KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Captain James A. Lovell, Jr.

The senior class officers of the Class of 2017 have selected Captain James A. Lovell, Jr., one of only 24 people to go to the moon and back, to address degree candidates during the winter commencement ceremony.

Lovell will also receive an honorary degree, a distinction that recognizes individuals with careers of extraordinary accomplishment. The Committee on Honorary Degrees selects recipients who have demonstrated sustained and meritorious service that exhibits values esteemed by a great university. Lovell was chosen for the honor last spring but was unable to accept the award at the spring ceremony. The stars have aligned for him to be at UW–Madison today.

Lovell was on two Gemini and two Apollo missions between 1965 and 1970. His book, Lost Moon: the Perilous Voyage of Apollo 13, was the basis of the Academy Award-winning movie, Apollo 13, in which he was portrayed by Tom Hanks. Lovell's leadership and ingenuity brought the spaceship safely back to Earth after a potentially fatal explosion.

Lovell graduated from Juneau High School in Milwaukee and attended the University of Wisconsin–Madison for two years. He participated in the university's Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps before he was accepted to the United States Naval Academy, where he graduated with a bachelor of science degree in 1952.

When he retired as an astronaut in 1973, Lovell had logged 715 hours in space and 330 earth orbits. He has run several businesses since then, and found time to make contributions in the spirit of the Wisconsin Idea through work with the Council for Physical Fitness and Sports, the National Eagle Scout Association, and the Astronaut Scholarship Foundation, among others. He has been honored with awards including the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the Congressional Space Medal of Honor, two Navy Distinguished Flying Crosses, the Laureate of the Order of Lincoln (Illinois' highest honor), and the University of Wisconsin–Madison Distinguished Alumni Award.

Lovell regularly gives talks about leadership and his experiences as a test pilot, astronaut, and businessman. He lives in Illinois with his wife, Marilyn; they have four children, 11 grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

CHANCELLOR

Rebecca M. Blank

Rebecca M. Blank became chancellor of the University of Wisconsin–Madison in July 2013. Since then, she has presided over a major effort to expand and improve educational opportunities, both inside and outside of the classroom, to better prepare students to succeed in a rapidly changing economy. At the same time, she has worked to maintain the university’s position as a global leader in innovation and research and has emphasized the role of the university in nurturing entrepreneurship and driving economic development.

Blank is an internationally respected economist who has also spent time in Washington, D.C., working in three different administrations. Most recently, she served as Deputy Secretary and Acting Secretary of the U.S. Department of Commerce under President Obama.

She also brings strong academic credentials to the position of chancellor. She served as dean and professor of public policy and economics in the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy at the University of Michigan from 1999 to 2008. In her role as dean, she launched such innovations as interdisciplinary graduate programs and an undergraduate public policy major. Earlier in her career, she was a member of the faculty at Northwestern University and Princeton University.

A native Midwesterner, Blank earned an undergraduate degree in economics from the University of Minnesota and a doctoral degree in economics from MIT.

In 2015, Blank was awarded the Daniel Patrick Moynihan Prize by the American Academy of Political and Social Science. The prize honors individuals who use sound analysis and social science research to inform public policy while also contributing to the public discourse on society’s most pressing issues.

Blank is a frequent speaker on the importance of public research universities. She has been part of a vital national conversation about how to keep these institutions financially stable and thriving.

Her leadership has reinforced UW–Madison’s position as one of the world’s top 25 universities—a center for education, discovery, and research, committed to sharing knowledge and innovation that improves lives in Wisconsin and around the globe.

PROVOST

Sarah C. Mangelsdorf

Sarah C. Mangelsdorf is the provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs at the University of Wisconsin–Madison. She began serving as provost in August 2014.

Mangelsdorf came to Madison after serving six years as the dean of the Judd A. and Marjorie Weinberg College of Arts and Sciences at Northwestern University, where she was also a member of the Department of Psychology. Prior to Northwestern, Mangelsdorf served from 2004 to 2008 as the Henry E. Preble Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign—the first woman to hold that position. She joined the University of Illinois Department of Psychology in 1991 and served as associate provost from 2001 to 2003 and head of the psychology department from 2003 to 2004. She previously served four years as an assistant professor of psychology at the University of Michigan.

Mangelsdorf's scholarship focuses on social and emotional development in infancy and early childhood, and she is the author of numerous articles in developmental psychology. At the University of Illinois, she was honored several times for her teaching. She won the Mabel Hohenboken Teaching Award in 1997 and the William Prokasy Teaching Award, the college's highest award for teaching, in 1998.

