MYP by Concept 4 & 5 titles are developed in cooperation with the International Baccalaureate®

The Middle Years Programme (MYP) is a challenging framework that encourages students to make practical connections between their studies and the real world. These resources drive meaningful inquiry through unique concept-driven narratives and support every aspect of assessment.

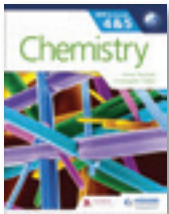

Throughout these books, the key concepts provide the touchstone for the statements of inquiry that frame each chapter. Students follow the inquiry questions as they are explored and unpacked through the topic.

What happens to EXAM PAPERS?

You're familiar with the first steps. You help your students prepare for their exams. They study, practice and review. They complete the exams and turn them in. Here's what happens next.

Exam papers are scanned, and electronic copies are made available for examiners worldwide.

1

Senior examiners review a wide range of exams to agree on a standard for how marks should be awarded.

2

Examiners undergo training, then begin marking exams.

Their marking is quality assured throughout the marking process.

3

Particular attention is paid to the work of candidates who sit on the grade boundaries, to make sure that the grade level is right.

4

Examiners review marks awarded by teachers for internal assessments, ensuring marks are in line with the global standard.

5

Results are finalized.

6

Candidates can access their results via the student portal.

Congratulations!

7

"The variety of exam prep materials we offer is extraordinary. Between Questionbank, guides and flashcards, we have the depth and breadth of what educators and students really require."
