

Direct and Indirect Object Pronouns Combined

(Los pronomombres de complemento directo e indirecto usados juntos)

Direct object pronouns

English

Me Me

Te You

Lo, La It

Los, Las them

Nos Us

Indirect Object Pronouns

English

Me to me

Te to you

Le to him/her

Les to them

Nos to us

When using a double object pronouns,

the double object pronouns

are placed before a conjugated verb,

the indirect object pronoun (IOP) always comes before the direct object pronoun (DOP).

The double object pronouns

are placed before a conjugated verb,

Te la traigo en un momento.

I'll bring it to you in a moment.

Both pronouns must be place together in front of the conjugated verb

They cannot be separated

When using a double object pronouns,

the indirect object pronoun (IOP) always comes before
the direct object pronoun (DOP).

The combinations of object pronouns in Spanish

Me lo me la me los me las

Te lo te la te los te las Nos lo nos la nos los nos las

See Le and les on next slide

When using double pronoun with

Uses of Le and les

You can't use “le lo” in Spanish!

The le and les must change to se before lo, la, los or las.

se lo se la se los se las

(Le) Yo se la tiré. I threw it to him.

(Les) Tú se los compraste. You bought them for her.

When using an infinitive with double pronouns

but both pronouns must remain next to each other, that is,

When using double pronouns, the Indirect Object ALWAYS comes first.

both pronouns must come either in front of the conjugated
verb

Te la voy a traer más tarde.

I am going to bring it to you later.

or after the infinitive

Voy a traértela más tarde.

I am going to bring it to you later.

Notice that when the pronouns are placed after the infinitive they are attached to the verb (written as one word).

Written accents must be added to the verb, to keep the original pronunciation or stress on the verb.

The accent mark must be placed 3 vowels from the right.

When using the present progressive with double pronouns

but both pronouns must remain next to each other, that is,

both pronouns must come either in front of the conjugated
verb

Te la estoy trayendo ahora mismo.

I am bringging it to you right now or after the present progressive

Estoy trayéndotela ahora mismo.

I am bringging it to you right now

Notice that when the pronouns are placed after the present progressive they must be attached to the verb (written as one word).

Written accents must be added to the verb, to keep the original pronunciation or stress on the verb.

The accent mark must be placed 4 vowels from the right.

The combinations of object pronouns in Spanish are as follows:

me lo	me la
me los	me las te lo	te los te los	te las
se lo	se la
se los	se las
nos lo	nos la
nos los	nos las

Rewrite the sentences using double pronouns

1. El/la/les/dicir
2. yo/los/te/mandar
3. Nos/las/ofrecer/ustedes
4. Dar/la clase/me/lo.

Translate the words in parenthesis

5. Ella _____ (it to us) da.
6. Yo _____ (it to you) muestro.
7. Mi padre _____ (them to me) compra.
8. Nuestro jefe _____ (them to him) escribe.

Rewrite using double pronoun

9. Sergio le compra unas flores.
10. María les enseña el libro.
11. Ana nos va a traer la comida.
12. La mujer te está escribiendo las cartas.

Double object pronoun gameRewrite the following sentences using double object pronouns

1. Oscar compró los lentes para nadar a Pedro.
2. María va a comprar los boletos a Ramiro.
3. Luisa está cocinando un ceviche a su hermana.
4. Carmen y yo tenemos escribir unas notas a ti.

Translate into English

5. ¿Nos las dio él?
6. Mario se la tiró a Felipe.
7. El papá te la está trayendo.
8. Ella tiene que escribírtela.

Translate into Spanish

9. Diego bought them for her.
10. We read it to him.
11. Are you going to explain it to us?
12. We are singing it to you.

Answer the following questions

13. ¿Me prestas las notas? (Sí)
14. ¿Quién te va explicar las frases?
15. ¿Nos están comprando una camisa?
16. ¿Cuándo tienen ustedes que darles el dinero a ellas?

Answer the following questions

1. Do the double pronouns go before or after a conjugated verb?

Before the conjugated verb.

Me la da.

2. Which goes first the indirect or direct object pronoun?

The indirect object goes first.

Me la da.

3. When using double pronouns, do they go together or can they be separated?

The IDO and the DO go together, they cannot be separated.

Me la da.

4. When using an infinitive, where do we place the double object pronouns, before or after the infinitive?

The double object pronouns may go before the conjugated verb

Me la va a dar.

or

attached to the infinitive.

Va a dármela.

5. If we attach the double object pronouns to the infinitive, what do we need to do to keep the stress?

Put an accent mark on the third vowel from the right

Va a dármela.

6. When using the present progressive, where do we place the double object pronouns, before or after the ING?

The double object pronouns may go before the verb estar

Me la está dando.

or

attached to the ING.

Está dándomela.

7. If we attach the double object pronouns to the present progressive, what do we need to do to keep the stress?

Put an accent mark on the fourth vowel from right to left

Está dándomela.

8. In Spanish, can we have le lo or les la when using double object pronouns?

NO

9. What happens to the le and les when using the double pronoun?

The le and les changes to SE

Se la da a él.

Se los da a ellos.

10. What are some of the double object pronouns combinations?