Hunting Season Reminders

Visitors to the Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest need to be aware that a number of different hunting seasons are occurring right now. There are early and late season hunts for different species, so hunters will be out in the woods for the next few months.

No campfire restrictions are in effect so hunters and other recreationists may have campfires in all areas of the national forest where they are normally allowed. A woodcutting permit is not needed to collect wood that will be burned in a campfire ring during your visit to the national forest.

Hunters are required to wear 400 square inches of fluorescent "Hunter Orange" in areas currently open to modern firearm deer or elk hunting, this includes archers and muzzleloaders while hunting in units which overlap modern firearm seasons. Forest visitors may also want to dress in vivid colors during the fall hunting seasons. Hikers should wear at least one article of hunter orange viewable from all directions such as a hat, jacket, or vest. Cover your backpack with orange. Horseback riders should wear a hunter orange vest and helmet cover. Use a hunter orange vest or rump sheet on your horse. Dogs should wear hunter orange or other visible color, like a vest, leash, coat, shirt or bandana

If camping in a dispersed area or in a developed campground, think safety. Establish boundaries for children and dress them in bright clothes. Keep in mind quiet is for hunters, not hikers, bikers and other outdoors enthusiasts. Without scaring the dickens out of everyone and everything, make sure you can be heard and not confused with an animal moving through the woods.

Whether hunting or out for a day's trek into the woods, it is a good idea to complete and leave a "Trip Plan" with a friend before departing.

Information that should be included in the "Trip Plan" is the starting date, return date, purpose of trip, general location, specific location, starting point, route in, destination, route out (if different than route in), and finish point. It is also a good idea to leave vehicle information with a friend--owner of the vehicle, license number, make/model, and year/color.

Backcountry visitors are also encouraged to take the “10 Essentials” with them when in the woods. The “10 Essentials” are a list of basic items that are recommended for every backcountry trip—whether it’s a day hike or a two-week hunting trip. The “10 Essentials” include a pocketknife, first aid kit, extra clothing, a full canteen or water bottle, flashlight with extra batteries and bulb, extra food, extra matches and fire starters, sun protection--sunglasses, sunscreen, hat, lip balm, a map, and a compass.

Many backcountry travelers carry cellular phones with them in case of emergency. Use 911 only in case of an actual emergency. Remember, help may be several hours away or longer. When making a 911 emergency call from the backcountry be sure you know your location, including the trailhead and nearest city, destination or waypoints, your cell phone number, how your cell phone works, and how to increase your signal strength by finding a clearing, gaining elevation, and turning your body—you may be obstructing the signal. Be prepared to give complete information about the nature of the emergency when placing a call for help.

If forest visitors come across a marijuana grow site, or any other area where suspicious activity is occurring, they should leave the area immediately following the same route they came in and make as little noise as possible. After leaving the area, note the location of the site and contact local law enforcement right away.

This is especially important to keep in mind during hunting season; many hunters will be visiting remote, difficult to access areas of the Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest. These areas are also the places where illegal marijuana plantations may be planted. Remember, be safe, be aware of your surroundings and leave the area if you see any signs that it may be a grow site.

For information about backcountry trip planning contact any USDA Forest Service office.

Be sure to check the Washington Dept. of Fish and Wildlife 2016 Big Game Hunting Seasons & Regulations booklet for hunting information.

WOODCUTTING INFORMATION:

The Industrial Fire Precaution Level (IFPL) is 1 for all woodcutting zones in the Okanogan-Wenatchee NF. Always be aware of the IFPL on the day that woodcutting will occur.

The minimum firewood permit is $20 for four cords of wood. The cost for permits over the four-cord minimum is $5 per cord. The maximum number of cords that may be purchased for personal-use is 12 cords per household per year.

Generally, woodcutters may cut wood lying on the forest floor and standing dead trees, except wildlife habitat trees. Falling snags is not permitted on the Cle Elum Ranger District. No woodcutting is allowed in congressionally designated Wilderness areas.

