Land Record Grantor-Grantee Index Monroe County, Indiana

Preface to the Fifth Edition 2016

Overview: This revised index has been created from the original Monroe County Land Record books A-Z (circa 1811-1870), held by the Monroe County History Center's Library. If a land record transaction is located in the index, a copy of that page from the record book can be viewed in the Library. If a physical copy of one or more pages is desired, it can be obtained by a request to the History Center's staff. 130 other land record books covering 1870-1959 are also held in the Library, and are being indexed. Each book has a separate grantor and grantee surname index in the front.

The previous index was checked for errors through examination of each page of each land record book. The revised database is printed in two sections, the first alphabetically by Grantor (seller) name, and the second by Grantee (buyer).

Original indexes were created by Nola Donley, Lee Ehman, Allison Lendman, Julian Livingston, and Patricia Mitchell. Subsequent expansion and refining were done by Nicole Bieganski, Steven Heinen, Randi Beem, Sean Ettinger, Danielle Gunkel, Siobhain Rivera, Will Bongard, Lee Ehman, and Lou Malcomb.

Hints to the Researcher

Several pieces of information not available in other primary sources, such as census or probate records, might be found in the land books. All named heirs of estates are indexed. Occasionally wills and marriage agreements are included. Elections of church or society trustees give names associated with these groups. Importantly, for pre-1850 years, when census entries list only head of household, names of spouses are recorded for the seller (and only occasionally for buyer). Place of residence for state and county is also noted, which might not be available elsewhere for non-residents.

Details about Entries

Each index entry contains the following information:

Grantor Name – the seller of the property (“party of the first part” in the actual record), both last name and first name in separate rows, and other grantors in separate rows

Grantee Name – the buyer of the property (“party of the second part” in the actual record), both last name and first name in separate rows, and other grantees in separate rows

Date of transaction, in the following format: Year, Month, Day, with no spaces

Book letter designation of the original Land Record book (A through Z)

Notes about the transaction

Abbreviations: First names are not abbreviated in the index unless only abbreviations are found in the land records. No periods are used. Some non-name abbreviations are used in the index entries. In many cases these are carried over from the actual records, but others have been modified for consistency:

Abbreviation	Stands For
ADM	Administrator
AGT	Agent
ATTY	Attorney
AUD	Auditor
CERT ELECT	Certified Election of Trustees
CNTY	County
COLL	Collector
COMR	Commissioner
ET AL	and others
JR	Junior
SR	Senior
SUPT	Superintendent

Handwriting: The land record entries are mostly handwritten, and nineteenth-century writing conventions sometimes need interpretation. (There are standard genealogical references for this problem. See, for example, chapter 2 in Greenwood, Val D., The Researcher's Guide to American Genealogy, 3rd Ed. Baltimore, MD: Genealogical Publishing Co.) The names are indexed as spelled, without attempts to correct even obvious errors. Oftentimes spelling of names is inconsistent within entries. The indexers crosschecked the various versions of the name that appeared throughout, but usually used the name as spelled on the signature line at the end of the entry if differences occurred. When a very inconsistent version of a surname was found in the same entry, they were both indexed. For example, Reynolds and Runnels, occurring in the same deed, were both coded as separate entries.

Typical Land Record Entries: There are several “formats” for the entries, but a typical entry begins with “This indenture...” and proceeds with a date, followed by name and residence of the grantor, or seller (“party of the first part”) and then name and residence of the grantee, or buyer (“party of the second part.”) This is followed by a legal description of the land or personal property being purchased, padded with much standard legal language, concluding with the signature lines for the grantor(s) (but not the grantee) and county official. Another section follows, in which a county official certifies that the grantor(s) appeared before them and freely agreed to the selling of the land. In cases in which the transaction was made by persons outside of Monroe County, additional certifications attesting to the authenticity of the outside county officials are often found.

Individual transactions do not necessarily begin at the top of a page, nor are they limited to a single page, although some single pages contain more than one, if the transaction entries are very brief -- they might be missed if the user is not careful.

Non-Land Transactions: The vast majority of transactions involve land, but some have to do with other property, including livestock and other non-land goods. There are occasional indentures and apprenticeships recorded. Two manumissions of slaves are found as well.

There are some plats recorded; these are indexed arbitrarily as “Plat” in the Grantor category, and therefore are found together in the top section in the alphabetical listing of Grantors. The location of the plat is also noted.

Also included are mortgages, confiscations of land for debt and sheriff's sales, and periodic elections of the trustees in area churches and other organizations. Occasional declarations of the poor being made the responsibility of the "Overseers of the Poor" are also included.

NOTES:

- 1) For sheriff or commissioner sales, the actual individual whose land is being sold is indexed, not the name of Commissioner, Sheriff, etc.
- 2) For sales from an estate the name of deceased is indexed. When other heirs are named they are indexed as separate row entries.
