the archive prior to its acquisition by the PCHS; as a result, the archive suffers from a noticeable absence of the images of many high-profile politicians and celebrities of the 1950s and 1960s that were certain to have received substantial media coverage at the time, such as Elvis Presley, John F. Kennedy, and The Beatles. Nevertheless, the remaining sixteen thousand photographs offer an invaluable look at the history of the County of Passaic and the state of New Jersey, and give a unique insight into the political and cultural life of the 1950s and 1960s.

Scope Note and Content:

The Paterson Evening News Collection contains photographs by the staff and various freelance photographers and photo studios, covering a wide spectrum of local, as well national and international, subjects and events. Categories include local, state, and national politics; foreign dignitaries and distinguished visitors; arts and entertainment; exhibitions; clubs and organizations; industry; agriculture; business and commerce; holidays and parades; awards, honors, and dedications; charities, foundations, and fundraisers; dinners and social outings; contest and pageants; local government and municipal management; law enforcement; fire departments; judicial system; hospitals and healthcare; public history and education; schools and colleges; churches and temples; clergy and religion; marching bands; grand openings and groundbreakings; funerals, vigils, memorials and tributes; crimes and misdemeanors; mug shots; disasters and emergencies; traffic accidents; construction and development; streets and roadways; nature and environment; hunting and fishing; architecture; sports; Scouts and youth organizations, along with a variety of other assorted subjects.

The archive features several images of international stars of sports and screen, such as Gregory Peck, Muhammad Ali, Kirk Douglas, Richard Chamberlain, Sammy Davis Jr., and Rocky Marciano, as well as a large number of photographs that feature local and national politicians, for example, President Lyndon B. Johnson, New Jersey Governor Richard J. Hughes, US Senator Anthony Grossi, Congressman Charles Joelson, long-time Paterson mayor Frank X. Graves, Hawthorne mayor Louis Bay II, and Totowa mayor Samuel Cherba. Some notable oddities in the collection include a pencil sketch of a Soviet minister Anastas Mikoyan, and a mug shot of Malcolm X's assassin and Paterson native, Talmadge Hayer (Thomas Hagan.)

The archive's geography is not limited to Passaic County, reflecting on events and individuals in many other areas of the state of New Jersey, such as Bergen, Essex, Sussex, and Morris Counties. In addition to local Paterson coverage, the archive includes a multitude of images relating to many other New Jersey locations, including Butler, Clifton, Demarest, Englewood, East Rutherford, Fair Lawn, Fort Lee, Franklin Lakes, Garfield, Glen Rock, Haledon, Hawthorne, Ho-Ho-Kus, Jersey City, Kearny, Kinnelon, Lodi, Mahwah, Maywood, Montclair, Newark, North Haledon, Oakland, Packanack Lake, Passaic, Pequannock, Pine Lakes, Pompton Lakes, Pompton Plains, Prospect Park, Ramsey, Ridgewood, Ringwood, Riverview, Rochelle Park, Rutherford, Saddle Brook, Totowa, Wallington, Wanaque, Wayne, West Milford, and Wyckoff, among others.

The collection contains no negatives, and consists almost entirely of prints, with the exception of a handful of architectural drawings, sketches, event programs, and wire/teletype images. The overwhelming majority of the photographs are black-and-white prints of various sizes, mostly 8x10 and 5x8, but also including a large number of wallet size head shots of assorted dimensions, with less than a dozen 5x8 color prints mixed in.

Series:

This collection consists of 16,093 photographic images housed in 55 archival boxes in chronological order. The last box also contains miscellaneous items, such as several event programs, wire/teletype photos, and a small number of archival photographs from the earlier part of the 20th century.

The initial step on this project, which began in late May of 2012, was the physical organization of the collection. Upon its arrival into the PCHS' possession, the collection was in a state of utter disarray. The Society had undertaken several attempts at organizing and digitizing the collection, but no significant progress has been made until the most recent effort. Presently, the collection is organized in chronological order, both physically and digitally. To prevent damage and deterioration, each photograph has been placed in a plastic protective sleeve after it has been scanned. In order to create uniformity, the storage of the photographs has been standardized, with each of the 55 storage boxes housing 5 folders of 50 sleeves each.

Chronologically, the collection ranges from late 1940s to 1970s, with most of the collection representing the period between 1954 through 1968; the accession/ID numbers are assigned to the individual images accordingly in ascending order. The miscellaneous older archival photographs that do not relate chronologically to the main body of the collection, along with the wire photos and programs/brochures, are placed in the last folders of the last storage box as appendices; likewise, they appear last in the digital version of the collection.
