About Your Sun Sign:

You were born with the Sun in Libra in the 2nd house.

The Sun signifies the type of work that gets you the most excited, energized, and fired up about life. It also describes the areas where you naturally shine and how you will gain the most enjoyment from the work you do.

As a Libra, you're skilled at harnessing your natural sense of charm to find a balance between opposing viewpoints. You love to create fairness and beauty in the world around you. You also easily understand others and can be especially good at building relationships & negotiating with others to get what you need or want.

As an Air sign, you're most interested in ideas & concepts. As a Cardinal Sign, you're a self-starter who enjoys initiating new ideas and ventures that can help others, whether you're hoping to make them feel more comfortable or simply creating a greater sense of harmony in your surroundings.

Your planetary ruler is Venus... the planet of love, money, beauty, pleasure, and harmony, so you're naturally attuned to all of the beauty you see around you and have a desire to remind others of all of the lovely, nice things in the world through art, music, social charm, or material things that can uplift your mood as well.

You need a career where you can be highly competitive, artistic, observant, and where you will be able to use your special skills to work closely with others. You would be a natural at any career related to public relations, customer service, music, beauty, the arts, acting, styling, design, politics, law, counseling, human resources, refereeing, architecture, marketing, or even advertising.

While you do often like to take the lead, it's also nice for you to have someone on your side to brainstorm with and bounce ideas off of. As a Libra, you are naturally built for marriage or a strong partnership in romance or business, but it's also important for you to learn to cultivate a strong sense of self-worth on your own as well.

Your life's best expression lies in the 2nd house of Love, Money & Values. This includes going after your goals and getting on track to getting what you want. The Sun shines brightest in you when you're seeking to enjoy these pleasures that life brings and share the things you love with others.

About Your Moon Sign:

You were born with the Moon in Virgo in the 1st house.

The Moon describes your inner emotional landscape and the type of conditions that are needed for you to feel the most comfortable and creative in your life & career.

With your Moon in Virgo, you tend to be rather analytical when dealing with your feelings and feel better when everything is planned out in advance. You are naturally skilled at improving or refining things around you to make them more useful, valuable, or concise. You especially have a strong need to feel like your life is well organized and structured or else you can feel a little lost.

The most important thing to know is that Virgo Moons have an innate need to serve others. You're likely to be quite happy working behind the scenes and providing a job well done. The trick is not to let others take advantage of you for it! Always be sure you are getting your fair share in return.

You will feel the best when you can find a career that allows you to focus on the details and have something tangible to show for your work. Your critical thinking skills would make you excellent at skilled manual labor like carpentry as well as editing, analysis, criticism, secretarial work, accounting, nutrition, medical work, healing, social work, or a job in the service industry as a waitress, caterer, or hotel manager. Overall, you like to know that what you will be doing each day helps others.

When you are not at your best, it's often because you are channeling the emotional nature of your opposite sign of Pisces instead of your own Moon Sign. This can result in getting in too deep with your emotions or being over-idealistic, flighty, flaky, or temperamental. It is better for you to analyze any emotional situations in your life objectively and logically plan out ways to overcome them as efficiently as possible.

Your emotional landscape is tied to your Identity & Persona. You make most of your decisions based on your intuition and how you believe your actions will be perceived by others. You hope to be well-liked yet still in charge of your own life, and it is important for you to express yourself in a way that is truly authentic to your deeper soul desires, and ideally, to be appreciated for this by others.

About Your Rising Sign:

Your Rising Sign, also known as your ‘Ascendant’ (AS), is the self you show to the world. Think of it this way: if your Sun reveals who you truly are at heart, your Rising Sign rules your physical, outward appearance and describes how others see you. This is also the work you’re meant to DO to discover your calling.

As a Leo Rising, your mission is to shine your light out into the world as far as possible. You were meant to lead, to be in charge, to stand out & be recognized, to stand up in front of a crowd, and be an inspiring example for others to follow - none of which are particularly hard for you, because you already do these things naturally.

Leo Risings ooze charisma & talent. They’re naturally creative and do well in careers where they can be in charge of their own self-image. The best careers for you would involve performing, teaching, training, managing, speaking, motivating, directing, or leading. You’re most comfortable in front of a crowd of people and easily command attention, which probably suits you very well, because you also love to have an audience. You also like to make your own schedules & routines, so a career that allows you the flexibility to be in control of your time and efforts is ideal.