She has served on the editorial boards of five academic journals, including the editorial boards of Child Development and Infant Behavior and Development, and is a fellow of the American Psychological Association. She chaired the Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) Arts & Sciences Deans Group and serves as a trustee of the Erikson Institute in Chicago.

Mangelsdorf earned her undergraduate degree in psychology from Oberlin College in Ohio and her doctoral degree in child psychology from the University of Minnesota. In 2012, she received the Distinguished Alumni Achievement Award from the College of Education and Human Development at the University of Minnesota, and in 2013 she was named a fellow in the American Psychological Association (APA).

BOARD OF REGENTS

Regina M. Millner

University of Wisconsin System Regent Regina M. Millner, of Madison, Wisconsin, was elected president of the board in June 2015. She was first appointed to the board in 2012.

Millner's career as a lawyer and consultant in commercial real estate spans more than 30 years. She has served in leadership positions on the boards of many for-profit and not-for-profit corporations, including MGE Energy, CG Schmidt, the Wisconsin Alumni Association, the UW–Madison Athletic Board, the Wisconsin Real Estate Alumni Association, the Chazen Art Museum Council, and the Chancellor's Advisory Board. She is also very active in the Madison community, having served on the boards of the Rotary Club of Madison, Meriter Hospital and Health Services, Madison Symphony Orchestra, and the Madison Children's Museum, among others.

A proud Badger alumna, Millner earned her law degree from the University of Wisconsin Law School and her master's degree in real estate and urban land economics from the Wisconsin School of Business. She also earned an undergraduate degree in education from the University of Nebraska–Lincoln.

STUDENT KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Terrence Thurk

The Winter 2016 commencement ceremony marks the first time that the student keynote speaker was chosen via an audio or video submission. Prospective speakers submitted audio or video recordings of their remarks to the class officers and commencement staff for consideration.

Terrence Thurk, who will graduate with a major in mechanical engineering, showed a great sense of humor and an incredible passion for UW–Madison.

Thurk was born in Beijing and grew up with his grandmother in Baotou in northern China. At age 9, he came to the United States.

Engineering is a career, hobby, and passion for Thurk, and he hopes to bring about a better world through advancing technology. During his time on campus, he was a regional core leader in Students Today Leaders Forever, leading a group of more than 120 Badgers to serve in communities across America. Thurk strongly believes in the Wisconsin Idea and hopes to use his knowledge to empower others.

“UW–Madison has transformed me from a self-conscious and socially awkward freshman boy to a confident young man who is not only ready, but excited to tackle the challenges that lie ahead,” Thurk says. “As a student speaker, I want to give back to my classmates who have helped me grow so much here at the University of Wisconsin–Madison by encouraging my peers to consider their fear and anxiety of ‘starting life after college’ in a positive new way.”

WISCONSIN ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Martinez White

Martinez White is a 2010 graduate of UW–Madison and a member of the Wisconsin Alumni Association’s President’s Advisory Council.

A Milwaukee native, White studied communication arts (radio-TV-film) and Afro-American studies. Admitted to UW–Madison when he was 16 as a PEOPLE Program and Chancellor’s Scholar, he was the first in his family to attend college. During his undergraduate career, he lived and volunteered in Kenya with Alicia Keys’ “Keep A Child Alive” initiative. He considers his most significant accomplishment his debut documentary film THE MESSAGE: True Accounts of Diversity Efforts & Being A Black Student On A Majority White Campus, which has been seen by hundreds of current UW–Madison students and is viewable at UW’s Social Work library. As a member of the first intercollegiate Black Greek-Lettered Organization, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., and an advocate for youth empowerment, White says he has pledged his heart to “Scholarship, Manly Deeds, and Love For All Mankind.”

A former UW–Madison admissions counselor and recruiter for east coast territories, White recruited 1,500 students. Today he continues to wave the UW flag as a financial specialist at UW Credit Union.

Program Notes

The school and college flags used in today's ceremony were commissioned for this event by Chancellor Rebecca Blank. They are used in this and other similar ceremonies, including the Chancellor's Convocation for incoming students—the complementary celebration to Commencement in students' university careers.

The flags' background wave design reflects the university's location along Lake Mendota. Colors on each flag reflect the traditional academic colors for the courses of study within each school or college. The Graduate School, School of Education, and College of Letters & Science are multicolored, representing their varied disciplines. Flags also feature the year in which each school or college was founded, from 1848 for the Law School and School of Medicine and Public Health (authorized in the charter for the newly created university) to 1983 for the School of Veterinary Medicine.

