Go Caribbean

St. Maarten

Anguilla

St. Thomas

Beyond the Sands

The Caribbean islands are among the most paradisiacal places on earth, with sugar-white sands and seas so turquoise they almost don't seem real. Yet there's much more to explore than spectacular beaches, including ruins of forts, shipwrecks, and preserved old plantations like Sam Lord's Castle in Barbados. Port towns hold fascinating museums along with duty-free shops selling jewels, silver, glass, artwork, perfumes, and liqueurs. Soak up the charm of pastel-painted and African influences makes for fantastic dining and the local cuisine is a delicious stewpot of native fruits, exotic spices, and seafood right off the dock. You'll discover a prevailing spirit of celebration giving rise to cultural events, from famous music and dance festivals to annual regattas, Pirate Week, and of course, Carnival. Music lovers from around the world come for the reggae, jazz, samba, ska, and even opera.

While they share many characteristics, each island is a universe unto itself. Some glitter with casinos and sizzling nightlife filled with discos, rum concoctions, and calypso. Others have a drowsier pace. The Turks and Caicos Islands are a diver's dream with uninhabited islands and hundreds of miles of deserted beaches. Eco-tourists love lush, virtually untouched Dominica for its volcanoes, waterfalls, and rain forests. Tiny Anguilla boasts only a single main road, perfect for those who want to do nothing more than escape from it all. Wherever you choose to go, prepare to be enthralled.

Earn Elite-Qualifying Miles on Your Codeshare Travels!

Through our codeshare agreements, American Airlines markets selected flights or travel segments on other airlines as American flights. When traveling on a codeshare flight operated by one of our partners, you will earn AAdvantage miles that count toward elite status*.

Codeshare relationships are especially beneficial to AAdvantage members who live in a city that is not served by American Airlines. For example, you can travel on Iberia† from Barcelona, Malaga, or Palma de Mallorca to Madrid; on SWISS from Berlin, Munich, Prague, or Vienna to Zurich; or SN Brussels Airlines from Banjul (Gambia), Dakar (Senegal), Milan, or Venice to Brussels, and then connect to the U.S. on American.

You'll have less airport waiting time, you won't have to re-check your bags, and you'll earn AAdvantage miles from your starting point.

Remember to advise your travel planner to add your AAdvantage number to each participating airline flight in order to receive automatic mileage credit. Learn more by selecting the Codeshare Partner link under About Us at AA.com.

*Your ticket must show an American Airlines flight number or the flight number of an AAdvantage elite-qualifying airline. A list is available at www.aa.com/aadvantage.

U.S. Customs Update

Heading to the U.S.? Expect a few changes as you go through customs. When you arrive, you'll be photographed and finger-scanned in a quick, additional step that adds just a few extra minutes to your customs time. This procedure provides registration with the US-VISIT security program and is required even if you are traveling without a visa through the Visa Waiver Program. Remember, for the smoothest progress in line, be sure to keep immigration and customs forms and your passport within easy reach. If you're traveling under the Visa Waiver program, machine-readable passports are now required for U.S. entry. Infants and children must have machine-readable passports just like their parents. If your current passport is not machine-readable, you'll need to obtain a valid U.S. visa even if you're traveling from a Visa Waiver country. To learn more, visit AA.com and select Travel Information.

American Airlines reserves the right, in its discretion, to change AAdvantage program rules, regulations, travel awards, and offers at any time without notice, including the right to, among other things, (1) modify or cancel any award or offer, (2) change program benefits, mileage levels or rules related to mileage credits or travel awards, or (3) add embargo dates, limit award travel seat availability, or otherwise restrict travel awards or offers. American may make these changes even if use of accumulated mileage credits or awards is affected. The accumulation of mileage credits does not entitle members to any vested rights. Members may not rely upon the continued availability of any award or award level, and may not be able to obtain all offered awards for all destinations or on all flights. American further reserves the right to end the AAdvantage program upon six months notice. AAdvantage travel awards, mileage accrual, and special offers are subject to government regulations.