It is also considered very lucky to act and dress like your Rising Sign as it helps you get into character in order to reach your potential. A Leo’s wardrobe includes anything golden, fiery, royal, or bold with lots of flair, or a big mane of hair.

As a personal brand, you want to aim to be known as a show stopper, with everything you do being especially creative, unique, or over the top in some wonderful way. You also want to aim to become known as a warm, generous, loyal, and confident person that others will truly enjoy being around, since what is a true performer without their raving audience?

Other famous Leo Rising include: Beyonce, Kirsten Dunst, Heidi Klum, Jennifer Lopez, Meryl Streep, Lena Dunham, Taylor Swift, Kate Moss, Reece Witherspoon

The Rising Sign always begins in the 1st house of your chart, which is related to your Identity & Sense of Self. Sometimes reading the horoscope for your Rising Sign will seem more accurate than your Sun Sign because the Rising Sign describes more of what you are actually consciously trying to do in the world.*

About Your Midheaven:

♊ GEMINI

Your Midheaven, as seen as MC on your chart, denotes your Career Line which begins at the 10th house. This axis point signifies your true calling or overarching mission in this lifetime. It's also known as the way you might do your job that is considered special or different from others in your field.

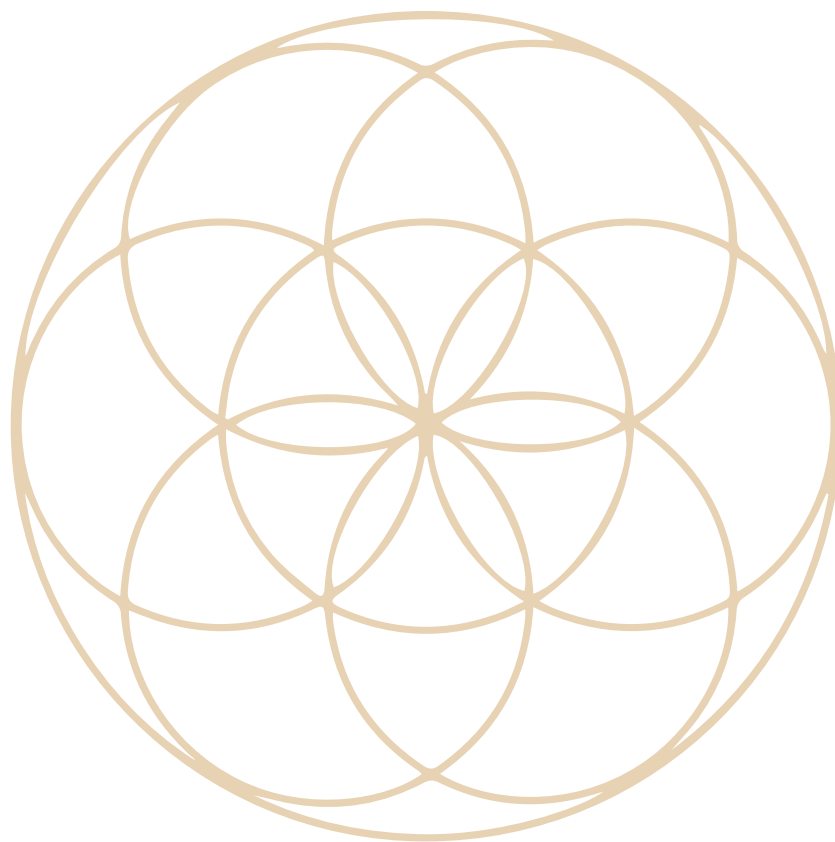

With your Midheaven in Gemini, you are meant to leave a legacy of spreading messages or ideas to help support others. With a love of learning and endless curiosity, you crave variety and sociability and are to become known as someone who is adaptable to many different situations. You'll do this by generating new ideas and continuously adding to your repertoire of knowledge wherever you go.

Those with Gemini as their Midheaven hope to become known as someone who is good with words, ideas, or messages, and can keep their calm as they work out logical solutions to problems. You can be quite skilled at communicating, teaching, writing, or mentoring others to break down complicated concepts in a way that is easier for others to understand.