Flag bearers in the opening procession were selected by the dean of each school and college to represent their fellow students:

The Senior Class Officers are comprised of two elected officers, the President and Vice President, and three selected officers, the Communications, Events, and Philanthropy Directors. Elections and interviews took place in the spring semester prior to the beginning of their service in the fall of their senior year.

Part of the Division of Student Life, the officers also partner with the Wisconsin Foundation and Alumni Association (WFAA) and the Office of the Chancellor. The Senior Class Officers plan spring and winter commencement as well as senior social events and senior week events in cooperation with WFAA.

Andre Hunter Jr., Senior Class President

From Chicago, Illinois, Hunter is the son of a first-generation college student and of a former public school teacher and public official. A political science major, with a certificate in entrepreneurship, he has served in all three branches of student government while on campus, including two terms as a representative and as the student body secretary during his freshman year. Hunter was voted “College Democrat of the Year” by the College Democrats State Federation, and founded a statewide alumni association of more than 300 members before being elected as statewide vice chair. He has interned for a number of political campaigns off campus and interned last summer for Suarez & Narvasa, a long-standing law firm in the Philippines. Besides his love of politics, Hunter enjoys traveling around the world as well as playing basketball and volleyball. Upon graduation, he will pursue a law degree and work toward his goal of a career in politics and law in the Philippines.

Martin Weiss, Senior Class Vice President

Weiss is the first member of his family to attend the University of Wisconsin–Madison. A history major who enjoys studying French, he is an Indianapolis, Indiana native and has enjoyed performing from a young age. As a freshman, Weiss was a member of the Wisconsin Singers, a group of traveling musical ambassadors for the university. As a sophomore, he was a standout performer in the annual variety show Humorology, receiving the award for best male performer. He is active on the UW Chabad student board, a Jewish student life group. Weiss is also a recipient of the outstanding member of the Greek community award and is a proud brother of the Zeta Beta Tau fraternity. He spent his junior year at the helm of the Humorology executive board, the largest student-run philanthropic event in the state of Wisconsin, raising more than $135,000 for local Dane County charities. He is thrilled at the opportunity to give back to the Badger community that has done so much for him.

Scott Bembenek,
Senior Class Communications
Director

Born in Milwaukee and raised in New Berlin, Wisconsin, Bembenek is a proud student of the School of Journalism and Mass Communication studying strategic communications and English with certificates in digital and European studies. He has spent time working as both a writer and member of the social media team at The Daily Cardinal, as well as writing for Souvenirs Magazine on campus. Bembenek enjoys traveling and while studying in Rome, Italy, he had the opportunity to volunteer in local high schools, which inspired him to get more involved at UW–Madison by volunteering with the Law School’s Family Court Clinic. He spent the past summer in Washington, D.C. as an intern at Points of Light, the world’s largest organization dedicated to volunteer service. While his immediate path upon graduation is still open, Bembenek hopes to pursue a career that is both personally enjoyable and has a positive impact on the community.

Akmal Hakim Hamid,
Senior Class Philanthropy
Director

Born and raised in Malaysia, Hamid is a marketing major in the Wisconsin School of Business. He has served as the finance director of TEDx UW–Madison, vice president of National Society of Collegiate Scholars, and president of Malaysian Islamic Students Association. Hamid also enjoys volunteering to help the homeless community in Madison and has worked with Habitat for Humanity, Muslim Students Association, and The River Food Pantry. He credits his parents, Chen Na and Syed Hamid Ali, for his interest in racial and political justice which got him actively involved in humanitarian efforts toward peace and understanding. Outside of class, Hamid owns a freelance photography business, enjoys hiking, and has a passion for rock music. He aspires to be a successful entrepreneur in the music industry before realizing his life dream as a social activist.

Haley Jo Kimmen,
Senior Class Events Director

Kimmen is from Hastings, Minnesota, and is majoring in legal studies and sociology while also earning a certificate in business. She is a member of the executive team of Love Your Melon–UW–Madison Campus Crew, a student-run organization dedicated to the fight against pediatric cancer. She volunteers in local hospitals with her crew and helps plan adventures for the tiny superheroes battling cancer. She also spends her time on campus working with the Center for Leadership & Involvement coordinating the Student Organization Fair each semester. After graduation, she plans to earn a master of science in commerce to pursue a career in marketing and brand management.

