About this guide

Snacks listed in this guide have been selected because:

- They do not contain peanuts, tree nuts and eggs as ingredients;
- Their packaging list no warnings that these allergens may have been introduced during manufacturing;
- For many, we have verified the manufacturing and labeling practices via participation in the SnackSafely.com Manufacturer Partnership Initiative or with their respective manufacturer's consumer services by phone or e-mail;
- They are readily available at your local supermarket, health food store or direct from the manufacturer.

Items marked with a green  check mark are specifically marketed by their manufacturers to be free of these allergens, whether on their packaging, in promotional literature, on their website, or in writing to us. Items listed in boldface are from manufacturers that participate in our Partnership Initiative and disclose their manufacturing processes regarding 11 allergens directly to SnackSafely.com via our Manufacturers' Product Portal.