You may have a lot of different projects going on at once or even just two separate focuses that you split your time between to keep life fun, exciting, and interesting for you and this ability to juggle many things at once can be inspiring for others to witness even if it may make for a seemingly scattered focus at times. This can make you a great multitasker, yet you may also crave to change things up often, always knowing when your time is done and it is time to move on to something new.

In terms of career options, you will thrive most on information and ideas in a field where you can communicate a message or share what's on your mind while getting out to talk to people and see many different places. You have a special affinity for careers related to ideas, words, or manual dexterity, and may even be an early adopter of new technology.

Other notes: Your Career Zone in Gemini shows that you are meant to become known as someone who is sociable and skilled at sharing good ideas for the purpose of helping others fuel their mind with interesting and intriguing information that opens up their view of the world.*

A Planetary Map of Your Inner & Outer Worlds

MERCURY in SCORPIO

With your Mercury in Scorpio, your communication style and thought patterns revolve around transforming your intriguing passions into reality and getting to the heart of the matter. You are very talented at seeing the truth in any situation and fearless about uncovering deeper subjects that others may be afraid to look at. You are probably not a very big fan of superficiality and your observational skills are unparalleled, making you a natural at any kind of detective, investigative, or research work. You may at times have trouble separating your emotions from your work.

Your Mercury falls in the 3rd house of Social Networking. You are naturally curious about others' thoughts and ideas and may enjoy bouncing ideas off of others as you work out the best way to do something.*

VENUS in VIRGO

With your Venus in Virgo, you value order, effort, practicality, devotion, and purity. Small details matter greatly to you whether in your appearance, a relationship, or work environment and you naturally seek to edit out anything in your life & career that is not helping contribute to the greater holistic vision of what you hope to create. Sometimes others may see this as being too critical, but your preferences are really quite simple and it can be hard for you to focus if anything feels off. Refinement and efficiency are especially attractive concepts to you.

MARS in SCORPIO

With your Mars in Scorpio, you are motivated by uncovering the deeper truth that has been hidden beneath the surface and have no trouble dealing with issues that others may find weird, taboo, or uncomfortable. You long to transform your deeper creative instincts out of the dark and into the light and love a good challenge because you have the ability to focus combined with a strong willpower to accomplish anything and may even enjoy testing yourself in this pursuit. You can also be very passionate, sensual, and magnetic when it comes to achieving your hidden desires.

JUPITER in VIRGO

With your Jupiter in Virgo, you grow the most in your life + career when you are paying close attention to small details to improve and streamline your life as well as the lives of others. You will be the luckiest when you are being of service by helping others with nutrition, health, or simply improving their everyday lives in simple and efficient ways. You will feel happiest when you have a solid sense of direction through goals and plans that motivate you to succeed and do your best work. Your perfectionist tendencies may make it difficult for you to take on too much at once, so it's important not to go overboard with too many detailed projects that you may have trouble keeping up with due to your desire to make things perfect.

Your Jupiter is placed in the 1st house of Self-Identity which shows that you will grow the most and find the most good fortune in your career when you are putting yourself out there as a good example for others to see, admire, or follow. The more work you put into your sense of self and putting yourself out there, the more excitement and abundance you can experience.*

SATURN in LIBRA

With your Saturn in Libra, the promise you made before you came into this life has to do with learning how to become more disciplined around bringing beauty, balance, and harmony to your environment whether through reciprocal relationships with others or by improving the appearance of your physical surroundings. Since Libra is an Air sign, this placement has a lot to do with being responsible for organizing your ideas in ways that are especially pleasing to yourself and others. You are meant to learn to develop a knack for seeking out the middle ground in both your life & work and to work on cultivating a more balanced, graceful, and refined outlook when dealing with difficult or chaotic situations (or people) to be seen as someone who is especially diplomatic and fair.

Your Saturn is placed in the 2nd house of Love, Money & Values which also shows that you are meant to become more disciplined and responsible in terms of going after your goals and doing the hard work that is required for you to achieve your greatest aims in life whatever they may be.*

URANUS in SCORPIO

With your Uranus in Scorpio, you stand out the most through your ability to probe any issue to discover the underlying problems that have caused this issue to occur. You may be radical about uncovering information that is normally hidden from the view of others as you are forceful and determined enough to overcome almost any obstacle that may be placed before you. Your spirit is unbreakable and determined and you may have incredible bursts of creative energy that will take you far, although you will most likely use unorthodox methods to help you get what you want.