The University of Wisconsin–Madison

The University of Wisconsin–Madison and its alumni have a rich tradition of national and international leadership in teaching, research, entrepreneurship, and public service. We regularly rank near the top in research dollars and are rated among the strongest in the world in international reputation. And, as any visitor can readily attest, our beautiful lakeshore campus is considered to be among the nation’s most picturesque.

This university has existed for as long as Wisconsin has been a state, tracing its roots to a clause in the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin decreeing that the young state should have a prominent public university. In 1848, legislators passed a bill that formally created the University of Wisconsin. Its first class, with 17 students, met in Madison on February 5, 1849.

From these humble beginnings, the university has grown into a large, diverse community with more than 43,000 students representing every county in Wisconsin, 50 states, and 125 countries.

Across campus, the words “sifting and winnowing” often appear when describing UW–Madison’s intellectual life. They date back to an 1894 Board of Regents statement on academic freedom:

“Whatever may be the limitations which trammel inquiry elsewhere, we believe that the great state University of Wisconsin should ever encourage that continual and fearless sifting and winnowing by which alone the truth can be found.”

Inspired by this spirit, scholarly inquiry has fed a steady stream of discoveries. From vitamins, agricultural techniques, and wildlife ecology to stem cells, biofuels, and economic well-being, the university continues to foster ideas and research that change lives.

UW–Madison is the oldest and largest campus in the University of Wisconsin System. Its mission is to provide “a learning environment in which faculty, staff, and students can discover, examine critically, preserve, and transmit the knowledge, wisdom, and values that will help ensure the survival of this and future generations and improve the quality of life for all.”

The university strives to achieve these ends through the continual advancement of its teaching, research, and public service programs. Throughout its history, the university has sought to bring the power of learning into students’ daily lives through innovations such as residential learning communities and service learning courses.

We are motivated by the “Wisconsin Idea”—articulated a century ago as the principle that the university’s influence should benefit everyone in the state. Today, this principle has expanded to a global scale. The Wisconsin Idea continues to permeate everything we do, helping to forge close partnerships between faculty, staff, and students, and people, communities, and industries around the world.

Academic Attire

Formal academic attire is an important component of the pageantry of the commencement ceremony.

Gowns

Gowns represent the three principal levels of academic achievement. The bachelor's gown, symbolizing the first degree, is made of black material and has a closed front and long, pointed, open sleeves. Master's candidates wear a black gown with a closed front and long, closed sleeves. The gown worn by doctoral candidates has an open front with bell-shaped sleeves. Doctoral gowns are further embellished with velvet trim in the form of crossbars on the sleeves. These are generally black but may be colored to represent the profession or major field of interest. Some doctoral gowns are colored to represent the distinctive identity of a particular institution. The latter types of gowns are generally worn without the hood.

Hoods

Academic hoods are used as a further means of identifying the level of degree attainment. The bachelor's hood, worn only by those who have previously received a baccalaureate degree, is rather short with a narrow velvet edging the color of the appropriate discipline and a lining in the color of the institution—cardinal at Wisconsin. The master's hood is considerably longer, has a wider velvet edging and exposes more of the lining. Doctoral hoods have the widest velvet edging, wide panels at either side, greater length and a fully exposed lining.

Caps and Tassels

Candidates for the bachelor's degree wear the black mortarboard cap with tassels of their course color. The tassel is worn on the right side until the formal conferral of the degree. At that time, the tassel is moved from the right to the left side. Candidates for all higher degrees wear black mortarboard caps with black tassels on the left side. Some holders of degrees from other countries or institutions wear special hats which are distinctive to their degree. Graduates displaying the red and white philanthropy cord have chosen to make a financial gift commitment of support to the university.

Honors

Bachelor's degree candidates with distinctive scholastic achievement (the top 20 percent within the school or college) wear cardinal stoles over the fronts of their gowns. Bachelor's degree candidates participating in an honors program wear white stoles with cardinal bars. Law degree candidates who have been awarded the Dean's Academic Achievement Award are similarly distinguished by cardinal stoles.

UNDERGRADUATE DEGREE CANDIDATES

This list of undergraduate degree candidates was compiled from information available to the Office of the Registrar as of November 4, 2016 and should not be regarded as conclusive evidence of graduation or academic standing.

Selection as an honors candidate indicates participation in the honors program in the student's school or college and does not necessarily indicate fulfillment of the requirements for a degree with honors.

A student selected for distinctive scholastic achievement has completed a minimum of 60 credits at UW–Madison and has a cumulative grade-point average placing her/him within the top 20% of graduating students in the school or college.
