Chemical Security Group, LLC	Facility Security Officer	The course was reviewed and found to meet the standards of competence provided in 33 CFR 105.205, International Ship and Port Facility Security Code (ISPS) Code Part A/2.1.8, ISPS Code Part A/17, and International Maritime Organization (IMO) Port Facility Security Officer (PFSO) (2015 Edition). This course is not considered Coast Guard Approved Training, as there are currently no Coast Guard regulations governing its approval. When U.S. regulations are issued regarding training for Facility Security Officers, you will be required to resubmit your course materials to the Coast Guard for formal approval in accordance with 46 CFR 10.402. A determination will be made at that time regarding the grandfathering of those mariners having received training prior to the approval. Therefore, it is highly recommended that you maintain compliance with the standards applicable to approved training, including the use of the instructors listed in the enclosure. Policy on Facility Security Officer training is currently being formulated by Coast Guard Headquarters. At the completion of this training you should provide documentation to each graduate indicating that the student has received training meeting the 33 CFR 105.205, ISPS Code Part A/2.1.8, ISPS Code Part A/17, and IMO Officer PFSO (2015 Edition) guidance on training for Facility Security Officers. E.N. Bisso & Son, Inc	Harbor Assist Toar	We have reviewed your Harbor Assist TOAR with Locks and find the tasks identified in it acceptable for assessment of candidates for an endorsement as Master of Towing Vessels, Limited (Harbor Assist). Per 46 CFR 11.463(c), a Master of Towing Vessels (Limited) endorsement is defined as “operation of a towing vessel less than 200 gross tons limited to a local area within the Great Lakes, Inland Waters, or Western Rivers as designated by the OCMI. When submitting mariner credential applications, ensure that the application includes a limited local area route. In order to remove the restriction to Harbor Assist, your personnel must meet the requirements for a Master of Towing Vessel endorsement as outlined in 46 CFR 11.464, and complete an entire TOAR that is applicable to the route being requested. When submitting credential applications to the National Maritime Center, we suggest you provide a copy of this letter with the completed Harbor Assist TOAR in order to avoid any delays or complications in the processing of your mariners’ credential applications. International Maritime Security Network, LLC	Facility Security Officer	The course was reviewed and found to meet the standards of competence provided in 33 CFR 105.205, International Ship and Port Facility Security Code (ISPS) Code Part A/2.1.8, ISPS Code Part A/17, and International Maritime Organization (IMO) Port Facility Security Officer (PFSO) (2015 Edition). This course is not considered Coast Guard Approved Training, as there are currently no Coast Guard regulations governing its approval. When U.S. regulations are issued regarding training for Facility Security Officers, you will be required to resubmit your course materials to the Coast Guard for formal approval in accordance with 46 CFR 10.402. A determination will be made at that time regarding the grandfathering of those mariners having received training prior to the approval. Therefore, it is highly recommended that you maintain compliance with the standards applicable to approved training, including the use of the instructors listed in the enclosure. Policy on Facility Security Officer training is currently being formulated by Coast Guard Headquarters. At the completion of this training you should provide documentation to each graduate indicating that the student has received training meeting the 33 CFR 105.205, ISPS Code Part A/2.1.8, ISPS Code Part A/17, and IMO Officer PFSO (2015 Edition) guidance on training for Facility Security Officers. Terminal Security Solutions	Facility Security Officer	The course was reviewed and found to meet the standards of competence provided in 33 CFR 105.205, International Ship and Port Facility Security Code (ISPS) Code Part A/2.1.8, ISPS Code Part A/17, and International Maritime Organization (IMO) Port Facility Security Officer (PFSO) (2015 Edition). This course is not considered Coast Guard Approved Training, as there are currently no Coast Guard regulations governing its approval. When U.S. regulations are issued regarding training for Facility Security Officers, you will be required to resubmit your course materials to the Coast Guard for formal approval in accordance with 46 CFR 10.402. A determination will be made at that time regarding the grandfathering of those mariners having received training prior to the approval. Therefore, it is highly recommended that you maintain compliance with the standards applicable to approved training, including the use of the instructors listed in the enclosure. Policy on Facility Security Officer training is currently being formulated by Coast Guard Headquarters. At the completion of this training you should provide documentation to each graduate indicating that the student has received training meeting the 33 CFR 105.205, ISPS Code Part A/2.1.8, ISPS Code Part A/17, and IMO Officer PFSO (2015 Edition) guidance on training for Facility Security Officers.	CA	#http://WWW.TERMSEC.COM#	3108166500

		Repair of Cargo Equipment (46 CFR 13.607(c), STCW Code A-V/1-2 Table V/1-2-2). 5. Sea Service: a. The sea service computations and documentation process are approved in accordance with your submittal. Given the unpredictability of shipping schedules and other influences on cadet availability, the Coast Guard recognizes that not all cadets may be able to complete the service requirements as submitted. The Coast Guard provided sea service standards in the Standard Operating Procedures for the Coast Guard's Interaction with State and Federal Maritime Academies dated July 2017. Utilize those standards to ensure that cadets who fall outside of the approved sea service computations meet the minimum requirements for service. b. Based on the sea service credit obtained during the program, all previously held endorsements requiring only one year of sea service in the last five years for renewal will automatically be renewed with application for the Third Mate/Third Assistant endorsement to ensure a single validity period of all endorsements. 1) Not valid to renew a tankerman endorsement unless accompanied by documentation meeting the requirements of 46 CFR 13.120.

University of Findlay - All Hazards Training Center	Facility Security Officer	The course was reviewed and found to meet the standards of competence provided in 33 CFR 105.205, International Ship and Port Facility Security Code (ISPS) Code Part A/2.1.8, ISPS Code Part A/17, and International Maritime Organization (IMO) Port Facility Security Officer (PFSO) (2015 Edition). This course is not considered Coast Guard Approved Training, as there are currently no Coast Guard regulations governing its approval. When U.S. regulations are issued regarding training for Facility Security Officers, you will be required to resubmit your course materials to the Coast Guard for formal approval in accordance with 46 CFR 10.402. A determination will be made at that time regarding the grandfathering of those mariners having received training prior to the approval. Therefore, it is highly recommended that you maintain compliance with the standards applicable to approved training, including the use of the instructors listed in the enclosure. Policy on Facility Security Officer training is currently being formulated by Coast Guard Headquarters. At the completion of this training you should provide documentation to each graduate indicating that the student has received training meeting the 33 CFR 105.205, ISPS Code Part A/2.1.8, ISPS Code Part A/17, and IMO Officer PFSO (2015 Edition) guidance on training for Facility Security Officers.	OH		4194344483
