Welcome

Located in the 'heart' of Arizona, the Verde Valley is ideally situated above the heat of the desert and below the cold of Arizona's high country. Surrounded by the red rocks of Sedona to the northeast and Mingus Mountain to the southwest, its lower elevation makes it a perfect spot for your next Arizona adventure.

Explore the rich history and native culture with a visit to one of many historic sites and State monuments. Soak up the sun and nature at one of Arizona's best state parks in the center of Cottonwood, Dead Horse Ranch State Park. Hit the trails on foot, bike or horseback, and keep your eyes peeled for birds, wildlife, and the perfect shot to share with friends and family back home. Discover the many dining options from smoked BBQ, fresh made pasta, hearty home cooked meals, to rich desserts and locally made chocolate, and the perfectly paired wine or brew to wash it down with. Rest easy and dream of more days in Cottonwood and the Verde Valley at one of many hotels, bed & breakfasts, campgrounds, RV sites, and more.

When you visit the heart of Arizona wine country, you're sure to find many reasons to stay, play, and return again and again.

You are welcome here.

Small Towns

The small towns of the Verde Valley showcase the best of Arizona's quaint communities. All are within a 30-mile radius with an estimated population of 66,000 - each offering visitors a unique experience.

In the shadows of Mingus Mountain and in the heart of the Verde Valley, Cottonwood offers a distinctive historic district lined with shops and restaurants on its Main Street.

History is alive in nearby Clarkdale, whose homes and buildings still reflect its early copper smelting heritage. Four specialized museums focus on Native American cultures, international copper art, and local railroad and town history.

Cornville/Page Springs offers wineries, tasting rooms and a relaxed take on some of Arizona's most pristine high-desert scenery.

Camp Verde, located in the geographic center of Arizona, is rich in history and offers a variety of recreation and outdoor activities to experience and enjoy.

Cottonwood

Jerome

Old Town Cottonwood

Tlaquepaque, Sedona

A Verde Valley excursion wouldn't be complete without a journey up the hill to Jerome, the "City in the Sky." Once a thriving mining camp of 15,000, Jerome acquired "ghost town" status by the 1960s. Today, entrepreneurs have restored many of the quaint buildings that cling to the mountainside and the town now dishes out artsy boutiques and panoramic views in equal measure.

Speaking of views, Sedona's stark, giant, red rock formations are so compelling, they cause grown men to take up painting or poetry. Toss in dozens of superb shops, galleries, restaurants and recreational opportunities, and Sedona has found a magical elixir.

Birding

Several Audubon Important Birding Areas (IBA) are located in the Verde Valley including the Lower Oak Creek, Tuzigoot and Camp Verde.

Vermilion Flycatcher

These sites are all located near water, which is what makes birding in the Verde Valley so special. These diverse habitats attract nesting birds and migratory species that stop in the Valley on their seasonal journeys. Spring is the peak season for birding, but you can find a variety of birds all year round. Our canyons, grasslands and elevation changes provide dynamic variations in what can be seen. Walk a path, meander along the riverbank or hike up a canyon and you'll be sure to view some of our resident or visiting birds.

Scrub Jay

Great Blue Heron

Gambel's Quail

Bird Watching

Places for great birding include:

- Dead Horse Ranch State Park
- Tavasci Marsh – accessed from Tuzigoot National Monument or Dead Horse Ranch State Park
- Bubbling Ponds at Page Springs has a maintained path and lookout point at the outskirts of the Northern Arizona Audubon Society's bird sanctuary, Page Springs Preserve
- Red Rock State Park – offers guided bird walks
- Sedona Wetlands Preserve – Observation Deck

The annual Verde Valley Birding and Nature Festival, held the last full weekend in April, is a great way to experience birding with those who share this growing hobby. verderiver.org/birding-festival

The Sedona Hummingbird Festival is held around the first weekend in August, when Sedona's hummingbird population is highest and most diverse with 5-7 species. hummingbirdsociety.org

Verde River

The Verde River is one of Arizona's last rivers to flow year round and sustains a large regional wildlife population. Through the 36-mile stretch known as the Verde River Greenway you will discover a lush habitat that is unique to the Verde Valley. The 3,300-foot elevation also means mild temperatures for hiking, canoeing, bird watching, picnicking, fishing, or just wading in the cool water.

