GRANTS AND RESEARCH FUNDING

European Union Grants

- 2019-2021 PI. About 230,000 $.
 Marie Curie Individual Fellowship. Ecological Migration During High Imperialism. German Qingdao As Meeting Point of International Species, 1898-1914. Beneficiary Agnes Kneitz.
 This grant will allow the lab to hire Dr. Kneitz for two years to work on a project on German colonialism in China.
- 2016-2019 Coordinator of the local team. About 370,000 $
 Horizon2020 Climate Security with Local Authorities (CLISEL) From insecurity takers to security makers: mobilizing local authorities to secure the EU against the impacts of climate change in Third Countries CLISEL (grant agreement 700385)
 CLISEL proposes an innovative approach to the question of how Europe can be secured from the impacts of climate change in Third Countries. Most academic and policy initiatives to date have focused on the direct security impacts of climate change in Third Countries and/or on the indirect impacts on international security (e.g. concerning regional economic or political stability). While those initiatives offer invaluable insights, CLISEL is based on the presumption that many indirect impacts on Europe's security emerge and are felt at the local scale, within Europe itself. This is overlooked by most existing initiatives on the so called climate-security nexus, and the conditions under which local authorities act upon climate change (in)security within their operations are not well understood.
- 2015-2018 Coordinator of the local team. About 1,500,000 $
 Marie Curie Initial Training Network (project Environmental Humanities for a Concerned Europe, 642935).
 ENHANCE (Environmental Humanities in a Concerned Europe) is a pioneering ITN network, providing the first fully coordinated training programme for Environmental Humanities in Europe. It will train twelve early-stage researchers (ESRs), and brings together three leading universities for environmental research (the University of Leeds, Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität, Munich, and the Royal Institute of Technology, Stockholm), Europe's largest science and technology museum (the Deutsches Museum), and a further five Associated Partners from the private and third sectors.
- 2010-2014 Member of the Coordination Group. About 1,000,000 $.
 Cost Action grant for a network group on Climate change and Migration.
 This grant serves for networking activities and I was member of the leadership of the programme.
- 2010-2012 Beneficiary. About 230,000 $
 Marie Curie Individual Fellowship. Landscapes of Resistance. Science, Power, and Environmental Justice in the Struggles over Garbage and Incinerators in Contemporary Naples, Italy.
 This grant is the most prestigious individual grant in the EU. It gave me the opportunity to work for two years at the Autonomous University of Barcelona with Joan Martinez Alier, blending environmental history and political ecology methodologies.

Swedish and Scandinavian Funding Agencies

- 2018-2019 Member of the Team. About 17,000 $.
Grant from the Nordic Countries Agency Nordplus for a network to develop Environmental Humanities teaching (BRIGHT network).
- 2018-2021 PI. About 1,100,000 $.
Grant from the agency Formas for the project Occupy Climate Change!
This project will produce both a global database (The Map of the other worlds) documenting cases of grassroots initiatives that tackle climate change and an in-depth case study analysis on urban experiments from Europe (Stockholm, Naples, Istanbul), the US (New York City), and Latin America (Rio De Janeiro). OCC's key objective is to test which grassroots responses to loss and damage have been successful, why, and on what scale.
- 2016 PI. About 45,000 $.
Grant from the SEED BOX and MISTRA for the project Toxic Bios. A Guerrilla Narrative Project.
Toxic Bios is a pilot research project in Public Environmental Humanities. The aim is to gather stories of contamination and resistance across Europe and make them available in an open access platform
- 2015 PI. About 25,000 $.
Grant from the Swedish agency Formas for the conference Undisciplined environments.

Private foundations

- 2016-2019 Short mobility grants from the Leric Foundation. About 60,000 $.
I have received grants from this foundation to support the residency at the EHL of seven Italian early career scholars (in total 30 months)
- 2014-2015 PI. About 55,000 $.
A post doctoral grant from Wenner-Gren Foundations to hire dr. Kati Lindstrom to work at the KTH Environmental Humanities Laboratory.
- 2014 PI. About 37,000 $
Seed grant from the International Social Science Council under the program Transformations to Sustainability.
With partners in Brazil, India, Italy, Portugal, South Africa, Spain, and Turkey the project aimed to explore the connections linking the struggles for environmental justice, the alternative practices implemented by grassroots organizations, and the production of new knowledge.

Campus grants

- 2018 PI, About 12,000 $.
Grant from KTH Sustainability Office to support the CrossCuts Film festival.
- 2017-2018 PI. About 12,000 $.
Grant from KTH Sustainability Office for the project Seeds and Stories. Environmental literacy for technical students. This project aims at enhancing environmental literacy among technical students. In order to achieve its goals, "Stories and seeds" will offer a monthly cinema forum, open to all KTH students, and the establishment of a small environmental literacy library at the EHL.

2016-2017 PI. About 12,000 $.
Grant from KTH Sustainability Office for the project The Travelling Scientist about the practices of academic travelling under climate change.