NEPTUNE in SAGITTARIUS

You were born during the time period between 1970 - 1984 when societal ideals centered around discovering new experiences that could expand your intuitive senses and spirituality and allow you to reach an understanding of the meaning of life on a deeper level. Those born during this time are idealistic, love grand ideas, and may be very tolerant of others. You may prefer to focus upon one answer or one truth, yet acknowledging there may be more to an answer than black and white can allow you to become even more compassionate towards others. The challenge is not to become so blinded by your ideals or wishful thinking that you fail to see reality.

PLUTO in LIBRA

You were also born into a generation between 1971-1984 that was acutely aware of the need to bring peace and prosperity to the chaotic situations the world has found itself in. As a seeker of justice, you know all too well the hidden problems behind a great deal of social and worldly issues because you can easily see both sides in any situation. This makes it necessary for you to also take the time to step back and focus on the joy in your life instead of always trying to solve problems which may end up being exhausting or depressing. The best way for you to grow personally and to develop your character is to let go of the need to maintain a perfect balance in life and learn to go with the flow to embrace the love & beauty that already surrounds you.

Your South Node:

AQUARIUS

The South Node of the Moon describes your innate natural born gifts & talents as well as past karma that you have brought into this lifetime from previous incarnations.

With your South Node in Aquarius, you're especially skilled at thinking up new & innovative ideas and concepts that set you apart from the crowd in some way. You can also be good at helping your friends, community, or the people around you with your unique solutions to even the most unusual of problems.

However, in a previous lifetime, you may have gone a little bit overboard with developing these skills by using your progressive knowledge to separate yourself from others and stand out from the crowd in ways that did not benefit you in the long run. You may have been too preoccupied with moving society along with your intellectual theories of how things work rather than allowing yourself to participate in a fuller expression of your desires.

Your South Node in Aquarius also has to do with doing too much to try to please others in order to feel more like you belong to a group, inadvertently losing your own special voice amongst the crowd mentality. On the bright side, you are a natural humanitarian who strongly believes in equality, justice, and fairness, and contributing to furthering the important causes you believe in.

Overall, it's best for you to celebrate your innovative thinking and helpful attitude, but learn to leave the more self-sacrificing aspects of Aquarius behind in order to reach your highest potential.

One of our biggest life goals is to learn seek out balance between the South Node and the North Node. While the South Node describes your previous skills and past life karma, the North Node provides a way to counter-balance these energies and grow into a more well-rounded person by stepping outside your usual comfort zone.

Your North Node:

The North Node of the Moon describes the necessary future growth needed to take you towards your greatest potential. Aiming for this point will accelerate your learning and take you to new heights in your life + career much more quickly.

Compared to Aquarius, Leo is also eager to please others, however Leo is much more concerned with leading the way through their bold, courageous, bright and shining example rather than following along with a group.

While Aquarius tends to put much of their focus on sharing innovative knowledge to help society progress as a whole, Leo prefers to harness their own innate creative expression to show others what is possible when you can harness your gifts as an individual. Whereas Aquarius can easily get caught up in separately themselves from their feelings in order to think things through on a more intellectual level, Leo prefers to bring their whole self into everything they do as they openly follow their deepest passions and wear their heart on their sleeves.

No matter how foreign this sounds to you, this is the energy to step into over the course of your lifetime and channeling this into your career can be especially helpful and rewarding. Your goal is to learn to balance the strong energy from your past and learn to move...

- From Aquarius' analytical approach to life to Leo's heart approach
- From Aquarius' sense of altruism to Leo's ability to care for individuals
- From Aquarius' emotional aloofness to Leo's compassion
- From Aquarius' resistance to close relationships to Leo's longing for them
- From Aquarius' tendency to feel left out to Leo's desire to stand courageously in the spotlight

With your North Node in the 1st house of Self-Identity, you are meant to learn how to put more of your focus on yourself and your own growth & development rather than focusing so much on pleasing others or doing what other people might want you to do. This will bring you good fortune and many opportunities for growth.*

Your Soul Level Fascinations

CHIRON in TAURUS

With the "Wounded Healer" asteroid Chiron placed in your chart in Taurus, you may have had to deal with the pain of not being able to get something you really wanted or needed, whether in childhood or in a previous lifetime. Perhaps this was of a material, emotional, mental, or spiritual nature, but the general feeling you may carry is one of feeling unfulfilled or undernourished in some way. You are here to learn that you are worthy of receiving all that you want, need, and crave and that it is available to you at any time. Once you are able to overcome your feelings of lack, you may be able to help others heal similar wounds.