Life along the river changes with each season, giving visitors a glimpse of Great Blue Heron, Common Black Hawks, and a variety of ducks and water fowl. Coyotes, raccoons, mule deer, beavers, frogs, turtles, snakes and toads also depend on the Verde River for water, food and shelter. The Verde River and surrounding riparian corridor support nearly twenty threatened or endangered species including the Yellow-Billed Cuckoo, Southwestern Willow Flycatcher, and Lowland Leopard Frogs. The Verde River Greenway also boasts a dense Fremont Cottonwood & Goodding Willow Riparian Gallery Forest along its banks.

Public river access points are available in several locations along the Verde River. For more information on the Verde River, its riparian habitat, volunteer opportunities, recreation, and river access points, visit VerdeRiver.org. For guided options, see Activities & Attractions section.

Slide Rock State Park

Arizona State Parks and Trails are open for responsible use. Visit azstateparks.com/coronavirus for details.

DEAD HORSE RANCH STATE PARK

The park rests along the banks of the Verde River. It offers a range of recreational activities and camping, as well as cabins. With a phenomenal trail system, the park is ideal for wildlife viewing, bird watching, fishing, hiking, biking and horseback riding. Equestrian trail rides are available in the park. Call Trail Horse Adventures at 866.958.7245. Over 200 species of birds have been identified in the immediate confines of the park, which is home to Verde River Day on the last Saturday in September (free admission). Celebrating 30 years. Fee area. verderiverday.com, 928.634.5283.

RED ROCK STATE PARK – CENTER FOR ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION

Hiking trails navigate a lush riparian corridor along Oak Creek and beautiful vistas of the surrounding red rocks. The park acts as an environmental education center with visitor center displays, presentations on the area, a butterfly and hummingbird garden and interpretive paths. Guided bird walks are available every Wednesday and Saturday morning led by rangers and volunteer naturalists. Fee area. 928.282.6907.

FORT VERDE STATE HISTORIC PARK

Experience life through the eyes of a frontier soldier at Fort Verde State Historic Park. The fort was a base for General Crook's U.S. Army scouts and soldiers in the 1870s and 1880s. They were charged with preventing Apache and Yavapai Indian uprisings in the late 1800s. Its officers' quarters are open to visitors and a museum is located in the old headquarters building. Fee area. 928.567.3275.

JEROME STATE HISTORIC PARK

The Douglas Mansion at Jerome State Historic Park is a museum devoted to the mining history of Jerome and the Douglas family. It features photographs, artifacts, minerals, a period room and a "3-D" model of the town including the underground mines. There is mining equipment on display outside along with a picnic area offering a beautiful panoramic view of the Verde Valley. Open 8:30am-5pm daily, 928.634.5381.

SLIDE ROCK STATE PARK

Slide Rock State Park offers an easy walk along the homestead and the flourishing famed Oak Creek apple orchard. Continue on to the stairs and trail that leads to Oak Creek, where water rushes through natural red rock sluices. In the summertime, kids and adults love to ride the water down these sluices, sunning themselves afterward on the rocks. 928.282.3034.

OAK CREEK CANYON

The "switchbacks" of Oak Creek Canyon may seem a bit unnerving but are well worth the drive to the top. The Scenic Overlook offers a fantastic view of the Canyon and beyond. There may be Native American hand-made jewelry and craft items to pick up as an authentic souvenir. Oak Creek Visitors' Center, 928.282.4119.

RED ROCK CROSSING, CATHEDRAL ROCK AND CRESCENT MOON RECREATION AREA

Ancient Ruins

Ancient Ruins can be found throughout Arizona, but some of the best-preserved cliff dwellings are in the Verde Valley.

PETROGLYPHS

At the V-Bar-V Ranch Prehistoric Rock Art Site, 1,032 individual petroglyphs have been identified on 13 panels. They are outstanding examples of the Beaver Creek style found throughout the eastern half of Verde Valley.