Things to keep in mind when woodcutting:

- Do not drive off of roads onto wet ground to load firewood. Don't travel on roads if road surfaces are slippery and muddy, let them dry out before traveling on them. This will prevent deep ruts from developing.
- Be aware of other forest users, especially mushroom hunters, in areas burned by recent fires.
- The best time to cut firewood is in the late spring and early fall; avoid mid to late summer as woodcutting restrictions may be imposed due to severe fire danger.
- Permits must be purchased in person, no permits will be sold through the mail. Individuals purchasing woodcutting permits need to present a driver's license or other form of picture identification at the time of purchase; they will also need to supply their phone number and address.
- Woodcutters need to abide by the terms and conditions listed on their woodcutting permit. Be sure to read all conditions and requirements listed on the woodcutting permit and be familiar with the info on the map.
- A woodcutting area map is a necessity. These maps show the areas that are open and closed to woodcutting and are available free with the woodcutting permits.
- Special woodcutting rules and conditions apply on the Naches Ranger District; contact their office at 509-653-1401 for specific information. Firewood cutting season on the Naches Ranger District ends on September 30 or the first Sunday in October if Sept. 30 falls on a weekday.

Firewood permits are good through December 31 in the calendar year they are purchased, with the exception of the Naches District, or until areas are no longer accessible.

HAZARDS FOUND IN WILDFIRE AREAS:

Following are a variety of hazards to watch out for when traveling through areas burned in wildfires.

- Snags and damaged trees—blackened dead trees or green trees burned through at the bottom—can fall at any time possibly striking people or property; they can block trails or roads, including your exit even though travel was unimpeded when you entered the area.
- Snags can make travel difficult if a lot of trees have fallen across the landscape.
- Stump holes and root channels can still be burning and often are hidden from sight until stepped upon.
- Steep slopes and loss of vegetation may cause rolling rocks and debris flows off hillsides at any time but the likelihood increases with rain and freeze-thaw events.
- Loss of vegetation increases the potential for erosion to occur with any rain event. Water runoff may cause flooding that impacts or clogs road culverts and storm drains; sediment may move downstream affecting lands a long distance from the burned areas.
- Even with minor precipitation, road culverts can become plugged with material and cause debris flows.

Some things to do to be prepared when traveling through burned areas:

- Don't loiter in the burned areas, travel quickly through burned areas to reach your favorite recreation sites outside of the burns
- Carrying a saw or axe with you is a good idea when traveling on forest roads
- Stay current on weather forecasts and avoid areas that have been severely burned
- Do not try to cross an active mud or debris flow
- Let someone know where you are going and when you plan to return home

For more information, please call the local national forest office or go to the forest web site at www.fs.usda.gov/okawen .

HAWK WATCH at CHELAN RIDGE: Every September and October since about 1997, HawkWatch International and the Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest have participated in counting raptors as they migrate through this region. The Chelan Ridge Raptor Migration Project is an ongoing effort to monitor populations of raptors using the north Cascades migratory flyway. Bird counts typically range between 2,000-3,000 birds of up to 17 species each season. The most commonly seen species are the Sharp-shinned Hawk, Red-tailed Hawk, Cooper's Hawk, Northern Harrier, Golden Eagle, and American Kestrel. Biologists who live at the ridge during the migration season offer insight into what it is like to live and breathe raptors and show how the birds are banded and tracked.

Visitors and groups are welcome. Be aware, weekends can get very busy. If you are an individual or small group (5 or less), you do not need to schedule your visit.

The HawkWatch site operates daily from 9 a.m.-5 p.m., August 23-October 27. All activities are weather dependent and migration counts are not conducted in heavy rain or snow.

The Chelan Ridge HawkWatch is located on the Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest, approximately 13 miles northwest of Chelan, WA. From Wenatchee go north on Hwy 97 past the Chelan turn-off to Milepost 244. Turn left at the Apple Acres Road sign and drive 1.5 miles. Turn right on Antoine Creek Road which turns into NF-8140. On the ridge top, go right at the T intersection on NF-8020. Keep right for another mile to the second parking area. From here, look for the trailhead sign and hike approximately three quarters of a mile north following the flagged trail to the lookout area.

Please be aware, the route through Black Canyon Road on NF Road No. 4010/8020 is washed out and blocked to vehicles. Please make sure to plan accordingly and take the route from Hwy 97.

CABIN RENTALS: There are two cabin rental opportunities available on the Cle Elum Ranger District.

1. The Teaway Guard Station is once again available for public rental. This rustic one room cabin is situated along North Fork Teaway Road No. 9737 a short walk from the icy waters of the North Fork Teaway River. The cabin accommodates two people, with a set of bunk beds, a table and chairs, a wood stove for heat, and a Coleman stove for cooking. For more information or to make reservations, contact National Recreation Reservation Service at 1-877-444-6777 or online at www.recreation.gov.