VESTA in LEO

With the "Devotion" asteroid Vesta in Leo, you are especially devoted to becoming a shining example for others to follow and admire so you can inspire them and show them that it is truly possible to succeed by doing what you love. You will work best in a creative arena where you can infuse your original ideas as you may have a great passion for self-expression and are full of enthusiasm and love. You can be incredibly generous in sharing your talents with others.

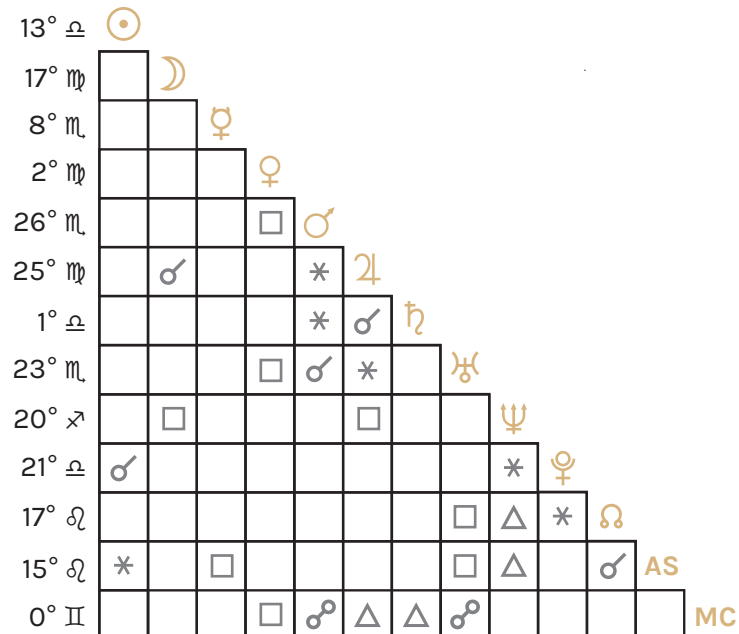

PALLAS ATHENA in TAURUS

The "Spiritual Awakening" asteroid, Pallas Athena, describes the type of things that make the world light up for you with pure magic. With Pallas Athena falling in Taurus, the world comes alive with magic & deeper understanding for you when you are able to go after what you really desire on a deeper level and bring it into being in tangible ways that bring a greater sense of balance, beauty, or stability into your life. Being able to give yourself what you truly want brings you excitement and wonder and you may also especially appreciate color, sound, form, texture, and things of an artistic nature that bring an extra special dose of beauty into your life.

