UNIVERSITY of VIRGINIA

May 1, 2015

Dear New Students and Parents:

Congratulations and welcome to UVA! Now that you've decided to come to the University, you have several more important decisions to make before arriving on Grounds in August.

As you know, access to a computer is essential in the pursuit of your academic goals. Although it's not required, nearly 99 percent of last year's entering class used their own notebook computers. The lighter-weight models are so portable that you can take them everywhere—enabling you to collaborate with peers in group study spaces around Grounds, write papers on the Lawn, and carry your laptop home with you during school holidays.

If you are considering a new computer, Cavalier Computers, located in the University of Virginia Bookstore, has many advantages. Their "Computing at Virginia" or "CAV" Program offers computers from Apple, Dell, and HP that are custom configured to simplify connection to the UVA network and to work securely and optimally. Cavalier's staff works closely with UVA's Information Technology Services (ITS) to make sure that CAV Program computers are fully compatible and supported.

Working with IT coordinators from schools within the University, Cavalier Computers offers pre-configured computers to meet school-specific requirements, including Engineering, Architecture, and Nursing. CAV Program computers are also preinstalled with essential UVA licensed software. Every CAV Windows computer comes with Microsoft Windows, Microsoft Office, virus protection, and other commonly used Internet utilities. The Mac® comes with the latest Mac OS X®, Microsoft Office and a similar software bundle appropriate for that platform.

Depending on the option you choose, CAV Program computers are warrantied up to four years including accidental damage protection (a CAV Program exclusive for Apple computers). That means if your laptop breaks, Cavalier Computers Service Dept., located inside the UVA Bookstore, will handle its repair. Cavalier's technicians are Apple-, Dell-, and HP-authorized and spare parts are already on hand for CAV Program models. Should you have an extensive repair, you will be offered a loaner computer.

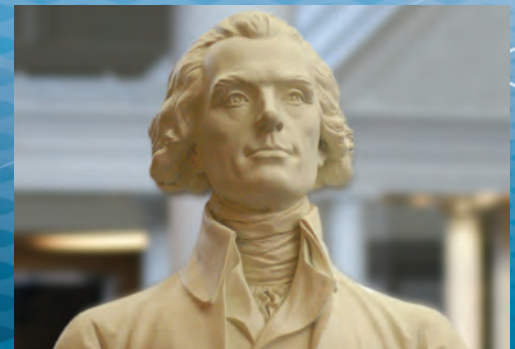

The CAV program gives UVA students a variety of products and services not available anywhere else with the comfort and convenience of on-Grounds service. In addition, Cavalier Computers and the University Bookstores provide annual financial support to AccessUVA, the University's financial aid program, to help support UVA students. You may review this year's CAV offerings at www.cavprogram.com. If you have any questions, please contact the Cavalier Computers' staff by emailing CAVquestions@virginia.edu.

We look forward to having you with us on Grounds this fall!

Sincerely

Patrick D. Hogan
Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer

The CAV Computer Program makes life so easy!