Teaway Guard Station will not be available for the winter season 2016-2017, beginning November 1, 2016, due to a seasonal stream channel that has changed course and floods the toilet during the wet season. Plans are in place to relocate the toilet in the spring of 2017.

2. Taneum Guard Station Cabin is a small four room Forest Service cabin located approximately 20 miles from Ellensburg, WA. The cabin is located on Taneum Creek in a quiet secluded area. There is a small campground just up the road, less than a quarter of a mile from the cabin. There is running water in the cabin and propane is used for lighting, cooking and operating the refrigerator and water heater. There is a fire ring and picnic table outside. The cabin is available by reservation only, Memorial Day through Labor Day. To make reservations, phone 1-877-444-6777; TDD 877-833-6777; International 518-885-3639 or visit www.recreation.gov.

INVASIVE WEEDS: Crews continue treatment to eradicate noxious weeds. A wide variety of invasive species will be treated using herbicides applied by a licensed technician. OFFICE HOURS: 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

WOODCUTTING: The Industrial Fire Precaution Level is 1 which allows woodcutting to occur all day.

CAMPFIRE RESTRICTIONS LIFTED: Campfire restrictions have been lifted on national forest lands. This means that forest visitors can once again enjoy campfires in all locations where campfires are normally allowed on the Entiat Ranger District. Normal year-round restrictions remain in effect prohibiting campfires within a half mile of some Wilderness Area lakes. Please call the Entiat Ranger District for specific information (Ice Lakes).

Forest visitors should use an established fire pit or campfire ring in campgrounds, remove flammable materials from around the pit, keep the fire small, and make sure it is dead out and cold to the touch before leaving.

Remember, fire danger remains high and every precaution should be taken to insure a campfire does not become a wildfire. If you find an unattended fire or spot smoke, call 911. Be aware that many prescribed burning projects are occurring on the national forest this fall and smoke may be visible from one of these controlled burns. Check the forest Facebook page for daily prescribed fire updates at <https://www.facebook.com/OkaWenNF>.

TIPS TO SAFE DRIVING ON FOREST SERVICE ROADS:

- Drive defensively. Although most Forest Service roads are unpaved with infrequent traffic, drivers still must expect to encounter other cars and trucks, dirt bikes, hikers, equestrian riders, and logging trucks.
- Obey the rules of the road. You may be in the middle of nowhere, but the rules of the road and basic common sense still apply.
- Be careful braking on gravel roads. Give yourself more time and distance when coming to a stop.
- Keep to the right.
- Be prepared. Expect to encounter rocks and boulders, road washouts, downed trees, and other hazards.
- Recreation trails sometimes cross the road... and are not always visible. Drive slowly and be aware of other recreationists using the roadway.
- Obey road closures. Roads and trails are closed for a variety of reasons, which may include unsafe conditions or environmental reasons.

ATVs, WATVs & SIDE BY SIDES: All Entiat Ranger District Forest Service roads and trails are closed to these vehicles.

UPPER MAD RIVER TRAILS: All Seasonal Upper Mad River trails--Blue Creek Trail No. 1426, Upper Mad River Trail No. 1409.1, Alder Ridge Trail No. 1523 and Upper Chikamin Trail No. 1561--are now open. If you are coming from the Lake Wenatchee side it is best to come in from Maverick Saddle on Upper Mad River Trail No. 1409.1. When originating from the Entiat side it is best to come in from Pine Flats or Lake Creek trailheads.

The annual seasonal closure is to protect natural resources, minimize damage to trails, and maintain quality trail systems. The seasonal closure protects trails from damage caused by wheeled and stock travel on muddy trails. When closed, the trails are open to hikers only. Be sure to stay on open trails and out of meadows.

TRAILS: Snow and hail has been reported at 6,500 feet elevation; no accumulation though. Good resources to check for recent postings and conditions from fellow hikers are www.NWHikers.net <http://www.wta.org/> and www.Cascadeclimbers.com .

Sunrise Lake 417.2	The trail is open.	9/12/16
Tatoosh Buttes 485	Down trees were cleared trail from Hidden Lakes to Middle Fork Pasayten River.