What Makes You Especially Unique

{ OTHER NOTABLE CHART ASPECTS }

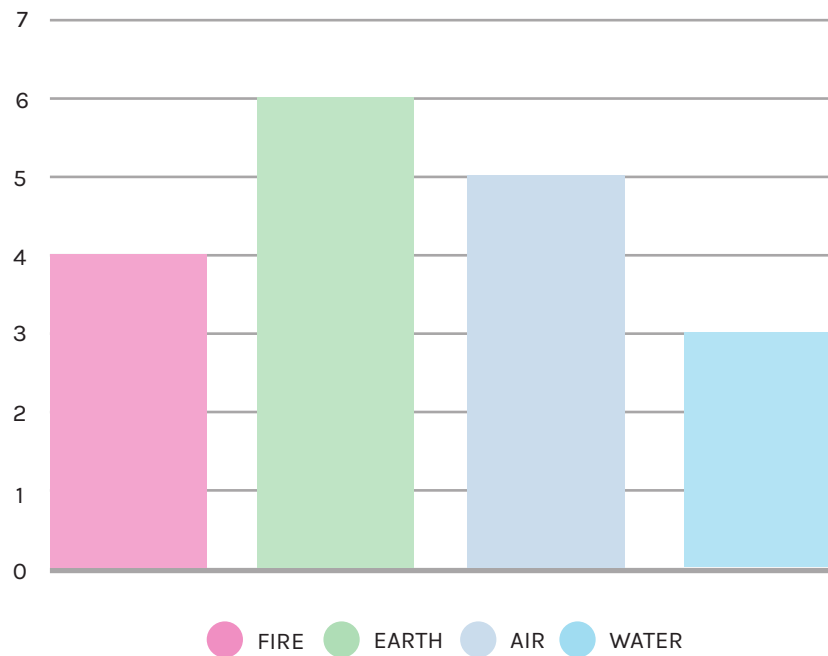

✧ Your Rising Sign, North Node of Destiny, and Vesta are closely aligned. Becoming more of your true self and devoting yourself towards your future as someone who is seen, admired, and appreciated as a role model or example of what is possible for others is a very important part of your calling. Although it may very well take you out of your usual comfort zone, the more you are able to bring this side out of you, the more confident you will become and normal it will begin to feel to do this.

✧ You have your Moon, Venus, Jupiter, and Lucky Star in your 1st house of Identity. How you are perceived by others is especially important to you and putting this work into your personal brand to become known for what you do on a greater level will bring you many benefits and opportunities for growth & fortune in your life and career.

✧ Mars is nearly aligned with your Uranus. You are determined to do things differently than others might do them within your network and this is what makes you special and stand out from the crowd.

✧ Mars and Uranus are opposite from your Career Line. Although you are meant to become known as someone who is open-minded and understanding of what others may be thinking or feeling, your rebellious side may sometimes take you away from this, so it is important to stand strong in your opinions but also be humble enough to concede that you don't always know all the answers and be open to hearing others' side of the story in order to serve them even better.

In Your Element

When it comes to the 4 elements...

EARTH - You have a very high concentration of Earth energy within your chart which gives you the ability to work hard towards your goals and practically and efficiently plan out the details to help you get where you want to go even when it may seem daunting.

AIR - You also have lots of Air energy which provides you with the capacity to share your ideas and communicate with others while being open-minded and perhaps also not quite as emotionally attached to your projects so you can think them through with a good dose of logic and intellect.

FIRE - You also have plenty of Fire energy which gives you the fuel to go after your greatest passions and follow your bliss wherever it may take you while also coming up with original ideas that may be influential for others.

WATER - You have the least Water energy in your chart which is the element of emotions, empathy, and intuition. You may, at times, have trouble with tapping into how you really feel and letting your feelings dictate your next moves so it can be helpful to do some introspection or journaling or meditation every once in a while so you can feel what you need to feel and let your emotions flow through you in a healthy manner.

Who You Work Best With

Fellow Air sign, Gemini, helps you keep things light, fun, and interesting as you charge towards your independent goals and provides the intellectual stimulation you crave.

Another fellow Air sign, Aquarius, reminds you to be open to others' ideas & knowledge and to turn your sights on helping others around you in unique and innovative ways.

Fire sign, Leo, greatly appreciates your flattery and reminds you not to be afraid to shine your light fully and have the courage of your convictions.

Another Fire sign, Sagittarius, inspires you with their unique approach to new ideas and adventurous attitude.

Most challenging signs:

Aries - your opposite sign, may be a little bit abrasive and lacks your sense of diplomacy. Cancer & Capricorn tend to see things more harshly in black and white, where you prefer shades of gray - or better yet, pretty colors. However, Libra's job is to balance the attitude of others no matter how different.

Note: This does not mean it's impossible to get along with or work alongside these people (especially because they may have other signs strongly present in their chart), but you may not quite experience the invigorating feeling of being in authentic alignment with a kindred soul as much as the signs listed above.*

If you were a Tarot card...

The Chariot card signifies conquest, victory, and overcoming problems through a sense of confidence and control.

This Tarot card represents...

- Using the strength of your willpower to overcome any obstacles or challenges that stand in your way
- Being determined, self-disciplined, and hard working to triumph over your difficulties or anyone who attempts to limit you
- Finding success through maintaining your focus and believing in yourself fully

This card recognizes your strong and protective presence and ability to dominate and beat out the competition by cultivating the capacity to withstand whatever is required of you within the battles inherent in life.

You are driven to bring clarity and focus to whatever issues you may need to face. Drawing upon your willpower and self-discipline, you may find that striving towards your goals can be just as satisfying as achieving them.

Overall, you are required to assert yourself and be bold and be confident in expressing your needs and wants so that you can get your way. Continue to have faith in yourself and remember who you are and what you stand for in order to stand gracefully in your power, all while avoiding aggression or destructive influences that may lead you astray.