928.284.5323

PALATKI RUINS

Palatki (Hopi for “red house”) is a cliff dwelling sheltered in a Supai sandstone overhang, constructed by the Southern Sinagua people who inhabited the area from approximately 650 to 1300. A most outstanding pictograph site, walls display art from archaic cultures extending back over 6,000 years to the work of the Sinagua, the Yavapai and Apache Tribes of historic times. Coconino National Forest near Sedona. For reservations call 928.282.3854

HONANKI RUINS

Honanki held one of the largest population centers in the Verde Valley, primarily occupied 1130 through 1280. Consisted of about 60 rooms and a number of pictographs. The 700-year-old well-preserved ruins and the rock art on the walls are fascinating. Coconino National Forest near Sedona. Fee area. 928.282.4119

Honanki Ruins

Tuzigoot National Monument

Montezuma Castle National Monument

MONTEZUMA CASTLE NATIONAL MONUMENT AND MONTEZUMA WELL

This ancient cliff dwelling dates back to 1150. The Castle stands in a cliff recess 100-feet above the valley. The Castle stands as one of the most well-preserved cliff dwellings in North America. Montezuma Well, a detached unit of the same Monument, located about 11 miles north, and is a natural limestone sinkhole through which 1,500,000 gallons of water emerge each day from an underground spring. Both places have a short, 1/3 - 1/2 mile trail to see the archeological remains, as well as a picnic area. Both are served by the Visitor's Center at the Castle. $15 for adults, children, 15 and under, are free. Summer hours May-Sept. 8am-7pm; Winter hours Sept.-May: 8am-5pm. Located at 2800 Montezuma Castle Road off Interstate 17 at exit 289, Camp Verde. 928.567.3322

TUZIGOOT NATIONAL MONUMENT

Approximately 800 years ago, this Sinagua pueblo was home to the Native American population once inhabiting this area. The site is comprised of 42 acres including hiking trails (one wheelchair accessible) and a complete museum. Visitors can actually walk through the various rooms of the pueblo to view this ancient civilization. Images, etched in stone, help tell the tale of daily life. Open daily at 9am. Fee area. Allow two hours. 928.634.5564

VERDE VALLEY ARCHAEOLOGY CENTER AND MUSEUM

The Verde Valley Archaeology Center and Museum displays archaeological artifacts found throughout the Verde Valley region and offers archaeological tours. Visit website or call for hours. 385 S. Main St., Camp Verde, 928.567.0066, verdevalleyarchaeology.org

Cottonwood

The City of Cottonwood began as a campground and stop-over for travelers to Oak Creek, Beaver Creek and Camp Verde. It was one of three main crossings over the Verde River. Cottonwood became a supplier of fresh produce to the copper miners in Jerome in the early years of the 20th century. Today, it is the commercial hub of the Verde Valley and is home to a number of antique shops, fine restaurants, art galleries, wineries, tasting rooms and festivals throughout the year. The Cottonwood area has a population of approximately 20,000. # Cornville/Page Springs

For a unique small-town experience and the opportunity to enjoy Oak Creek without crowds, a trip to Cornville and Page Springs has it all. In these communities of approximately 4,000, you can enjoy golf, vineyards and wine tasting, birding and fine dining.

Agave Highlands Golf Course

Golf enthusiasts of all levels can enjoy this par 71 layout at just over 3,300' elevation. Agave Highlands offers a memorable round of golf overlooking the beautiful landscape of the Verde Valley framed by Mingus Mountain. This is an 18-hole course playable at all levels. Tee time reservations recommended. 928.634.5454, agavehighlandsgolf.com

Page Springs Road Wineries

Visit Cornville while in the Verde Valley and experience four of the region's favorite wineries – Page Springs Cellars, DA Ranch, Oak Creek Vineyards and Javelina Leap. These pioneering wineries, all located within minutes of each other, along Page Springs Road and Dancing Apache Road, are producing a wide variety of wines. Many different styles, each distinct to their label, are being praised by wine critics and have won national awards for their quality.

Page Springs Fish Hatchery

Nestled among the cool pines of the Coconino National Forest, the Page

Springs Fish Hatchery offers a cool retreat from the desert during hot summer months. Families enjoy hiking the nature trail bordering Oak Creek and kids like visiting the show ponds to see the hatchery's finest and largest trout. Designated by the National Audubon Society as an Important Bird Area (IBA), the hatchery is considered the premier birding area for the Verde Valley where over 200 bird species have been identified. 928.634.4805

Founded in 1912, Clarkdale, with a current population of around 4,000, is unique in American history as Arizona's first model company town. A product of the City Beautiful movement, Clarkdale housed smelter workers of the United Verde Copper Company, owned by railroad baron and copper tycoon Senator William A. Clark. Today, Clarkdale Historic District, comprising 386 structures, is an architect's and history buff's dream. An upscale wine bar, lounges, restaurants, museums and galleries, shops and an historic gas station keep the historic business district lively. Many of the newly developed public Verde River access points are in Clarkdale. The historic building and home tour is one of the many annual events held in Clarkdale.
